About the College of Charleston

History

Situated in the midst of a city that treasures its past while promoting its future, the College of Charleston and The Graduate School of the College of Charleston share one of the nation's most beautifully historic campuses. Founded in 1770 and chartered in 1785, the College is the oldest institution of higher education in South Carolina and the thirteenth oldest in the United States. In 1836 it became the nation's first municipal college, and in 1970 the College joined the state higher education system. In 1992, The Graduate School of the College of Charleston was established for graduate studies, professional development and community services, and faculty research and grant administration. Today, this modern, thriving academic institution offers a world-class liberal arts education for more than 10,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

The College's destiny is excellence in education. Of its approximately 519 faculty members, 85% have earned a Ph.D. or the highest degrees in their fields. The student/faculty ratio is 14:1. An enduring commitment to the liberal arts and sciences is seen in the core curriculum of the College, which requires study in English, history, modern and classical languages, math, science, the arts, and the social sciences. More than 49 majors and 24 interdisciplinary minors, innovative teaching techniques such as a marketing course taught entirely in French, and national and international exchange programs with academic institutions in Europe, Africa, and Asia, as well as colleges throughout the United States, offer global opportunities for intellectual and personal growth. Students in the Paul T. Nelson Global Logistics and Transportation Program study operations at one of the nation's busiest ports, aspiring marine biologists explore the rich "living laboratory" of the region's coastline, and promising artists develop their skills by participating in internationally acclaimed arts festivals, including Spoleto, U.S.A. These are only a few of the educational options available to students matriculating at the College of Charleston.

Statement of Institutional Mission

The College of Charleston is a state-supported comprehensive institution providing a high-quality education in the arts and sciences, education, and business. Consistent with its heritage since its founding in 1770, the College retains a strong liberal arts undergraduate curriculum. Located in the heart of historic Charleston, it strives to meet the growing educational demands primarily of the Lowcountry and the state and, secondarily, of the Southeast. A superior-quality undergraduate program, enrolling 9,000 to 10,000 full-time students, is central to the mission of the College.

The College of Charleston seeks applicants capable of successfully completing degree requirements and pays particular attention to identifying and admitting students who excel academically. The College of Charleston serves a diverse student body from its geographical area and also attracts students from national and international communities. The College provides students a community in which to engage in original inquiry and creative expression in an atmosphere of intellectual freedom. This community, founded on the principles of the liberal arts tradition, provides students the opportunity to realize their intellectual and personal potential and to become responsible, productive members of society.

In addition to offering a broad range of baccalaureate degree programs, the College currently provides an increasing number of master's degree programs which are compatible with the community and the state. As a prominent component of the state's higher education system, the College encourages and supports research. Its faculty are important sources of knowledge and expertise for the community, state, and nation. Additionally, the College provides an extensive credit and non-credit continuing education program and cultural activities for residents of the Lowcountry of South Carolina.

Statement of Institutional Goals

The goals stated below constitute broad guidelines for the design of educational programs, curricula, and supporting services. Each unit of the College will articulate the goals of learning which reflect its unique discipline, field, or area of service. Though strategies of implementation will vary from area to area, the goals address undergraduate and graduate education as well as offices of administrative services, thus providing the basic framework for articulation of goals by academic and administrative units.

Introduction

1. To develop reading, writing, and oral communication skills
2. To develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills
3. To develop computer information retrieval skills
4. To develop a lifelong commitment to intellectual curiosity and learning
5. To develop global awareness
6. To develop an understanding of cultural diversity
7. To enhance affective development
8. Through a strong core curriculum, to develop an understanding of the arts, humanities, mathematics, the natural sciences, and the social sciences
9. To encourage students to become conscious of the importance of the political, social, economic, and scientific issues of their time
10. To help students acquire depth of knowledge and competence in at least one academic discipline, including:
   a. the ability to recount and explain basic facts and postulates of the discipline
   b. the ability to use that knowledge in the solution of problems with which the discipline concerns itself
   c. proficiency in the use of the techniques and tools of the discipline
   d. an awareness of the resources of the discipline and the ability to seek out and assimilate knowledge in the discipline
   e. the ability to relate knowledge in that discipline to other disciplines
11. To train students in the method of scholarly inquiry and research
12. To design and conduct graduate programs which meet the needs of the community and are consistent with the academic mission of the College.
Faculty, Staff, and Students
1. To recruit and retain a faculty that is well educated, supportive of the academic mission of the College, sensitive to student and community needs, active and productive as scholars, and enthusiastic and able as teachers.
2. To recruit and retain an effective and well-trained staff, sensitive to the needs of those whom they serve, and committed to supporting the academic mission of the College.
3. To identify, recruit, and retain students whose records indicate a good likelihood of success in a college that emphasizes academic excellence.
4. To create a community of scholars in which a sense of mutual trust and respect permeates the interaction among students, faculty, and staff.
5. To encourage and support an active intellectual, cultural, and social life on the campus beyond the classroom.

Administrative Services
1. To ensure for all persons equal opportunity and access to employment, admissions, and programs and services of the College without regard to age, gender, sexual orientation, race, national origin, color, religious beliefs, or physical handicap.
2. To encourage faculty research and development and provide an environment which enables faculty members to participate in the search for knowledge.
3. To secure and effectively manage funds necessary to maintain and strengthen the College’s academic programs and support services.
4. To provide systems of campus governance which are responsive to the concerns of students, faculty, staff, and trustees.
5. To acquire and maintain facilities and equipment necessary to support the goals of the College.
6. To maintain a library that provides materials necessary for a strong, modern program of instruction in all academic departments.

Community Service
1. To serve as a community resource for information and expertise.
2. To design and conduct continuing education and graduate programs which meet the needs of the community.
3. To offer cultural events for the community.

This statement was approved by the State College Board of Trustees on March 12, 1986. This statement was modified by the Faculty/Administration Manual Committee and the Provost in April 1994.

Campus Tours

Campus tours are offered Monday through Friday at 10:00 a.m., 12:15 p.m., and 2:00 p.m. from September to April. Admissions counselors host information sessions for prospective and/or admitted students at 11:15 a.m. and 3:15 p.m., Monday through Friday. During the summer months, May through August, tours are offered Monday through Friday only at 10:00 a.m., followed by the information session. Some Saturday tours are offered. Please refer to the Web site for specific dates and times.

Because space is limited and tours fill quickly, pre-registration is required through the Office of Admissions at least two weeks prior to your campus visit. If you are unable to attend, please notify the Office of Admissions at least 48 hours in advance at 843-953-5670 or campusvisit@cofc.edu. For up-to-date information about our open houses and campus tours, please visit our Web site at www.cofc.edu/admissions/visiting.html.

Open Houses

Three times a year, the College offers a full day of scheduled activities designed to give prospective students and their families a more detailed view of programs at the College. Tours of the campus are available as well as information sessions on such topics as admission, academic life, and the Honors College. Representatives from the Offices of Residence Life and Housing, Financial Aid, and Student Activities will be on hand to answer questions about their services. Visit our Web site for dates, times, and a full agenda at www.cofc.edu/admissions/visiting.html.

The Application and Admission Process for Degree Candidates

When to Apply

Students who wish to enroll in August should apply by April 1, and those wishing to enroll in January by November 1 in the year prior to their intended enrollment. The College will consider applications until all classes have been filled or, in the case of applicants who want to live at the College, as long as there are residence hall rooms available.

NOTE: Freshman students who have been admitted to the subsequent fall term, on or prior to January 15, will be automatically considered in the merit scholarship award process. To ensure consideration, prospective students must submit all materials to the Office of Admissions on or before December 1.

Application Materials

In order to be considered as a candidate for admission, an applicant must submit a completed application form and a $35 (online) or $45 (paper) application fee. This fee is non-refundable. The application should be submitted electronically. Paper applications can be requested from admissions by going to the following Web address: www.cofc.edu/admissions/apply.html. Online submission of the application is strongly preferred.

NOTE: It is the responsibility of each applicant to ensure that all required information is completed and sent directly to the Office of Admissions.

Freshman Admission

A freshman applicant is a person who has not attended a university, college, or technical school. Applicants who attended a post-secondary institution while still in high school are also classified as freshmen.

Applicants for freshman admission must submit:
1. A completed application form with a nonrefundable application fee.
2. Official high school records complete up to the time of application.
3. Results of the Scholastic Assessment Tests (SAT I) or American College Testing Program (ACT). Students choosing to complete the SAT I will not be required to submit the results of the SAT II (subject tests). If submitted, however, the College may use them for placement purposes. International students from non-English speaking countries may submit a TOEFL score in lieu of SAT I or ACT results. Students seeking admission in fall 2007 and thereafter must submit scores from the writing assessment of the SAT I and/or the ACT.
4. Students who completed post-secondary work while in high school must submit official transcripts of their college work whether or not they expect to receive credit.

Prospective students are expected to have adequate preparation for the curriculum in which they plan to enroll. All public senior colleges and universities in South Carolina require that applicants for freshman admission complete certain courses in high school before admittance. The admissions committee can consider applicants with deficiencies in the required curriculum. Those students are encouraged to submit a statement as well as relevant documentation from their counselor or principal regarding their specific situation. These requirements are listed below:

<thead>
<tr>

<th>Units</th>

<td>3 (4 recommended)</td>

<td>2 (3 strongly recommended)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>4</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

At least two units must have strong grammar and composition components; at least one must be in English literature, and at least one must be in American literature. Completion of College Preparatory English I, II, III, and IV will meet this criterion.

These include Algebra I (for which Applied Mathematics I and II may count together as a substitute if a student successfully completes Algebra II); Algebra II, and geometry. A fourth higher-level mathematics course is strongly recommended. The fourth course should be selected from among precalculus, calculus, statistics, or discrete mathematics.

Two units must be taken in two different fields and selected from among biology, chemistry, or physics. The third unit may be from the same field as one of the first two units (biology, chemistry, or physics) or from advanced environmental science with laboratory or marine biology with laboratory for which biology and/or chemistry is a prerequisite. Courses in earth science, general physical science, or introductory or general environmental science for which biology and/or chemistry is not a prerequisite will not meet this requirement.

Two units of the same foreign language. For students entering in the fall of 2008 and thereafter, three units of foreign language are required and at least two must be from the same foreign language.

One unit of U.S. history is required; a half unit of economics and a half unit in government are strongly recommended.

Four college preparatory units must be taken from three different fields selected from among computer science, English, fine arts, foreign languages, humanities, laboratory science (excluding earth science, general physical science, general environmental science or other introductory science courses for which biology and/or chemistry is not a prerequisite), mathematics above the level of Algebra II, and social sciences. It is suggested that one unit be in computer science which includes programming (i.e., not just keyboarding) and one unit in fine arts (appreciation of, history or performance).

Physical Education or ROTC 1

Freshman applicants must have earned either a high school diploma or its equivalent, the General Educational Development Test (GED), prior to enrolling. The results of the GED will normally be used in place of the high school diploma only if the applicant left secondary school at least two years before intended enrollment at the College of Charleston. The minimum acceptable GED score for admission is the score used for awarding an equivalent secondary school diploma in the state where the test was taken. All students are required to submit final transcripts verifying graduation or, if a GED is submitted in place of a high school diploma, the most recent semester of high school attendance.

Standardized Tests

High school students planning to take the SAT I or ACT generally make arrangements through their school principal or guidance counselor. However, the College Entrance Examination Board may be accessed online at www.collegeboard.com, or ACT at www.ACT.org to request or obtain information on the general nature of the tests, the dates tests are given, the centers where they may be taken, and the fees required. Admissions candidates must request that the results of the tests be sent to the College of Charleston. The College’s ACT code no. is 3846 and SAT code no. is 5113.

International Students

Recognizing that international students bring a wealth of educational and cultural benefits to the College and the community, the College of Charleston welcomes applications for admission by students from abroad. Students who possess high academic and personal qualifications, and who have a sufficient command of spoken and written English to allow active pursuit of a full course of studies, will discover that an exciting personal and intellectual challenge awaits them at the College of Charleston.

In addition to satisfying the College’s general admission requirements, applicants from abroad must provide proof that they are proficient in English, generally by submitting TOEFL results. A minimum score of 550 on the paper-based test, 213 on the computer-based test, or 80 on the Internet-based test (with a minimum score of 20 on each section of the iBT) is required. International applicants must also provide proof that they have adequate funds to meet their educational expenses (certification of finances).

International students should direct inquiries and requests for further information to the Office of International Education and Programs or the Office of Admissions (admissions@cofc.edu).

Decision-Making Process

Both quantitative and qualitative components guide the Office of Admissions in reaching their final decisions on applicants. The admissions committee weighs carefully the student’s academic preparation, rank in class, SAT I/ACT results, essay, personal statements, leadership qualification, special talents, and letters of recommendation. A slightly higher profile is required of out-of-state students.

Admission Procedures for Freshman Applicants

The College of Charleston has two admissions phases during the year:

- Early Action – Completed applications received by November 1 will be reviewed for Early Action. Admissions decisions are mailed in mid-December. Offers of admission during Early Action are not binding and students have until May 1 to respond.
- Regular Admission – Applications received after November 1 will be reviewed in the regular cycle. Students will receive an admissions notification on or prior to mid-April. Offers of admission are not binding and students have until May 1 to respond.

If accepted, individuals typically are given until May 1 (fall) or December 1 (spring) to confirm enrollment. An applicant accepts the College’s offer of admission by submitting the required “enrollment confirmation deposit.” This deposit, credited to the student’s tuition, is refundable upon written request until May 1 for fall semester applicants, and until December 1 for spring semester applicants. Students at the College of Charleston are not required to live on campus. The College offers housing to approximately 3,450 students in diverse facilities such as residence halls, apartments, and historic houses. An offer of admission does not guarantee on-campus housing. Early confirmation of admission is strongly encouraged if you desire on-campus housing. Students residing on campus are required to purchase a meal plan.

Transfer Admission

A transfer applicant is a person who graduated from high school, attended another college-level institution, and attempted one or more courses regardless of credit earned. Applicants for transfer admission will be considered only if the student is eligible to return to the last institution attended as a regular student.

If an applicant has earned fewer than 30 semester hours (45 quarter hours) of college-level work, the applicant must meet transfer and freshman entrance requirements. The maximum number of transfer credits acceptable toward a College of Charleston degree is 92 semester hours from a four-year institution and 60 semester hours from a two-year institution. Should a student exceed 60 semester hours at a two-year institution, a petition in writing must be submitted to the director of transfer admissions.

Transfer applicants for admission must submit:

1. Completed application forms with a non-refundable application fee.
2. Official transcripts of college-level courses attempted for each college attended. If courses are in progress at the time of application, a final official transcript must be sent to the Office of Admissions upon completion.
3. A complete copy of high school records, including SAT I or ACT results, if fewer than 30 semester hours (45 quarter hours) have been earned at other colleges or universities.

On a space-available basis, all applicants will be considered who submit the documentation outlined above, who are eligible to return to the last institution attended, and who have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.6 (in-state), 3.0 (out-of-state) or higher (on a 4.0 scale) calculated on all previous institutions attended. In-state applicants who have earned an associate’s degree but have less than a 2.6 cumulative GPA will be carefully considered on the basis of the quality of their credentials. If accepted for admission, coursework completed at other institutions with a minimum grade of “C” (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) or its equivalent will be evaluated for transfer to the applicant’s choice of curriculum. Credits awarded at other institutions on the basis of placement testing are not acceptable as transfer credits at the College of Charleston. If courses have been graded on a “pass-fail” basis, transfer credit can be awarded if the institution where the courses were completed will assign a minimum equivalent of “C” (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) to the “pass” grade.

Transfer credits earned ten or more years prior to enrollment at the College must be evaluated and revalidated by the appropriate department to be applicable for graduation credit.

Phi Theta Kappa Transfer Scholarship applications are available from our Web site.

Transfer: State Policies and Procedures Policies governing the statewide transfer of courses between two and four-year institutions are outlined at http://www.cofc.edu/admissions/admissions%20categories/transfer_students/2_year_colleges.html.

Placement Examinations

International Baccalaureate Program

Students who have taken college-level courses in secondary school and who have achieved a score of 5, 6, or 7 on a higher-level IB examination may be awarded credit in some academic areas. Refer to the Web site for specific credit equivalencies: www.cofc.edu.

College Entrance Examination Board Advanced Placement Examinations

The Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board is accepted at the College of Charleston. Students who have taken college-level courses in secondary school and who have achieved a score of 3, 4, 5, or 6 on an advanced placement examination will be awarded advanced placement credit. No more than six to eight credits will be granted in any one discipline area. With regard to this policy, history is defined as consisting of two disciplines – American history and European history. For information on specific AP courses, please contact the Office of Admissions or visit our Web site at www.cofc.edu. The College of Charleston’s placement tests and departmental interviews may be required for final awarding of credit.

College Entrance Examination Board College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

The College of Charleston will accept for credit and placement the following CLEP Subject Examinations:

- American history
- Biology (MUSC only, no laboratories)
- Calculus
- College algebra
- General chemistry (course only, no laboratories)
- General psychology
- Human growth and development
- Trigonometry
- Western civilization
- Languages (French, German, and Spanish)

The passing grade for each examination will be the score recommended for credit by the academic department at the College. When the credit is given, the student’s record will show that the credit comes from a CLEP examination. No native speaker of a language other than English will be awarded foreign language credit for proficiency in his or her first language. Further information about CLEP should be obtained from the counseling center or the Web site. For information on specific CLEP courses, please contact the Office of Admissions. Visit our Web site at www.cofc.edu/admissions%20categories/transfer_students/clep_credit.html.

College of Charleston Languages Department Policy on Placement Credit

To fulfill the language requirement, entering students may take any language, other than English, offered by the College. However, students who wish to continue a language studied in high school or elsewhere must take a placement test (approved by the department) in the language unless they have scored a 3 or higher on the AP language test. The placement test score determines the level at which the student will continue his or her study of the language. Transfer students with college credit in a foreign language, who wish to continue in the same language, should not take the placement test.

Students who present two or more years of high school study in a language and who do not place in the LANG 102 course or higher may take the LANG 101 course, but are encouraged to consider starting a new language.

Credit through placement may be earned for only one language, and no more than a total of 12 placement credits in that language will be awarded. Students may earn credits through placement tests as described below:

1. If the student places in, and subsequently passes, the LANG 102 or LANG 105 course with a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher, six credits will be granted for the 101 and 102/105 courses. The validation course must be completed within the first two semesters of study at the College.
2. If the student places in, and subsequently passes, the LANG 201 course with a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher, nine credits will be granted for the 101, 102, and 201 courses. The validation course must be completed within the first two semesters of study at the College.
3. If the student places in, and subsequently passes, the LANG 202 course with a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher, 12 credits will be granted for the 101, 102, 201, and 202 courses. The validation course must be completed within the first two semesters of study at the College.
4. If the student places in, and subsequently passes a 300-level course with a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher, 15 credits will be granted for the 101, 102, 201, 202, and the 300-level course. The validation course must be completed within the first two semesters of study at the College.
5. Students who pass but do not receive a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher in the validation course will receive only the three credits for the validation course.
6. Students who place in a 300-level course will have satisfied the College’s minimum degree requirement in languages whether or not they take a validation course.

Advanced Placement (CEEB)

The Advanced Placement (AP) Program of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) is accepted by the College of Charleston. A student who has taken college-level courses in foreign language or literature will be awarded advanced placement (AP) credit in accordance with the following scale:

AP Modern Language Test (French, German, Italian, Spanish):

- 4 or 5: six semester hours credit for 202- and 300-level course (FREN 390, GRMN 390, ITAL 390, SPAN 313)
- 3: six semester hours credit for 201 and 202

A score of three or higher fulfills the general education requirement in a foreign language. Student may enroll in an advanced language course

AP Literature Test (French, German, Spanish):

- 4 or 5: six semester hours credit for 202 and 300-level literature course (FREN 324, GRMN 365, SPAN 320)
- 3: six semester hours credit for 201 and 202

A score of three or higher fulfills the general education requirement in a foreign language. Student may enroll in an advanced language course

AP Latin Test (all forms):

- 4 or 5: six semester hours credit for 202 and LATN 390
- 3: six semester hours credit for 201 and 202

A score of three or higher fulfills the general education requirement in a foreign language. Student may enroll in an advanced language course

Note: Students who have scored a 3 or higher on an advanced placement language test should not take the College of Charleston placement test in that language. Students who receive advanced placement (AP) credits and elect to take an additional course in that language at the College may be eligible to receive College of Charleston placement credits (see “Policy on Placement Credit” above).

Readmission

Any student at the College of Charleston who voluntarily withdraws from the College or is dismissed for any reason must apply for readmission in order to re-enroll. If a student discontinues enrollment from the College of Charleston, whether voluntarily or not, re-entry for future semesters may be contingent on satisfying conditions outlined by the Offices of Students Affairs and Undergraduate Academic Services. The College does not admit students who are ineligible to return to the last college or university attended. This rule applies to all students, including those applying for readmission. All students who have done previous work at other colleges or universities must have their transcripts sent to the Office of Admissions. All applicants must meet transfer GPA requirements and all admission deadlines. In making decisions on those applying for readmission, the following guidelines will be used:

1. Students who voluntarily withdraw from the College while in good standing and with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or above will be approved for readmission.

2. Students who have been dismissed from the College for academic deficiency or separated for disciplinary reasons and who complete the suspension period will be considered for readmission. Because the simple passage of time cannot ensure that dismissed students will improve their academic record or completed sanctions granted to them, applicants for readmission must submit with their applications for readmission, a personal letter addressed to the Office of Undergraduate Academic Services outlining how they have used their time while out of school and giving their reasons for believing that they will now be successful at the College. Those students whose records at the College of Charleston indicate that successful completion of a College of Charleston degree in a reasonable length of time is impossible or extremely improbable will not be accepted. They will be advised accordingly and urged to seek alternative plans. Those whose records indicate that they can reach graduation standards in a reasonable period of time and those that have met the conditions required for reconsideration must meet the following conditions for readmission:
   a. They must complete a special one-day workshop that contains information on the services that the College provides for students with academic difficulties, the academic requirements they must satisfy, and their personal responsibilities in reaching good academic standing. Most students will be required to enroll in the course, Learning Strategies (EDLS 100), to attain the skills necessary to succeed at college.
   b. Each student must sign a readmission contract prepared by the Office of Undergraduate Academic Services. The contract specifies the grade point average (GPA) and other specific requirements that readmitted students must meet in order to remain at the College of Charleston.

Grades for readmitted students on contract are reviewed every semester or until students bring their GPAs into compliance with the College’s standard minimum scholastic attainment. In effect, readmitted students on contracts are placed on probation when returning and are subject to immediate dismissal if they do not meet the conditions of their contracts.

3. Students who voluntarily leave the College while on probation may be readmitted but under conditions in 2 (a, b) above.

4. Students who voluntarily leave the College and who are not on probation, but who have less than a 2.0 cumulative GPA, may be readmitted conditionally in accordance with 2 (a, b) above.

5. Students who previously attended the College as provisional students but failed to meet the conditions of the program must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 30 semester hours at another institution before applying for readmission. They will be considered for admission only if they meet the admission standards applied to transfer students and then will be considered under 2 (a, b) above.

6. College of Charleston or transfer credits earned ten or more years prior to re-enrollment at the College may be evaluated and revalidated by academic departments to be applicable for graduation credit. This is due to changing graduation requirements or professional certification requirements.

NOTE: See Three-Year Transfer Option.

Health Requirements

The College of Charleston requires students to demonstrate immunity or proof of vaccination for measles, rubella, mumps, polio, tetanus, and diphtheria. Documentation of TB skin test within a year is required. Requirements for individuals born before 1957 are detailed in the health form.

Health forms are a means for Student Health Services to ensure the optimum health of students on campus; the forms are absolutely confidential and in no way affect student admission status. The health form, however, must be completed and returned with the immunization information in order to complete the registration process.

Other recommended but not required immunizations include the chicken pox vaccination if never exposed, and the Hepatitis B vaccination series for young adults. In the fall of each year, influenza vaccination is offered to all students without charge.

If problems arise with complying with this policy, or in obtaining adequate vaccinations, please call health services. Please return the completed forms to:

Non-Degree Admission 843-953-5620
adu@cofc.edu

• Adult students
• Visiting students
• Current high school students
• Senior citizen students
• Non-degree students under 21

As part of its mission of service to the community, the College of Charleston welcomes adults and other non-degree students who wish to take credit courses.

Services available to new and returning non-degree students through the Office of Admissions include information sessions, placement tests, registration opportunities, initial academic advising and planning, referral to departmental advisors, transcript evaluation, and other student support services.

A non-degree application should be completed online and submitted along with the $10 application fee. Paper applications are available on request at 843-953-5620.

Categories of non-degree seeking students include:

1. Individuals who wish to establish an academic record before deciding if they will earn a degree. This category includes adults 21 years of age or older who may have been out of school for a period of time and are uncertain about whether or not they wish to earn a degree. Students who decide that they wish to seek a degree are advised to apply through the Office of Admissions for degree candidacy upon successful completion of 15-30 semester hours with the required GPA. These students are expected to apply before completing 60 semester hours, including any credits expected to transfer from previous college work.

   Students are encouraged to complete the English 101-102 minimum requirement immediately if they have not done so in previous college work. Returning adults who have a large number of credits to transfer to the College may be advised to apply for degree admission immediately so that they may join their major department (see transfer admissions).

2. Individuals who currently do not plan to earn a degree from the college but are taking courses to fulfill employment requirements, for personal interest, or to earn a degree from another institution. These students may already have a degree.

3. Persons 60 years old or older who are residents of South Carolina may take courses without paying a tuition charge, on a space-available basis. A nominal registration fee (currently $25, which includes the application fee) will be assessed each semester. Under a legislative provision, courses may be taken either for credit or audit. All computer science and studio art courses must be taken for credit. A special registration is provided the day after classes begin during fall and spring semesters, at which time students in this category must present proof of age the first time they register with the College. Students over the age of 60 who register prior to the special registration day will be subject to the regular tuition charge. Those who wish to earn a degree must formally apply through the Office of Admissions. Maymester and summer sessions are also included in this program.

Applicants under 21 years of age applying for admission as non-degree students must submit:

1. A completed non-degree application for admission.
2. A transcript from each college attended, including summer school.
3. Non-degree applicants who have not attended college must submit their secondary school transcript(s) and results of either the SAT or ACT.
4. All applicants must also submit any additional items requested in the application materials or by the Office of Admissions.

Adult and Transfer Student Scholarships, Grants, and Financial Assistance

Scholarships and grants may be available to adult students. These include incentive grants and learning strategies grants to enable students to successfully return to college. Academic scholarships are also awarded on a competitive basis to adult student applicants and are based on academic scholarship and potential.

Adult students seeking financial assistance and scholarships are encouraged to apply for these programs through an application obtained from the Office of Admissions and Adult Student Services (843-953-5620) and via undergraduate admission’s Web pages for adult students. Applicants should also contact the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs to learn of other opportunities that may be available.

NOTE: Students in non-degree status are not eligible for Federal Financial Aid.

Concurrent Enrollment

With the approval of their principal and/or guidance counselor, students enrolled in high school may take courses at the College of Charleston along with their regular high school courses. Students need to be accelerated in their studies. Students are required to:

1. Complete a non-degree application for admission.
2. Submit a written recommendation from their principal or guidance counselor.
3. Submit a copy of high school transcripts.

Advising for course selection will be available and the student will be registered for the course(s) agreed upon after approval of the academic department.

Since the courses carry full college credit, students are subject to the academic regulations of the College of Charleston.

Visiting Students

Visiting students who plan to earn a degree from another institution and wish to take courses at the College of Charleston during the fall and/or spring semesters must complete a non-degree application and present documentation from their home institutions to the Office of Adult Students Services certifying that they are currently enrolled at another institution, academically eligible to return to their home and/or on a leave of absence, and are eligible to take courses at the College.

Visiting students who plan to take courses during Maymester and/or summer school must enroll through the Office of Maymester and Summer Sessions.

NOTE: Visiting students are not eligible for financial aid at the College of Charleston.

College of Charleston North Campus

north.cofc.edu

In an effort to meet the needs of commuting students and working adults in our community, the College of Charleston North Campus was established to serve students from the North Area, West Ashley, and Berkeley and Dorchester Counties. The College of Charleston North Campus is located at 5300 International Boulevard, on the road to the airport.

To accommodate the schedules of working adults, courses are offered not only during traditional hours, but also in the late afternoon, evening, and on weekends. In addition, “express courses” are offered, meeting twice as often for only half the semester.

It is possible for students to complete all general education requirements at the North Campus in two years by taking courses in the evening, during the day, or a combination of the two. Also, working adults can complete all of the requirements in the evening for a degree in corporate communication at the North Campus. Schedules and special advising are available to ensure students complete general education or corporate communication requirements as efficiently as possible. Many elective courses are also offered.

College of Charleston North Campus offers a wide range of student services, including academic advising, counseling, and registration. Two computer labs linked to the Internet, Cougar Trail, and the College’s library are available for student use. Students at the North Campus have full access to all programs and services on the downtown campus, and parking is free.

The North Campus is also responsible for the College’s Continuing Education programs. Recent Continuing Education courses have included Certified Financial Planner™ Certification Education Program, and Successful Money Management. The North Campus also arranges customized employee training programs for Lowcountry businesses.

Financial Information

Basic Fees and Expenses

As a state-affiliated institution, the College of Charleston bases its fees in part on appropriations granted by the South Carolina General Assembly. Accordingly, the fees charged by the College will be directly affected by the action of the legislature and are therefore subject to change without notice.

All fees are due and payable in full before or on the due date shown on the first bill for the semester. Cancellation of a student’s registration will occur if payment is not received timely.

Registration and transcript holds are placed on all students with unpaid balances. Diplomas and transcripts are not issued until all College accounts have been paid in full.

Parents and guardians of minors accept all conditions of payment and regulations upon the student’s acceptance for admission.

Each student is liable for any breakage and for any damage to rooms or furnishings.

Note: The College of Charleston assumes no responsibility for losses due to fire, theft, or any other cause.

Billing Procedures and Methods of Payment

Student bills are available on the Web at www.cougartrail.cofc.edu at all times. Electronic bills will be sent by eBill notification to the student’s College e-mail address and to the e-mail address of anyone established by the student as an authorized user. Payments can be made in the Treasurer’s Office by cash, check, or credit card. The College accepts Discover, Visa, MasterCard, and American Express. Payments can also be made on the Web at www.cougartrail.cofc.edu or through eBill at www.cougartrail.cofc.edu/ebill with the proper access. There is a $30 convenience fee charged for credit card payments made through the Web. There is no charge for paying by check on the Web, nor is there a charge for paying with a credit card in the Treasurer’s Office. All payments made online are instantly credited to the student’s account.

Semester Installment Payment Plan
The College is pleased to offer enrolled students a payment plan of four equal installments, over a period within a semester, to finance the cost of college fees (including course-specific fees), housing, and meal plans. Excluded from the payment plan are parking fees and fines, bookstore charges, Cougar Card deposits, late fees, and other miscellaneous costs. The plan requires an initial payment of 25% of the total amount due, without the exclusions, not later than the due date shown on the first bill for the semester. The remaining balance is payable to the College in three additional monthly installments. The College does assess an administrative charge of $25 each semester in which a student enrolls in the program. Any financial aid received or awarded through the College must be applied first toward the outstanding fees. Only the remaining balance after the financial aid has been applied can be financed through the installment payment plan.

Bill Due Date Policy
All charges are due in full on or before the due date listed on the ebill. Any payment expected to be made by a third-party payer, such as state tuition plans, military tuition coverage, Social Service programs, and the like, must be communicated to the Treasurer’s Office in advance of the scheduled due date. Approved financial aid will automatically be credited to the student’s bill.

If a payment plan is chosen, then the first payment is due in full on or before the bill due date.

Failure to comply with the Bill Due Date Policy will result in the cancellation of the student’s schedule.

Validation of Attendance
All students are required to validate their intent to attend CoC just prior to the start of each semester. The validation can be completed on Cougar Trail. Validating your attendance is needed to properly refund any financial aid award overpayments. Please note: the validation process does not hold your registration – only complying with the payment due dates will accomplish that. Failure to validate does not constitute proper withdrawal.

Institutional Refund Policy
Credit to the academic and general fees will be given to students who withdraw from courses or from school according to the following schedules. The credit, if any, is calculated on a pro-rated basis taking into consideration the number of enrolled hours and the actual dates of withdrawal. Refunds to students will not be authorized beyond the period specified. The adjustment to academic and general fees may reduce any balance due or may generate a credit balance on the account. To receive a refund of a credit balance, a request must be made to the Treasurer’s Office. Otherwise, the credit will be applied to the next active term. Students having outstanding balances at the time of withdrawal, including those on the payment plan, must settle their accounts with the Treasurer’s Office. Students who drop classes before classes begin or during the drop/add period will be awarded financial aid based on the actual hours of enrollment the day after drop/add ends. Credits created by excess financial aid on the student’s account will be automatically refunded at the beginning of the next term.

All subsequent cards are $10.00 each (subject to change). New students receive cards during the summer orientation programs. All other members of the campus community may visit Cougar Card Services, 162 Calhoun Street, in the Joe E. Berry Residence Hall to request a card. Please be prepared to present a form of government-issued, valid photo identification to obtain a Cougar Card. Many campus departments use the Cougar Card as a means to grant access to information and services. The card is a necessity of campus life; please carry it at all times. With a Cougar Card students can check books out of the library and use the photocopiers, access meal plans and dining dollars, use the facilities and services of campus recreation, gain admission to an assigned residence hall, and attend athletic events and theatre performances at free or reduced rates. Cardholders are also entitled to ride CARTA buses free of charge. Cougar Cash is a pre-paid, declining balance account that is accessed with the Cougar Card. It allows the card to be used as a personal debit card to make purchases in the College of Charleston Bookstore, all food service locations on campus, and Clyde’s Convenience Store. Cougar Cash is accepted in parking services, the Copy Center, the Addlestone Library, and in selected soft drink and snack machines across campus.

It’s easy to start a Cougar Cash account. Simply make a deposit of $50 or more on the payment screen of Cougar Trail using a major credit card or E-check; the funds will be available for use in two hours. Deposits are also accepted in person at Cougar Card Services during normal business hours, Monday — Friday, 8:30 a.m. — 5:00 p.m. The funds will be ready to use immediately. Carrying the card is safer than carrying cash, checks, ATM and other cards, and funds roll over from semester to semester. The College is prohibited by law from performing banking services; therefore, Cougar Card Services cannot make full or partial refunds of Cougar Cash to students still enrolled in school, and cash may not be withdrawn from the card.

Lost or stolen cards may be replaced 24 hours a day, 7 days a week during business hours, call or visit Cougar Card Services. At all other times, call public safety 843-953-5609 or stop by the office at 81-B St. Philip Street for a replacement.

Meal Plans
www.cofc.edu/campusdining

The College of Charleston offers a wide variety of meal plans to meet every lifestyle. Each meal plan includes a specific number of meals per week or semester, dining dollars, or a combination of the two. Dining dollars provide extra money on your meal card and can be used at any of our dining locations on campus. They are valued dollar-for-dollar, and food items purchased on campus with dining dollars are sales tax exempt. The fees shown are per semester for 2006–07 and are subject to change by the Board of Trustees. For the most up-to-date fees, policies, and procedures, visit www.cofc.edu/campusdining.

First-time entering freshmen living in campus housing, regardless of hours, must purchase a meal plan and may choose from the following:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Plan Description</th>
<th>Cost</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>21 meals per week</td>
<td>$1,190.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tbody>
</table>

Other students living in campus housing or off campus may choose from the seven plans listed above or from the following plans:

- 100 meals per semester + $175 dining dollars = $890.00
- 50 meals per semester + 50 dining dollars = $410.00

Dining dollars may be added to meal plans or bought as a stand-alone plan. The minimum purchase is $50 and additional dining dollars may be added at any time in $50 increments. Dining dollars may be purchased by completing a form at the dining services office or at any dining location on campus.

The meal plans may be used in Craig Café, the all-you-care-to-eat restaurant on campus, or in either the Hungry Cougar or Einstein’s during meal exchange periods as posted in each location.

Meal plan and dining dollar information is maintained in an account that is accessed by the magnetic stripe on the college ID card (Cougar Card). The Cougar Card must be presented to use either account.

Note: Cancellations or decreases for meal plans are accepted up until five business days from the start of classes. Meal plans are nontransferable. Unused meals do not carry over to the next week/semester.

For more information on meal plans, menus, and dining policies, including mandatory dining requirements, please visit our Web site: www.cofc.edu/campusdining.

Parking
www.cofc.edu/auxiliaryservices/parking

Students who wish to purchase a parking permit must apply each semester during the dates listed below. Applications are available online via Cougar Trail. Eligible students will be assigned parking based on the number of cumulative credit hours earned and on file with the Office of the Registrar at the time assignments are made.

- Fall 2006 — April 24 to June 30, 2006
- Spring 2007 — October 9 to November 3, 2006
- Summer 2007 — March 5 to April 6, 2007

Students who miss the application availability period may purchase an available permit in the parking services office beginning on the dates listed below.

- Fall 2006 — August 21, 2006
- Spring 2007 — December 18, 2006
- Summer 2007 — April 23, 2007

On-Campus Housing
Office of Residence Life and Housing 843-953-5523
www.reslife.cofc.edu

Long a tradition at liberal arts colleges, residence hall living offers students a unique opportunity to live with people of different backgrounds and interests. Resident students also have easy access to on-campus social, cultural, and intellectual activities. The College has residence hall space for approximately 2,800 men and women. Rooms are normally occupied by two or more students. On-campus facilities include two single-sex residence halls (one for men and one for women), two co-ed apartment-style halls for upper-classmen only, historic houses, and four co-ed residence halls. First-time freshmen and transfer students are encouraged to make early confirmation of enrollment, as housing is only guaranteed to those who pay their housing deposit by April 1.

Residence hall fees are on a tiered system and are subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees. For the most up-to-date residence hall fee information, please visit www.reslife.cofc.edu.

Room fees are nonrefundable. The College makes no reductions in fees because of temporary absence during the year.

Housing Pre-Payment Deposit
Each new student that is interested in on-campus housing must return his/her enrollment confirmation form along with a $300 advance tuition and housing deposit to the admissions office. This prepayment includes a $200 housing prepayment deposit* and a $100 advance tuition deposit. Housing is guaranteed to all first-time freshmen who pay the $300 deposit before April 1. A $50 nonrefundable online application fee must accompany the housing application and contract of each student. If a paper application is filed, then the application fee is $50 and must accompany the housing application and contract.

*NOTE: The $200 housing prepayment deposit may be refunded only before May 1. After May 1, the contract is binding for the entire academic year and the $200 housing prepayment deposit is not refundable for any reason. A request for contract cancellation must be made in writing and received by May 1 for the upcoming academic year. Charges will be assessed to the student if there are damages to the residence hall room or furnishings, or if the proper check-out procedure was not followed (including returning the room key).

Off-Campus Housing

Students interested in off-campus housing can obtain information on available apartments, rooms, and houses from the residence life Web site at http://reslife.cofc.edu. There are, at present, no campus facilities for graduate and married students.

Financial Assistance and Scholarships

Title IV School Code: 003428 843-953-5540
www.cofc.edu/finaid/

There are several types of federal- and state-sponsored financial aid programs, which include grants, work-study, student loans, and parent loans.

- Grants are gift aid and do not require repayment.
- Work programs require the student to work part time to earn income to supplement expenses.
- Loans must be repaid, but students are not required to do so until six months after they cease to be enrolled on a half-time basis.

Federal programs are described in The Guide to Federal Student Aid, published by the U.S. Department of Education, which can be accessed through the Internet at http://studentaid.ed.gov/students/publications/student_guide/index.html or requested from the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 800-433-3243. State programs are described on the Internet at www.che.sc.gov/StudentServices/Scholarships&Grants.htm.

Students at CoC receive Federal Stafford Loans through the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program. Parents of CoC students receive Federal Parental Loans to Undergraduate Students (PLUS) through the William D. Ford Federal Direct PLUS Loan Program.

Eligibility Requirements for Federal Financial Assistance

A student must be 1) a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen, 2) accepted into an undergraduate or graduate degree-granting program of study, and 3) enrolled at least half time. Processing of financial aid applications will not begin until a student is admitted to the College.

Continuing education students enrolled in non-degree granting programs are not eligible for federal financial assistance, but students may seek student loan assistance from the alternative loan programs.

Study abroad students should review requirements on our Web site at www.cofc.edu/finaid/forms/SAPC.pdf. Study abroad students are eligible for federal financial assistance. Students considering study abroad programs should meet with a financial aid counselor to discuss their plans.

Applying for Federal Financial Assistance

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the only application the College requires to begin the financial aid process, and a new or renewal FAFSA must be completed each year students want to be considered for financial aid. When completing the FAFSA, students should list the Title IV School Code for the College of Charleston, which is 003428, so the office will receive the financial aid application data.

Each year the FAFSA must be completed and submitted online at www.fafsa.ed.gov any time after January 1. Electronic filing is strongly recommended. It is more accurate, and the turn-around time is approximately three weeks versus four to six weeks if the paper FAFSA is filed.

It is recommended that students and their parents complete their federal tax returns before completing the FAFSA since much of the income information can simply be copied from a completed tax return.

Approximately four weeks after the FAFSA is submitted, a federal student aid report (SAR) is sent to the student. The family should review the information for accuracy and make any corrections, if necessary.

Notes
1. The deadline for priority aid is March 1. Students who submit the FAFSA after this date will be considered for whatever funding is available.
2. Students who apply for assistance after June 1 for fall or October 1 for spring semester should not expect aid to be finalized before classes begin.
3. Students who are receiving any type of financial assistance from a source other than the College of Charleston must send a copy of the award notice to the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs.
4. Students enrolled in multiple colleges in the same semester may only receive financial assistance from one college at a time.
5. Semester Installment Payment Plan is available through the Treasurer’s Office.

Applying for Summer School Financial Assistance

In addition to completing the FAFSA, a separate summer school application is required for students who wish to be considered for summer financial aid. Students complete the summer school application after they have registered for classes. Aid for summer is available only for continuing students who have not used all eligibility during the current aid year.
Undergraduate students must be enrolled in at least six hours to be considered. Aid cannot be processed for students enrolled only in summer evening and/or summer II day terms. This application is available on the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs Web site at www.cofc.edu/finaid when registration for summer school begins each year.

NOTE: Students who wish to be considered for available summer aid should complete the summer school application by April 1.

Verification

Students will be informed if selected for a process called verification. This process requires that the student and parent submit documentation to verify data contained on the FAFSA. Students and parents should keep a copy of their federal income tax returns and W-2 documents, which will be needed to complete the verification process. Students are required to complete the verification process within 30 days of the notification date from the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs.

Awarding Financial Assistance

The awarding philosophy is based on the requirements set forth in the Higher Education Act. All financial aid, including loans, grants, and scholarships, are used to pay tuition and fees, room and board, and any other school charges. If funds remain after the financial aid credits the student’s account, the school will issue a check. Students may use these excess funds to cover any additional expenses incurred for books, off-campus rent, etc.

The following principles are the basis of the College’s awarding philosophy:

1. Students are awarded for a full academic year with one half of the total award disbursed in the fall and the other half disbursed in the spring semester.
2. The financial aid office assumes full-time enrollment each semester for all students when issuing initial award notices, which is 12 credit hours. However, since EDLS 100 Learning Strategies for College Students does not count toward degree requirements, it does not count as enrolled hours for financial aid purposes.
3. Applicants who apply by the March 1 priority deadline will receive the best available financial aid packages.
4. Loan indebtedness of students will be held to a minimum whenever possible, with the total aid package not to exceed the student’s cost of attendance for one year at the College.
5. Eligible students will be notified by e-mail how to retrieve award information via Cougar Trail on the Web.

6. Students who have a loan as part of their aid package will complete a Federal Direct Loan Electronic Master Promissory Note (E-MPN) for students’ Federal Stafford Loans outlining the terms of the loan. The E-MPN Internet site at http://dilnote.ed.gov allows the student to complete and sign the MPN over the Internet.
7. Students receiving financial aid must be in compliance with the College’s Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy (SAP).

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Policy for Financial Aid Eligibility

All federal financial assistance programs are authorized under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended, and require the establishment of minimum standards of academic progress that students must meet to maintain general eligibility for financial aid. While students meeting these standards are generally eligible for aid, some aid programs require higher standards that may preclude the student from qualifying for those programs.

The College of Charleston/The Graduate School of the College of Charleston Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Policy for Financial Aid Eligibility applies to all aid programs administered by or through the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs. These standards apply to all students seeking or receiving assistance, whether or not aid has been received previously. All students must be admitted to and eligible to enroll in an approved degree/certificate program of study. Non-degree students are not eligible for federal and state aid programs.

Undergraduate Students

The term undergraduate students refers to students pursuing their first or subsequent undergraduate degree(s), teacher certification, multiple majors, and/or minor concentrations.

Qualitative Standards: Students must meet the minimum criteria listed below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit Hours Earned</th>
<th>Cumulative GPA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0–19</td>
<td>1.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>20–59</td>
<td>1.80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>60 or more</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The total credit hours (inclusive of transfer, AP, CLEP, etc.) posted as earned hours must be included when determining the appropriate qualitative standard cumulative GPA for each incremental assessment. Since the acceptance of transfer credits can occur at any time, the transfer student’s standards may differ from one assessment period to another.

Incremental Quantitative Standards: Students must earn a minimum percentage of cumulative hours attempted to demonstrate satisfactory academic progress toward degree completion. Attempted hours in excess of 12 in any term are not counted against the student in this calculation. The annual assessment occurs after spring grades are posted. The required percentages are on a graduated scale based on the number of years in school as indicated below:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Cumulative % of hours completed</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>65%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>70%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>75%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 or more</td>
<td>80%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The minimum cumulative percentage of credit hours completed does not include any hours attained through advanced placement, CLEP, or transfer credits. Other credit hours not included in the minimum cumulative percentage of credit hours completed are non-hourly, audit or non-credit courses, e.g., cooperative education experiences, developmental and continuing education courses.

Time Limitation Quantitative Standards:

Undergraduate students (as defined above) who have attempted 183 credit hours (including transfer, advanced placement, and CLEP credits) will cease to be eligible for financial aid. A student’s credit hours are assessed incrementally at the end of fall, spring, and summer terms.

General SAP Policies and Procedures

Withdrawal: Any student withdrawing from coursework will be evaluated based on the minimum number of credit hours attempted at the point of aid disbursement, e.g., a student enrolled in 18 hours and withdraws from 6, the evaluation is based on 12 hours. Anything less than 12 hours will have an adverse effect.

SAP Probation: Students who do not meet the SAP standards minimum grade point average and/or have not completed the required percentage of hours will be placed on SAP probation for the next incremental assessment period (one 12-month period beginning with Maymester). Students placed on probation are encouraged to meet with their academic advisor to develop a plan for making up deficiencies within the next incremental assessment period.

Termination of Aid: Students who are dismissed from the College of Charleston for any reason are terminated from financial aid. Students who do not meet the SAP standards for financial aid eligibility as of the end of the SAP probation period will be terminated from financial aid until they are again in full compliance.
Readmit Policy: Students applying for readmission to the College are eligible for financial aid if:

1) they meet the SAP standards in effect at the time of readmission, or 2) after they have successfully completed the terms of their readmission contract. This policy may not be appealed. Students in category 2 who have not attended the College for two or more years prior to being readmitted are not required to do a SAP appeal. However, they must have remaining aid eligibility.

Reinstatement of Aid: Students who are terminated from financial aid may submit an appeal for reinstatement of eligibility when they have mitigating circumstances beyond their control, which have resulted in deficiencies that could not be made up while on SAP probation. Such circumstances include the student’s injury or illness, death of a relative, or other special circumstances. In cases where the student and/or student’s family lives in an area that has been officially declared a national disaster area, an appeal may be filed.

Appeal forms for reinstatement of eligibility are available from the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs’ website at www.cofc.edu/financialaid. Appeals for reinstatement of eligibility are the responsibility of the student. The appeal must be submitted within the published calendar of appeal and include the term for which reinstatement is requested. Appeals must specifically reflect the unique circumstances that were beyond the control of the student. The appeal should provide specific resolution to circumstances and supporting documentation as indicated on the appeal form.

Students appealing for reinstatement of eligibility remain ineligible to receive aid, but may pursue participating in the College of Charleston Semester Installment Payment Plan (not available in summer) through the Treasurer’s Office. Students should be prepared with other resources to pay all educational expenses not covered by the payment plan. Students whose appeals are approved may have their eligibility for aid reinstated. Financial aid may be awarded if the student meets routine eligibility criteria, subject to availability of funds. The College of Charleston’s satisfactory academic progress policy for financial aid eligibility complies with the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, federal regulations found in Section 688, 690, and applicable DCL GEN 96-10, 96-18, et al.

SAP Appeals Calendar

Summer: Students appealing eligibility for this period must have submitted an appeal by the first weekday in June.

Fall and spring: Students appealing eligibility for the academic year may submit an appeal from the second Monday in May until the last weekday in August. Students who are making up hours from the previous academic year in Maymester and summer sessions are strongly encouraged to appeal for the fall semester after summer grades are posted on the Cougar Trail.

Spring: Students appealing for the spring semester only may submit an appeal from the first weekday in January until the last weekday in January.

Return of Title IV Funds Policy

The Return of Title IV Funds Policy (federal student financial aid programs) was implemented at the College of Charleston in fall 2000. Federal regulations require each educational institution to have a written tuition and fees refund policy (see “basic fees and expenses”) and a return of Title IV funds policy to be applied to students who withdraw during a term for which aid has been received. The Return of Title IV Funds Policy applies only if the student completely terminates enrollment (i.e., cancels his/her registration, withdraws, or is dismissed) or stops attending classes before completing more than 60 percent of the enrollment period.

The amount of Title IV aid that a student must repay is determined in accordance with the federal formula for return of Title IV funds as set forth in Section 484B of the Higher Education Act. This law also specifies the order of return of the Title IV funds to the program from which they were awarded.

A repayment may be required when aid has been credited to a student's account from financial aid funds in excess of the amount of aid the student earned during the term. The amount of Title IV aid earned is determined by multiplying the total Title IV aid (other than federal work study) for which the student is qualified by the percentage of time during the term that the student was enrolled.

If less aid was disbursed than was earned, the student may receive a late disbursement for the difference. If more aid was disbursed than was earned, the amount of Title IV aid that must be returned (i.e., that was unearned) is determined by subtracting the earned amount from the amount actually disbursed.

The responsibility for returning unearned aid is allocated between the College of Charleston (CoC) and the student, according to the portion of disbursed aid that could have been used to cover CoC charges and the portion that could have been disbursed directly to the student once CoC charges were covered. CoC will distribute the unearned aid back to the Title IV programs as specified by law. The student will be billed for the amount the student owes to the Title IV programs and any amount due to CoC resulting from the return of Title IV funds used to cover charges.

College of Charleston Academic Scholarships

Freshmen who have been admitted to the College of Charleston by January 15 are automatically considered in the academic scholarship award process. The selection process is highly competitive. Generally, students should meet the following criteria to be competitive:

2. Graduate in the top 10 percent of their high school class.
3. Score 1300 or better on the SAT or 30 or better on the ACT.
4. Possess a strong academic record.

NOTE: At the present time no scholarship funding exists for international students.

Students should also investigate other scholarship possibilities, some of which are suggested below:

1. Parent’s employer or professional organizations
2. Community organizations (e.g., chamber of commerce)
3. Fraternal organizations (e.g., Elks, Rotary Club)
4. Local PTA groups
5. Local businesses and industry
6. Use the Web. Several free scholarship search programs are available through the College of Charleston’s home page in the financial aid section. Access the home page at: www.cofc.edu/ financialaid.
7. The College and local libraries contain reference books listing possible scholarship sources.
College of Charleston Scholarship Renewal Policy

There are certain standards for renewal of CoC scholarships. Students should refer to their CoC Scholarship Terms and Conditions to determine the minimum number of hours required to renew their academic scholarship.

Recipients of all scholarships must earn a minimum of 30 hours (actual classroom hours) and maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0, unless noted differently on the CoC Scholarship Terms and Conditions. If a scholarship is renewable and the student has maintained the required academic standards, the scholarship will be renewed automatically. Renewals are made in the spring of each year for the upcoming academic year. Students are notified of renewal in early summer. Students failing to meet the renewal standards will also be notified in writing in early summer. Students unable to meet the renewal standards will be given the opportunity to appeal based on mitigating circumstances (e.g., serious health condition, death or serious health condition of an immediate family member, or a traumatic event). Instructions for appeals are included in the notification to the students who did not meet the standards.

Additional Scholarships

Scholarships noted in this section represent some of the unique programs available to students. The listing is intended to provide students with an idea of opportunities available. Information available on the Internet is always evolving and scholarship research for students should be an ongoing activity throughout their college experience.

Air Force ROTC Scholarships

Air Force ROTC is a two-year program offered to College of Charleston students through a cross-registration agreement with Charleston Southern University. Though normally designed for the junior and senior years, it can include graduate studies. After successfully completing the program, cadets receive commissions as second lieutenants in the USAF and will serve a minimum of four years on active duty.

Various Air Force scholarships that pay up to full tuition, textbooks, and associated fees are available to qualified students. Both scholarship and non-scholarship cadets receive a $350–400 monthly tax-free stipend. Students should normally start the application process during their sophomore year.

Additional Sources of Assistance

Alternative Loan Programs

The availability of alternative loans has increased greatly in recent years due to demand from students and parents. Programs are very competitive and accessible. Time spent researching different alternative loan programs ensures that students find loans that meet their specific needs. Information concerning alternative loans can be found at www.cofc.edu/finaid/loans.php#alt.

Commission for the Blind – State of South Carolina

Students who are legally blind or vision impaired may qualify for Vocational Rehabilitation benefits. Information may be obtained from the South Carolina Commission for the Blind and the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, P.O. Box 4945, 301 Landmark Center, Columbia, S.C. 29240.

Emergency Loan Fund

The Bernard M. Baruch Emergency Loan Fund was established in 1939 and is available to upperclassmen that experience expenses due to an unanticipated emergency situation. Loans are made on a 30-day basis and must be repaid within that time to avoid interest charges. Loan approval depends upon the availability of funds. Students should meet with a counselor in the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs to discuss circumstances causing the emergency situation.

Installment Payment Plan

The College offers an installment plan that allows the student/parents to pay tuition and fees, room, and board in four equal installments per semester. Information about this option may be obtained by contacting the Treasurer’s Office. This service is available after any financial assistance has been applied to the student’s bill.

Job Location and Development Program

The purpose of this program is to assist students in locating part-time jobs both on and off campus. The JLD coordinator, located in the Office of Career Services, is available to assist students who have Federal Work Study awards and students with no work study award. The operation of this program allows all students to take advantage of employment to help with expenses while obtaining valuable work experience. A Web-based job posting system with local openings can be found in career services and is updated daily with new opportunities. The use of this service is free and available to all College of Charleston students.

Out-of-State Students

Grants may be available through your home state. Students should check with their home state higher education agencies for sources.

South Carolina Teacher Loan Program

Residents of the State of South Carolina who plan to enter the teaching profession in the public school system and who are seeking their first certification may apply to the program. The loan is not need based and can be forgiven at the rate of 20 percent per year of teaching service in a critical need area.
Applications are generally available in the spring for the upcoming academic year and can be picked up at the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs. You may obtain more information on the Internet at www.sle.sc.edu/parentstuds/wp154.htm.

Veterans Benefits
A wide range of veterans benefits are available to those who have served their country as well as to their dependents. Contact the Department of Veterans Affairs at 888-442-4551 to discuss eligibility. Students receiving veterans benefits must verify enrollment each semester with the veterans affairs coordinator in the Office of Financial Assistance and Veterans Affairs.

Vocational Rehabilitation – State of South Carolina
Undergraduate students who are physically handicapped or otherwise disabled may qualify for vocational rehabilitation benefits. Information may be obtained from the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, P.O. Box 4945, 301 Landmark Center, Columbia, S.C. 29240.

Academic Regulations
www.cofc.edu/AcademicAffairs/

Students at the College of Charleston undertake a rigorous course of study that demands a significant time commitment to the academic regimen. As a part of their academic responsibility, all students must devote adequate time to their studies. Many support services on campus are devoted to helping students achieve academic success. Information on specific support services may be found in the Campus Resources section of this catalog.

All undergraduate students at the College of Charleston are required to be familiar with and adhere to the following academic policies.

Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees
The trustees and faculty of the College of Charleston are authorized by the charter of the College to confer the bachelor of arts and the bachelor of science degrees. (See individual schools for a complete list of majors and degrees offered.)

In order to graduate with either a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree, the student must meet three types of degree requirements:

1. Liberal arts and sciences general education degree requirements: a core curriculum of 14 to 18 courses designed to introduce the student to the principal areas of intellectual inquiry and to teach the student basic intellectual skills.

2. Major requirements: the courses specified for the student’s major program, which are designed to provide concentrated study in a specialized field.

3. Electives: courses chosen by the student as a means of studying subjects of particular interest.

To be eligible for graduation, the student must have:

1. Satisfied the general education degree requirements by earning credit in the courses specified and/or successfully passing approved placement exams offered in their stead.

2. Earned credit in courses required for the major, with a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 in the courses for the major (or for interdepartmental majors such as urban studies, all courses in the area of concentration). Some programs require a GPA greater than a 2.0; see specific major requirements in the “Schools” section of the catalog.

3. Earned a total of 122 semester hours of credit, with a minimum grade point average of 2.0 in all courses taken at the College (i.e., at least twice as many quality points as quality hours).

It is the responsibility of the student to meet the requirements for graduation as listed above.

Courses numbered 100 or below may carry credit, but are not counted as part of the 122-hour minimum needed for the degree nor do they count toward the GPA. No more than eight hours of physical education and health (PEHD) 100-level courses, including dance (THTR), may be counted as part of this minimum.

Senior-Year Residency
The senior year of work for the degree must be completed in residence at the College of Charleston. However, candidates who have earned more than 50 credit hours at the College of Charleston may petition the Office of Undergraduate Studies and the chair of the department of their major to complete up to 7 of their final 37 hours at another institution. For study abroad, the determination in advance for credit in excess of 7 hours to be awarded during the senior year will be made by the College academic department concerned (see “Study Abroad”).

Undergraduate Catalog Requirements
Students with continuous enrollment have the option of fulfilling all the graduation requirements from the Undergraduate Catalog under which they entered the College or all the requirements from any subsequent catalog. Students who withdraw and then return to the College must follow the graduation requirements from the Undergraduate Catalog under which they are re-admitted or any subsequent catalog, provided the student maintains continuous enrollment.

Liberal Arts and Sciences General Education Requirements
Students are urged to pay special attention to both the selection of and scholastic emphasis on the courses within the liberal arts and sciences general education degree requirements. These courses are designed to provide the students with a solid foundation for further study and an essential part of the undergraduate’s education.

The College may administer placement examinations to determine the level at which entering students are prepared to begin their work in a foreign language and mathematics.

For all undergraduate degrees, the total number of semester hours must include the following:

English: six semester hours: ENGL 101 and 102.

(A degree candidate must enroll in ENGL 101 or 102 each semester until the English requirement has been fulfilled.)

History: six semester hours: complete either HIST 101 and 102 or complete HIST 103 and 104. Both must be taken in sequence.

Natural Science: eight semester hours: an introductory or higher sequence from one of the following: astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, or physics, of which two semester hours must be earned in the accompanying laboratories.

Mathematics or Logic: six semester hours in either mathematics or logic. (This requirement may not be met by a combination of coursework in mathematics and logic.)

Foreign Languages, Classical or Modern: 0–12 semester hours: satisfactory completion of coursework through the intermediate level (202 or 250), or demonstration of proficiency at that level by approved examination. (For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher-level course prohibits the student from taking a lower-level course in the same language for credit.)

Note: Native Speakers of Languages Other Than English: No native speaker of a language other than English will be awarded foreign language placement credit for proficiency in his or her first language. However, a student whose native language is not English, who has received formal instruction or can demonstrate a high level of literacy in his or her first language, may be exempted from further language study. Such students may exempt the general education requirement for language study by successfully completing a minimum of 12 semester hours at the College. For waivers, contact the head of the Division of Languages.
Social Science: six semester hours from one or two of the following: anthropology communication (selected courses), economics, political science, psychology, or sociology.

Humanities: 12 semester hours from the following eight areas with no more than six semester hours in any one of the following areas:
1. British or American literature
2. Any foreign literature
3. Art history (not courses in studio art)
4. Music (not courses in practice or performance of music)
5. Theatre (not courses in practice or performance of theatre)
6. History (excluding the classes used to satisfy the general education history requirement)
7. Philosophy (excluding 215 and 216)
8. Religious studies
9. Communication (selected courses)

(Certain interdisciplinary courses may also be applied to the humanities requirement. For a listing of humanities courses, visit the Web: http://www.cofc.edu/~oncourse/humanity.htm.)

The Major Requirements

By the second semester of the sophomore year, each student must declare a major through the office of the department of that major. Since the major department must advise the student concerning post-sophomore courses, the declaration of major should be accomplished before the student is enrolled as a junior. Failure to do so may result in a delay of graduation.

A major program requires at least 27 semester hours in one department. No major program, including interdepartmental programs, requires more than 54 semester hours in the major area except business administration and accounting due to accreditation requirements. Every department that offers a major requiring more than 36 hours also offers a major of not more than 36 hours for the student’s choice, except those within the School of Business & Economics. Within these minimum and maximum limitations, each department specifies the number of hours in its major program or programs, and in some instances specifies the actual courses required. See specific major requirements in the “Schools” section of the catalog.

At least 15 hours in the major at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

Students may complete a double major by fulfilling the requirements of two major programs. If both are completed at the time of graduation under one degree, both majors will be listed on the diploma. If the two majors are in different degree categories (BS, BA, AB), the student earns two degrees and pays an extra fee at the Treasurer’s Office to have the second diploma printed. All majors completed will be recorded on the transcript.

Concentrations and Minors

A student may elect to pursue a program of study organized around a particular theme within the major discipline (a concentration) or outside the major discipline (a minor). Either program must include a minimum of 18 hours selected from a formally designated group. At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston. Successful completion of such a program of study requires a grade point average of at least 2.0 in the courses which comprise it. Credit may be received for up to two concentrations or minors, and courses used to satisfy the requirements of one may not be applied toward a second. These courses may be selected from a single department or from several, and interdisciplinary courses may be included. Students must formally declare the concentration area or minor with the individual department in order to have the transcript reflect credit for work done in that concentration or minor.

Application for Graduation and Degree Audit

Students should formally apply to graduate on Cougar Trail early in the second semester of their junior year. The application deadline is October 1st for fall graduation and February 1st for spring graduation. All students are issued College of Charleston e-mail accounts and are expected to read their e-mail routinely. All official notifications about graduation are e-mailed to this account.

Students can obtain a printed copy of their Degree Audit on Cougar Trail. After printing the Degree Audit, they should review the audit with their major academic advisor and report any discrepancies to the graduation coordinator in the Office of the Registrar. This audit will list remaining degree requirements as well as requirements completed and in progress. The audit assumes successful completion of courses in progress. The Degree Audit is dynamic and changes as students revise their course schedules and progress with their academic career.

While academic advisors and the Office of the Registrar continue to assist students with requirements for graduation, students are ultimately responsible for ensuring that they have met all degree requirements for graduation.

Artium Baccalaureatus (A.B.)

For all majors except classics, completion of all required courses in any major, 18 hours in Latin or 18 hours in Ancient Greek, and six hours in courses in classical civilization such as:

In the Classroom

Attendance

Since class attendance is a crucial part of any course, students are expected to attend all classes and laboratory meetings of each course in which they enroll. During the first week of classes, instructors will announce and distribute their attendance policies, including criteria to be used in determining excused absences. The professor determines whether absences are excused or unexcused, whether make-up work will be permitted, and whether both excused and unexcused absences count in determining the basis for a grade of “WA.” If attendance is used for grading purposes, the professor is responsible for keeping accurate attendance records. Each student, whether absent or not, is responsible for all information disseminated in the course. If a student has more than the maximum allowed absences, as defined in the course syllabus, the professor may assign a grade of "WA" for the student. The grade of "WA" is a failing grade. The procedure for assignment of this grade requires that the professor submit the "WA" on Cougar Trail on the Web on or before the last meeting day of the class. The registrar will then send a notice to the student, if the WA is assigned prior to the end of the semester. The student is responsible for keeping addresses current through the Office of the Registrar.

If students who participate in athletic competitions or other College-sponsored events want to be assured that they are in compliance with the faculty member’s attendance policy, they must provide written notification to all course instructors of dates and times when regularly scheduled classes and labs will be missed.

Semester Hours (Credit Hours)

The credit that a student earns by the satisfactory completion of the work in any course is measured in units called semester hours. The semester-hour value of most courses is the same as the number of hours per week that the course meets during the fall or spring semester. However, three hours a week of required laboratory work have a credit value of only one semester hour.

Full-Time Status

Students at the College are considered full time if they are enrolled for 12 or more hours and are paying full tuition. However, it should be noted that an academic schedule of only 12 hours is not sufficient to allow a student to graduate within four calendar years without attending summer school. Full-time attendance in summer school is defined as 12 hours enrollment across the five May and summer terms.

Class Rank

Advancement to sophomore rank requires credit of at least 30 semester hours; to junior rank, 60 semester hours; to senior rank, 90 semester hours. Students are required to declare a major before they advance to junior rank. A minimum of 122 semester hours of credit is required for graduation.

Auditing Courses

Permission to audit a regular academic course must be received from the instructor teaching the course on a Permission to Audit Form, available on the registrar’s website. This form must be completed and submitted to the registrar no later than the end of the drop/add period. A student may switch from grade to audit status or audit to grade status only within the drop/add period.

An audit will be recorded on a student’s permanent record at the College. Faculty may set attendance and/or other requirements for audit students; an audit may be revoked if the student does not comply with these requirements. Full tuition is charged for audited coursework.

NOTE: No audits are permitted in studio courses.

The Grading System

The College of Charleston has initiated a new grading scale that includes minuses as well as pluses for all undergraduate students in fall 2006. Notification of this upcoming change has appeared in “The Grading System” section of the catalog every year since fall 2002. This change to a new grading scale was approved by the Faculty Senate in 2001 and supported by the Student Government Association.

Grades are available on Cougar Trail on the Web at https://cougartrail.cofc.edu beginning with the date set by the registrar’s office for the term specified. For a complete academic record of their grades, students may request an official academic transcript from the Office of the Registrar or they may view their unofficial transcript on Cougar Trail on the Web.

Students receive letter grades for every course in which they enroll. Each letter grade has a numerical “quality point value” as shown below. The following grading system, with quality values as indicated, will be implemented in the fall of 2006.

Grade Status Indicator

I      Incomplete
IP     In progress
W      Withdrawn
P      Passed
NP     Not Passed
X      Absent from final exam
NG     No grade required

NOTE: No audits are permitted in studio courses.

The grade “I” indicates that only a small part of the semester’s work remains to be done, that the student is otherwise doing satisfactory work in the course, and that an extension of time is warranted to complete the course. The grade of “I” also signifies that an agreement has been established between professor and student as to the quantity of work remaining to be done, the deadlines established for its completion, and a schedule of meeting times. It is recommended that this agreement be made in writing with both professor and student having a copy. The student is allowed 60 days from the date of the last scheduled examination day of the semester in which this grade is received to complete the work in the course. If the student does not complete the work within 60 days, the “I” is automatically changed to an “F.” Exceptions must be approved in advance by the faculty member and the director of undergraduate academic services.

The statute of limitations for grade changes is two calendar years from the original grade submission deadline. After this period of time has elapsed, normally no grade issued to a student may be changed. Requests for any change of grade should be initiated by the faculty member who assigned the grade. All requests must be adequately documented.

An “IP” may be assigned for courses that overlap terms. Any bachelor’s essay, independent study, or honors course that, by definition, transcends more than one semester is eligible for an “IP” at the end of the first semester of study. An “IP” should not be assigned to students who have failed to complete coursework within a standard course. “IPs” are not automatically changed to “Fs” after 60 days.

A “PT” indicates that a student is enrolled in a program such as international study or cross registration with another institution for which the attempted hours may be applied toward those required for financial aid or insurance coverage. “PT” indicates Pending Transcript and serves as a placeholder until the official transcript arrives and transfer credit is applied for courses earning a grade of “C” (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) or better. The “PT” is then changed to a “CP.”

A “CP” indicates that a student has completed a program such as international study, cross-registration, or a College of Charleston co-op. The grade status indicator of “CP” carries no quality points, quality hours, or earned hours.

A grade of “S” or “U” may be assigned in certain courses that do not count toward earned hours for graduation.
Pass-Fail Option

The pass-fail option is provided to encourage students to enrich their educational experience and to venture outside their major areas of concentration or competence. To earn a pass under the pass-fail option, students must perform at the C (2.0) level or above. A grade of pass (“P”) will count toward graduation but will carry no grade points and will not be used in computing the GPA. A grade of not passing (“NP”) will be recorded on the transcript, but will carry no grade points and will not be used in calculating the GPA.

The following restrictions apply:
1. A student electing the pass-fail option must be in good standing (not on academic probation) and must be of sophomore standing or above.
2. A student electing the pass-fail option must do so at registration by completing a pass-fail option petition (available at the Office of the Registrar), and no change may be made after the drop-add period.
3. No more than 12 credit hours may be taken under the pass-fail option, and no more than one course in any one semester.
4. No course taken on the pass-fail option may be used to satisfy the general education requirements or be taken in one’s major or minor fields. If a student who completes a course under the pass-fail option later changes his/her major and that course is required for the major, he/she may petition the department for the course to be accepted.
5. No course may be repeated on a pass-fail option. A course for which the grade “P” has been received may not be repeated.

Withdrawal from Courses

Students may voluntarily withdraw from individual courses and/or labs until the official withdrawal deadline for the semester (see “academic calendar”) through Cougar Trail on the Web, or by submitting the required paperwork to the registrar’s office. A grade of “W” will be entered on their record unless the student has been found responsible for an Honor Code violation. In that case, the professor determines the grade entered on the student’s record for that class. Students wishing to drop or withdraw from Express II courses after the deadlines for full-semester courses must fill out a request in the registrar’s office by the deadline for these processes. This cannot be done via Cougar Trail on the Web.

Students may petition for withdrawal after the official deadline through the Office of Undergraduate Academic Services. This permission will be granted only if continued enrollment in the course would be detrimental to the student’s health or if documented extenuating circumstances prevent the student’s continued enrollment.

If a student discontinues enrollment from the College of Charleston, whether voluntarily or not, re-entry for future semesters may be contingent on satisfying conditions outlined by the Offices of Student Affairs and Undergraduate Academic Services.

NOTE: A decision not to attend a course does not constitute a withdrawal from it. Failure to properly withdraw from or drop a course can result in financial responsibility for full tuition for the course as well as a resulting grade of “F.”

Course Repetition Policy

It is the policy of the College of Charleston that students may repeat up to 12 hours of passed coursework excluding:

• Prerequisite courses for passed courses (Repeat Exclude)
• Courses which have catalog restrictions due to duplication of subject material (Repeat Exclude)

There are two types of transcript coding for repeated courses:

• Repeat Include (RD) – Grade will be calculated into total GPA (not averaged with prior grade), but student will not receive earned hours for this course.
• Repeat Exclude (RX) – Grade will not be calculated into GPA nor will earned hours, quality hours, or quality points be awarded.

A passed course may be repeated only once, regardless of the outcome. Repetition of passed courses will not increase earned hours, but students will receive quality hours and quality points in order to calculate the grade of the repeated course into the overall GPA. Repeated course grade points will not be used to calculate honors at graduation.

Students may repeat any course they have previously failed. The grade for the repeated course, as well as the failing grade, will be computed into the student’s cumulative GPA and recorded on the student’s transcript. Any student who does not want the grade for a repeated, previously passed course averaged must complete a form available in the Office of the Registrar before the drop-add deadline.

Scholarship students (academic and athletic), financial aid students, and veterans may repeat courses under this policy; however, they should check with the Departments of Financial Aid or Athletics to see how this will affect their eligibility.

graduation for MATH 101 or 102.

• Students who have completed MATH 120 may not subsequently receive credit for MATH 111.

• Students may not receive credit towards graduation for both MATH 105 and MATH 120 or for both MATH 115 and MATH 120.

Business, Economics, Business Law,
Accounting, International Business

• Students who have completed ECON 201 or 202 may not subsequently receive credit for ECON 101.

• Students with majors outside of the School of Business and Economics may receive a maximum of 30 business school credit hours.

• Students who have completed, or are currently enrolled in, BLAW 205 or 306 may not subsequently receive credit for BLAW 106.

• Business school majors who have completed, or are concurrently enrolled in, a 300- or 400-level business, international business, economics, or accounting course may not receive credit for MGMT 105.

Art History and Music

• Students may only receive up to 8 credit hours for MUSC 161/292–298, MUSP 3xx, MUSP 4xx.

Sciences and Psychology

• Students who have completed CHEM 111 or 112 will not subsequently receive credit for CHEM 101 or CHEM 102, respectively. Students may not receive credit for both BIOL 101 and BIOL 111 and may not receive credit for both BIOL 102 and been received for JWST 240.

• PHIL 255 may not be taken for credit if credit has been received for RELS 255.

Note: This is not a complete list of specific situations resulting in repeated or duplicate coursework. Please consult your personal degree audit, the specific course information in this catalog, and your advisor for additional information.

Course Overload

The normal course load for degree candidates in fall and spring semesters is 14–17 credit hours.
Enrollment in courses totaling more than 18 credit hours requires special permission from the director of undergraduate academic services. This permission must be obtained before registration for the semester in which the overload is to be carried. Failure to obtain permission may result in cancellation of any courses not specifically authorized over 18 hours.

Course Overload During Summer

Students may take only one course during Maymester. Students are advised to take no more than two courses concurrently during any of the other summer terms. Taking more than two courses concurrently is considered an overload. Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or less are advised against taking an overload. Students with a cumulative or major GPA of 2.0 or less are strongly advised against taking an overload.

Grade Point Average (GPA)

The number of quality points earned for each course is calculated by multiplying the semester-hour value of the course by the number of quality points assigned to the grade received for the course. For example, a grade of “B” received in a three-semester-hour course would earn 9.0 quality points (3.0 quality points x 3 semester hours).

At the end of each semester, the student’s GPA for the semester is calculated. To compute the semester GPA, the total number of quality points earned for the semester is divided by the total number of quality hours carried. For instance, a student who earns 36 quality points while carrying a course load of 15 semester hours would earn a GPA of 2.40 for the semester.

The student’s cumulative GPA is also computed at the end of each semester. This is the grade point average the student has earned up to that point at the College. The cumulative GPA is computed by dividing the total quality points the student has earned at the College by the total number of quality hours carried.
For example, a student who has earned a total of 180 quality points over 90 semester hours would have a cumulative GPA of 2.0.

For information on the S.C. LIFE Scholarship GPA calculation, visit www.cofc.edu/finaid. Individual student GPA calculations for the LIFE Scholarship can be found on Cougar Trail on the Web, accessed by student log-in. The LIFE Scholarship GPA is not to be confused with the College of Charleston GPA maintained on the degree audit and on the academic transcript. Students may access the College GPA calculator online at www.cofc.edu/~Eundrgrad/GPA.html.

Faculty Honors List
After the end of each semester, the Office of the President publishes the faculty honors list. Students are named to this list who were enrolled in and completed at least 14 semester hours and who earned a GPA of 3.80 (highly distinguished) or 3.60 (distinguished). In neither case may there be an “I” (Incomplete) or a grade lower than “C.”

Dean’s List
The honor of inclusion on the College of Charleston’s Dean’s List is awarded to students who have earned highly distinguished faculty honors for both the fall and spring semesters of the academic year. Students who enter the College in the second semester are consequently ineligible for the yearly class honors for that academic year.

Graduation with Honors
Students who earn a grade point average of 3.950 or higher at the College of Charleston, during all semesters of the major semester, of which the entire summer may count as one. The period of suspension for subsequent dismissal for academic deficiency.

Probation
If a student’s cumulative GPA at the end of any semester is less than the grade point average required as listed above, the student is placed on academic probation.

1. Once placed on probation at the end of a fall or spring term, a student must show satisfactory academic improvement by the end of the next major semester (excluding Maymester and summer sessions), regardless of the number of hours earned or attempted, or the student will be subject to dismissal. Generally, satisfactory academic improvement is defined as continuous, significant improvement in GPA earned at the end of each semester during the probationary period (15 credit hours excluding EDLS 100). The improvement must be great enough so that the student makes progress toward achieving academic good standing. The decision regarding satisfactory academic improvement will be made by the director of undergraduate academic services.

2. The student must make up the GPA deficiency in the next 15 credit hours attempted. Depending on the student’s circumstances, it may be advisable to take fewer than 15 credits in the next fall or spring term.

3. The student is required to enroll in and successfully complete EDLS 100: Learning Strategies during the next fall or spring semester. EDLS 100 is not counted toward the 15 credits above.

4. If, at the end of the fall or spring semester during or after which the 15th credit hour is completed, the student’s cumulative GPA is not at or above the grade point average required, the student will be subject to dismissal for academic deficiency.

Students on probation may receive transfer credit for courses at another institution but are not normally eligible for cross registration or leave privileges. Students who are dismissed from the College for academic deficiency are not eligible for financial aid or for transfer credits during the period of suspension. The period of suspension for a first dismissal is two semesters, of which the entire summer may count as one. The period of suspension for subsequent dismissals is three full calendar years.

Students who are readmitted after any period of suspension may be evaluated for financial aid eligibility upon completion of 12 hours with a 2.0 or better GPA.
Visiting students to the College of Charleston for summer sessions must adhere to the same academic standards as College of Charleston degree-seeking students. Students who have previously earned less than a 2.0 GPA while attending the College or who are not in good standing at their home institutions will normally not be permitted to enroll for summer sessions. However, instances where these students have gone on to demonstrate a proven academic record at other universities or who have been granted permission to complete courses as part of their degree programs at other universities may petition the Office of Maymester/Summer Sessions along with the Office of Undergraduate Academic Services for permission to enroll. Petitions will be handled on a case-by-case basis. A student granted permission to enroll in a summer session is not guaranteed admission or readmission during a subsequent semester.

Withdrawal from the College

Students may decide to withdraw from the College for a variety of reasons. In order to protect the integrity of the transcript and ensure that the record on file at the College is in order, any student who is considering a withdrawal should visit the Office of Undergraduate Studies to officially withdraw rather than merely drop out. An accurate student record will be especially important if the student decides to return to the College or to another college. If the student is requesting to withdraw from the College after the official withdrawal period and he/she is currently enrolled, the student may petition the Office of Undergraduate Academic Services for late withdrawals in all classes (see “Withdrawal from Courses Procedure”). A student who is granted a withdrawal from all courses may reenroll the following semester without applying for readmission, if the student is not withdrawn from the College.

When a student withdraws from the College, grades for the courses affected will be assigned according to the regulations stated under “withdrawal from courses.”

If a student discontinues enrollment from the College of Charleston, whether voluntarily or not, re-entry for future semesters may be contingent on satisfying conditions outlined by the Offices of Student Affairs and Undergraduate Academic Services.

Before a student officially withdraws, appropriate arrangements must be made with the Offices of the Treasurer, Financial Assistance, and Residence Life to ensure that all obligations to the College have been satisfied.

Leave of Absence

All requests for leaves of absence must be addressed to the director of undergraduate academic services. Students participating in exchange programs with other universities may have leave status approved through the Office of International Education and Programs. When official leave is granted, students need not apply for readmission. However, students should notify the Office of the Registrar at the time of registration that they are returning from leave.

A written request for leaves for periods of time up to one year are normally granted prior to the “W” date in the semester. For students having a GPA of 2.0 or better, a written request filed with undergraduate academic services will normally be approved. For students having a GPA less than 2.0, a request should be addressed to the dean of undergraduate studies for possible approval. This request should be in writing and should explain the circumstances. Appropriate documentation should accompany the request. If a leave of absence is not approved, the student will be withdrawn from the College.

Leave requests presented after the “W” date should be addressed to the dean of undergraduate studies for possible approval. These requests should be in writing and should explain the circumstances. Appropriate documentation should accompany the request. It may be necessary to follow procedures for late withdrawal from classes (see “Withdrawal from Courses Procedure”).

NOTE: If a leave of absence is not taken, a student will have to reapply through the Office of Admissions, be charged another application and new student fee, and the student will also have to register through academic orientation upon returning to the College.

Three-Year Transfer Option for Readmits (Academic Forgiveness Policy)

Students readmitted to the College after an absence of three or more years may choose to have their previous College of Charleston record treated as transfer credit if they achieve a GPA of 2.50 or better upon completion of 15 semester hours earned after their return. Previous work at the College will remain on the students’ permanent records; however, only coursework completed since readmission will be used to calculate their cumulative GPA. Students choosing this option must request it in writing to the Office of Undergraduate Academic Services once the 15 semester hours are completed.

NOTE: Students who choose to apply the three-year transfer option to their record should be aware that any “D” coursework done prior to readmission will not count toward graduation. For the purpose of calculating GPA for graduation with honors, all coursework taken at the College of Charleston will be included in that calculation.

Readmission of Students Dismissed for Academic Deficiency

Students who have been dismissed once for academic deficiency may apply for readmission only after the lapse of two semesters (for this purpose, the 10-week summer session is considered one semester). Students who have been dismissed twice for academic deficiency may apply for readmission only after the lapse of three calendar years from the second dismissal.

Additional information and letters of recommendation may be required from some applicants. Please refer to the “admissions” section of this catalog.

Those applicants who are conditionally readmitted to the College will be required to attend a full-day workshop before re-enrollment to make sure that they understand the retention and graduation standards they will be required to meet. The workshop will include academic advising and registration in classes. Failure to attend this workshop will result in a negative decision regarding readmission.

Credits earned at another institution during a student’s dismissal period will not be accepted toward a degree at the College of Charleston.

Transcripts

Students may obtain the unofficial transcripts of their academic record free of charge via Cougar Trail on the Web. Official transcripts may be obtained when the student completes and signs a request form in the Office of the Registrar or by printing and filling out the Transcript Request Form found online at http://www.cofc.edu/~register/forms_requests/transcript.html, which can then be printed and faxed or mailed to the registrar’s office. Official transcripts incur a $5.00 per copy fee with additional charges for faxing or Fed-Exing. A student’s record may be released by the registrar only upon the specific signed request of the student. This request must be made in writing at least two weeks before the date the transcript is needed. Transcripts will not be issued for any student who has overdue financial obligations to the College of Charleston.

Degree and Enrollment Certifications

Students may obtain certification of enrollment (or proof of full-time enrollment) for insurance, scholarship, and loan purposes by logging onto Cougar Trail on the Web and selecting “Enrollment Verification” from the menu. Follow the prompts provided by National Student Clearinghouse. Enrollment Verifications are available immediately following the drop-add deadline for spring and fall terms. Questions should be directed to the Office of the Registrar.
Transfer Credit for Work at Another Institution and for Study Abroad: Transient Student Status

Courses Taken Elsewhere

A degree candidate at the College of Charleston who wishes to receive College of Charleston credit for courses at another institution must submit the Coursework Elsewhere form available in the Office of the Registrar. The senior year of work for the degree must be completed in residence at the College of Charleston. However, candidates who have earned more than 60 credit hours at the College of Charleston may petition the Office of Undergraduate Studies and the chair of the department of their major to complete up to 7 of their final 37 hours at another institution (Senior Petition).

Coursework completed at other institutions must have a minimum grade of "C" (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) or its equivalent. Credits awarded as a result of placement testing are not acceptable. Courses graded on a pass/fail basis are acceptable only if the institution where the courses were completed will assign a minimum equivalent of "C" (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) to the "pass" grade.

The institution the student wishes to attend must be regionally accredited. College of Charleston credit will be granted for the courses taken only if those courses are ones receiving credit toward graduation in the other college or university conducting the instruction. In order to ensure that the courses will be accepted at the College of Charleston for transfer credit, they must be approved in the registrar’s office before actual enrollment. Acceptance of credit for an approved course will become final only when the registrar of the College of Charleston receives an official transcript of the student’s record from the accredited institution where the course was taken. Credits will be awarded based upon actual credits earned, with grades of "C" (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) or better. Grades do not transfer, only credits. The maximum number of transfer credits acceptable toward a College of Charleston degree is 92 semester hours total from all institutions; 60 semester hours are the maximum from a two-year institution.

Study Abroad

For study abroad, the International Student Exchange Program, and the National Student Exchange Program, the determination in advance that credit may be awarded will be made by the College academic department concerned in consultation with the student. For this purpose, the Coursework Elsewhere form is available from the Office of International Education and Programs and advance approval procedures are made there. Once the transcript is received, on completion of the work, the registrar’s office verifies and enters the credits as noted above.

Second Bachelor’s Degree

A second degree in another degree category (BA, BS, AB) may be earned by a former graduate of the College of Charleston. The second degree earned will be noted on the graduate’s transcript. A second diploma may be requested by the student when s/he applies to graduate. Students who elect to receive a second diploma will need to pay an additional fee at the Treasurer’s Office.

For the former graduate, only the additional courses needed to complete the desired degree requirements must be taken. Those requirements are established in the Undergraduate Catalog in effect when the student last entered degree-seeking status provided that the student maintained continuous enrollment until the completion of all degree requirements. The second major must be formally declared in the departmental office of the intended major. Readmission into degree-seeking status after graduation is accomplished through the Office of Admissions.

A transfer student with a previously earned bachelor’s degree from another institution may earn a second bachelor’s degree at the College of Charleston. The student must complete all degree requirements stated in the Undergraduate Catalog in effect when the student enters degree-seeking status at the College provided that the student maintains continuous enrollment until the granting of the degree at the College. If enrollment is interrupted without a leave of absence, the student must complete all degree requirements stated in the Undergraduate Catalog in effect when the student last enters degree-seeking status at the College. A minimum of 30 semester hours must be taken at the College of Charleston with at least 15 taken in the major field at the 200 level or above. Upon completion of all requirements, a notation will be made on the transcript that the degree requirements have been met. Both concentrations and minors will be shown on the student’s transcript. If desired, upon completion of a degree audit with the registrar and payment of the fee, a diploma may be awarded.

Students’ Responsibilities and Rights

In meeting the standards for admission to the College of Charleston and choosing to enroll, students are subject to all college regulations. The academic and non-academic policies outlined by the College are intended to promote honorable citizenship that encourages a thriving living and learning environment sensitive to the rights of others and the achievement of knowledge. Our expectations neither advocate the surrender of basic constitutional rights nor dilute those rights, but strengthen and complement the rights of each individual enrolled. By enrolling at the College of Charleston, students accept the responsibility to adhere to its regulations and codes. It is in the spirit of good citizenship and community stewardship that the following rights and responsibilities are outlined below for all students.

Specific rights and responsibilities are detailed in the Student Handbook. The Student Handbook is available from the campus Web site at http://www.cofc.edu/studentaffairs/general_info/studenthandbook.html. It is the responsibility of each student to familiarize himself or herself with the academic and conduct regulations that govern eligibility to continue at the College as set forth in this catalog.

The Student Handbook covers such policies as:

Academic Integrity and the Honor Code*

Integrity is a fundamental value of the College of Charleston. Academic integrity is the most essential form of this value with regard to a college education. Our Honor Code is the College’s statement on academic integrity written by students, faculty, and staff. It articulates the College’s expectations of students and faculty in maintaining the highest standards in academic work. The Honor Code of the College specifically forbids lying, cheating, stealing, and plagiarism. “An academic community of integrity advances the quest for truth and knowledge by requiring intellectual and personal honesty in learning, teaching, research, and service. An academic community of integrity fosters a climate of mutual trust, encourages the free exchange of ideas, and enables all to reach their highest potential.” (The Center for Academic Integrity [1999]. The Fundamental Values of Academic Integrity.)

Knowledge cannot be gained and assessed critically without observing basic honesty in all aspects of its production. Any form of deception related to academic work is not tolerated and all members of our community are expected to report any abuses of our standards.

All of us are expected to know our Honor Code and understand how it holds us accountable. The responsibility for reinforcing and demonstrating academic integrity rests with students and faculty, individually and collectively.

Alleged serious violations of the Honor Code that are or are not admitted by students will be heard by the Honor Board, a body composed of students, faculty, and staff members. If responsibility is established, by admission during the judicial process or by hearing, the faculty member, with guidance from the Honor Board in certain cases, determines in what manner a student’s grade will be affected by the violation. The Honor Board may assess additional penalties, which range up to and include expulsion from the College.

Many institutions now employ the grade of “XF” on a transcript to communicate the outcome of an Honor System process. The grade of XF is intended to indicate that a student failed a course for academic dishonesty. For serious and intentional violations of the Honor Code, the faculty member for the course involved will be instructed by the Honor Board to assign the grade of “XF.” The grade “XF” will be recorded on the student’s transcript with the notation “failure due to academic dishonesty.” A student may petition the Honor Board for removal of the “X” after two years. The implementation of the “XF” grade strengthens the College’s commitment to academic integrity.

Student Code of Conduct

Under the Code of Conduct, students are expected to reasonably and appropriately coexist within the College and the greater communities in which they live, work, and socialize. Essentially, this means that students may be held accountable for any acts that adversely affect or endanger themselves, others, or the character and/or mission of the College of Charleston. The jurisdiction of the Code of Conduct includes incidents occurring on or off campus as it covers students attached in any way to the College of Charleston. Examples of inappropriate actions include, but are not limited to, forgery; misuse of any college document or instrument of identification; physical abuse; threats; intimidation; sexual harassment; sexual misconduct; coercion; hazing; disruption or obstruction of teaching or college operations; failing to comply with directions of College officials; vandalism; computer misuse; attempted or actual theft; illegal or unauthorized possession of firearms; using, possessing, or distributing drugs or alcohol, except as expressly permitted by law.

Violations may be heard by the Honor Board or a student affairs administrator, depending on when the incident occurs.

Classroom Code of Conduct

While there are many informal situations in which people have neither the desire nor the right to prescribe how others ought to behave, a college classroom requires a higher level of courtesy than many people exercise in ordinary public space. Everyone in a classroom is there for the purpose of learning, and no one should be able to deprive another person of the chance to learn.

Alcohol and Substance Abuse Policy

The College has taken the position that misuse of alcohol and any use of illegal drugs are not consistent with the mission of the institution and will not be tolerated. The College provides detailed policies regarding alcohol and drugs in the Student Handbook and the Guide to Residence Life. If found in violation of a campus policy, the student, most likely, will face disciplinary action including but not limited to suspension from enrollment and removal from housing. Further, the College offers assistance to all students seeking to reduce the harmful effects their alcohol and drug choices may be having on their academic success and college experience.

Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act

The College of Charleston is committed to having a campus that is free from illegal or abusive use of substances, as such interfere with the academic learning process. The College’s alcohol and substance abuse policies apply to all employees, students, guests, and visitors of the College. Violations of these policies may result in college disciplinary sanctions. Policy and sanction details are outlined in the Student Handbook and for employees through the Office of Human Resources. The responsibility for knowing potential health risks and abiding by the provisions of the College of Charleston’s alcohol and substance abuse policy rests with each individual.

College of Charleston English Fluency Policy

Under the provisions of the 1991 English Fluency in Higher Education Act, the South Carolina legislature has mandated that each public institution of higher learning establish a mechanism to “ensure that the instructional faculty whose second language is English possess adequate proficiency in both the written and spoken English language.” Additionally, the act requires that the institutions “provide students with a grievance procedure regarding an instructor who is not able to write or speak the English language.”

Confidentiality of Student Records (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 is a federal law designed to provide students with greater access to and control over information contained in their educational records while at the same time prohibiting, in most circumstances, the release of any information (other than directory information) contained in those educational records without expressed and written consent of the student. This law guarantees privacy of student records, open access by students to their records, restricted release of information to specified authorities or others only with written consent, and procedures allowing students to challenge the contents of their records. Forms necessary for release of information or restriction of directory information are provided by the Office of the Registrar. Each campus department may require a signed release specifying the type of information to be released and to whom.

The College of Charleston designates the following categories of student information as public, or “Directory Information.” (The College may disclose such information at its discretion unless a student has filed a request with the Office of the Registrar to prevent its disclosure.) Name, local address, permanent address, telephone number, campus e-mail address, date and place of birth, dates of attendance, current enrollment, past and present participation in officially recognized sports and activities, including fraternities and sororities, and physical attributes (e.g., height and weight) of athletic team members. Please refer to the registrar’s Web site at http://www.cofc.edu/~register/ferpa/index.html for additional information on FERPA and the disclosure of educational records.

Student Grievance Procedure

Disputes occasionally may arise between members of the College of Charleston community over both academic and non-academic matters. While many issues can be resolved at the personal level between the two parties, a formal procedure is available for the resolution of disputes that cannot. The procedure that has been established presents a framework within which disputes may be settled. The formal procedure is not meant to change the character of a dispute but to ensure that all parties are treated fairly and that every attempt is made to arrive at a just resolution of the dispute.

Sexual Harassment Policy

Respect for the dignity and worth of all individuals is essential to an appropriate college environment. The College’s Sexual Harassment Policy is a result of discussions with faculty, staff, and students regarding sexual harassment issues and the desire to provide a campus environment that is positive and encourages communication and personal growth for all members of the campus community.
Campus Security Act

In complying with the Student Right to Know Act, the Department of Public Safety, in conjunction with the Office of Student Affairs, publishes an annual security report containing campus security policies and procedures as well as campus crime statistics. Outlined within the same report are tips to improve campus safety and available educational programming to serve the campus community. Copies of the annual report are available at public safety or can be accessed on the Web site: www.cofc.edu/pubsafety.

Student E-mail Policy

College use of e-mail

E-mail is considered an official method for communication at the College of Charleston. Official e-mail communications are intended to meet the academic and administrative needs of the campus community. The College has the right to expect that such communications will be received and read in a timely fashion. To enable this process, the College ensures that all students can be accessed through a standardized, College-issued e-mail account throughout their academic years at the College of Charleston.

Assignment of student e-mail

Official College of Charleston e-mail accounts are automatically assigned to all students upon acceptance at the College. In order to find their CoC Edisto e-mail address and set their passwords, new students should first log onto Cougar Trail and then click on the link: New Student? Locate your official CofC e-mail address and set your Cougar Password.

Redirecting of e-mail

If a student wishes to have e-mail redirected from their official College-issued account to another e-mail address (e.g., @aol.com, @hotmail.com, @yahoo.com, or any other server other than the official @edisto.cofc.edu), they may do so, but at their own risk. Having e-mail redirected does not absolve the student from the responsibilities associated with official communication sent to his or her College account. The College is not responsible for the handling of e-mail by outside vendors or unofficial servers. A link to instructions on how to forward Edisto e-mail can be found by clicking on Web Mail from the CoC homepage.

Expectations about student use of e-mail

Students are expected to check their College of Charleston official e-mail on a frequent and consistent basis in order to remain informed of College-related communications. Checking e-mail on a daily basis is recommended. (There are many computer stations and labs placed around campus for free student use, such as in the library and near academic advising.) Students have the responsibility to recognize that certain communications may be time-critical. “I didn’t check my e-mail,” error in forwarding e-mail, or e-mail returned to the College with “Mailbox Full” or “User Unknown” are not acceptable excuses for missing official College communications via e-mail.

Protection from e-mail viruses

The College has purchased a site license for the Norton antivirus software and will make it available to all students at no charge. Students must have up-to-date virus protection on their computers in order to access the campus and ResNet networks from campus housing. The use of antivirus on student computers will provide considerable protection from viruses and worms sent by e-mail. Therefore, infected computers will not be a valid excuse for missing e-mail communications. Information about virus protection, available fixes, and a link to download Norton antivirus software are available at http://antivirus.cofc.edu.

Appropriate use of student e-mail

Users should exercise extreme caution in using e-mail to communicate confidential or sensitive matters, and should not assume that e-mail is private and confidential. It is especially important that users are careful to send messages only to the intended recipient(s), especially when using the “reply” command during e-mail correspondence.

All use of e-mail will be consistent with other College policies.

All use of e-mail will be consistent with local, state, and federal law, including the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA).

Educational uses of e-mail

Faculty will determine how e-mail will be used in their classes and will specify their requirement in the course syllabus. This “Official Student E-mail Policy” will ensure that all students will be able to comply with e-mail-based course requirements from the faculty. Faculty can, therefore, make the assumption that students’ official @edisto.cofc.edu accounts are being accessed, and faculty can use e-mail for their classes accordingly.

Student Support Services

Academic Advising and Planning Center 843-953-5981
www.cofc.edu/~advising/advise.htm
advising@cofc.edu

The Academic Advising and Planning Center (AAPC) assists students in developing an academic plan that encompasses all aspects of a student’s academic career, including identification of personal and career goals and appropriate strategies for attaining them. Entering students are assigned an academic advisor in the AAPC who works with the student until he/she declares a major, at which time they are assigned to a faculty member in that academic department.

Successful academic planning is a shared responsibility between student and advisor and is most successful when students maintain regular contact with their advisor and base decisions on that interaction. AAPC staff work collaboratively with other campus offices to ensure that students are aware of services and opportunities that are available to them and refer students as appropriate.

AAPC also assists students who have been approved for SNAP (Students Needing Access Parity) Services and Adult Student Services students.

to ensure equal access to all programs and services of the College.

Services Provided

SNAP personnel can provide assistance with the application process and documentation review (see SNAP Web site or call the SNAP office). The SNAP office can also provide information about independent, licensed testing and evaluating clinics. Once a student with a documented disability is approved for services, SNAP can provide:

• Special advising and registration.

• Reasonable accommodations specific to the indicidual need based on the medical or psychoedu-cational assessment.

• Communication with professors, upon request, to heighten their awareness of individual student needs and to identify reasonable accommodations.

• Assistive technology: WYNN Reader, Dragon

Naturally Speaking, JAWS, ZOOM Text, video

magnifier, printed material in alternate formats

(Braille, electronic, RFB&D).

• Alternatives to foreign language and math/logic requirements if the need is documented. Please note: If math is considered an essential component of a major, alternatives to the math/logic requirement may not be used.

NOTE: Attendant care is not provided and is the financial responsibility of the student.

Students with Disabilities:

Policies & Procedures

The College of Charleston and the Graduate School actively and affirmatively seek to accommodate any currently enrolled student with a certified disability.

It is the responsibility of the student to:

1. Meet the admission requirements and maintain the academic standards of the College.

2. Provide adequate evidence of the disability based on established criteria. (Criteria may be obtained from SNAP Services or the Web site: www.cofc.edu/~cds.)

3. Apply and be approved for SNAP Services.

4. Request an accommodation in a reasonable time in advance of situations for which it is necessary.

5. Properly appeal an accommodation if he or she believes the accommodation is not adequate.

It is the responsibility of the instructor to:

1. Provide and administer appropriate accommodation.

2. Justify the proposed accommodation or the denial of an accommodation if appealed by the student.

3. Suggest alternatives or negotiate accommodations with the student and/or a SNAP administrator if the recommended accommodations are unacceptable.

It is the responsibility of the College to:

1. Provide information to the faculty about types of disabilities and the availability of services.

2. Review documentation provided as evidence of disability.

3. Provide suggestions for accommodations.

4. Educate faculty and students about disabilities through teaching seminars and electronic communication.

5. Arbitrate appeals.

Summary of Procedures

1. Students must apply to SNAP Services, submit the required documentation, and be approved for SNAP services to be eligible for accommodation.

Students who are not registered with SNAP

Services but are seeking special accommodation should be immediately referred by the professor to SNAP. Students are not entitled to accommodations prior to SNAP approval. Accommodations will not be granted retroactively.

2. When a SNAP student approaches an instructor and requests accommodation, the instructor may ask the student to provide a letter from SNAP

Services certifying his or her SNAP status and approved accommodations. Requests for accommodation should be made no later than one week before needed to allow instructors time to arrange the logistics of the accommodation.

3. The instructor will decide (with the advice of SNAP personnel if requested) what accommodation will be made available. If the student objects to the accommodation, the decision may be appealed. Appeals are initially handled by SNAP personnel. If an agreement cannot be reached within two working days, a formal grievance should be filed (see “Student Grievance Procedures” in the Student Handbook).

Alternative Courses for Core Requirements

1. A list of alternative courses for the math/logic and foreign language requirements is available through SNAP for students approved for alternative courses. If the alternative course is not a reasonable accommodation for the student’s particular disability or involves skills which are affected by another disability, the student may apply for additional accommodation via other alternatives. SNAP personnel will recommend other alternatives or accommodations subject to the approval of the Academic Standards Committee.

2. Courses that are approved as alternatives for SNAP students often have higher concentrations of students with learning disabilities than courses not on the alternative list. To assist instructors of these courses, as well as any interested faculty, SNAP Services provides a Web site, a Faculty Guide to SNAP Services, periodic faculty seminars, and individual consultation upon request. The Web site, Faculty Guide, and seminars:
   a. Provide information on laws affecting students with disabilities.
   b. Describe the various types of disabilities.
   c. Explain reasonable accommodation.
   d. Describe the College of Charleston’s procedures for accommodating students with disabilities.
   e. Suggest effective strategies for teaching students with disabilities.

3. No course taken as an alternative to any requirement may be used to fulfill any other general education requirement nor may it be used to satisfy a major or minor requirement except with the approval of the major or minor department.

Appeal Procedures

SNAP Status Appeal Process

Students whose petitions for SNAP status are denied may appeal the decision in writing to the Faculty Committee on Academic Standards within five days of the decision. The committee will first determine if there is sufficient evidence for a hearing by the full Faculty Committee on Academic Standards based on additional information or breach of due process. If so, a hearing with appropriate due process guarantees will be provided, and the decision on the appeal will be final.

Grievance Procedure

A student may submit an appeal or grievance if he or she has not been accommodated in accordance with his or her special needs (see “Student Grievance Procedures” in the Student Handbook).

Center for Student Learning at the Addlestone Library

www.cofc.edu/~csl

The Center for Student Learning is an academic support program for all students. Composed of accounting, foreign languages, information technology, mathematics, study skills, speaking, and writing labs and other services, the CSL provides students with individualized assistance from trained and experienced staff, faculty, and peer tutors. Students may receive tutoring on a walk-in basis or by appointment. Study groups and Supplemental Instruction sessions are available, and seminars and workshops are offered periodically throughout the semester. Students may call the office or request a tutor online.

Services include:

- Accounting Lab
- Foreign Languages Tutoring Lab
- Information Technology (IT) Fluency Lab
- Math Lab
- Study Skills Lab
- Speaking Lab
- Writing Lab
- Supplemental Instruction
- General tutorial services
- Post-graduate test preparation program for tests such as LSAT, GRE, MCAT, and GMAT as well as Praxis preparation

Cougar Trail on the Web

Office of the Registrar 843-953-5668
www.cofc.edu/~register

Cougar Trail on the Web (https://cougartrail.cofc.edu) is a computerized system that allows students to directly monitor their records and manage their progress at the College of Charleston.

Many student services are available on Cougar Trail on the Web. Students can view course offerings, grades, student schedules, degree audits, unofficial transcripts, and transfer credit summaries. Students may also register for classes, check holds on their record, pay their tuition bill, accept financial aid awards, apply for graduation, apply for housing and parking, and update personal data. Enrollment verification and attendance validation are also available. All records on Cougar Trail are confidential and are accessible only by the appropriate student by means of a PIN number set by the student.

Counseling and Substance Abuse Services

www.wellness.cofc.edu

Counseling and Substance Abuse Services provides counseling, assessment, and educational programming for a wide range of personal problems that confront students. The primary goal of counseling and other psychological services is to help students develop the self-awareness and personal resources necessary to overcome problems so as to allow students to take full advantage of the educational opportunities at the College.

Counseling Services

College is a time of new challenges and responsibilities. Counseling services can augment students’ adjustment and personal growth as well as help to ensure success. Counseling is a confidential, helping relationship that assists students to better understand themselves including their feelings, behaviors, and relationships with others.

Counseling services are accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services. The staff consists of well-qualified mental health professionals and advanced graduate student interns with backgrounds in counseling, social work, and psychology. The counselors are all licensed in their respective fields.

Substance Abuse Services

Our licensed professionals specialize in brief counseling models to assist students with substance use concerns. These services are provided in an easily accessible, strictly confidential, and non-judgmental environment. Our counselors invite students to visit and discuss or ask questions about their own substance use, or how they can help friends or family members. We can also assist with off-campus referrals.

Students can become involved in our award-winning prevention programming by becoming peer educators. Peer educators are trained to offer and support an array of classroom and group presentations, host late-night activities, and participate in all phases of prevention projects. Visit our prevention Web site at www.cofc.edu/betterthingstodo/.

Human Relations and Minority Affairs

The Office of Human Relations and Minority Affairs at the College of Charleston addresses the educational and employment needs of individuals and groups who occupy minority status at the College and assures complete access to the College for women, minorities, and the disabled. This effort is in compliance with all federal and state laws, including Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 as amended, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and all other pertinent laws as they pertain to access and equity.

As a resource for the special concerns of women, minorities, and the disabled, the Office of Human Relations and Minority Affairs identifies problem areas, recommends remedial or supportive activities to persons in authority, and supports programs of interest to this constituency in the College community and on the local, state, and national levels.

In order to establish equal opportunity for all persons, the Office of Human Relations and Minority Affairs ensures immediate response to complaints of discrimination based on sex, race, religion, national origin, creed, disability, and age by students, employees, and/or applicants for employment and admission. The director for the Office of Human Relations and Minority Affairs is responsible for coordinating the grievance procedures under the Affirmative Action Program and federal equal opportunity guidelines.

Intercultural Programs

www.cofc.edu/~oip/

The Office of Intercultural Programs (OIP) coordinates the campus-wide plan for the retention of African American and other minority students. This office also works to enhance global as well as multicultural awareness of all students on campus. A network of programs and services is designed to enhance and support all facets of student life and academic success. OIP is housed at the Multicultural Center. The Center is located next to the Addlestone Library, at the corner of Calhoun Street and Pitt Street.

OIP’s mission of campus education, awareness and retention are conducted through diversity and other programming with the help of OIP staff as well as campus-wide faculty, staff and student committees, student organizations and specific programs. Following are some examples of enrichment and transition programs:

SCAMP

For minority students interested in pursuing a degree in science or math, the SCAMP program provides an introduction to science, engineering, and mathematics. For additional information about SCAMP programs, call Dinesh Sarvate, Department of Mathematics, at 843-953-5736.

L.I.N.K.S. Peer Mentoring Program

L.I.N.K.S. (Liaison Imparting skills Nurturing and Kindling Student success) is based on a collaborative model, which pairs successful returning minority students with freshmen and transfer students. Call 843-953-5660 for further information.

SPECTRA

SPECTRA (Speedy Consolidation and Transition program) is a unique and challenging summer residential program designed to assist incoming freshman minority students in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Call 843-953-1400 for further information.

Student Union for Multicultural Affairs (SUMA)

Comprised of students, SUMA primarily focuses on historically underrepresented student populations on the college campus.

United Nations Club

The United Nations Club, the first and only one in South Carolina, focuses on education of global awareness on campus as well as trains student delegates for competing at Model United Nations conferences.

Global Awareness Group

This group of faculty, staff, and students works through out-of-classroom activities and events planning to endorse global awareness.

The Interns

OIP offers students sessions on how to begin searching for internships, scholarships, grants, and other financial help to study and work both within the United States and abroad, or get internship credits for class.

College Experience

This is a two-week campus residential program for minority and/or first generation would-be college students who are rising seniors at a South Carolina public high school and are seriously considering admission to the College of Charleston.

Support Services

Academic and personal counseling, liaison, advocacy, peer mentor program, referrals, leadership training, and community services opportunities are a few of the many services available to students through the Office of Intercultural Programs.

The Marlene and Nathan Addlestone Library, the main campus library, is a new facility that opened in January 2005. The building is 144,000 square feet – roughly the equivalent of three football fields. Students will find 260 computers, 16 individual study rooms, 1,400 seats of all types, 1,752 voice and data outlets, and Java City Café, which opens onto an expansive formal garden. The library is also home to the Center for Student Learning, Student Computing Support Desk, and a Student Technology Center – all of these services are in close proximity of the library’s information/research desk. The entire building and garden also feature wireless Internet access. Students have access to more than 500,000 volumes, 3,000 print journals, and more than 26,000 electronic journals. For a current list of services and collections, visit the library’s Web site at http://www.cofc.edu/~library/.

843-953-8171

The Office of Media and Communications provides media support, educational technology, and creative services for students, faculty, and staff. This area is responsible for Synergy, the College’s instructional video access network; operates a television studio; produces instructional and informational videos and public radio; and provides special events support. It has administrative responsibility over the Center for the Documentary, which develops and creates interdisciplinary documentary films, television, and radio programs in collaboration with College faculty and communication students. Non-linear editing equipment is available to all students regardless of major.

843-953-5606

The N.E. Miles Early Childhood Development Center, at 91 Wentworth Street, is accredited through the National Association for the Education of Young Children, providing licensed childcare and a preschool demonstration/laboratory program for 57 children ages two through kindergarten. The program follows the academic calendar of the university and is staffed by a director and four master teachers, with graduate and undergraduate students assistants. Faculty, staff, student, and community children are eligible for admission.

New Student Programs

843-953-2017

www.cofc.edu/~orientat

orientat@cofc.edu

The Office of New Student Programs assists all new students and their families with the transition to the New Student and Family Orientation Programs

A two-day orientation program for new students is offered during the summer and in January. Attendance is required of all new students; it is optional for family members. Orientation provides a variety of interest sessions and opportunities to meet other new students, receive academic advising, and explore various majors offered at the College.

The Provisional Program

Students selected to participate in this program sign a provisional contract outlining specific requirements that must be met during the academic year. These requirements include taking Freshman Seminar, limiting work hours, and using sources of academic support provided through a campus-wide network of resources.

843-953-5457

The Department of Academic Computing operates a large computing center in the Addlestone Library that is open to all College of Charleston students. This center houses approximately 260+ personal computers, consisting of predominately high-performance Dell PCs, laptops, and Apple computers. There is also a Student Technology Center (STC) in the Addlestone Library that contains two high-performance Dell Precision Workstations and a high-performance Apple G5 workstation for video editing, video, web and graphic editing software, presentation software, equipment for video recording and projection, and an interactive whiteboard. Students using these centers have access to wired and wireless Internet access; electronic mail; laser printing; text and graphics scanning; and a collection of popular productivity software. There is in-person assistance at the Student Computing Support desk where staff help students configure their laptops for campus networks and troubleshoot software problems.

In addition, academic computing maintains small computing centers in the Berry, Buist, College Lodge, Craig, and McConnell Residence Halls. Each center is equipped with at least four computers.

Student Health Services
843-953-5520

Student Health Services (SHS) provides primary care to registered students. The SHS is staffed by Board-certified physicians, nurse practitioners and registered nurses who are experienced and dedicated to providing quality health care to the student population.

Clinic hours are 8:30 a.m. – 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. Appointments can be arranged by calling the SHS or by stopping by the clinic. In case of an emergency after hours or on weekends, students may call Public Safety for transportation to area hospitals.

Visits to the Student Health Services are included in tuition. Students are responsible for fees for referrals, laboratory tests and prescriptions. SHS does not have x-ray facilities or a pharmacy. A number of pharmacies are located within walking distance of the campus. Students who are in Charleston during the summer who are not taking classes can continue to be seen at the clinic by paying a summer fee.

Students are required to have adequate health insurance that will cover hospitalization, emergency room visits, specialty care, and diagnostic tests. The College does sponsor a basic health insurance policy; additional information may be found at www.studentinsurance.com.

All students are required to complete a health form and show proof of immunization. Health forms may be downloaded at our Web site at www.wellness.cofc.edu. Physical exams are not required. Care at Student Health Services is completely confidential; students must sign a written release prior to the disclosure of medical information. Please call SHS for additional information.

Successful Transition through Educational Planning (STEP) Workshop

Some students who have previously attended the College of Charleston are approved for readmission through the Office of Undergraduate Studies and are required to attend a STEP workshop during the summer or December prior to their return. The one-day workshop covers topics of importance to readmitted students. Students also will be advised and registered for classes during this workshop.

Additional Educational Programs

The College’s educational program offers students a wealth of opportunities beyond its degree requirements. For instance, nearly every department offers its advanced students the chance to do intensive, independent study under the supervision of a faculty member. These opportunities range from on-campus programs that expand the student’s options to others that place participants in learning situations in local, out-of-state, and international settings (internships, cooperative education, and study abroad, for example).

Air Force ROTC

AFROTC is a two-year program offered to College of Charleston students through a cross-registration agreement with Charleston Southern University. Though normally designed for the junior and senior years, it can include graduate studies. After successfully completing the program, cadets receive commissions as second lieutenants in the USAF and will serve a minimum of four years on active duty.

Various Air Force scholarships that pay up to full tuition, textbooks, and associated fees are available to qualified students. Both scholarship and non-scholarship cadets receive a $150 monthly stipend. Students should normally start the application process during their sophomore year.

NOTE: For current information, contact the professor of aerospace studies at 843-863-7444.

Army ROTC Pre-Commissioning Program
843-953-5224

The U.S. Army is seeking qualified students for commissioned officer positions in both active and reserve force units. The Citadel Army ROTC Detachment offers a two-year pre-commissioning program to qualified Army Reserve or Army National Guard members who are enrolled at the College of Charleston. The two-year program will require that the student attend military science classes one night a week or as prescribed by their instructor, major field training exercises, as well as a six-week summer training program (Advanced Camp) between their junior and senior years.

Upon completion of both bachelor degree and ROTC requirements, the student will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Army.

For current information, contact the professor of military science at The Citadel.

Cross-Registration: Charleston Higher Education Institutions

The College of Charleston, The Citadel, Medical University of South Carolina, Trident Technical College, and Charleston Southern University have an agreement whereby students enrolled full-time and paying full-time tuition at any of these institutions may be able to take courses at other participating... institutions at no additional cost* (with some restrictions). Information and cross-registration forms can be obtained from the Office of Undergraduate Studies. Each request for cross registration must be approved by a dean of undergraduate studies and the chair of the appropriate department before the beginning of the term in which the student wishes to participate.

*NOTE: This arrangement does not include summer session classes.

International Education and Programs 843-953-7661
www.cofc.edu/international/

The Office of International Education and Programs (OIEP) develops, coordinates, and implements programs and services to assist students to study abroad and international students and faculty at the College of Charleston. OIEP advises and counsels prospective study-abroad students on personal, academic, and logistical matters while they are studying at the College of Charleston and during their stay abroad; assists international students with immigration, housing, and schedules prior to and during the period of study at the College of Charleston; facilitates student exchange and clarifies procedures with international partner institutions. OIEP engages students in the educational process to enhance their opportunity to succeed on campus and/or abroad. The office is located in the Multi-cultural Center at 207 Calhoun Street.

Study Abroad

The College of Charleston encourages students to prepare themselves for a role in an increasingly interdependent world through exposure to formal study with an international/intercultural content and, where possible, to an extended overseas learning experience.

In addition to developing language skills and acquiring first-hand knowledge of the customs and cultural heritage of other peoples, students frequently gain new perspectives on their own lives when studying and living abroad.

Programs for study abroad are available through the College of Charleston, a variety of other educational institutions, and program providers:

College of Charleston Semester Abroad Programs

The College operates its own semester-long and short-term summer study abroad programs in Trujillo, Spain, in the Extremadura region. Language courses, as well as courses in other disciplines, are offered in an immersion context of homestays in a small-town environment. Historic preservation has protected the old walled city, providing a wonderful backdrop for a study abroad experience.

The semester program in Santiago, Chile, offers a natural choice for students looking for a first-hand experience with the Spanish-American world. Based at the Universidad Diego Portales, students are able to take Spanish courses and other subjects while enjoying an immersion experience with Chilean families.

The Cuba program is a unique opportunity for degree-seeking College of Charleston students to experience Cuba and its diverse culture. Classes are taught by CoC faculty and Cuban scholars from the Instituto de Filosofia in Havana.

The University of La Rochelle is host to the College of Charleston spring semester study-abroad program in France. CoC students enroll in classes with other foreign students conducted at the Centre Universitaire de Francais Langue Etrangere (CUFLE), a pedagogical arm of the university specializing in teaching French to foreigners.

The semester program in Buenos Aires, Argentina, is the perfect setting for students desiring to hone their language skills and at the same time immerse themselves in the business and political culture of South America. Classes are held at the Graduate Center of the Universidad Nacional de La Matanza.

Normal tuition and fees apply to these programs. Each College of Charleston program has an additional fee which covers the cost of transportation, room and board, and travel while on the program. Financial aid and scholarships will normally apply to these programs.

College of Charleston Maymester and Summer Study Abroad Programs

Each year during Maymester and summer school sessions, the College of Charleston offers several study abroad programs designed and conducted by faculty of the College to provide unique learning opportunities for students and members of the community. The Office of International Education should be contacted for details on upcoming programs.

Bilateral Exchanges

The College of Charleston has several direct bilateral agreements with institutions overseas.

- National University of La Matanza, Argentina
- University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia
- University of Linz, Austria
- Management Center Innsbruck, Austria
- Gerase Research Center, The Bahamas
- Federal Center of Technological Education, Curitiba, Brazil
- Federal University of Minas Gerais, Belo Horizonte, Brazil
- Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil
- Universidade do Sul de Santa Catarina, Brazil
- Universidad Diego Portales, Chile
- Latin-American University of Science and Technology, Costa Rica
- University of Nottingham, England
- University of Northampton, England
- University of Bath Spa, England
- University of Buckinghamshire Chilterns, England
- EuroAmerican Institute of Technology, Sophia Antipolis, France
- University of Versailles/Saint-Quentin, France
- Catholic University of Lille, France
- University of La Rochelle, France
- IECS Strasbourg, France
- Bamberg University, Germany
- University of Tubingen, Germany
- University of Mannheim, Germany
- University of Mainz, Germany
- Ludwigshafien University of Applied Sciences, Germany
- Free University of Bozen-Bolzano, Italy
- Kansai-Gaidai University, Osaka, Japan
- Soka University, Japan
- Universidad de Las Americas Puebla, Mexico
- Universidad Autónoma de Baja California Sur, Mexico
- Universidad de Colima, Mexico
- University of Groningen, The Netherlands
- Hogeschool van Utrecht, The Netherlands
- Yonsei University, South Korea
- Jonkoping University, Sweden
- Bangkok University, Thailand

*In addition, the State of South Carolina has sister-state agreements with the State of Queensland in Australia and the States of Brandenburg, Rheinland-Pfalz, or Thuringen in Germany. The College also has direct enrollment agreements with the University of Newcastle and Deakin University in Australia and is affiliated with King’s College (England) and The Abbey (France) through a consortium with the University of Southern Mississippi. The College of Charleston also participates in the U.S.-Brazil Business School Consortium program.

In general, these exchanges all operate under similar criteria. They are as follows:

1. The College of Charleston’s bilateral exchanges are based on a balanced one-to-one exchange of students.
2. Only full-time students who have normally completed at least one academic year at the College, and have maintained a GPA of at least 2.5 (depending on program) are eligible. In some cases, prior study of the country’s language is required.

3. Costs are set by the College of Charleston based on the usual tuition and fees. Transportation, books, travel, insurance, and incidental expenses are not included.

4. Exchange students enroll directly in the host institution and apply pre-approved credit to their degree at the College.

5. Students may exchange for a semester or a year.

6. Students are nominated by the College of Charleston to take part in the exchange.

7. Most forms of financial aid can be applied toward a bilateral exchange.

NOTE: Students who choose a study abroad program must complete the “Study Abroad Course Approval” form and return it to the Office of International Education and Programs. (Also see “Credit for Work at Another Institution.”) Students with more than 87 earned hours at the time they study away must seek approval from the Office of International Education and Programs and the chair of the academic department.

To qualify for an NSE exchange, an applicant must be a full-time student in good academic standing with a minimum 2.5 GPA.

International Students and Scholar Support Services

The Office of International Education and Programs serves as the main resource for international students and scholars and provides a broad range of support services including the processing of immigration documents, assisting with immigration regulations and procedures governing enrollment, employment, and travel. The office conducts an extensive orientation program for all new international students to ensure a smooth transition and a culturally rich and academically successful experience on campus and in the United States. The office sponsors the International Club, where students can interact with other international students on campus and meet new students interested in other cultures.

International students and scholars on non-immigrant visas are required to report to the Office of International Education and Programs upon arrival for a document check and are encouraged to maintain a close contact with the Office throughout the year.

Learning Communities

843-953-2017
www.cofc.edu/~orientat
learningcommunities@cofc.edu

Learning communities at the College of Charleston are designed to build community among students, between students and faculty, and among faculty from different disciplines. Students who participate in learning communities may take several classes together, share common interests, and, in some cases, reside in the same residence hall. Learning communities make it easier for students to meet other students who share similar interests, get to know faculty, form study groups and integrate course material, learn about campus resources, and explore majors and career options. Learning community programs emphasize interpersonal dialogue, collaboration, and experiential learning within the context of diversity and allow students to relate their learning experiences to larger personal and global questions.

Maymester and Summer Sessions

http://summer.cofc.edu

e-mail: summer@cofc.edu
Sylvia H. Gamboa, Dean of Summer Programs

Maymester is a three-week term between the end of the spring semester and the beginning of the summer sessions. Courses in Maymester are designed to give faculty and students a time for uninterrupted investigation of subjects that particularly draw their interest. This term often includes study abroad courses and courses in conjunction with the Spoleto Festival USA. Classes meet for three and a half hours, five days a week over the three-week period.

Summer sessions are made up of two five-week daytime terms and two seven-week evening terms of concentrated courses. Day classes meet five days a week; evening classes meet two evenings a week. There are substantial offerings at the introductory and advanced levels in all disciplines of the college curriculum. Students may take summer courses to explore fields of study outside their major concentration, to make up work missed in the regular terms, or to accelerate their progress toward a degree.

Maymester and summer sessions are open to students from other colleges and universities, to community residents, and to high school students who are recommended by their schools, as well as regularly enrolled students at the College of Charleston. Housing is available.

A brochure providing information about Maymester and summer courses is published each spring. Maymester and summer session information is also available online from January to August each year at http://summer.cofc.edu.

Course Overload During Summer

Students may take only one course during Maymester. Students are advised to take no more than two courses concurrently during any of the other summer terms. Taking more than two courses concurrently is considered an overload. Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or less are advised against taking an overload. Students with a cumulative or major GPA of 2.0 or less are strongly advised against taking an overload.
Post-Baccalaureate/Grants 843-953-8030
www.cofc.edu/~pstudies

The Office of Postgraduate Fellowships works with students with the following qualities to prepare them for candidacy for prestigious national and international fellowships:

- Good grades: a GPA of 3.7 and above is recommended.
- The ability to write clearly and with style.
- Demonstrated success beyond the classroom, in the form of research, community activism, leadership roles in campus organizations, or internships.
- Academic interests beyond those of a single major. These can be demonstrated by a serious minor or a double major.

Fellowships such as the Fulbright, Gates, Marshall, Mitchell, Rhodes, Rotary, and Truman provide opportunities to enable deserving students to explore academic interests and pursue dreams after graduation. These grants can enable one to travel, do research, study at a foreign university, attend graduate school, or pursue an internship. Some fellowships are highly specialized and can only be used for research in a specific country, for study at a specific school, or in a well-defined area of academic interest. Others are very broad, and are available to applicants with imaginative proposals. The fellowships office assists qualified students to find the fellowships that best fit their interests.

Service Learning
843-953-5675

The Office of Student Affairs centralizes all service-learning and community service efforts through the service-learning coordinator and the CHEC Community Service Center. Current opportunities include:

- Cougars Helping Enhance the Community (CHEC): student-run community service center linking community needs with student volunteers
- Discipline-based service-learning courses
- Campus-wide signature events: MLK Challenge, Move Out/Help Out, Dash for Trash, and Alternative Spring Break

Service-learning courses are credit-bearing academic classes taught so that students learn through participation in community service. Class discussions and assignments use community service to provide a hands-on experience that make classroom theory real and applicable while helping others. Students are able to explore career options, develop communication and career skills, and build personal character while learning. The goal of service-learning is to improve the quality of life of the entire community, create mutual understanding, make learning come alive, and prepare students for lifelong community service and civic engagement.

Guidelines may differ by academic department; however, as a standard, service-learning courses:
- require students to participate actively in organized service
- conduct service to meet the needs of the community
- utilize integrated service to enhance the academic curriculum
- include structured means for the student to reflect on the service experience.

Check with your advisor or contact the service-learning coordinator for listings of courses or sections that integrate service.

Teaching Fellows Program

The College of Charleston Teaching Fellows Program, housed in the School of Education, offers to a select cohort of tomorrow’s teachers the opportunity to participate in a special program which emphasizes scholastic achievement; immerses students in P–12 school-based experiences; offers personal attention; and provides opportunities for leadership enhancement, service, and enrichment.

Annually, up to 30 Teaching Fellows at the College are chosen through a statewide competitive process open to South Carolina high school seniors. They receive annual awards of $6,000 and agree to teach one year in South Carolina for each year they receive the fellowship.

Note: Additional information can be found at the Center for Educator Recruitment, Retention, and Advancement (CERRA) Web site: www.cerra.org.

Theodore S. Stern Student Center

The Stern Student Center, described as the “living room of the campus,” is a popular gathering place for students, faculty, and staff. The hub of student life at the College of Charleston, the center houses the offices for the senior vice president for student affairs, dean of students, student life staff members, the Student Government Association, and Cougar Activities Board. The Stern Student Center also provides meeting rooms, program space, and a variety of resources for student organizations in addition to a collegiate-size swimming pool, food court, automated teller machines, fitness center, game room, lounges, and a scenic outdoor garden.

Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association is the governing force for the student body, and every student who enrolls at the College of Charleston automatically becomes a member. Elected by the student body annually, officers of this organization have traditionally provided a strong voice in articulating student concerns, and SGA has taken an active role in improving student life at the College.

Cougar Activities Board

Cougar Activities Board (CAB) is the College of Charleston’s student programming board. Its mission is to provide co-curricular programming that enhances the overall holistic development of our students and the campus community. CAB consists of five committees: special events, community issues, films, coffee house, and marketing/membership.
Greek Life: Fraternities and Sororities

There are 25 Greek-letter organizations and 3 governing councils that embodies Greek life at the College. Interfraternity, Panhellenic, and National Panhellenic councils govern the College’s fraternities and sororities. Recruitment takes place year round; however, formal recruitment occurs in the fall semester.

Student Media Center

172 Calhoun Street

The Student Media Center houses the offices of the student media coordinator and the five student media organizations at the College of Charleston. Students are invited to join the Student Media Board, the governing board of the media, or the staffs of Comet yearbook, The George Street Observer newspaper, Miscellany arts and literary journal, CofC Radio, and Cougar Television.

Campus Recreation Services (CRS) provides a wide-ranging program of competitive and recreational activities that is sure to appeal to many in our campus community. CRS helps students to stay active as they participate in a favorite activity, or better yet, develop a new sporting interest. Students will find ample opportunity to do just that in one of the many sport clubs, fitness programs including those for aerobics or yoga, the structured intramural sports events, or the freedom offered by the open recreation schedule.

Facilities for Sport and Recreation
Located on the corner of George and Meeting Streets are two facilities combined into one: the F. Mitchell Johnson Physical Education Center and the original gymnasium, the Willard Silcox Physical Education and Health Center. This is the primary site for physical education classes, campus recreation activities, and athletics department events.

This large complex houses activity space for basketball, volleyball, badminton, aerobics, and an indoor running track. Included are dedicated spaces for classrooms, human performance laboratories, department offices, and locker rooms.

The Theodore S. Stern Student Center, located on the opposite end of campus, is the site of the school’s 25-meter swimming and diving pool. An additional 2,000-square-foot fitness center is included on the second floor of the facility.

Athletics
843-953-5556

The John Kresse Arena in the Johnson Center is home court for men’s and women’s basketball, volleyball, and other College events. The Johnson Center also provides student-athletes facilities for strength and conditioning and sports medicine/athletic training.

Soccer, softball, baseball and sailing teams practice and compete at the Patriots Point Athletics Complex and Sailing Center. The men’s and women’s tennis teams also play at a brand-new intercollegiate Tennis Center at the Athletics Complex.

Intercollegiate Sports
The College of Charleston is NCAA Division I and a Southern Conference member. The Department of Athletics offers 20 intercollegiate sports plus cheerleading:

The Honors College at the College of Charleston challenges bright, motivated students to make the most of the opportunities available to them and to become actively involved in their own education. In Honors classes, students take responsibility for their own learning through class discussions, through interaction with other students and professors, and through independent research. The Honors College is dedicated to providing talented students with a place where they can flourish and grow, a true learning community of teachers and students.

Honors classes are smaller, thereby allowing for more intensive student participation. They are accelerated to meet the needs of superior students, and many of them are team taught and interdisciplinary so that the student’s education transcends the boundaries of traditional academic disciplines. The Honors College gives unusually able students the opportunity to:

- Take special courses designed for students of high ability.
- Engage in independent projects and research.
- Confront greater intellectual challenges and stimulation.
- Receive individualized instruction through a tutorial system.
- Participate in a peer community of students with similar abilities and motivation.
- Live in Honors residence halls with other Honors students.
- Participate in more intensive intellectual discussion and debate.
- Complete scholarly off-campus projects which may include study abroad, internships, or special research projects.

Admission

The Honors College has special procedures for admission and its own retention requirements. Interested students must apply to and be accepted by both the College of Charleston and the Honors College. For a brochure containing more detailed information and for all necessary application materials, contact the dean of the Honors College or the Office of Admissions or visit the Honors College Web site: www.cofc.edu/~honors.

NOTE: Where space is available, students who are not in the Honors College may take Honors College courses with the permission of the instructor and the Honors College dean.

The Honors Colloquium

Honors colloquia are small, seminar-style classes which emphasize student participation and discussion. They may be more intensive, meet more frequently, and carry more academic credit than courses in the regular curriculum. Honors colloquia are broad in scope and transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries. Frequently, they are team taught by professors from different academic departments.

The Tutorial System

An important part of the Honors College is the tutorial system, modeled after the program of instruction at Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard, and other major universities. Each academic department has courses entitled “Tutorial,” “Independent Study,” and “Bachelor’s Essay.” These are designed to supplement regular course offerings and to respond to the particular interests, needs, and goals of an individual student. Together with their tutors, Honors College students design their own individual courses of study, determine reading and written assignments, and plan independent projects. Students in the Honors College enroll in a tutorial or independent study, usually in the junior year, and a bachelor’s essay, usually in the senior year, either in the department of their choice or in the Honors College.

Honors Center and Housing

The Honors Center, located in one of the historic buildings in the heart of the campus, houses a seminar-style classroom, student computers, and study/meeting areas. It serves as the focal point for the social and intellectual activities of the Honors College. Honors students may also choose to live in Honors housing with other Honors students. The Honors residence halls, Rutledge-Rivers and Buist-Rivers, have Honors residence assistants, host lectures and seminars in the evenings, and host Honors social activities. In these residence halls, Honors students live in the center of campus, in close proximity to the Honors Center, to the library, and to upperclass Honors students. The Honors Center and residence halls together facilitate a sense of community among Honors College students and faculty.

Requirements for Becoming an Honors College Graduate

Every student in the Honors College must complete all college-wide graduation requirements, including the requirements for a major. A student becomes an Honors College graduate by fulfilling the following requirements:

1. HONS 105 and HONS 106 (Honors English)
2. HONS 120 and HONS 130 (Honors Colloquium in Western Civilization)
3. MATH 120 (Introductory Calculus)
4. An additional mathematics course at or above the 200 level
5. Three additional Honors College courses, one of which must be interdisciplinary
6. Three credits in tutorials and/or independent study
7. A six-credit bachelor’s essay (499)
8. A cumulative grade point average of 3.40 or higher

Some of the above requirements may be satisfied through AP exams.

Note: Honors College graduates will be so designated on their transcripts and will receive special recognition during the awards and graduation ceremonies. Many students in the Honors College also qualify for departmental honors.

The School of the Arts offers a wide range of courses and educational opportunities, including travel abroad experiences. The School’s exceptionally talented students, faculty, and staff regularly win major research grants, competitions, and other awards.

The School presents an exciting season of musical events, plays, dance performances, lectures, and gallery exhibitions, including the popular Monday Night Concert Series, the International Piano Series, the International Guitar Series, and the Addlestone and Simons lectures in Art History and Historic Preservation. The School produces many events that are part of the Piccolo Spoleto Festival and provides intern support to the City of Charleston’s Office of Cultural Affairs, Spoleto Festival USA, and other organizations in South Carolina and the region.

Mission Statement

The School of the Arts of the College of Charleston plays a distinctive role in the lives and education of the students of the College and in the Charleston community by developing artists, art scholars, and art leaders within a liberal arts setting. The education in the arts that we provide stimulates creativity and critical thinking skills, activates the whole learning process, and motivates a life-long love for the arts for all students. Within a city known for its cultural heritage, this superior education marks the School as a national flagship undergraduate arts program.

Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art

The Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art, located within the Simons Center for the Arts, serves as a focal point for the exhibition and discussion of ideas in contemporary art. The Halsey Institute has been presenting exhibitions, lectures, workshops, symposia, and other events since the Simons Center opened in 1978. It is staffed by a full-time director and a gallery curator. Students enrolled in the gallery fundamentals class install all exhibitions, assist with publicity, and act as monitors during gallery hours. As an art gallery within a liberal arts institution, the Halsey Institute is committed to presenting a broad range of ideas, exhibitions, and activities that serve to enrich the academic life of the College as well as the cultural life of the region.

The major in art history offers diverse educational experiences in the history of art and culture of Western civilizations, as well as those of Asia and the Americas. A program in historic preservation and community planning is available for students interested in architecture and urban design.

The department strongly supports study abroad programs which enable students to experience first-hand the art, architecture, and urban environments they have studied. Through a sequence of self-selected courses, students learn to do research, work in two studio art areas (such as drawing, photography, etc.), and express their ideas in oral as well as written presentations—all skills required for any future career.

Our graduates have completed advanced degrees in art history and historic preservation, secured positions in major museums, and found fulfilling careers in a variety of areas, such as gallery curatorships, teaching, law, and architecture, among others.

Major Requirements: 36 hours

Core courses

ARTH 299 Research and Methods in Art History
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

The goal of the major in historic preservation and community planning is to introduce the student to the history, theory, and practice of historic preservation, and the growing necessity to link preservation with parallel issues in community planning. Because of changes in the world of historic preservation, it is no longer sufficient to consider the preservation of particular buildings or landscapes without a concomitant vision of what might best be called the context of the object.

The historic preservation major is firmly located within the liberal arts tradition at the College. It is not intended to be “training” for the technical field of historic preservation, but rather as an introduction to the broader issues which are presently being grappled with by preservationists.

The intention of the program is to awaken in the student an appreciation for the complexity of the field of historic preservation. Through a combination of general and survey courses and specific practical applications, the student will begin to understand the multitude of forces acting upon cities, towns, and rural areas that either encourage or hinder the preservation of historic sites at the beginning of the 21st century. And of course, Charleston, one of the cities most closely associated with the preservation movement in America, serves as the perfect laboratory for the study of preservation and urban design issues.

The Department of Theatre offers a vital, exciting program to develop the theatre practitioners of the future. From acting to design, from directing to playwriting, students encounter ideas, theories, and techniques which will enable them to achieve excellence in a most competitive arena. Students work with many visiting actors, writers, and directors and also have the opportunity for international study as well as faculty-supervised trips to major theatrical centers. Students also compete in events sponsored by the Southeastern Theatre Conference, the Association for Theatre in Higher Education, and the Kennedy Center/American College Theatre Festival.

Students may earn a bachelor of arts degree in theatre specializing in performance, stage design/technology, costume design/technology, theatre for youth, or may choose a general curriculum of study.

Students also have the opportunity to work with Spoleto Festival USA, the Piccolo Spoleto Festival, numerous professional and community theatres as well as on films from major studios shooting in and around Charleston.

Mission Statement
The mission of the School of Business and Economics at the College of Charleston is to assist individuals in acquiring the knowledge and skills necessary to be productive participants and responsible citizens in the global economy.

We are committed to:
• Providing students a high-quality business education in a liberal arts environment.
• Inspiring the development of ethical values and leadership skills.
• Offering academic programs responsive to the community.
• Providing expertise to the public.
• Supporting faculty excellence in teaching, research, and service.

All undergraduate and graduate accounting and business programs in the School of Business and Economics at the College of Charleston are accredited by AACSB International — the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, the most prestigious accrediting body for business schools. With over 1,400 current majors, the School of Business and Economics is building its reputation for excellence by distinctive programs that emphasize ethical and global awareness and the development of effective communication and problem-solving abilities. Outstanding opportunities are available to our students through internships, travel study programs, and mentoring relationships with alumni and the business community.

Admission Standards
The School of Business and Economics has admission standards to attract and retain students with the ability and commitment necessary for success in business and economics. The standards include the following requirements:
• Completion of the following courses with no grade less than a “C-”:
  MATH 104 or 250
  MATH 105 or 120 or HONS 115
  ECON 201 or HONS 211
  ECON 202 or HONS 212
  ACCT 203*
  ACCT 204*
  DSCT 232

*Note: Economic majors are not required to take ACCT 203 or ACCT 204.

Students should apply for admission to the school during the semester they expect to complete the requirements described above. Non-admitted students may take up to 9 hours of upper-division business courses (300 level or above). Exceptions to this 9-hour limit will be made to allow completion of degree requirements for College of Charleston students with programs outside of the School of Business and Economics. Students who have successfully completed the stated requirements will be admitted into the School of Business and Economics.

Any student who is interested in the programs at the School of Business and Economics should contact the Student Success Center for more information on the process and to complete the Intent to Declare form if applicable. There will be mandatory advising, monitoring of progress, and registration restriction for those who choose this academic path.

Betsy Jane Clary, Director

The School of Business and Economics (SOBE) Honors Program offers a unique, rigorous, and challenging academic experience to a select group of College of Charleston students. The program offers accelerated curricula, independent research opportunities, and individual mentoring experiences with faculty and with alumni for high-caliber, very motivated students who pursue any major within the school.

Each year a group of approximately 20 students is admitted into a four-year program which begins with a summer reading project prior to arriving on campus and continues through the presentation of an honors thesis or capstone project during the senior year.

Students who are accepted into the College of Charleston Honors College and note a preference for any major in the School of Business and Economics are automatically considered for the SOBE Honors Program. Acceptance into this program is based on academic achievement, leadership, social diversity, and individual mentoring experiences with faculty and with alumni for high-caliber, very motivated students who pursue any major within the school.

Students who are accepted into the College of Charleston Honors College and note a preference for any major in the School of Business and Economics are automatically considered for the SOBE Honors Program. Acceptance into this program is based on academic achievement, leadership, social diversity, creativity, and community service activities.

SOBE Honors Program Requirements

Students must complete the graduation requirements of the College of Charleston, the Honors College, and the School of Business and Economics Honors Program. Many of these courses also satisfy the major requirements in the school. For specific program information, please contact the SOBE Honors Program director.

Bachelor of Science in Economics

The mission of the Department of Economics and Finance is to provide high-quality undergraduate and
The economics program fulfills three primary objectives by giving students a broad exposure to concepts, theories, analytical techniques, and applications.

1. The curriculum content stimulates interest in social, political, and economic issues since many of the major problems and challenges facing the nation and the rest of the world today are either partially or wholly economic in nature.

2. The program teaches analytical methods and concepts that are important in preparing students for administrative positions in business and government.

3. Majors receive a solid foundation for graduate study in economics.

Economists work in manufacturing, transportation, communications, banking, insurance, retailing, and investment firms, as well as in government agencies, trade associations, educational institutions, and consulting organizations. Economists provide valuable assistance in analyzing and interpreting the impact of the business cycle, government policies, and international developments on consumer demand, prices, costs, competitive pressures, and financial conditions. Such analysis and interpretations are vital to the successful operation of business firms.

NOTES: Economics courses satisfy the College’s social science requirement.

Also, see notes under section for School of Business and Economics.

B.S. in Economics Requirements:

36 hours

- DSCI 232 Business Statistics
- ECON 201 Principles of Macroeconomics
- ECON 202 Principles of Microeconomics
- ECON 305 Money and Financial Institutions
- ECON 308 Evolution of Economic Doctrines
- ECON 310 International Economics
- ECON 317 Microeconomic Analysis
- ECON 318 Macroeconomic Analysis
- ECON 400 Senior Seminar in Economics

Electives: Nine hours to be chosen from economics and business administration courses at the 300 level and above. At least one of these electives must be an economics course.

NOTE: The sequence in honors economics satisfies the ECON 201 and 202 requirement.

Electives: 12 hours selected from economics courses at or above the 300 level and/or DSCI 232 Business Statistics II

Electives: 12 hours selected from economics courses at or above the 300 level and/or DSCI 232 Business Statistics II

Finance Minor/Concentration: 18 hours

The minor or concentration provides the business administration, economics, or accounting major with a broad understanding of the finance function within a business organization and an appreciation of the financial system as a whole. Those students majoring in either economics or accounting receive the minor in finance while the business administration majors receive an area of concentration in finance. It includes courses in financial operations, financial institutions/markets, and investments; as well as the economic and legal framework of financial activities. Primary topics include broad corporate objectives of financial planning, the acquisition of funds, and business investment decisions.

Graduates with a minor or concentration in finance typically specialize in corporate finance or financial services. Careers in corporate finance include treasurers, comptrollers, and financial analysts. Careers in financial services include investment management, banking, real estate, insurance, and financial advisory services.

Required Courses

Students completing the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a concentration in finance must complete the B.S.B.A. requirements as specified within the Department of Management and Entrepreneurship’s section. The concentration will substitute for the 12 upper-level electives required in the B.S.B.A.

- FINC 303 Business Finance
- FINC 410 Seminar in Finance

Four additional courses from the following:

- ECON 305 Money and Financial Institutions
- ECON 350 Financial Markets in U.S. Economy
- FINC 313 Management of Financial Institutions
- FINC 315 Intermediate Business Finance
- FINC 360 Special Topics
- FINC 375 Principles of Real Estate
- FINC 380 Real Estate Financing and Investing
- FINC 382 International Finance
- FINC 385 Principles of Risk Management and Insurance
- FINC 386 Risk Management
- FINC 400 Investment Analysis
- FINC 420 Independent Study

Notes: All prerequisites for business and economics courses must be met.

Business Finance (FINC 303) is a prerequisite for most upper-level finance courses.

The Department of Hospitality and Tourism Management is committed to providing students a high-quality hospitality management education in a liberal arts environment supported by a progressive series of practical, applied, and experiential learning opportunities at one of the world’s premier destinations. The program inspires every hospitality management student to become a life-long learner who is guest focused, ethical, innovative, globally aware, computer fluent, and an effective communicator. In addition, each student should be able to function collaboratively and comfortably in an environment characterized by diversity, uncertainty, and rapid change.

The Department of Hospitality and Tourism Management allows students to focus their courses of study in hotel and resort management, restaurant management, and events management. In addition, students may emphasize in their coursework and internships sales and marketing, human resource management, and general management.

NOTE: Students desiring to double major in HTMT and BADM are required to take DSCI 304 and MGMT 408 in addition to completing all requirements of the HTMT major.

Bachelor of Science in International Business

Rene Mueller, International Business Director (843-953-5394)

The international business major allows students to address the challenges of an increasingly global market environment. Blending the College’s liberal arts and sciences foundation with a strong internationalized business curriculum, the major presents many challenging and exciting options while providing an essential perspective of diversity. The requirement of an interdisciplinary or language minor gives global insight into the development of a unique international business education.

Students interested in teacher education should contact the director of the Office of Certification and Clinical Practice at 843-953-5613 to declare a major/minor and to complete a program of study to assure that courses taken to meet College requirements will also meet the requirements for admission to the Teacher Education Program.

Requirements for Admission to Teacher Education Programs

Until all the following requirements for admission to the Teacher Education Program are met and on file in the Office of Certification and Clinical Practice, students may not take any Teacher Education Program courses except EDFS 201.

1. Complete program-specified minimum number of general education requirements. (See advisor and/or program of study.)
2. Minimum cumulative GPA of at least 2.5
3. Passing scores on all three PRAXIS I tests
4. Completion of EDFS 201 with a grade of “C” or better
5. Completion of Essential Skills Statement
6. Three assessments of dispositions to be completed by:
   - One general education professor
   - EDFS 201 instructor
   - Someone knowledgeable about candidate’s involvement with children/youth
7. Application to the Teacher Education Program

Transfer students must have transcripts evaluated by the Office of the Registrar to determine general course equivalence. All education courses and those that might be considered professional education requirements will be further evaluated by the School of Education.

The Teacher Education Program involves a combination of coursework and field-based learning, culminating in a semester-long clinical practice internship. Throughout the program the candidate’s progress is reviewed by a series of assessments that measure performance in relation to established standards.

Retention in Teacher Education Programs and Acceptance to Clinical Practice

To maintain good standing in a Teacher Education Program and be admitted to clinical practice, the candidate must:

1. Maintain an acceptable program portfolio.
2. Maintain a minimum GPA of 2.5 in general education courses.
3. Maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0 in education courses.
4. Complete all program-specified courses and general education courses.
5. Achieve acceptable or better field experiences as evidenced by rubric on the S.C. evaluation instrument – Assessing Developing and Evaluating Professional Teaching (ADEPT) criteria.
6. Achieve passing scores on PRAXIS II or have proof of registration.
7. Maintain acceptable assessment of dispositions-developing competency level.

Clinical Practice (formerly student teaching):

Candidates must apply to be admitted to the Teacher Education Program one semester prior to clinical practice.

It is the policy of the School of Education that assignments for field experience and clinical practice placements are made within the Tri-county area. If an appropriate placement is not available within the Tri-county area, the School of Education places the student in the closest appropriate placement.

NOTE: The application form and all requirements for admission to the Teacher Education Program must be sent to the director of the Office of Certification and Clinical Practice.
Taking additional coursework during the clinical practice semester is discouraged.

Recommendation for Certification

Certification to teach is granted by the South Carolina State Department of Education. To receive a certificate, a candidate must complete an approved degree program and be recommended by the School of Education. The following requirements specified in the Unit Assessment System must be met before the School of Education recommends a candidate for certification.

To be recommended for certification, the candidate must:

1. Complete an acceptable program portfolio.
2. Maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0 in education courses.
3. Achieve a passing grade in clinical practice.
4. Achieve acceptable or better assessment of performance using ADEPT criteria.
5. Achieve passing scores on PRAXIS II.

Title II Report Card

The College of Charleston Title II Report Card can be located by going to the School of Education Web site, www.cofc.edu/SchoolofEducation/. Additionally, copies of the report can be requested by contacting the director of the Office of Certification and Clinical Practice at 843-953-5613 or 9 College Way, College of Charleston, Charleston, S.C. 29424. To discuss the College of Charleston Title II Report Card, contact the dean of the School of Education at 843-953-5613.

For the purpose of Title II reporting, a program completer is defined as a candidate who has successfully completed clinical practice.

The department’s mission, in support of the School of Education’s mission, prepares competent special education and secondary education teachers, provides foundation and technology studies to candidates in all initial and advanced education degree programs, and offers study in English as a Second Language. Our work is grounded in the School of Education Conceptual Framework.

The major in special education is a performance-based program of study designed to prepare candidates to teach students with emotional, learning, and/or mental disabilities in preschool through grade 12 settings or as professionals in other service delivery systems for individuals with disabilities.

Special attention should be paid to the Program of Study Worksheets since there are specific general education requirements over and above the College’s general education requirements. These can be found on the Web at: http://arachne.cofc.edu/edfs/Worksheets/edfs_worksheets.htm. Students should declare their major or minor as soon as possible so that they may meet with an advisor to discuss their program.

Secondary Education Program (Grades 9–12)

In cooperation with other academic departments, the Department of Foundations, Secondary and Special Education provides programs for candidates who seek to become certified teachers in secondary schools. This option is available for students who major in biology, chemistry classics (Latin), English, French, German, history (certification in social studies), mathematics, physics, political science (certification in social studies), sociology (certification in social studies), and Spanish. For content major requirements, see relevant departments.

Requirements:

To successfully complete the secondary Teacher Education Program, candidates must fulfill all requirements for the major, and the admission, retention, and exit requirements of the program, including clinical practice.

Required education courses

Early Childhood (PK–3), Elementary Education Majors (2–6), Middle Education (5–8) Majors

South Carolina has adopted three levels of teacher certification in grades preschool through eight: early childhood (PK–3), elementary (2–6), and middle grades (5–8). A new curriculum has been designed to address the changes. Once students complete the prerequisite EDFS 201: Introduction to Education course, all majors must take the same education courses, regardless of track, during the first semester of their education program. Successful completion of each semester of education courses is a requirement to proceed to the next semester. A field experience has been included in each of the first three semesters of education courses leading to the final semester of clinical practice.

The department offers a major in physical education, a major in athletic training, a minor in health, and a series of activity courses for the general student body. The department makes a unique contribution to the liberal arts and sciences educational experience, as it is the only discipline devoted specifically to the study of athletic training, exercise science, health promotion, and sport pedagogy. Its primary mission is the academic preparation of candidates interested in athletic training/exercise studies and health promotion.
Core Requirements for Athletic Training and Physical Education (20 hours):

PEHD 201 Introduction to Physical Education (physical education major only)
PEHD 245/L Athletic Injury Prevention and Management w/lab (athletic training majors only)
HEAL 216 Personal and Community Health
PEHD 350 Kinesiology
PEHD 340 Exercise Physiology and Lab
PEHD 431 Tests and Measurements (physical education majors — health promotion and teacher education concentrations)
PEHD 433 Research Methods and Design in Health and Exercise Science (athletic training majors and physical education majors with an exercise science concentration)
PEHD 458 Organization and Administration of Physical Education

Note: Physical education and athletic training majors must also complete BIOL 201 Human Physiology and BIOL 202 Human Anatomy. When taken at the College, these two courses have the prerequisites of BIOL 111 and BIOL 112.

B.S. in Athletic Training

The Athletic Training Education Program (ATEP) is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE). The program is a competitive and selective academic program that leads to a B.S. degree in athletic training and prepares students for a professional career in the field of athletic training. This degree program also prepares students for advanced studies in medicine (physician assistant, physician), physical therapy, and other allied health professions. Candidates must make application to and be selected into this program. Upon completion of the ATEP, the candidate is eligible for the National Athletic Trainers Association, Board of Certification (NATA-BOC) administered certification examination. Once a student athletic trainer passes the certification examination, s/he may use the designation “ATC.”

Major Course Requirements: 54 hours

In addition to the 20 hours of core courses required for the major:

HEAL 333 Sports and Exercise Nutrition
PEHD 345/L Athletic Injury Evaluation I w/lab
PEHD 346/L Athletic Injury Evaluation II w/lab
PEHD 365 General Medical Conditions in Athletics
PEHD 430 Therapeutic Exercise
PEHD 437 Therapeutic Modalities
PEHD 440 Biomechanics

A minimum 12-hour cognate:

CHEM 101/L General Chemistry w/lab or CHEM 111/L Principles of Chemistry w/lab
CHEM 102/L Organic and Biological Chemistry w/lab or CHEM 112/L Principles of Chemistry w/lab
PHYS 101/L Introductory Physics w/lab
PHYS 102/L Introductory Physics w/lab

A minimum of 9 hours of clinical education:

PEHD 375 Clinical Education Experience in Athletic Training (levels 1–5)

Athletic Training Education Program Application Process

Candidates may make application to the Athletic Training Education Program during the fall semester in which they are enrolled in PEHD 245 and PEHD 245L. Candidates will only be accepted during the fall semester of the year. Once accepted, candidates must complete a minimum of five consecutive semesters of academic and clinical education coursework. Therefore, candidates interested in the Athletic Training Education Program should meet with the coordinator of athletic training education as soon as possible. The number of candidates accepted into the program each year is limited and is based upon the availability of clinical supervisors and quality clinical educational opportunities. The clinical education component of this program provides candidates the opportunity to participate in extensive clinical experiences in both the traditional collegiate, high school, and semi-professional venues and the non-traditional setting of the sports medicine clinic, as well as other athletic health care settings. Program candidates are responsible for their own transportation to and from the clinical venues.

Candidates seeking admission into the program must meet the following selection criteria:*
1. Be enrolled at the College of Charleston working towards a degree.
2. Completed or enrolled in the following courses:
PEHD 245 Athletic Injury Prevention and Management
PEHD 245L Athletic Injury Prevention and Management Laboratory
3. Completion of 100 hours of observation in an athletic training setting (i.e., high school athletic training room, college training room, sports medicine clinic) as validated by a certified athletic trainer (ATC).
4. Completion of written application that includes demographic information along with a statement of professional intent.
5. Completion of health and technical standards as detailed in the application packet.
6. Possess a current overall GPA of 2.5.
7. Earn a grade of “B” or higher in PEHD 245 and PEHD 245L.
8. Interview with the athletic training education program staff and faculty.

*Meeting selection criteria does not guarantee admission to the program.

B.S. in Physical Education

Major Requirements

This is a three-concentration major in physical education. Candidates may elect to enter a program in exercise science, health promotion, or teacher education (sport pedagogy). It is possible, but not usual, for a candidate to complete two concentrations. Prospective majors should plan to take PEHD 201 early in their studies because it is a prerequisite for all PEHD courses 300-level or higher. Regardless of the concentration selected, all physical education majors take a common core of courses. In addition to the major core of 19 hours, candidates are required to take a professional track sequence of 17–24 hours depending on the concentration selected, and a minimum of 12 hours of coursework in a related cognate area.

Note: At the earliest opportunity, prospective majors should pick up a copy of the departmental handbook.

Note: Mandatory Concentration Meetings: All majors are required to attend these meetings, which will be scheduled twice a year. These meetings will be held early each fall and spring semester. The time and location will be posted on the departmental Web page and/or by e-mail.

Concentration in Exercise Science

Candidates in the exercise science concentration should plan to continue their studies in a graduate or professional program in exercise science, physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician’s assistant, or medical school. The academic advisor will recommend courses that will fulfill degree requirements at the College and also the prerequisites for entrance into a graduate or professional program. Applications for an exercise science internship will be taken during the fall of the junior year (see internship requirements in the departmental handbook). Interns have an opportunity to work in several different rehabilitation centers in the area. Occasionally a bachelor’s degree with an emphasis in exercise and sport science might meet minimum employment qualifications; a master’s degree is recommended.

Requirements: 32 hours
In addition to the 19 hours of core courses required for the major:

PEHD 210 Concepts in Fitness Assessment and Exercise Prescription
PEHD 235 Motor Learning and Development
PEHD 333 Sports and Exercise Nutrition
PEHD 430 Therapeutic Exercise
PEHD 437 Therapeutic Modalities or PEHD 438 Advanced Topics in Resistance Training and Conditioning or PEHD 439 Advanced Topics in Exercise Physiology
PEHD 440 Biomechanics
PEHD 498 Capstone Experience in Exercise Science

A minimum 12-hour cognate selected from:
CHEM 101/L General Chemistry w/lab or CHEM 111/L Principles of Chemistry w/lab
CHEM 102/L Organic and Biological Chemistry w/lab or CHEM 112/L Principles of Chemistry w/lab
PHYS 101/L Introductory Physics w/lab
PHYS 102/L Introductory Physics w/lab

Concentration in Health Promotion

Given the enormity of the health problems facing this nation and the possibility of future employment which emphasizes health promotion and wellness, the department has developed a professional track of study for the physical education major who wishes to expand his or her knowledge in the health promotion field.

Health education is an exciting and growing profession that can lead to jobs in public health agencies, voluntary nonprofit organizations, schools/colleges/universities, medical care settings, business/industry, and more. Health promotion is a specialized area within this field.

A diverse background with various certifications (e.g., CPR, first aid, certified aerobics instructor) is suggested.

Candidates in this concentration should plan to complete a cognate of 12 hours in sociology or psychology.

Concentration in Health Promotion (Sport Pedagogy)

Candidates interested in teaching physical education P–12 in the public schools should concentrate on studies in this area. All candidates intending to complete a Teacher Education Program are urged to meet with the department chairperson as soon as possible, preferably in the freshman year. Early advising is necessary to ensure that their program of study includes the specific courses required under the general degree requirements of the College as well as all requirements for the physical education major and teacher certification programs.

Requirements: 38 hours

In addition to the 19 hours of core courses required for the major:

PEHD 202 Laboratory Activities in Physical Education
PEHD 222 Analysis and Conduct of Lifetime Activities
PEHD 223 Analysis and Conduct of Team Sports
PEHD 235 Motor Learning and Development
PEHD 250 Dance and Rhythms
PEHD 352* Physical Education for Elementary Schools
PEHD 355* Sport Psychology
PEHD 452* Physical Education for Middle/Secondary Schools
PEHD 457* Adapted Physical Education

12-hour cognate:
EDFS 201 Introduction to Education
EDFS 303* Human Growth and the Educational Process
EDFS 326* Integrating Technology into Teaching
EDFS 330* Classroom and Behavior Management

*In order to take these courses, the student must be accepted as a candidate in the Teacher Education Program. Please see “Requirements for Admission to Teacher Education Programs.”

In addition to the above requirements, students wishing to be recommended to the South Carolina State Department of Education for teacher certification must also enroll in and satisfactorily complete clinical practice (EDFS 460) in the content area (12 hours).

NOTE: Completion of approved programs does not automatically ensure certification recommendation by the department and School of Education. Although completion of the approved program of study will usually result in recommendation, it may in fact be withheld as the result of failure to satisfactorily complete the requirements. If a candidate does not adhere to the activities as described by the faculty review committee, for example, by a) substandard performance during clinical practice, b) failure to pass the area exams (Praxis Series), or c) failure to change behaviors which are considered to be impediments to successful teaching, recommendations may be withheld.

Health Minor

This minor is available to any student not majoring in physical education or athletic training.

In order to declare a health minor, the student must meet with the health coordinator to complete a program of study.

NOTE: The maintenance of a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the health minor coursework is required for successful certification of the health minor on the student’s transcript.

Minor Requirements: 18 hours*

The minor must include the following four courses:

HEAL 216 Personal and Community Health
HEAL 217 Human Sexuality
HEAL 225 Consumer Health
HEAL 257 Nutrition

An additional six hours of electives must be chosen from among the following:

BIOL 204 Man and the Environment
HEAL 240 Worksite Wellness
HEAL 317 Sexual Behavior and Relationships
HEAL 320 Special Topics
HEAL 323 Women’s Health Issues
HEAL 325 Health Promotion

Anthropology, through its global and comparative approach, explores human biological and cultural diversity both in the past and in the present. Anthropology is traditionally divided into four subdisciplines (biological anthropology, archaeology, anthropological linguistics, and cultural anthropology) through which it is linked to other social sciences, the natural sciences, and humanities.

Major Requirements: 34 hours
ANTH 101 Introduction to Anthropology
ANTH 201 Comparative Social Organization
ANTH 202 Archaeology
ANTH 203 Introduction to Biological Anthropology
ANTH 205 Language and Culture
ANTH 210 History of Anthropological Theory
ANTH 491 Research Methods
or ANTH 493 Field School in Archaeology
Twelve additional hours of 300-level (or higher) anthropology courses, one of which must be a geographic area course (320s).

NOTE: Students majoring in anthropology are encouraged to include courses in sociology, history, political science, international studies, psychology, economics, statistics, and computer programming in their program of study. The anthropology faculty very strongly recommends that anthropology majors take MATH 104 Elementary Statistics or a higher level statistics course as one of the two math courses fulfilling the general education requirements. This requirement should be fulfilled as early in an individual’s program as possible and certainly within the first two semesters after declaration of an anthropology major.

Minor Requirements: 18 hours
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.
ANTH 101 Introduction to Anthropology
Any two 200-level courses in anthropology
Electives: nine additional hours in anthropology.

Communication is the inheritor of a long and honored tradition. Since the ancient Greeks, the study of rhetoric (the art of effective discourse) has been recognized as a key element of humane learning. It formed one of the seven liberal arts of education in medieval Europe. Modern communication curricula provide students with a comprehensive knowledge of the nature of human communication, the symbol system by which it occurs, its media, and its effects. As a field of study, the department contributes to a liberal education and provides basic preparation for either graduate study or careers in communication. Employment opportunities exist in organizational and industrial institutions, public relations and advertising agencies, the mass media, and civil and social agencies.

The communication major has three concentration areas: communication studies, media studies, and corporate and organizational communication.

NOTE: All grades in communication courses will count toward a student's GPA in the major. Grades in courses offered by other departments that are not a part of a student’s declared concentration will not count toward that student’s major GPA.

NOTE: Majors must complete COMM 210 within the first 15 hours of communication coursework.

Major Requirements: 36 hours (except 39 hours for media studies concentration and 42 hours for the corporate and organizational communication concentration)

Concentration in Communication Studies
At least 15 hours must be 300/400-level communication courses from the communication studies concentration.

Required courses:
COMM 104 Public Speaking
COMM 210 Introduction to Communication Theory
COMM 301 Communication Research Methods

The study of history provides a unique perspective and understanding of the human condition, past and present. The examination and comprehension of history aids in the development of the research, analytical, and communicative skills needed in many fields. Libraries, historical societies, museums, archives, and similar institutions provide career options for the history major, as do government service, journalism, ministry, education, politics, and the theater. A background in history also affords an excellent preparation for either medical or law school. Furthermore, many businesses hire people with a good background in an area of the humanities such as history.

NOTES:
1. Students should review the Handbook for History Majors, available in the department office and on the department Web site.
2. All history courses except 101–102 and 103–104 satisfy the humanities requirements.

Major Requirements: 30 hours
(Exclusive of HIST 101–102 or HIST 103–104)

Three hours from each of the following areas of distribution (12 hours total) chosen in consultation with his/her department advisor:

- Pre-Modern (before 1500)
- Modern Europe (since 1500)
- Modern Asia, Africa, Latin America
- United States

15 hours history electives (chosen by the student in consultation with his/her department advisor) from any of the above four areas.

Three hours in a research seminar normally taken in the junior or senior year, which requires the writing of a substantial paper.

NOTES: Majors must have passed at least one 200-level course before taking a 300-level course and have passed at least one 300-level course before taking a 400-level course. All majors must have taken at least two related (one 200-level and one 300-level) courses before seeking permission to take a research seminar, senior paper, or bachelor’s essay. Exceptional students and qualified students who have a particular research interest that cannot be addressed in research seminars being offered may, if authorized by the department, satisfy this requirement by completing HIST 498 Senior Paper.

Religion is a central element of human cultures, and the study of religion is an important part of liberal education. Religious studies courses at the College take an objective and impartial approach toward the study of world religions. Religious issues are discussed and sacred texts are studied from an academic rather than from a faith-oriented point of view. Courses adopt the traditional methods of social scientific, historical, philosophical, and textual scholarship.

Major Requirements: 33 hours
RELS 210 Theories in the Study of Religions
RELS 450 Senior Seminar in Religious Studies

One course selected from:
RELS 105 Introduction to World Religions
RELS 110 Approaches to Religion

One course selected from:
RELS 225 The Jewish Tradition
RELS 230 The Christian Tradition
RELS 235 The Islamic Tradition
RELS 240 The Buddhist Tradition
RELS 245 The Religions of India
RELS 248 Religious Traditions of China and Japan

One course selected from:
RELS 201 The Hebrew Bible: History and Interpretation
RELS 202 The New Testament: History and Interpretation
RELS 205 Sacred Texts of the East

One additional course at the 200 level or above
Two additional courses at the 300 level or above
One additional course in religious studies
With the approval of the chair of religious studies, one course (200 level or above) in a related discipline may be substituted for one of the additional courses.

Minor Requirements: 18 hours
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.
RELS 105 Introduction to World Religions

One course selected from:

Sociology is the scientific study of human social behavior. It focuses on the factors that organize and structure social activities, as well as those that disorganize and threaten to dissolve them. As a social science, sociology applies objective and systematic methods of investigation to the discovery and identification of regularities in social life and to the understanding of the processes by which they are established and changed.

Major Requirements: 34 hours
SOCY 101 Introduction to Sociology
SOCY 202 Introduction to Social Institutions
SOCY 260 Development of Social Thought
SOCY 271 Introduction to Social Research
NOTE: SOCY 202, 260, and 271 must be taken within the first 18 hours of the major and prior to SOCY 360 and 371.
At least one course in each of the three areas of concentration in sociology: social psychology (330s), social problems (340s), and social organization (350s).
SOCY 360 Power and Privilege
SOCY 371 Social Research Practicum
NOTE: SOCY 360 and SOCY 371 must be taken prior to SOCY 491.
SOCY 491 Sociology Capstone

Electives: six hours from 300- or 400-level sociology courses.
MATH 104 Elementary Statistics or a higher-level statistics course.

NOTES:
1. Sociology majors are encouraged to include courses in anthropology, history, political science, international studies, philosophy, psychology, economics, statistics, and computer programming in their program of study.
2. Sociology majors may wish to pursue an interdisciplinary minor in African American studies; crime, law, and society; or women’s studies.
3. SOCY 102 and 103 will not apply to the major or minor in sociology nor toward the sociology GPA.

Minor Requirements: 18 hours
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.
SOCY 101 Introduction to Sociology
SOCY 202 Introduction to Social Institutions
Urban Studies

843-953-8134

Jane McCollough, Director

Urban studies is a multidisciplinary major designed to provide students with the academic foundation necessary to understand and be sensitive to the problems and potential of the city and its environment. Students become acquainted with approaches to the study of urbanization through courses offered by several departments including, but not limited to, history, business administration, economics, and sociology.

Major Requirements: 41 hours

NOTE: The core courses and several courses in the concentrations have prerequisites. Students should plan their courses of study with their faculty advisor to assure that prerequisites are satisfied early enough in their program so as not to interfere with enrollment.

Core Courses:
- ECON 307 Urban Economics
- HIST 211 American Urban History
- POLS 381 Urban Government and Politics
- Students may enroll in either
- SOCY 351 Urban Sociology
- or ANTH 351 Urban Anthropology
- URST 201 Introduction to Urban Studies

NOTE: This should be one of the first courses taken.

At the College of Charleston, competence in a foreign language is considered fundamental to a liberal arts education and a means to attaining the global perspective required of 21st-century graduates. The language program at the College is one of the most comprehensive in the southeastern U.S., with in-depth majors in classical and modern languages, overseas study programs, specialized programs for future language professionals, and offerings in several less commonly taught languages. Depending on their level of skills upon admittance to the College, students are required to take as many as four semesters of language study or its equivalent.

Mission Statement
The mission of the School of Languages, Cultures, and World Affairs is to develop students into enlightened, responsible, engaged world citizens through a multi-disciplinary curriculum and enriched extracurriculum.

Language Laboratory
843-953-8172
The College maintains a state-of-the-art language laboratory with audio, video and computer-based multimedia work stations to supplement classroom instruction. Students of modern languages who are enrolled in 100- or 200-level courses and designated upper-level courses are expected to make use of the language laboratory in developing listening comprehension and speaking skills. The laboratory fee supports programming services, upkeep, and operation of the facilities and the duplication and distribution of study cassettes.

Literature in Translation
The College offers courses which, in English translation, provide access to the literature of other languages. They can be applied to the general education requirement in humanities, but not in foreign language. Typically, several such courses are scheduled each semester, covering significant authors and literary works from Western Europe, Russia, China, Japan, Latin America, and the Arabic world. They are listed in this catalog under the original languages in which the works were written. Consult the Schedule of Courses under each language for courses offered in any given semester. Types of literature in translation courses include the following:

- Literature in Translation: Gallery of World Literatures
  Study of selected works from a number of literatures which offer different perspectives on the world and humankind.

- Literature in Translation: A Foreign Literature
  Study of selected works, representing major literary periods and genres, which illuminate another language and culture or era of a shared human condition (e.g., LTFR 250 French Literature of the 18th Century).

- Literature in Translation: A Foreign Author
  Study of selected works by an author whose influence is felt in the world at large (e.g., LTRS 350 Dostoyevsky).

- Literature in Translation: Comparative Literature (3)
  A study of selected works by major authors representing different cultures with emphasis on common themes as viewed from the perspectives of these writers.

Teacher Education Program:
Beginning July 2005, certification will be grades K–12
After declaration of a major in Latin, French, German, or Spanish, students interested in teacher certification in foreign language must meet with the director of certification and clinical practice, School of Education, 953-5613. Students should apply for acceptance into this program no later than the second semester of their sophomore year.
Candidates in all languages must meet with Shawn Morrison, 418 J.C. Long Building, morrisonsh@cofc.edu, for additional information as soon as possible.
Requirements include admission to and successful completion of the approved Teacher Education Program, passing score on PRAXIS II Written and Speaking Tests, and passing an oral proficiency interview with a rating of “Advanced Low.”
Requirements for specific languages and education courses can be obtained at: http://arachne.cofc.edu/edfs/Worksheets/edfs_worksheets.htm.
Beginning fall 2004, specific general education requirements in the humanities and social sciences were eliminated; thus, they are the same as for the general student body. This policy change affects the majors of PEHD and EDFS, and the secondary-education minors of BIOL, CHEM, ENGL, GEOL, HIST, MATH, PHYS, POLS, SOCY, and foreign languages.

The study of classical languages and literatures provides a necessary basis for understanding the cultural origins of the Western tradition. A knowledge of the classics prepares the student to pursue humanistic studies in all areas of the standard college curriculum.

A.B. Degree in Classics: 30 hours
A minimum of 18 hours in Greek and Latin beyond the elementary level:
12 hours (beyond the elementary level) in the principal classical language
6 hours (beyond the elementary level) in the secondary classical language
3 hours in CLAS 401 Research Seminar in Classics
An additional nine hours, in any combination, from the list of approved Classics courses.

A.B. Degree Requirements for Non-Classics Majors (See academic policies section of this catalog.)

B.A. Degree in Classics: 30 hours
Courses must be chosen from at least two different disciplines (language, CLAS, HIST, PHIL, ARTH, etc.).

One course (3 hours) selected from:
CLAS 101 Greek Civilization or HIST 231 Ancient Greece

One course (3 hours) selected from:
CLAS 102 Roman Civilization or HIST 232 Ancient Rome

Two courses (6 hours) at the 300 level selected from the list of approved Classics courses.

Three hours in CLAS 401 Research Seminar in Classics

An additional 15 hours, in any combination, from the list of approved Classics courses. If the student has completed the equivalent of 202 in Greek or Latin, then credits earned in the other Classical language at the elementary and intermediate level (100-level and 200-level courses) will count toward the BA in Classics.

Greek Minor: 18 hours
Must be taken in the Greek language beyond GREK 102 or its equivalent.
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

Latin Minor: 18 hours

As the second-most frequently taught foreign language in the world after English, French is clearly a global language. French cultural, economic, and diplomatic influence is felt not only in the United States, where over 1.9 million speak the language at home, but in many parts of the world. French is the foreign language spoken by our largest trading partner (Canada), and is also the language of more than 300 million native and secondary speakers in 44 Francophone countries, and the only language other than English spoken in five continents. The study of the French language, literature, culture, and history is an essential element in the understanding of the meaning of Western civilization, and the appreciation of the Francophone world and heritage.

French Major: 33 hours
Students seeking a major in French must take 12 hours at the 300 level or higher at the College of Charleston or its approved programs overseas.

Core Courses
1. Required:
French 313  French Conversation and Composition
French 314  French Conversation and Composition

French 350*  Intensive Conversation and Composition
NOTES: 1) Some French majors may be exempt from this requirement by permission of the department chair. 2) Native speakers may be required, upon instructor’s approval, to substitute FREN 313, 314, and 350 with a 400-level course.

*French 350 may be taken in lieu of 313 and 314 combination, and is usually available in study abroad programs.

2. Three courses selected from the following:
FREN 322  Survey of Literature I
FREN 323  Survey of French Literature II
FREN 324  French Civilization and Literature
FREN 325  French Civilization and Literature

3. Four courses (at 400 level) selected from this category:
At least, two of these courses must be in a century category (French 431–438) and/or genre category (French 443–499).

NOTE: Normally, students may not have more than six hours total of directed reading or independent studies.

4. Two electives required in this category.
Note: The courses must be from the 300 and/or 400 level. Students should consult with their advisor to choose courses to meet this requirement.

International Business Requirements
Students seeking a degree in international business or a minor in language and international business must, in consultation with the director, complete two of the following courses as part of their requirements — in addition to the above core requirements:
FREN 380  Le Concept de Marketing
FREN 381  French for World Business I
FREN 382  French for World Business II

French Teacher Certification Requirements
Students seeking teacher certification must complete the following courses as part of their French major requirements — in addition to the above core requirements:
FREN 341  Phonetics and Language Study
FREN 342  Advanced Grammar
FREN343 or 361  La France Contemporaine/Current Issues in France

Teacher Education Program: Beginning July 2005, certification will be grades K–12.
After declaration of a major in Latin, French, German, or Spanish, students interested in teacher certification in foreign language must meet with the director of certification and clinical practice, School of Education, 953-5613. Students must take EDFS 201 during their sophomore year and apply for acceptance into this program no later than the second semester of their sophomore year.

French Minor: 18 hours
At least nine hours in the minor at the 300 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

1. One Course Required
FREN 313  French Conversation and Composition I
FREN 314  French Conversation and Composition II

NOTE: Some French majors may be exempt from this requirement by permission of the department chair 2) Native speakers may be required, upon instructor’s approval, to substitute FREN 313 or 314 with a 400-level course.

2. One course selected from:
FREN 322–323  Survey Courses
FREN 323–324  Civilization Courses

3. Three electives from the 300-level (including but not limited to those listed above) and/or 400-level courses

4. One literature or course from the 400 level
NOTE: For the minor to count toward the international business major, at least two of the following courses must be completed:
FREN 380  Le Concept de Marketing
FREN 381  French for World Business I
FREN 382  French for World Business II

- SPAN 323 Civilization and Culture of Spain II
- SPAN 326 Latin American Civilization and Culture I
- SPAN 327 Latin American Civilization and Culture II
- SPAN 329 Current Issues in Spain or in the Spanish-Speaking World

Any two courses in Spanish at the 300/400 level.

Teacher Education Program: Beginning July 2005, certification will be grades K–12.

After declaration of a major in Latin, French, German, or Spanish, students interested in teacher certification in foreign language must meet with the director of certification and clinical practice, School of Education, 953-5613. Students must take EDFS 201 during their sophomore year and apply for acceptance into this program no later than the second semester of their sophomore year.

Candidates in all languages must meet with Shawn Morrison, 418 J.C. Long Building, morrissh@cofc.edu, for additional information as soon as possible.

Requirements include admission to and successful completion of the approved teacher education program, passing score on PRAXIS II Written and Speaking Tests, and passing an oral proficiency interview with a rating of “Advanced Low.”

Requirements for specific languages and education courses can be obtained at: http://arachne.cofc.edu/edfs/Worksheets/edfs_worksheets.htm.

Latin American and Caribbean Studies

843-953-5701
www.cofc.edu/~friedman/lastud/latina.html

Douglas Friedman, Director

Latin American and Caribbean studies offers students a multidisciplinary major that will familiarize them with the vast diversity and complexity of this region. Courses in anthropology, art history, history, language, literature, and political science will prepare students for career opportunities related to Latin America and the Caribbean or further study of the region.

Major Requirements: 30 hours

A major in Latin American and Caribbean studies (LACS) will consist of 30 hours in LACS courses with not more than 12 hours in any one discipline (excluding LACS); no more than 15 hours at the 200 level, excluding LACS 101. Students must fulfill their language requirement in Spanish or Portuguese. Students must also major in a non-interdisciplinary field, i.e., history, political science, Hispanic studies, etc. Students are encouraged to spend one summer or semester in a study abroad program in Latin America or the Caribbean.

Required course:
- LACS 101 Introduction to Latin American and Caribbean Studies

Select three (3) of the following Core I courses:
- HIST 262 Colonial Latin America
- HIST 263 Modern Latin America
- HIST 264 Caribbean to 1800
- HIST 265 Caribbean Since 1800
- HIST 364 Sugar and Slaves in Colonial Brazil
- HIST 365 Modern Brazil
- POLS 321 Politics of Latin America
- POLS 333 The Politics of Modern Brazil
- SPAN 326 Latin American Civilization and Culture I
- SPAN 327 Latin American Civilization and Culture II

Select two (2) of the following Core II courses:
- ANTH 325 Peoples and Cultures of Latin America
- ANTH 327 Peoples and Cultures of the Caribbean
ANTH 328  Aztecs, Maya, and Their Ancestors
ANTH 362  Social and Cultural Change
ARTH 255  Latin American Colonial Art
ENGL 234  Survey of Third World Masterpieces
HIST 266  Aztecs, Maya, and Their Ancestors
HIST 366  Comparative Slavery in the Americas
LTPO 150  Portuguese Literature in (English) Translation
LTPO 250  Portuguese Literature in (English) Translation: A Foreign Literature
LTPO 270  Studies in Brazilian Film
LTPO 280  Studies in Brazilian Civilization and Culture Through Literature
LTPO 350  Portuguese Literature in (English) Translation: A Foreign Author
LTPO 450  Portuguese Literature in (English) Translation: Comparative Literature
LTSP 252  Contemporary Latin American Literature in Translation
LTSP 254  Society, History and Culture in Spanish-American Literature
LTSP 256  The Magic and the Real in Latin American Literature and Film
POLS 332  Politics of Film and Reality in Latin America
SPAN 371  Survey of Spanish-American Literature I SPAN 372  Survey of Spanish-American Literature II

NOTE: LACS 101, 103, 104, 105, and 106 may be used to fulfill the humanities or social science general education requirement.

Select four (4) of the following Electives courses (includes courses in Core I and Core II above not taken):

ARTH 205  Pre-Columbian Art and Culture
ENGL 233  Survey of Non-Western Twentieth-Century Literature
ENGL 358  Colonial and Postcolonial British Literature
HIST 261  Special Topics in Modern Asia, Africa, and Latin America
HIST 361  Special Topics in Modern Asia, Africa, and Latin America
HIST 461  Research Seminar in Modern Asia, Africa, and Latin America
LACS 103  Introduction to Contemporary Cuba
LACS 104  Introduction to Contemporary Chile
LACS 105  Introduction to Contemporary Brazil
LACS 106  Introduction to Contemporary Argentina
LACS 200  Special Topics in Latin American and Caribbean Studies
LACS 300  Special Topics in Latin American and Caribbean Studies
LACS 400  Independent Study in Latin American and Caribbean Studies
POLS 328  Modernization, Dependency, and Political Development
POLS 366  Model Organization of American States
PORT 328  Portuguese Language Study Abroad
PORT 390  Special Topics in Portuguese
SOCI 362  Social and Cultural Change
SPAN 315  Special Assignment Abroad
SPAN 328  Foreign Language Study Abroad
SPAN 329  Current Issues Abroad
SPAN 447  Spanish Dialectology
SPAN 454  Contemporary Spanish-American Poetry
SPAN 455  Contemporary Spanish-American Fiction
SPAN 456  Contemporary Spanish-American Theater
SPAN 457  Early Colonial Spanish-American Texts
SPAN 458  Contemporary Hispanic Caribbean Theater

NOTE: Department special topics, tutorial, and independent studies courses as appropriate.
The role of the School of Sciences and Mathematics is two-fold: to provide the technical dimensions of a liberal arts education to all students in the College and to equip majors in the sciences and mathematics to enter careers, graduate schools, or professional schools. Students are afforded opportunities for significant involvement in learning in the classroom as well as individual attention by faculty in research in their academic areas. Students in all disciplines learn not only the facts, methods, and boundaries of mathematics and science, but learn to question and to think analytically.

Students are encouraged to take advantage of opportunities for research and independent study with faculty to develop creativity and an understanding of scientific inquiry. Activities that offer close interactions with faculty increase student satisfaction with their college experience. Students considering a career in science should take mathematics and at least one science course during their first semester.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to combine discovery, innovation, and education in order to serve our students, our state, and our nation.

Vision

Our vision is to be a community of scholar-teachers committed to creating an environment of distinctiveness and excellence that supports and nurtures students as scholars and encourages learning through inquiry, all within the framework of a broad liberal arts and sciences education.

Biology is of fundamental importance in a liberal arts education, since by its very nature it provides students with a keener insight into and a deeper appreciation of the many facets of living systems. For the non-major, biology often serves as the only introduction to science and methods employed in scientific endeavors. For both non-majors and majors alike, a study of biology may provide life-long vocational interests. Those who major in biology are provided with a substantial background in all aspects of living organisms.

A biology degree is not only valuable for advanced studies, but also provides a background for the pursuit of a variety of careers in teaching, marine biology, medical and biological research, allied health services, forestry, wildlife biology, horticulture, pollution control, museum work, environmental studies, and land-use planning. The Department of Biology has extensive facilities in the Hollings Science Center and at the Grice Marine Laboratory (GML) at Ft. Johnson. Undergraduate courses are given in both locations.

Students who are considering majoring in biology should visit the Department of Biology early in their college careers to consult with advisors and to obtain information necessary to plan their programs of studies.

Chemistry is often referred to as the “central science.” It is important to anyone seeking a career in the sciences. It is also a wonderful component in a liberal arts education.

Many chemistry majors elect to continue their education by attending graduate or professional schools. For these students, as well as those wishing to directly enter the chemical industry, the bachelor of science degree is highly recommended. For students planning to attend medical, dental, veterinary, or pharmacy schools, the bachelor of science degree is recommended; but these students may find that the bachelor of arts program allows more flexibility. Students pursuing a minor in secondary education usually opt for the bachelor of arts program.

The biochemistry degree program provides a firm

To many people, computer science means computer programming. Computer science is more than programming, however. It is a science pertaining to computers and computation. This includes the study of algorithms, the process of computation, the representation and organization of information, and relationships between computers and their users.

The programs in computer science are designed to serve the needs and interests of a broad spectrum of students who see the probable interaction of computers in their present or proposed careers, while ensuring a sound foundation for those students who seek to major in computer science by providing sufficient breadth and depth in the discipline.

The bachelor of science in computer science is designed to prepare students for graduate study in computer science or for professional careers, especially in the computer industry.

The bachelor of science in computer information systems is designed to prepare students for computing positions in business and industry while keeping open the option for continuing study in graduate school.

The bachelor of arts in computer science is designed to provide students with solid foundations in the fundamental areas of computer science, but permits a greater variety of elective courses to be taken outside of the discipline than do the other two degree programs.

There are two minor programs in computer science, one intended primarily for business majors and one for other majors.

Cognate Requirement (15–22 credit hours)
Each student selects one cognate to complete for the Discovery Informatics major. Currently, there are 10 cognates. However, additional cognates may become available. Please contact the program director or consult the discovery informatics homepage at discovery.cofc.edu for a complete listing of cognates along with their directors.

Biomechanics Cognate (22 credit hours)
Director: William Barfield

The Department of Physical Education and Health offers an opportunity for students in the area of Discovery Informatics to plan, collect, and analyze data pertaining to the physics of human motion. In order to complete this cognate area, students will first need to take BIOL 111 and BIOL 112 with the mandatory laboratories to satisfy their general education requirements, and then take BIOL 202 (Human Anatomy), PHYS 101 (Introductory Physics), PEHD 330 (Kinesiology), and PEHD 440 (Biomechanics) to fulfill their cognate requirements. Data associated with these classes could include, but will not be limited to: kinematics of normal and pathological gait, kinematics of other types of human movement including golf and tennis, and the kinetic analysis of movement and how the kinematics and kinetics might be combined to solve a particular issue.

James E. Young, Director

As the 20th Century was the Industrial Revolution, the 21st Century will prove to be the Information Revolution. Do you strive to become a leader in this ongoing revolution? Are you interested in learning how to glean useful new information from vast amounts of data for intelligent decision-making? Discovery Informatics is a rigorous, interdisciplinary program, which will be the catalyst and enabler for discoveries that might otherwise go undiscovered and for knowledge that would otherwise remain unknown. This is the first undergraduate degree program of its kind in the country, drawing on the unique and rich intellectual culture and history embodied at the College of Charleston.

The mission of the Discovery Informatics program is to provide students with the theoretical foundations and practical application experiences needed to understand and utilize methods for knowledge discovery. The core of the program integrates statistics, mathematics, computer science, learning theory, logic, information theory, complexity, and artificial intelligence. In addition to completing the core requirements, students choose a cognate discipline and associated courses, culminating in a Discovery Informatics project directed by a faculty member from their chosen cognate. Cognates and their directors are listed below.

Today’s demand for expertise in Discovery Informatics far exceeds the current supply, and this discrepancy will become more severe over the coming decades. Discovery Informatics graduates will be highly employable in business, industry, professional fields like medicine and law, and government. Graduates wishing to pursue higher degrees in Discovery Informatics (or more domain-specific fields like bioinformatics) will be among the most qualified applicants for the best graduate degree programs.

Core Requirements (54 credit hours)

Discovery Informatics (9 credit hours)
Customer Relationship Management Cognate (15 credit hours)

Director: Julia Blose

The Department of Management and Marketing offers an opportunity for students in the area of Discovery Informatics to plan, participate in and assist in analyzing data associated with the study of customer relationship management. Those who successfully gather, analyze, understand, and act upon customer information are among the winners in this new information age. The benefits associated with discovery informatics applications in CRM include customer profitability, customer acquisition, cross-selling, customer retention, customer segmentation and customer scoring.

E-Commerce Cognate (18 credit hours)

Director: Gioconda Quesada

The Department of Management and Marketing offers an opportunity for students in the area of Discovery Informatics to plan, participate in and assist in analyzing data associated with the study of e-commerce. Those who successfully gather, analyze, understand, and act upon e-procurement information are among the winners in this new information age. The benefits associated with discovery informatics applications in e-commerce include improved marketing intelligence, enhanced decision making, reduced operational and administration costs, and improved visibility of customer demand.

Economics Cognate (15 credit hours)

Director: Calvin Blackwell

The Department of Economics & Finance offers an opportunity for students in the area of Discovery Informatics to plan, participate in and assist in analyzing data associated with the study of economics and finance. Improved methods for interpreting the vast amount of data available concerning the macroeconomy and financial markets is important to both business leaders and government policy makers. Specific courses required to provide a content background for these students are Principles of Macroeconomics (ECON 201), Principles of Microeconomics (ECON 202), Microeconomics Analysis (ECON 317), Macroeconomics Analysis (ECON 318) and Introduction to Econometrics and Forecasting (ECON 419). These classes will present the student with the basic problems economics addresses, the tools of economic analysis, and some of the most widely used data in economics.

Exercise Physiology Cognate (16 credit hours)

Director: Allan Strand

Bioinformatics makes use of large genetic datasets to address questions in biology at the cellular and molecular level. To expose DM students to training in bioinformatics, we suggest that students take Biology 111 and 112 with the mandatory laboratories to satisfy their general education requirements. For the cognate courses we recommend Biology 212 and 311 with laboratories. These two courses provide introductory and advanced training in genetics, respectively.

Geoinformatics Cognate (16 credit hours)

Director:

Geoinformatics technologies include Geospatial Information Systems (GIS), Global Positioning System (GPS), and remote sensing. Furthermore, the cognate includes issues in geospatial data delivery and documentation. In order to complete this cognate area, students will need a background in geology, preferably GEOL 101, 103, and/or 105, with the mandatory laboratories to satisfy their general education requirements. The cognate has three tracts: Geospatial Informatics, Hydro-Geophysical, and Applied Environmental Geoinformatics.

Organismal Biology Cognate
(15 credit hours)

Director: Allan Strand

Historically DI has been relevant to biology through the field of bioinformatics, but large datasets can be found in many biological sub-disciplines that focus upon levels of organization higher than the cell. Large datasets, particularly ecological time-series and imagery, have proliferated in environmental biology. For students to receive the training they would need to apply DI approaches to organismal-level subfields, we recommend that students take Biology 111 and Biology 112 as part of their general education and choose two 300-level courses (for example, ecology (BIOL 341) and Evolution (BIOL 350)) from the biology department’s offerings through consultation with their cognate advisor. Many 300-level biology courses require one year of chemistry (Chemistry 111 and 112) as prerequisites. If the courses identified with the student’s cognate advisor have this prerequisite, the cognate will require up to 23 credit hours, else it will require a minimum of 14 credit hours.

- BIOL 111 Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology (3)
- BIOL 111L Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology Lab (1)
- BIOL 112 Evolution, Ecology, and Biology of Organisms (3)
- BIOL 112L Evolution, Ecology, and Biology of Organisms Lab (1)

And two 300-level biology courses selected by the biology cognate advisor. Example:

- BIOL 341 General Ecology (4)
- BIOL 350 Evolution (3)

Physics and Astronomy Cognate
(18 credit hours)

Director: Jon Hakkila

The Physics and Astronomy cognate, offered by the Department of Physics and Astronomy, provides students with a working knowledge of basic physics and astronomy as well as some familiarity with associated data types. Students in this cognate would take Physics 201 and Physics 202 to satisfy their general education requirements, and then take Physics 311 (Stellar Astronomy and Astrophysics, Physics 330 (Modern Physics), and Physics 370 (Experimental Physics). The department is also in the process of expanding course offerings in computational physics; it is expected that anticipated computational physics courses would replace some of the aforementioned courses and/or would serve as ideal cognate requirements when implemented.

- PHYS 201 General Physics I (4)
- PHYS 202 General Physics II (4)
- PHYS 311 Stellar Astronomy and Astrophysics (3)
- PHYS 330 Introduction to Modern Physics I (3)
- PHYS 370 Experimental Physics (4)

Psychology Cognate
(13–22 credit hours)

Director:

The Department of Psychology offers a psychology cognate. Psychology, as a scientific discipline that studies human and animal behavior and biobehavioral relationships, relies significantly on accumulating and querying extensive databases in subfields of psychology to address salient research questions (e.g., in neuroscience, cognition, health, and social psychology). To provide training that DI students would require, students will take PSYC 103 (Introduction to Psychological Science) as part of their general education social science requirement. PSYC 211 (Psychological Statistics) and PSYC 220 (Research Methods) are required but can be excused if students present appropriate background in statistics and/or experimental methods.

- PSYC 213 Conditioning and Learning
- PSYC 214 Physiological Psychology
- PSYC 215 Cognitive Psychology
- PSYC 310 Social Psychology
- PSYC 360 Laboratory in Conditioning and Learning
- PSYC 362 Laboratory in Social Psychology
- PSYC 364 Laboratory in Physiological Psychology
- PSYC 368 Laboratory in Cognitive Psychology
- PSYC 390 Research Design and Interpretation
- PSYC 400 Independent Study

Sociology Cognate (15 credit hours)

Director: Tracy Burkett

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology offers the sociology cognate. Sociology is a quantitative discipline, and much of the current research in this field is based upon querying large databases. To provide the training that DI students interested in sociology would require, students pursuing the sociology cognate will take SOCY 101 as part of their general education social science requirement. For the remainder of the cognate courses, we require SOCY 202, SOCY 260, SOCY 271 and SOCY 371.

- SOCY 101 Introduction to Sociology (3)
- SOCY 202 Introduction to Social Institutions (3)
- SOCY 260 Development of Social Thought (3)
- SOCY 271 Introduction to Social Research (3)
- SOCY 371 Social Research Practicum (3)

Supply Chain Management Cognate
(18 credit hours)

Director: Marvin Gonzalez

The Department of Management and Marketing offers an opportunity for students in the area of Discovery Informatics to plan, participate in and assist in analyzing data associated with the study of supply chain management. Those who successfully gather, analyze, understand, and act upon the supply chain gain competitive advantage in the marketplace.

- ECON 201 Principles of Macroeconomics (3)
- ECON 202 Principles of Microeconomics (3)
- DSCI 232 Business Statistics (3)
- MKTG 302 Marketing Concepts (3)
- MKTG 335 Purchasing and Supply Chain Management (3)
- TRAN 312 Global Logistics (3)

Minor Requirements
(18–19 credit hours)

The Discovery Informatics minor provides students an introduction to the field by developing their quantitative abilities in statistics, data mining, databases, and programming.

The primary goal of the Discovery Informatics minor is to increase the quantitative and analytical learning outcomes to students of all degree programs at the College of Charleston who complete this minor.

- DISC 101 Introduction to Discovery Informatics (3)
- DISC 201 Introduction to Databases and Data Mining (3)

Computer Science (3 credit hours)

- CSCI 130 Visual Basic for Applications (3)

Mathematics (9-10 credit hours)

- Either:
  - MATH 105 Calculus for Business and the Social Sciences (3)
  - MATH 120 Introductory Calculus (4)
- MATH 250 Statistical Methods I (3)
- MATH 355 Bayesian Statistical Inference (3)

Geology is the science of the Earth— including its structure, dynamics, and history at many scales of inquiry. Encompassing physical, biological, and chemical dimensions, its interdisciplinary nature sets it apart from the other sciences. The geologist applies all science and scientific methods to the study of the Earth and its resources. At the College of Charleston, students have the opportunity to work closely with a faculty with a diverse academic background and expertise and actively participate in geoscience research.

The Department of Geology and Environmental Geosciences offers a major, a minor, and a broad array of topical and interdisciplinary elective courses in the geosciences. Students who complete a bachelor of science or bachelor of arts degree with a major in geology may tailor a program of study to better prepare themselves for a wide variety of career opportunities in:

1. Advanced graduate study
2. Industry and government using geographic information systems (GIS) and remote sensing
3. The petroleum and mineral resource industries
4. Environmental consulting firms and state or federal environmental regulatory agencies
5. Teaching

Major Requirements

Bachelor of Science degree: 42 hours

Core Courses
GEOL 101/101L Dynamic Earth (with laboratory)
or GEOL 103/103L Environmental Geology (with laboratory)
or HONS 155/155L Honors Geology I (with laboratory)
GEOL 105/105L Earth History (with laboratory)
or HONS 156/156L Honors Geology II (with laboratory)

Electives: seven additional hours in geology

Students pursuing a B.S. degree in geology may receive a maximum of three hours of elective credit for courses taken at the 200 to 249 level. All additional elective hours in geology must be taken at the 250 level or above.

CHEM 101/101L and CHEM 102/102L
Organic and Biological Chemistry (with laboratory) or CHEM 111/111L and CHEM 112/112L
Principles of Chemistry (with laboratory)

MATH 111 Pre-Calculus Mathematics
MATH 250 Statistical Methods I

PHYS 101/101L and PHYS 102/102L
Introductory Physics (with laboratory) or PHYS 201/201L and PHYS 202/202L General Physics (with laboratory) or BIOL 101/101L and BIOL 102/102L Elements of Biology (with laboratory) or BIOL 111/111L Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology with laboratory and BIOL 112/112L Evolution, Form, and Function of Organisms (with laboratory)

Computer science courses and GEOL 360 Field Studies are recommended.

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree with a concentration in environmental geology

Students electing to complete a concentration in environmental geology must complete all of the core requirements for either degree program, and 12 hours of electives to include:

GEOL 438 Hydrogeology
GEOL 441 Aquatic Geochemistry

Additional courses selected from the following:
GEOL 275 Geomorphology
GEOL 276 Geomorphology
GEOL 300 and GEOL 303
Independent Study in Geology

GEOL 311/311L Introduction to Geology
GEOL 320/320L Marine Geology
GEOL 325/325L Marine Geology
GEOL 332/332L Marine Geology
GEOL 375/375L Marine Geology
GEOL 380/380L Marine Geology
GEOL 390/390L Marine Geology
GEOL 391/391L Marine Geology
GEOL 392/392L Marine Geology
GEOL 393/393L Marine Geology
GEOL 394/394L Marine Geology
GEOL 395/395L Marine Geology
GEOL 396/396L Marine Geology
GEOL 397/397L Marine Geology
GEOL 398/398L Marine Geology
GEOL 399/399L Marine Geology

Other suitable electives as approved by the department.
Minor Requirements: 20 hours

At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

GEOL 101/101L Dynamic Earth (with laboratory)
or GEOL 103/103L Environmental Geology (with laboratory)
or HONS 155/155L Honors Geology I (with laboratory)

GEOL 105/105L Earth History (with laboratory)
or HONS 156/156L Honors Geology II (with laboratory)

Additional geology courses selected to complement the student’s major. The student’s major advisor and his or her geology advisor must approve the courses.

Mathematics is one of the oldest academic disciplines, valued for its intrinsic beauty; as training in logical and analytical reasoning, and for its widespread applications throughout other disciplines. As our society adopts more technology and collects more data, training in mathematics becomes ever more valuable.

At the bachelor’s level, the Department of Mathematics offers a major, two minors, and a number of service courses for various disciplines. Students who complete a bachelor of science in mathematics have a number of career options.

1. They may pursue an advanced degree in mathematics or a closely related area such as statistics, computer science, biometry, information science, or operations research.
2. Students who combine mathematics with another discipline that uses mathematics can enhance their pursuit of graduate studies in the second discipline. These areas include biology, chemistry, economics, medicine, physics, and even such areas as sociology, political science, and psychology.
3. Mathematics majors may teach at the secondary level.
4. Mathematics majors may work in business, industry, or government, areas which increasingly need people with skills in quantitative reasoning and problem solving to deal with statistics, technology, and complicated finances. Often the analytical reasoning developed by a mathematics major is more important to these companies than any specific mathematical technique.
5. Many mathematics majors work in the computer industry, in such areas as systems analysis, programming, design of algorithms, or computer graphics. The computer industry is one of the largest employers of mathematicians.
6. Many mathematics majors work as actuaries in the insurance industry, applying mathematics and statistics to risk assessment and financial analysis.

To meet the varying needs of mathematics majors with different career goals, the Department of Mathematics offers five tracks leading to the bachelor of science degree. All students wishing to graduate with a major in mathematics must complete one of the five tracks. These tracks are built around a common core of courses required of all math majors. The core courses and requirements for each track are listed below.

Students interested in the mathematics major are not required to select a track immediately. Instead, they may focus on the first five core courses. Typically, a mathematics major should complete these core courses by the end of the sophomore year. Entering majors should enroll in one of these courses or MATH 111, the prerequisite for MATH 120.

The calculation of the GPA in the major (resp., minor) will be based only on those mathematics courses that are acceptable for credit toward the major (resp., minor).

Major Requirements

Students must complete the core courses plus one of the five tracks (actuarial, applied, discrete, pure, teacher education). See also “Academic Regulations” section of this catalog.

Core Courses Required for All Tracks
MATH 120 Introductory Calculus
MATH 203 Linear Algebra
MATH 220 Calculus II
MATH 221 Calculus III
MATH 295 An Introduction to Abstract Mathematics
MATH XX Capstone Experience

One of the following course/lab pairs:
CSCI 220 Computer Programming I and CSCI 222 Computer Programming I Laboratory
or
MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing and
MATH 246 Mathematical Computing and Programming Laboratory

The capstone experience is intended to be a culminating experience in which students build on their previous mathematics coursework. This requirement can be fulfilled by successfully completing MATH 495, MATH 490 (Practicum in Mathematics), or MATH 499 (Bachelor’s Essay). There are also specific recommendations and options that satisfy the capstone experience for several of the tracks. Any other proposed capstone experience must be approved by the department chair.

Actuarial Studies Track:
37–43 hours in math; 55–61 hours including cognates
This track is designed to prepare students to work as actuaries in the insurance industry.
MATH 250 Statistical Methods I
MATH 350 Statistical Methods II
MATH 530 Mathematical Statistics I
MATH 531 Mathematical Statistics II

One of the following two-course mathematics sequences:
MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing and MATH 545 Numerical Analysis

or MATH 451 Linear Programming and Optimization and MATH 452 Operations Research and

All of the following courses in business:
ACCT 203 Financial Accounting
ACCT 204 Managerial Accounting
ECON 201 Principles of Macroeconomics
ECON 202 Principles of Microeconomics
FINC 303 Business Finance
FINC 385 Principles of Risk Management and Insurance

NOTE: MATH 323 Differential Equations is also recommended and is a prerequisite for MATH 545. MATH 246 is a co-requisite for MATH 245.

A student who passes either Exam 1 or Exam 2 given jointly by the Society of Actuaries and the Casualty Actuarial Society may count that as the capstone experience in this track. (see www.beanactuary.org)

Applied Mathematics Track:
46 hours in math and 12-hour area of application
Applied mathematics majors, in consultation with their advisors, should develop proposed areas of application and submit them to the departmental committee on the major for evaluation, preferably before the end of their sophomore year.
MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing
MATH 246 Mathematical Computing and Programming Laboratory
MATH 311 Advanced Calculus I
MATH 323 Differential Equations
Six additional hours at or above the 300 level.

Twelve approved hours in an area of application outside the mathematics department.

One of the following two-course sequences:
MATH 250 Statistical Methods I and MATH 350 Statistical Methods II

or MATH 530 Mathematical Statistics I and
MATH 531 Mathematical Statistics II

One of the following two courses:
MATH 450 Discrete Mathematical Models
MATH 460 Continuous Mathematical Models

NOTE: MATH 490 Practicum in Mathematics is the recommended capstone experience for this track. Students electing the practicum should submit a written proposal to the committee on the major in the semester prior to that in which the practicum is to be done, typically in the senior year.

Discrete Mathematics Track:
40–43 hours in math and 16 hours in computer science
This option is designed for students who are interested in both mathematics and computer science. It also serves as a valuable second major for students in computer science.
CSCI 220 Computer Programming I
CSCI 221 Computer Programming II
CSCI 222 Computer Programming I Laboratory
CSCI 230 Data Structures and Algorithms
CSCI 325 Declarative Programming Languages
CSCI 410 Automata and Formal Languages
MATH 207 Discrete Structures I
MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing
MATH 246 Mathematical Computing and Programming Laboratory
MATH 303 Abstract Algebra I
MATH 305 Elementary Number Theory
MATH 307 Discrete Structures II
MATH 450 Discrete Mathematical Models

One from the following:
MATH 250 Statistical Methods I
MATH 530 Mathematical Statistics I

NOTE: MATH 323 is a prerequisite for MATH 545.

Pure Mathematics Track:
43–46 hours
This option is primarily intended for majors who will attend graduate school in mathematics. Those who select the mathematics major for its intrinsic value may also choose this option.
MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing
MATH 246 Mathematical Computing and Programming Laboratory
MATH 311 Advanced Calculus I
MATH 323 Differential Equations

One from the following:
MATH 250 Statistical Methods I
MATH 530 Mathematical Statistics I

One from the following:
MATH 403 Abstract Algebra II
MATH 411 Advanced Calculus II
MATH 421 Vector and Tensor Analysis

and
Six additional hours at or above the 200 level, of which three hours must be at or above the 400 level.

Teacher Education Track (Grades 9–12):
43 hours
After declaration of a major in mathematics in this track, students must meet with the director of certification and clinical practice, School of Education, 955-5613. Students must take EDFS 201 during their sophomore year and apply for acceptance into this program no later than the second semester of their sophomore year. Requirements for this track in the math major include admission to and successful completion of the approved teacher education program.
Specific general education, teacher education program, and content major requirements can be found at http://arachne.cofc.edu/edfs/Worksheets.edfs_worksheets.htm.

MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing
MATH 246 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing Laboratory
MATH 250 Statistical Methods I
MATH 303 Abstract Algebra I
MATH 320 History of Mathematics
MATH 323 Differential Equations
MATH 340 Axiomatic Geometry
MATH 450 Discrete Mathematical Models
MATH 530 Mathematical Statistics I

Successful completion of all requirements for certification in secondary education.
Student teaching, with a satisfactory written report to the mathematics department about the teaching experience, will satisfy the Capstone Experience requirement in this option.

Minor Requirements

Pre-Actuarial Studies Minor: 21 hours

For students majoring in mathematics (other than the Actuarial Studies Track):

- ACCT 203  Financial Accounting
- AGCT 204  Managerial Accounting
- ECON 201  Principles of Macroeconomics
- ECON 202  Principles of Microeconomics
- FINC 303  Business Finance
- FINC 385  Principles of Risk Management and Insurance
- MATH 250  Statistical Methods I
- MATH 350  Statistical Methods II
- MATH 530  Mathematical Statistics I
- MATH 531  Mathematical Statistics II

NOTE: Three or four of the mathematics courses in this minor can be used to satisfy specific or elective course requirements in the various tracks (other than actuarial studies) in the mathematics major.

For students majoring in business administration:

- FINC 385  Principles of Risk Management and Insurance
- MATH 120  Introductory Calculus
- MATH 203  Linear Algebra
- MATH 220  Calculus II
- MATH 221  Calculus III
- MATH 250  Statistical Methods
- MATH 530  Mathematical Statistics I
- MATH 531  Mathematical Statistics II

Preparation for MUSC Master’s in Biometry Program

By carefully choosing the coursework in our B.S. in mathematics, a student may also be able to obtain an M.S. degree in biometry from the Medical University of South Carolina, with coursework for both degrees completed within five years. This is not a formal program, but rather a consequence of careful planning. College of Charleston math majors interested in both degrees should apply for admission to the College of Graduate Studies at MUSC during the spring semester of their junior year, and this admission is not automatic. For more information, contact the mathematics department at the College of Charleston or visit MUSC’s Web page.

Physics is the present-day equivalent of what used to be called natural philosophy, from which most of modern science arose. It investigates the properties, changes, and interactions of matter and energy. The study of physics does not involve following a recipe; rather, it entails developing an attitude or way of looking at phenomena and asking questions. Physicists seek to understand how the physical universe works, no matter what the scale of observation—from quarks to quasars, from the time it takes a proton to spin around to the age of the cosmos. Awareness of the beauty, harmony, and interplay of the laws of physics greatly enhances our view and appreciation of our environment.

The two degree programs offered by the Department of Physics and Astronomy enable a student to prepare for a career in physics or astronomy or for a career in related fields such as engineering, biophysics, agriculture, medicine, law, geophysics, meteorology, and business.

Major Requirements

*Bachelor of Science Degree: 43 hours

- PHYS 201  General Physics
- PHYS 202  General Physics
- PHYS 301  Classical Mechanics
- PHYS 330  Introduction to Modern Physics I
- PHYS 370  Experimental Physics
- PHYS 401  Introductory Quantum Mechanics
- PHYS 409  Electricity and Magnetism
- PHYS 419  Research Seminar
- PHYS 420  Senior Research

or PHYS 499  Bachelor’s Essay

15 additional hours chosen with department approval from:

- PHYS 203  Physics and Medicine
- PHYS 206  Planetary Astronomy

Any 300- or 400-level physics course with a maximum of six credits total from PHYS 390 and PHYS 399.

- CSCI 220  Computer Programming I or its equivalent is strongly recommended.

*Bachelor of Arts Degree: 30 hours

- PHYS 201  General Physics
- PHYS 202  General Physics
- PHYS 330  Introduction to Modern Physics I
- PHYS 370  Experimental Physics
- PHYS 419  Research Seminar
- PHYS 420  Senior Research

or PHYS 499  Bachelor’s Essay

Electives: 11 additional hours in physics to be selected by the student, with the approval of the department, with a maximum of three credits total from PHYS 390 and PHYS 399.

*NOTES:

1. Fifteen hours of mathematics are required by course prerequisites.
2. With department approval, completion with grades of at least “B” in PHYS 101 and PHYS 102 with labs, together with MATH 120 and MATH 220 may be substituted for PHYS 201 and PHYS 202.
3. With department approval, PHYS 499 may be substituted for PHYS 420.
4. Suggested programs of study leading to graduate school in physics, astronomy, astrophysics, meteorology, and engineering are available from the department.

Concentration in Astronomy: 18 hours

Core Courses
- PHYS 206  Planetary Astronomy
- PHYS 311  Stellar Astronomy
Preferably, Honors Astronomy can be used as core courses with department approval. (The department envisions approval being granted only if they do not offer the core courses in a two-year period for financial or other reasons.)

Electives:
- GEOL 206: Planetary Geology
- PHYS 205: Intelligent Life in the Universe
- PHYS 298: Special Topics*
- PHYS 301: Classical Mechanics
- PHYS 306: Physical Optics
- PHYS 390: Research*
- PHYS 399: Tutorial*
- PHYS 412: Special Topics*
- PHYS 413: Astrophysics
- PHYS 420: Senior Research*
- PHYS 499: Bachelor’s Essay*

*Must involve astronomy and must be approved by the astronomy concentration program director.

NOTE: Students must notify the astronomy concentration program director prior to graduation to receive credit for the concentration on their transcript.

Concentration in Meteorology: 18 hours

Core courses:
- Two selected from:
  - PHYS 105: Introduction to Meteorology
  - PHYS 308: Atmospheric Physics
  - PHYS 456: Air Pollution Meteorology
  - PHYS 457: Satellite Meteorology
  - PHYS 458: Climate Change
  - PHYS 499: Bachelor’s Essay*

*Must involve meteorology and must be approved by the meteorology concentration program director.

Notes:
1. Many of these courses require prerequisites which will not count towards the concentration unless they are on the list above.
2. A minimum of three physics courses are required to obtain a concentration.
3. Students must notify the meteorology concentration program director prior to graduation to receive credit for the concentration on their transcript.

The department’s Handbook for Majors is an invaluable resource for students. Copies are available from the department office. The handbook includes advice for constructing a major, minor, or area of concentration which is consistent with an individual’s career goals. It is usually the most up-to-date source of information about the department and our programs. Also, visit the Web pages at www.cofc.edu/~physics/.

Teacher Education Program (Grades 9–12)

After a declaration of a major in physics, students interested in teacher certification must meet with the director of certification and clinical practice, School of Education, 953-5613. Students must take EDFS 201 during their sophomore year and apply for acceptance into this program no later than the second semester of their sophomore year. Requirements include admission to and successful completion of the approved teacher education program.

Specific general education, teacher education program, and content major requirements can be found at http://arachne.cofc.edu/EDFS/worksheets/edfs_worksheets.htm.

Minor Requirements

At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.
A minimum of one meteorology-based course selected from:

- HONS 390 Special Topics*
- PHYS 105 Introduction to Meteorology†
- PHYS 298 Special Topics*
- PHYS 308 Atmospheric Physics
- PHYS 390 Research*
- PHYS 399 Tutorial*
- PHYS 412 Special Topics*
- PHYS 456 Air Pollution Meteorology
- PHYS 457 Satellite Meteorology
- PHYS 458 Climate Change
- PHYS 499 Bachelor’s Essay*

Electives:
- BIOL 342 Oceanography
- CHEM 101 General Chemistry
- CHEM 111 Principles of Chemistry
- CHEM 441 Physical Chemistry
- ENVT 200 Introduction to Environmental Studies
- GEOL 101 Introduction to Geology
- GEOL 205 Environmental Geology
- GEOL 220 Hydrogeology
- GEOL 290 Special Topics*
- GEOL 314 Introduction to Remote Sensing
- HONS 390 Special Topics*†
- PHYS 206 Planetary Astronomy
- PHYS 298 Special Topics*†
- PHYS 301 Classical Mechanics
- PHYS 306 Physical Optics
- PHYS 308 Atmospheric Physics†
- PHYS 390 Research†
- PHYS 399 Tutorial†
- PHYS 405 Thermal Physics
- PHYS 412 Special Topics†
- PHYS 415 Fluid Mechanics
- PHYS 456 Air Pollution Meteorology†
- PHYS 457 Satellite Meteorology†
- PHYS 458 Climate Change†
- PHYS 499 Bachelor’s Essay†

*Must involve meteorology and must be approved by the meteorology minor program director.
†If not taken to satisfy requirements in above categories.

NOTES:
1. A minimum of nine credits must be at the 200 level or above.
2. Many of these courses require prerequisites which will not count towards the minor unless they are on the list above.
3. Students must notify the meteorology minor program director prior to graduation to receive credit for the minor on their transcript.

Physics: 18 hours

Core courses:
- PHYS 201 General Physics
- PHYS 202 General Physics

NOTE: Under special circumstances, with department approval, and the student having earned grades of “B” or better, PHYS 101 and 102 (with associated labs) may replace PHYS 201 and 202.

Electives:
- PHYS 150 Physics of Sound and Music
- PHYS 203 Physics and Medicine
- PHYS 298 Special Topics*
- PHYS 301 Classical Mechanics
- PHYS 302 Classical Mechanics
- PHYS 306 Physical Optics
- PHYS 320 Introductory Electronics
- PHYS 330 Introduction to Modern Physics I
- PHYS 331 Introduction to Modern Physics II
- PHYS 370 Experimental Physics
- PHYS 390 Research*
- PHYS 399 Tutorial*
- PHYS 403 Introductory Quantum Mechanics
- PHYS 404 Introductory Quantum Mechanics
- PHYS 405 Thermal Physics
- PHYS 407 Introduction to Nuclear Physics
- PHYS 408 Introduction to Solid State Physics
- PHYS 409 Electricity and Magnetism
- PHYS 410 Electricity and Magnetism
- PHYS 412 Special Topics*
- PHYS 415 Fluid Mechanics
- PHYS 420 Senior Research*
- PHYS 499 Bachelor’s Essay*

*Must involve physics and be approved by the physics minor program director.

NOTE: Students must notify the physics minor program director prior to graduation to receive credit for the minor on their transcript.

School of Sciences and Mathematics

Special Programs

School of Sciences and Mathematics Non-Degree Programs

In addition to degree programs, the School of Sciences and Mathematics houses in its various departments several special programs listed below, as well as a joint program with the Medical University of South Carolina in mathematics and biometry. The school houses a laboratory that offers training in Geographic Information Systems (GIS).

Pre-Allied Health Programs and Cooperative Agreements

The College of Charleston provides pre-professional program education that prepares a student to enter a wide variety of allied health education programs. This includes, but is not limited to: physician assistant, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, perfusion, health administration, and the medical laboratory science of cytotechnology. After completing their prerequisites, students must enter the allied health program of their choice at an institution where it is offered. Admission to such programs requires application and successful competition for admission. Interested students should contact the director of Pre-professional Health Advising for additional information.

Dual Degree in Biology with Allied Health and Pharmacy Program

The College of Charleston has an optional dual degree program in which students can earn a degree from both the College of Charleston and other designated institutions. This option is available only to those who are accepted into and successfully complete the first year of an allied health or pharmacy program. Currently, the allied health and pharmacy programs at the Medical University of South Carolina are approved; others are approved on a case-by-case basis. The degree awarded is a B.A. in biology.

Participants in the dual degree program must complete:
1. All minimum degree requirements of the College of Charleston (math, science, foreign language, history, social science, humanities according to the Undergraduate Catalog).
2. All prerequisite degree requirements of the specific allied health program.
3. At least 90 semester hours, at least 60 of which must be earned at the College of Charleston.
4. One year of chemistry, with labs.
5. 12 to 14 semester hours of advanced biology selected from the following courses, taken at the College of Charleston:
   - BIOL 201 Human Physiology (4)
   - BIOL 202 Human Anatomy (4)
   - BIOL 212 Genetics (3)
   - BIOL 212L Genetics Lab (1)
   - BIOL 310 General Microbiology (4)
   - BIOL 312 Molecular Biology (5)

School of Sciences and Mathematics • 87
BIOL 312L Molecular Biology Lab (1)
BIOL 313 Cell Biology (3)
BIOL 313L Cell Biology Lab (1)
BIOL 314 Immunology (3)
BIOL 320 Histology (4)
BIOL 321 Comparative Vertebrate Physiology (4)
BIOL 322 Developmental Biology [Comparative Vertebrate Embryology] (4)
BIOL 323 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy (4)
BIOL 336 Parasitology (4)
BIOL 341 General Ecology (4)
BIOL 350 Evolution (3)

6. All courses and courses in the major area with a GPA of 2.5 at the College of Charleston (or higher if required by a specific program).

7. The first year in one of the approved, cooperating allied health or pharmacy programs (does not include nursing) in good standing, with “eligibility to continue” documented by the health professions program.

NOTE: Interested students should contact the director of Pre-Professional Health Advising for additional information.

In the event the allied health program is unable to verify eligibility for continuation by the deadline for the May or December graduation, completion of the dual degree will be recorded effective with the next cycle of degree awards.

The student must take an official leave-of-absence when he or she leaves the College of Charleston to attend the professional program. To graduate after the first year in the health professions program, the student must notify the registrar of his or her intent and provide proper documentation.

Pre-Professional Nursing Curriculum

The College of Charleston offers courses that prepare students for entry into colleges of nursing, but does not have its own nursing program. Students planning to pursue a degree in nursing should contact each program of interest for a list of specific prerequisites. Typically, a pre-nursing student at the College of Charleston should expect to take the following courses, as well as additional courses specified by the nursing programs and/or by their major:

ENGL 101 and 102 6 hours
CHEM 101/101L and 102/102L or 111/111L and 112/112L 8 hours
BIOL 111/111L and 112/112L 8 hours
BIOL 211/212 6 hours
PSYC 103 3 hours

PSYC 311 3 hours
BIOL 202/202L 4 hours
(Biology programs accept BIOL 322)
BIOL 201/201L 4 hours
(Biology programs accept BIOL 321)
BIOL 310/310L 4 hours
Statistics 3 hours
Social science (in addition to psychology)

Additional requirements

Pre-Professional Curriculum for Dentistry, Medicine, Optometry, Osteopathy, Podiatry, and Veterinary Medicine

The College of Charleston offers courses that prepare students for entry into professional schools while they major in a regular academic discipline. Students are reminded that there is no actual “pre-med” major, for example. Majors in science is the most common approach; however, students can major in any field such as the arts, business, or science, as long as the course of study includes the general coursework required by the intended professional school and prepares them for the required standardized tests. The Departments of Biology, Chemistry, and Biochemistry, and Physics and Astronomy each offer particularly attractive, but different, routes to strong bachelor’s degrees that will qualify students for entry into professional schools. Coursework must include:

Biochemistry 0–9 hours
Biology 8–16 hours
Chemistry 16 hours
8 must be in general chemistry
8 in organic chemistry

Mathematics two courses, including calculus (statistics is recommended)

Physics 8–12 hours

Students should take these courses as early as possible in the academic career by including mathematics and at least two science sequences (biology, chemistry, and physics) in their freshman year. Students who enter a pharmacy program are eligible for the dual degree in biology with allied health and pharmacy if they complete the requirements specified under “Dual Degree.”

843-953-5736 edu/~oip/scamp.html

South Carolina Alliance for Minority Participation is a program designed for students from underrepresented groups in sciences and mathematics who are interested in pursuing a degree in the sciences, engineering, or mathematics fields. Any minority student who is interested in the College’s program in astronomy, biology, biochemistry, chemistry, computer science, geology, mathematics, and physics, and is interested in going to graduate school, is eligible. Minority students who want to become science or mathematics teachers are also eligible.

SEA Semester

843-953-5586 or 843-953-9194

SEA Semester is a program sponsored by the Sea Education Association (SEA), a non-profit organization located in the oceanographic research community of Woods Hole, Massachusetts. Affiliated with the College of Charleston, Cornell University, Boston University, and others, SEA Semester is a 12-week, full-credit undergraduate program focusing on oceanographic and maritime studies. At SEAs Woods Hole campus, students undertake coursework in oceanography, nautical science, and maritime literature and history, followed by a practical component of marine science and blue-water sailing aboard one of SEAs sailing oceanographic research vessels (either of the 134-foot steel brigantine tall ships, the SSV Corwith Cramer or SSV Robert Seamans). For more information, please go to www.sea.edu.

NOTE: Any student at the College of Charleston is eligible to apply for participation in SEA Semester. No sailing experience is necessary for enrollment in SEA Semester.

Grice Marine Laboratory 843-953-9200
www.cofc.edu/~grice

Located at Fort Johnson on James Island, about 10 miles from the main campus, the Grice Marine Laboratory houses classrooms, student and faculty research laboratories, faculty offices, an aquarium room, and a research collection of marine invertebrates and fishes. The Grice Lab supports teaching and research in marine sciences. The marine lab also offers limited housing to students in its programs. The Grice Lab is the home of the graduate program in marine biology and is where many of the courses for the undergraduate marine biology major are taught.

Marine Resources Library
843-953-9370

The Marine Resources Library at Fort Johnson houses the extensive marine science holdings of the College of Charleston, the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources Marine Resources Division, and NOAA/NOS/ CCEHBR/Charleston Laboratory.

Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU)
843-953-4985
www.orau.org

Since 1996, students and faculty of the Graduate School of the College of Charleston have benefited from its membership in ORAU. ORAU is a consortium of 85 colleges and universities and a contractor for the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) located in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. ORAU works with its member institutions to help their students and faculty gain access to federal research facilities throughout the country; to keep its members informed about opportunities for fellowships, scholarships, and research appointments; and to organize research alliances among its members.

Through the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education (ORISE), the DOE facility that ORAU operates, undergraduates, graduates, and postgraduates, as well as faculty, enjoy access to a multitude of opportunities for study and research. Students can participate in programs covering a wide variety of disciplines including business, earth sciences, epidemiology, engineering, physics, geological sciences, pharmacology, ocean sciences, biomedical sciences, nuclear chemistry, and mathematics. Appointment and program length range from one month to four years. Many of these programs are especially designed to increase the numbers of underrepresented minority students pursuing degrees in science- and engineering-related disciplines. A comprehensive listing of these programs and other opportunities, their disciplines, and details on locations and benefits can be found in the ORISE Catalog of Education and Training Programs, which is available at http://www.orau.gov/orise/educ.htm, or by calling either of the contacts below.

ORAU’s Office of Partnership Development seeks opportunities for partnerships and alliances among ORAU’s members, private industry, and major federal facilities. Activities include faculty development programs, such as the Ralph E. Powe, Jr. Faculty Enhancement Awards, the Visiting Industrial Scholars Program, consortium research funding initiatives, faculty research and support programs as well as services to chief research officers.

M. Alpha Bah, Coordinator

Requirements: 18 hours
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

Core courses:
AFST 101 Introduction to African Civilization
HIST 272 Pre-Colonial Africa
HIST 273 Modern Africa

Nine credit hours selected from the following:
AFST 202 Special Topics in African Studies (3)
ANTH 322 Peoples and Cultures of Africa
ENGL 352 Major African Writers
ENGL 355 African Women Writers
FREN 470 African Literature of French Expression
HIST 372 North Africa (The Maghrib)
HIST 373 West Africa Since 1800
HIST 473 Pan Africanism/OAU
LT 150-450 African Literature in Translation
POLS 322 Politics of Africa
POLS 366 International Diplomacy Studies

Departmental special topics, tutorials, and independent study courses will also be offered as appropriate.

African American Studies
843-953-7614

W. Marvin Dulaney, Director

African American studies is one of the most exciting new disciplines in American education. Students who minor in African American studies can acquire careers in the field as teachers, in community development, in social service agencies, and in public administration. African American studies provides students with a strong interdisciplinary background in the humanities and arts.

Students wishing to declare a minor in African American studies should request the appropriate form(s) from the history department.

Requirements: 18 hours
At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

MAST 200 Introduction to African American Studies
ENGL 216 Introduction to African American Literature, or ENGL 313 African American Literature
HIST 216 African American History to 1877
HIST 217 African American History, 1877 to Present

Six hours selected from the following:
ANTH 322 Peoples and Cultures of Africa
ANTH 323 Peoples and Cultures of the Caribbean
HIST 272 Pre-Colonial Africa
HIST 273 Modern Africa
HIST 320 Special Topics in Low Country History
HIST 420 Research Seminar in Low Country History
LANG 250 West African Literature in Translation
MUSC 348 Music in America

Departmental special topics and research seminar courses as appropriate, with the approval of the director.

Archeology

James Newhard, Director

At the College of Charleston, faculty from across four schools teach courses that expose students to the fundamentals and applications of archeology. The minor program recognizes the completion of a course of study designed to highlight the interdisciplinary nature of a field that integrates elements of the social sciences, humanities, arts, and natural sciences. This program serves as a means to unify and coordinate archeological study at the College of Charleston and to provide a forum for intellectual contact between faculty.

Requirements: 22–28 hours

Required courses (10)

| ANTH 202 | Archaeology |
| CLAS 104 | Introduction to Classical Archaeology |
| GEOL 101/101L | Dynamic Earth w/lab (4) or |
| GEOL 103/103L | Environmental Geology w/lab (4) or |
| HONS 155/155L | Honors Geology I w/lab (4) |

Electives (9–10)

Students will take one elective course from each of the following groups: social sciences; humanities and arts; and natural sciences.

Social sciences (3)

| ANTH 302 | Archaeology of North America |
| ANTH 303 | Paleolithic Archaeology |
| ANTH 304 | Rise of Complex Civilization |
| ANTH 305 | Prehistoric Art and Ritual |
| ANTH 318 | Theories on the Origins of Agriculture |
| ANTH 319 | Special Topics in Anthropology (when the subject substantially involves archaeological material) |
| ANTH 328 | Aztecs, Maya, and Their Ancestors |

Arts and Humanities (3)

| ARTH 290 | Special Topics in Art History (when the subject substantially involves archaeological material) |
| ARTH 205 | Pre-Columbian Art and Culture |
| ARTH 338 | American Vernacular Architecture and Material Culture |

Crime, Law, and Society

843-953-8182
www.cofc.edu/CriminalJustice/

Heath Hoffmann, Director

The Crime, Law, and Society minor is intended to provide students with the knowledge and experience necessary to understand the origins of criminal behavior, the consequences of crime for society, and the legal responses societies develop to combat crime. This interdisciplinary minor allows students to take courses in political science, sociology, psychology, philosophy, and history as well as interdisciplinary courses on the topic. In addition to traditional coursework, students are required to complete an internship.

Requirements: 18 hours

At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

POLS 220 Criminal Justice

SOCY 341 Criminology

CRLS 400 Internship in Crime, Law, and Society

NOTE: The prerequisites for SOCY 341 are SOCY 101 and a 200-level sociology course – if you do not have these prerequisites and are a CRLS minor, please see the crime, law, and society director.

Electives (9 hours):

Three courses selected from the following. No more than two electives may be taken in any one discipline. Three courses designated as CRLS may be taken with the program director’s approval.

- CRLS 300 Special Topics in Crime, Law, and Society
- HIST 211 American Urban History
- HIST 307 History of the United States: Cold War America, 1945–present
- PHIL 206 Topics in Law and Morality
- PHIL 270 Philosophy of Law
Discovery Informatics

843-953-5730 discovery.cofc.edu

James Young, Director

The discovery informatics minor provides students an introduction to the field by developing their quantitative abilities in statistics and in data mining and giving students a broad overview of the field with some practical applications of data mining, programming, and databases.

The primary goal of the discovery informatics minor is to increase the quantitative and analytical learning outcomes to students of all degree programs at the College who complete the minor. The curriculum of the minor exposes students to the nature of discovery informatics and builds a small skill set in data mining.

Requirements: 18–19 hours

Discovery Informatics (6 credit hours)
- DISC 101 Introduction to Discovery Informatics (3)
- DISC 201 Introduction to Databases and Data Mining (3)

Computer Science (3 credit hours)
- CSCI 130 Visual Basic for Applications (3)

Mathematics (9–10 credit hours)
- MATH 105 Calculus for Business and the Social Sciences (3)
- or MATH 120 Introductory Calculus (4)
- MATH 250 Statistical Methods I (3)
- MATH 355 Bayesian Statistical Inference (3)

Environmental Studies

European Studies

843-953-9530

William Olejniczak, Director
olejniczakb@cofc.edu

European studies is an interdisciplinary area study minor that introduces students to the diverse cultures and nations of Europe through the study of history, literature, languages, visual arts, economics, business, politics, religion, and society.
Requirements: 18 hours

Cluster A: History and Ideas (3 credit hours)

Cluster B: Languages, Literature, Culture (3 credit hours)

Cluster C: Economics, Politics, Society (3 credit hours)

Electives (6 credit hours)

European Studies 400 Capstone Course (3 credit hours)

Note: Six credit hours of electives must be taken from Cluster A, B, or C with the following restrictions: no more than 6 credit hours from one cluster, no more than 3 credit hours from one discipline, and no more than 6 credit hours devoted to the study of one country may count towards the 18-hour minor. In order to complete this minor, students will take HIST 101 and 102 (or HONS 120 and 130) or their equivalents and a European language.

Note: Each semester, departments offer relevant special topics courses. When appropriate, special topics courses will count towards the minor. Students should consult with the director of the program to determine if a special topics course may count towards the minor. Students may also need to fulfill prerequisites before they take certain upper-level courses in some departments.

Godwin Okebaram Uwah, Director

This is a cross-disciplinary minor available to students in any discipline. The minor is of particular interest to business majors unable to take the full range of language courses for a double major, and to language majors trying to gain an insight into basic business and business culture without taking full range of courses in business. The minor has special appeal to students in programs such as communication, political science, art history, etc., seeking an understanding of business language and culture to widen the field of application for their majors. Students whose major is one of the modern languages may apply six credit hours of their major to this minor, and must take an additional 18 credit hours in business administration, economics, or accounting. Similarly, students whose major is in the School of Business and Economics may apply six credit hours in the major to this minor, and must take an additional 18 credit hours in a modern language. Linguistics
843-953-8066
Elizabeth Martinez, Director

Linguistics is an interdisciplinary minor designed to examine the importance of language in all aspects of life and to contribute to the students’ expansion of the understanding of the global community. Linguistics is the study of language in its many different disciplines and environments. It is no longer simply a study of the theoretical issues of pronunciation and grammar, but it is also a study of how we acquire language, the learning process, societal effects, the evolution of language, the behavioral patterns involved, the importance of language in the computer age, and the biological aspects of language. The idea of this minor is to bring together all of these disciplanes with one common theme, language. Through this field of study it is the intent that students will realize the importance of language in all fields of study and will be able to apply their knowledge in their careers and everyday life to communicate and understand the world as a whole.

Requirements
Students will take the following sequence of courses for a total of eighteen credits:

Introduction to Language and Linguistics (3 credits)

Two courses from any of the following (6 credits):
- ANTH 205 Language and Culture
- COMM 210 Introduction to Communication Theory
- COMM 220 Interpersonal Communication
- COMM 221 Intercultural Communication
- COMM 380 Studies in Communication (when appropriate to the area of language and linguistics)

- PSYC 378 Psychology of Language
- SPAN 448 Spanish Sociolinguistics
- SPAN 590 Spanish Linguistics – Special Topic (when appropriate to the area of sociolinguistics)

Note: Any new courses, additional courses, or special topics in the area of socio- or psycholinguistics will be considered on an individual basis.

One course from the following (3 credits):
- ENGL 307 Introduction to Old English
- ENGL 312 History of the English Language
- FREN 480 History of the French Language
- SPAN 446 History of the Spanish Language
- SPAN 447 Spanish Dialectology

Note: Any new courses or special topic courses related to the history or evolution of language will be considered on an individual basis.

One elective from any of the above areas or an independent study based on the approval of the director of the minor program, the department chair, and the faculty member involved (3 credits).

 LING 290 is a Special Topics course, which can be used to introduce a linguistic course of interest.

This program will benefit the following programs:
- SNAP program, by providing additional alternative courses for language.
- The Bilingual Legal Interpreting Program, providing College of Charleston undergraduates a strong linguistic background to enter this master’s program.
- The School of Education, in the area of ESL and Special Education.

Neuroscience

843-953-5504 or 843-953-5590
www.cofc.edu/neuroscience/

Elizabeth Meyer-Bernstein (biology) and Mark Hurd (psychology),
Co-directors

The neuroscience minor is designed to provide students with a full-spectrum approach to understanding how the brain and nervous system work in the expression of behavior. The field of neuroscience is a hybrid that integrates biology with psychology while drawing from other academic areas. This program fulfills the interdisciplinary nature of the field of neuroscience by allowing students to take neuro-sience-related courses in the sciences, social sciences, and humanities in addition to core courses offered by the Departments of Biology and Psychology.
In order to adequately prepare students for future careers in neuroscience-related fields, students are required to complete two semesters of independent research on a neuroscience-related topic.

Requirements: 27–29 hours

All of the following core courses: 15 credit hours
- BIOL 351/PSYC 351 Neuroscience I
- BIOL 352/PSYC 352 Neuroscience II
- BIOL 447/PSYC 447 Seminar in Neuroscience
- BIOL 448/PSYC 448 Research in Neuroscience

Elective courses: 9–11 hours

Two of the following electives
(plus prerequisites): 6–8 hours*

Biology
- BIOL 212 Genetics
- BIOL 312 Molecular Biology
- BIOL 313 Cell Biology
- BIOL 321 General and Comparative Physiology with lab
- BIOL 322 Comparative Vertebrate Embryology
  with lab
- BIOL 343 Animal Behavior, with lab

Psychology
- PSYC 215 Cognitive Psychology
- PSYC 313 Sensation and Perception
- PSYC 317 Motivation
- PSYC 318 Comparative Psychology
- PSYC 336 States of Consciousness
- PSYC 384 Eating and Drinking neuroscience electives: 3 hours

- PSYC 386 Psychopharmacology
- PSYC 387 Clinical Neuropsychology
- PSYC 410 Behavioral Genetics
- BIOL 446/PSYC 446 Special Topics in Neuroscience

*The two electives must be taken outside the declared major in order to fulfill the interdisciplinary nature of the minor. At least one of these electives must be offered by the Department of Biology or Department of Psychology.

NOTE: Only one course from the minor can be applied towards the student’s major.

Russian Studies

Women’s and Gender Studies

843-953-2280
www.cofc.edu/wgs

Alison Piepmeier, Director

Women’s and gender studies courses serve both female and male students by enabling them to become more aware of gender roles and relations, women’s cultural contributions, the social, historical, political, and economic status of women, the intersection of race, class, and gender issues, and theoretical concerns about the relation of gender to knowledge. Women’s and gender studies courses are offered in both the social sciences and the humanities and may be used to satisfy the College’s general education requirements in these areas.

Requirements: 18 hours

At least nine hours in the minor at the 200 level or above must be earned at the College of Charleston.

WMST 200 Introduction to Women’s and Gender Studies

NOTE: WMST 200 should be taken early in the minor, preferably as one of the first three courses. This course can satisfy a humanities degree requirement.

Five courses from the following:

- ANTH 346 Anthropology of Gender
- CLAS 242 Images of Women in Classical Antiquity
- COMM 370 Gender and Communication
- ENGL 336 Women Writers
- ENGL 353 African Women Writers
- FREN 474 French Women Writers
- HEAL 217 Human Sexuality
- HEAL 317 Sexual Behavior and Relationships
- HEAL 325 Women’s Health Issues
- HIST 221 Women in the United States
- HIST 252 Women in Europe
- PHIL 165 Philosophy and Feminism
- PHIL 275 Feminist Theory
- POLS 330 Comparative Gender Politics
- POLS 352 Gender, Theory, and Law: Sexual Harassment
- RELS 265 Women and Religion
- SOCY 103 Sociology of the Family
- SOCY 337 Prejudice
- SOCY 354 Gender and Society
- WMST 300 Special Topics
- WMST 381 Internship
- WMST 400 Independent Study

NOTE: No more than two courses may be taken in any single department except those courses designated as WMST.

Certain special topics courses from the various departments may also be counted towards the minor requirements. Please consult the instructor or the director of the Women’s and Gender Studies Program.

Accounting

Please see "notes" in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.

ACCT 203 Financial Accounting (3)
A survey of accounting information essential for external parties to make business decisions about an organization.
Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

ACCT 204 Managerial Accounting (3)
A survey of accounting information critical for planning, control, and business decision-making within an organization.
Prerequisites: ACCT 203; sophomore standing.

ACCT 307 Accounting Information Systems (3)
This course covers the concepts and techniques of the design, control, implementation, and auditing of accounting information systems, with an emphasis on internal controls and reporting. In addition, new information technology (IT) and its application to accounting and auditing will also be introduced.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203.

ACCT 308 Cost Accounting (3)
Cost concepts and techniques used by manufacturing and service organizations in accumulating cost data for product costing purposes with emphasis on job-order and process cost systems, standard cost systems, and the problem of cost allocation. Also covered are the planning tools of budgeting and cost-volume-profit analysis.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203.

ACCT 316 Intermediate Accounting I (3)
Accounting principles for income, investments, asset valuation, financial statement presentation as related to current assets, current liabilities, and non-current assets.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204.

ACCT 317 Intermediate Accounting II (3)
Income measurement, valuation, statement presentation, and terminology problems as related to liabilities and stockholders equity changes in capital, pensions, leases, income taxes, accounting changes and error analysis, cash versus accrual, incomplete data problems, and related contemporary financial accounting issues.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, 316.

African American Studies

AAST 200 Introduction to African American Studies (3)
This course is an interdisciplinary approach to the African American experience in the United States. Using a model developed by African American studies pioneer Maulana Ron Karenga that focuses on history, religion, politics, economics, sociology, psychology, and the creative arts as the essential topics in the study of the African American experience, this course provides students an understanding of the African American perspective in these areas. Primary sources by African American writers and scholars are also used to support this perspective and introduce students to the latest literature and research on the African American experience.
ACCT 336 Governmental and Not-For-Profit Accounting (3)
The accounting principles used by state and local governmental units and financial and tax accounting issues facing not-for-profit organizations such as hospitals, colleges, and voluntary health and welfare organizations are examined.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204.

ACCT 341 Federal Taxation I (3)
A study of federal income taxation as applied to individuals and sole proprietorships.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204.

ACCT 342 Federal Taxation II (3)
A study of federal taxation as applied to partnerships, corporations, trusts, and exploration of federal gift and estate taxes.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204.

ACCT 360 Special Topics in Accounting
(1–3)
An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of accounting.
Prerequisite: Junior standing, other prerequisites as required.

ACCT 409 Auditing Theory (3)
Role of independent auditors, their legal responsibilities, professional ethics, auditing standards, internal control, statistical sampling, basic auditing techniques, and limited consideration of the role of the internal auditor are examined.
Prerequisites: Senior standing; ACCT 203, 204, 316;
ACCT 317. ACCT 317 co-requisite by permission of the instructor.

ACCT 431 Advanced and Not-for-Profit
Accounting (3)
This course is designed to provide an exposure to the accounting for consolidations, foreign currency translations, partnerships, and not-for-profit entities.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, 316;
ACCT 317. ACCT 317 co-requisite by permission of the instructor.

Anthropology

ANTH 101 Introduction to Anthropology
(3)
An introduction to the study of humankind, including archaeology, ethnology, linguistics, and biological anthropology.

ANTH 201 Comparative Social Organization (3)
A comparative review of the principles used in social organization among various peoples of the world. Non-Western societies and their transformations through contact with the West will be examined.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 202 Introduction to Archaeology
(3)
An introduction to basic theory and methods in the archaeological recovery and interpretation of past cultural remains.

ANTH 203 Introduction to Biological
Anthropology (4)
An introduction to the study of human evolution including a survey of human variation, our relationship to other primates, and the interaction of biology and culture. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

ANTH 205 Language and Culture (3)
A study of language in its social and cultural context.
Relationships between language and the transmission of meaning, world view, and social identity will be examined.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 210 History of Anthropological Theory (3)
A survey of major theories anthropologists use to explain human social and cultural behavior.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 300 Archaeological Lab Methods
(1)
An introduction to basic archaeological lab methods, techniques, and goals. Instruction will be provided in artifact processing and identification, quantitative and qualitative analysis, map construction and interpretation, and artifact conservation. Students will be exposed to both prehistoric and historic period material culture.
Prerequisite: ANTH 202 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 302 Archaeology of North America
(3)
A survey of what is known archaeologically of the diverse prehistoric societies of North America from first settlement before 12,000 B.C. up to European contact and beyond.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 303 Paleolithic Archaeology (3)
This course entails a survey of human cultural evolution from its earliest beginnings until the end of the Pleistocene Ice Ages (2.5 mya — 10,000 years ago).
The basis for the course is a culture history for Pleistocene archaeological materials in two principal regions: Africa and Europe. In addition to a culture history, processual issues such as the origins of culture, the evolution of social behavior, and changing human land use patterns will be discussed in some detail.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 304 Rise of Complex Civilization
(3)
Using the archaeological record, Rise of Complex Civilization surveys human cultural evolution leading up to the rise of complex society after the Pleistocene (10,000–3,000 BP). The basis of the course is a culture history for early/pre-farming cultures in the Near East and Europe. In addition to a culture history, processual issues such as the nature of post-Pleistocene human adaptations, the origins of food production, the spread of agriculture, the rise of stratified societies, and the devel-OPment of complex political organizations will be con-Sidered in detail.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 305 Prehistoric Ritual and Art (3)
This course examines prehistoric forms of ritual and art, their interpretation, and their evolutionary and behavioral significance within an archaeological framework.
Students are introduced to prehistoric ritual and art throughout the Old and New Worlds — their form, content, and chronological evolution. This course reviews and assesses competing interpretive frameworks, with emphasis on understanding the social and ideological context within which prehistoric ritual and art were produced and comprehended.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or a 100-level ARTH course or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 314 Anthropological Perspective on Time (3)
An examination of the various conceptions of time to be found in different cultures. Particular attention will be paid to the way different cultural conceptions of time are related to ecology, subsistence, and social organization.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 316 Ecological Anthropology (3)
A study of the relationship between cultures and their physical/ecological environments.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

African Studies

AFST 101 Introduction to African Civilization (3)
An interdisciplinary survey of the history, geography, literature, culture, politics, and economics of the peoples and nations of the continent of Africa.

AFST 202 Special Topics in African Studies (3)

American Studies

AMST 200 Introduction to American
Studies (3)
An integrated and interdisciplinary study which relates a broad range of American cultural forms — arts, litera-ANTH 318 Theories for the Origin of Agriculture (3)
An examination of the development of agriculture from hunting and gathering to food production and its association with the development of "civilization." Theories for the origin of agriculture with particular attention to demographic arguments and coevolutionary perspectives will be studied.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 319 Special Topics in Anthropology (1–4)
Occasional courses offered on subjects of interest to students and faculty that are not included in the regular course offerings.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 320 Peoples and Cultures of North America (3)
A survey of the pre- and post-contact history of Native American peoples in the major cultural areas of North America.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 321 Peoples and Cultures of Africa (3)
A review of the major socio-cultural developments in prehistoric and historic Africa.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 322 Peoples and Cultures of Africa (3)
A review of the major socio-cultural developments in prehistoric and historic Africa.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 323 African American Society and Culture (3)
A survey of African American society and culture beginning with the African homeland and ending with an exploration of contemporary issues facing New World African communities. Credit cannot be received for both ANTH 323 and SOCY 363.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 324 Peoples and Cultures of Latin America (3)
A review of major socio-cultural developments in Latin America, past and present. Emphasis will be placed on Mesoamerica.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 325 Peoples and Cultures of Latin America (3)
A survey of major socio-cultural developments in Latin America, past and present. Emphasis will be placed on modern peasant societies.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 326 Peoples and Cultures of Europe (3)
A survey of major socio-cultural developments in historic and modern Europe. Emphasis will be placed on modern peasant societies.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 327 Peoples and Cultures of the Caribbean (3)
An examination of the history of the people of the Caribbean and the development of their diverse cultural traditions.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 328 Aztecs, Maya, and Their Ancestors (3)
This course is a multi-disciplinary approach to the study of Mesoamerica (Mexico and Central America) up to, and including, the arrival of the Spaniards in 1519. Although beginning with the peopling of this hemisphere, the emphasis is on the advanced civilizations of the Olmec, Totonacanos, Zapotec, Mixtec, Maya, and Aztec. When team-taught, the course will be cross-listed as HIST 266.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 329 Special Topics: Geographic Areas (3)
A survey of the major socio-cultural developments of a particular geographic area from a prehistoric, historic, and modern view.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 330 Human Evolution (3)
A review of the evidence for human evolution from non-human primate ancestors to the end of the Paleolithic. Emphasis will be placed on the fossil and archaeological evidence for human biocultural evolution over the past two million years and the methods used to test evolutionary hypotheses about our origins.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or BIOL 102 or GEOL 105 or ANTH 203 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 331 Human Variation and Adaptation (3)
A study of human biological variation and adaptation. Topics include human polymorphisms, quantitative traits, growth and development of the human organism, and human population genetics. Special emphasis will be on human adaptation and evolution as explanatory principles in understanding human variation and a historical critical analysis of the concept of race as an organizing principle for classification of human beings.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or BIOL 102 or ANTH 203 or GEOL 105 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 333 Primate Behavior and Evolution (3)
A survey of the behavior and ecology of the Order Primates, with special emphasis on the evolution and adaptive value of behavior. Another major theme is a critical perspective on the use of nonhuman primates as models for human biology and behavior with an attempt to place such studies in an appropriate context.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or BIOL 102 or PSYC 103 or ANTH 203 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 334 Human Evolution (3)
This course is the cross-cultural comparative study of urban life through time and space.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or WMST 200 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 340 Medical Anthropology (3)
This course examines human behavioral diversity from an evolutionary perspective including topics such as human behavioral ecology, parental investment, paternal certainty, menopause, senescence, health and illness, and religion.
Prerequisites: ANTH 101 or 203 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 345 Applied Anthropology (3)
This course is concerned with the origin, development, and evolution of cities as well as with the description and comparison of urban life and culture. The primary goal of this course is the cross-cultural comparative study of urban life through time and space.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 346 Anthropology of Gender (3)
An examination of male and female gender roles in society from a cross-cultural perspective.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 351 Urban Anthropology (3)
This course assesses how anthropologists use folklore to theorize about the complexities of human experience. Classic debates, theoretical approaches, and strategies of interpreting folklore are examined. Irish cultural forms such as religious beliefs and practices, verbal art, material culture, and music are explored.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 352 Folklore or Ireland and the British Isles (3)
This course is concerned with the constitution of political authority in different societies, with special reference to the nature of power, the role of symbolism and ideology in politics, and images of the state. This course is the cross-cultural study of health, illness, and healing. Topics discussed in this course include the organization of political culture, and music are explored.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 355 Applied Anthropology (3)
This course assesses how anthropologists use folklore to theorize about the complexities of human experience. Classic debates, theoretical approaches, and strategies of interpreting folklore are examined. Irish cultural forms such as religious beliefs and practices, verbal art, material culture, and music are explored.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 356 Anthropological Perspectives on Religion (3)
This course is concerned with the origin, development, and evolution of cities as well as with the description and comparison of urban life and culture. The primary goal of this course is the cross-cultural comparative study of urban life through time and space.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 357 Political Anthropology (3)
This course is concerned with the origin, development, and evolution of cities as well as with the description and comparison of urban life and culture. The primary goal of this course is the cross-cultural comparative study of urban life through time and space.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 362 Social and Cultural Change (3)
A comparative perspective on religion as a system of spiritual beliefs and practices found in all cultures. Particular attention will be given to the way in which a culture's religion is related to its environment, subsistence activities, and social organization. Theories on the origin and nature of religion will be discussed.
Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.
world system, and globalization. This course draws upon ethnographic examples and case studies from all over the world.

Prerequisite: ANTH 101 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 381 Internship (1–6)
An opportunity for students to have a supervised field placement in areas related to the field of anthropology such as museums, marine archaeology, and urban archaeology.

Prerequisites: Junior standing, GPA of 3.0 in anthropology, an overall GPA of 2.5, a major or minor in anthropology, and permission of the instructor. Course prerequisites may vary depending on the nature of the placement.

ANTH 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).

Prerequisites: Junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

ANTH 490 Independent Study (1–3)
Individually supervised readings and study of some anthropological work, problem, or topic of the student’s interest.

Prerequisites: Junior standing, GPA of 3.0 in anthropology, an overall GPA of 2.5, a major or minor in anthropology, and permission of the instructor.

ANTH 491 Research Methods (3)
This course reviews a variety of ways in which anthropological research is conducted.

Prerequisites: ANTH 101 and any 200-level course or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 492 Seminar in Anthropology (1–3)
An overview of various theoretical areas of anthropology with stress on student research and methodology.

Prerequisites: ANTH 101 and any 200-level course or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 493 Field School in Archaeology (8)
A comprehensive archaeological field school which meets Society of Professional Archaeologists’ standards. Students will participate in ongoing research conducted by The Charleston Museum and will receive systematic in-depth training in all phases of basic archaeological field research including surface survey, excavation, map construction, photography, data interpretation, and artifact processing and analysis. Continuous eight-hour day participation from first day of Maymester through the last day of the Summer I is required for the eight hours credit.

Prerequisite: ANTH 202 or permission of the instructor.

ANTH 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

Arabic

NOTE: For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher-level course prohibits a student from taking a lower-level course in the same language for credit.

ARTH 101 Elementary Arabic (3, 3)
ARTH 102
Introduces the fundamental structures of Arabic, with emphasis on acquisition of basic language skills: reading and listening comprehension, oral and written expression.

Prerequisite: ARBC 101 open only to beginning students of Arabic; placement or ARBC 101 is a prerequisite for 102.

ARTH 201 Intermediate Arabic (3, 3)

ARTH 202
Develops a basic proficiency in Arabic and familiarity with Arabic culture through practice in the use of basic language skills and acquisition of vocabulary.

Prerequisite: Placement, ARTH 101, 102 for 201; placement or ARTH 201 for 202.

LTAR 250 Arabic Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works, representing major literary periods and genres, which illuminate Arabic culture.

ARTH 290 Special Topics in Arabic (3)

ARTH 313 Conversation and Composition (3, 3)

ARTH 314
Intensive practice in the written and spoken language. Assigned readings and compositions. The course will be conducted primarily in Arabic.

ARTH 330 Collateral Study (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading Arabic in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collateral study course may be repeated up to maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

LTAR 350 Arabic Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works by an Arabic author whose influence is felt in the world at large.

ARTH 390 Special Topics in Arabic (3)

Art History

ARTH 101 History of Art: Prehistoric through Medieval (3)
A combined visual and historical survey of Western art from prehistoric through medieval times. The techniques, forms, and expressive content of painting, sculpture, and architecture will be studied within the context of the cultural environment in which they were produced.

ARTH 102 History of Art: Renaissance Through Modern (3)
A combined visual and historical survey of Western art from Renaissance through Modern times. The techniques, forms, and expressive content of painting, sculpture, and architecture will be studied within the context of the cultural environment in which they were produced.

ARTH 103 History of Asian Art (3)
An introduction to the visual arts of Asia, with an emphasis on India, China, and Japan. The techniques, forms, and expressive content of architecture, sculpture, and painting will be studied within the context of the cultural environment in which they were produced.

ARTH 104 Themes in the History of Art (3)
A thematic introduction to the visual arts from the earliest civilizations to the contemporary period. The form and content of painting, sculpture, and architecture will be studied through a series of themes and purposes, superseding the usual historical and chronological framework of the traditional art history survey.

ARTH 105 Introduction to Architecture (3)
A survey of the history of Western architecture from Ancient Mesopotamia to the 21st century that will analyze architecture in terms of function, structure, form, and cultural and historical context.

ARTH 190 Special Topics in Art History (3)
Special topics at the introductory level of art history.

ARTH 205 Pre-Columbian Art and Culture (3)
Study of the artistic culture of the Americas from its origin until the 16th-century encounter of indigenous pre-Columbian peoples with Europeans. Concentration will be focused upon Mesoamerican civilizations (including the Olmec, Teotihuacanos, Zapotecs, Maya, Toltecs, and Aztecs) and upon Andean civilizations (including Chavin, Moche, and Inca). The course will survey the development and evolution of artistic forms, technique, and iconography in the “New World” and emphasize the cultural, religious, and political context in which works of art and architecture were produced.

ARTH 210 African Art (3)
A review of African art, emphasizing traditional sub-Saharan sculptural forms, their aesthetic characteristics, and cultural context. Briefer references will be made to other major traditions (possibilities include Egypt, Ethiopia, the Maghreb, Madagascar, Islamic traditions, prehistoric art).

ARTH 220 History of Greek and Roman Art (3)
A study of Greek art from the Minoan civilization through the Hellenistic period, and of Roman art from the Republic through the Empire.
ARTh 225 Medieval Art (3)
A study of medieval art from the 3rd to the 15th century including Early Christian and Byzantine art, Early Medieval, Romanesque, and Gothic art. Topics will include the development of religious architecture, monumental sculpture, small-scale sculpture in precious materials, mosaics, painting, and manuscript illumination.

ARTh 241 History of the Art of India (3)
A study of the architecture, sculpture, and painting of South Asia from the Indus Valley Civilization to the 20th century, with emphasis on historical, social, and religious context. Topics include the prehistoric era, early Buddhist architecture and sculpture, Hindu temples and related arts, rock-cut architecture, and painting traditions of the Islamic and Rajput courts and the colonial and contemporary eras.

ARTh 242 History of the Art of China (3)
A study of the arts of China from the Neolithic period through early modern times, with emphasis on historical, social, and religious context. Topics include Neolithic pottery traditions, funerary art of the Shang through Han dynasties, the Buddhist art of China, and Chinese painting and ceramics.

ARTh 243 History of the Art of Japan (3)
A study of the arts of Japan through early modern times, with emphasis on historical, social, and religious context. Topics include ceramic and architectural traditions of prehistoric Japan, Buddhist architecture, sculpture, and painting; development of the “Japanese Style,” Zen art, and the popular art of woodblock prints in pre-modern Japan.

ARTh 250 American Art (3)
A survey of American architecture, sculpture, and painting from colonial times to the present, with an emphasis on the relationships of American art to European art, and of American artists to their public.

ARTh 255 Latin American Colonial Art (3)
Examination of the architecture, sculpture, painting, and minor arts in both the Spanish and Portuguese American colonies from the 16th century until 19th-century independence.

ARTh 260 Addlestone Seminar on the Arts and Culture of the Lowcountry (3)
Topics related to Lowcountry arts and culture may include Charleston architecture, historic preservation planning, garden and landscape architecture, etc. Maymester.

ARTh 265 The City as a Work of Art (3)
This course examines the characteristic elements of historical urban form, explaining their presence and meaning, and looking at the ways in which they were modified over time and space. Not a course in urban history, this is, rather, a study of the history of urbanism, dealing with the physical forms of the urban environment, primarily in Europe and the New World.

ARTh 275 The History of Land Design (3)
This course deals with the history of landscape architecture, including urban spaces such as city parks, urban plazas, and both formal and vernacular non-urban landscapes. The course will explore the designs and wider meanings of both Western and non-Western landscapes through human history. Cross-listed with HPCP 275.

ARTh 277 Renaissance Art (3)
A study of European art from the 13th through the 16th century, concentrating on the concept of the Renaissance. The works will include painting, sculpture, and architecture. Analysis of visual styles and historical context will be emphasized.

ARTh 280 History of Baroque Art (3)
Study of the diverse stylistic developments of 17th-century European painting and sculpture. Concentration will be on the major masters of the period, including Caravaggio, Bernini, Rubens, Poussin, Velázquez, Rembrandt, and Vermeer.

ARTh 285 Modern Art (3)
An exploration of modern art in Europe from approximately 1850 to 1940, the classic period of modernism. The course will focus on the works of art, artists, and critical terms that are central to understanding modern art — including the importance of formal style, viewer interpretation, and the innovation and development of abstraction.

ARTh 290 Selected Topics in Art History (3)
Special topics of broad geographical or chronological areas of art history such as African art, art of the ‘60s, and various travel abroad courses. May be repeated for credit with differing topics.

ARTh 293 Introduction to Film Art (3)
This course combines film studies with practical aspects of film/video production. Students will view, discuss, and write critical essays on the works of major filmmakers, and may elect to work on creative projects of directing and acting for the camera.

ARTh 299 Research and Methods in Art History (3)
A seminar required for art history majors as an overview of the major methodologies in the history of art, emphasizing critical reading and writing (to be taken in either sophomore or junior year).
Prerequisites: Six hours of art history or permission of the instructor.

ARTh 301 Studies in Ancient and Medieval Art (3)
Studies of specialized topics in art and architectural history in the field of Ancient and Medieval art (such as “Roman Art and Imperial Ritual,” “Royal Glory and the Idea of Iran,” “Medieval Art in Britain and Ireland,” or “Medieval Art and Pilgrimage”). Topics may include chronological, geographical, or thematic studies within the field.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTh 299.

ARTh 303 Studies in Renaissance and Baroque Art (3)
Studies of specialized topics in art and architectural history in the field of Renaissance and Baroque arts (such as “Venetian Painting,” “Northern Baroque,” “Romantic Baroque Painting,” or “Caravaggio and His Followers”). Topics may include chronological, geographical, or thematic studies within the field.
Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTh 299.

ARTh 306 Studies in Modern, Contemporary, and Film Arts (3)
Studies of specialized topics in art and architectural history in the field of modern, contemporary, and film arts (such as “Matisse and Picasso,” “New Media in Contemporary Art,” “Gender Issues in Contemporary Art,” or “Films of the 50s”). Topics may include chronological, geographical, or thematic studies within the field.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTh 299.

ARTh 308 Studies in Asian Art (3)
Studies of specialized topics in art and architectural history in the field of Asian art (such as “Ramayana Themes in South Asian Art,” “Studies in Japanese Woodblock Prints of the Edo Period,” “Modern and Contemporary Art in South Asia”). Topics may include chronological, geographical, or thematic studies within the field.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTh 299.

ARTh 321 Hindu Myth and Image (3)
This course selectively examines monuments of the Hindu religious tradition in South and Southeast Asia, beginning with the earliest works of Kushana-era India. Works examined included examples of sculpture, architecture, and painting, with a particular emphasis on the relationship between form, symbol, and interpretation.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTh 299.

ARTh 322 Indian Painting (3)
This course introduces students to the broad range of painting in South Asia, from the surviving remains of early mural painting in rock-cut temples to the “miniature paintings” of Mughal, Rajput, and Pahari manuscripts of North India, the Colonial period, and the 20th century.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTh 299.

ARTh 333 Traditional Design and Preservation in Charleston (3)
This course will introduce students to the many facets of architectural design in traditional modes, and to the use of the design process to foster deeper understanding and appreciation for the historic buildings in Charleston and elsewhere. The course will be taught in a studio format like that used in architecture schools. Student research, design, and presentations will form a significant portion of the course, as will site visits. Lectures will address issues relevant to traditional design, including proportions, ornament nomenclature, architectural theory, and a survey of design precedents. Projects will include wash and charcoal rendering.

ARTH 335 History of American Architecture (3)
A history of architecture in North America. Though beginning with a brief examination of pre-Columbian building and including Canadian examples where useful, the course will focus primarily on American architecture from the period of European settlement to the present.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299 or HPCP 199.

ARTH 338 American Vernacular Architecture and Material Culture (3)
This course explores diverse examples of common architecture and material culture in America from earliest settlements up to the present day. The course will investigate the cultural roots of architectural forms and traditions and will also address such topics as cultural landscapes, the development of building technologies, folklore and folklife, and the relationship of the built environment to the natural environment over time.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299 or HPCP 199.

ARTH 339 Historic American Interiors (3)
A survey of architectural elements and furnishings within American domestic interiors, 1607–1950. Lectures focus on specific periods including historical reviews, analysis of characteristic features of houses’ composition, plans and interior elements (doors, windows, walls, woodwork, floors, ceilings, staircases, and fireplaces), and the stylistic evolution of furniture relating to the periods.

ARTH 340 Selected Topics in Art History (3)
Studies of specialized topics in art and architectural history.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 350 History of Early Christian and Byzantine Art (3)
Christian art from the late Roman Empire through the development of the Byzantine style and its influence in Western Europe; a study of the major surviving architectural monuments and mosaics in centers such as Rome, Constantinople, Ravenna, Venice, and Sicily, as well as manuscript painting and minor arts.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 355 History of Early Medieval and Romanesque Art (3)
A study of architecture, sculpture, painting, and minor arts in Western Europe from the 5th through the 12th centuries, including Insular, Carolingian, Ottonian, and Romanesque art.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 360 History of Gothic Art (3)
A study of Gothic architecture, sculpture, painting, and minor arts in Western Europe from the 12th through the 15th centuries. Concentration will be on the major architectural monuments and their decoration.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 362 History of Medieval Manuscript Illumination (3)
A study of the development of manuscript illumination from the 5th century until the replacement of manuscripts by printed books in the 15th century, with an emphasis on the role and function of manuscripts, as well as their decoration.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 365 History of Northern Renaissance Painting (3)
Study of the development of painting in Northern Europe during the 15th and 16th centuries. Artists to be discussed include Jan van Eyck, Roger van der Weyden, Hieronymus Bosch, Albrecht Dürer, and Peter Brueghel.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 370 History of Italian Early Renaissance Art (3)
Study of the painting and sculpture produced in Italy during the 14th and 15th centuries. Concentration on major masters such as Giotto, Masaccio, Donatello, Fra Angelico, Piero della Francesca, Castagno, and Botticelli.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 375 History of Italian High and Late Renaissance Art (3)
Study of the painting, sculpture, and architecture produced in the 16th-century Italy. The course will focus upon High Renaissance masters Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, and Raphael and the major practitioners of 16th-century Mannerism.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 381 Spanish Baroque Painting and Sculpture (3)
A detailed study of the major artistic currents and artists active in Spain during the late 16th through 17th centuries (the Golden Age) with emphasis on the historic, social, and religious context of the period. Among the artists to be discussed are El Greco, Ribalta, Ribera, Zurbarán, Martínez, Montañés, Velázquez, and Murillo.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 385 History of European Painting, 1700–1850 (3)
Study of the major artistic movements in European painting from 1700 to 1850: the Rococo; the development of Neoclassicism and Romanticism.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 389 19th-Century European Art (3)
This course will consider the major artistic movements and stylistic developments of 19th-century European modernism from 1850 to 1900. Concentration will be on major movements including Realism, Impressionism, and Post-Impressionism and artists such as Courbet, Manet, Monet, Van Gogh, and Cézanne.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 390 20th-Century European Art (3)
This course will consider the major artistic movements and stylistic developments of 20th-century European modernism from 1900 to 1945. Concentration will be on major movements including Expressionism, Cubism, Dada, and Surrealism and artists such as Matisse, Picasso, Kandinsky, and Duchamp.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 391 Contemporary Art (3)
This course examines the art of the contemporary period (from 1945 to present), both American and international, including painting, sculpture, installation, video, performance, and body art. In addition to discussion of major artists, movements, and issues, the theoretical and critical reception of contemporary art will also be explored.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 392 The Camera and Visual Perception (3)
A study of photography as a visual art form; its interaction with the other arts, especially painting; the evolution of cinematography and the effects of these art forms on the history of modern art.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 394 History of 18th- and 19th-Century Architecture (3)
Beginning with the new awareness of the past that arose in mid-18th century in Europe, this course will trace the development of Western architecture through the 1893 Columbian Exposition in Chicago. Traditional style and technological innovation will be given equal weight.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.

ARTH 395 History of 20th-Century Architecture (3)
A study of modern architecture from 1885 to the present concentrating on the American contributions of Sullivan and Wright, the European modernists, Gropius, Mies van der Rohe, Le Corbusier, and post–World War II developments.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor or six (6) hours of art history or ARTH 299.
ARTH 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings.
Prerequisite: Open only to students enrolled in the Honors College. Junior standing, plus permission of the tutor, tutorial committee, and the department chair.

ARTH 410 Internship (1–6)
Internships are intended to provide the opportunity for the student to apply knowledge and skills learned during a normal course of study to actual situations encountered in work with area arts or preservation organizations. Interested students should contact the faculty internship director for specific placement opportunities and application information. Junior and senior students with major GPAs of 3.0 or better are eligible.

ARTH 415 Advanced Seminar in Art and Architectural History (3)
An advanced seminar in a specific area of art history requiring a research paper and oral presentations by the student. Successful completion of this course is a requirement for completion of the major in art history. Topics will vary depending on the member of the art history faculty directing the seminar.
Prerequisite: ARTH 299, senior standing, or permission of the instructor.

ARTH 490 Independent Study in Art History (3)
A qualified student who has taken appropriate preparatory courses in one area or problem of art and/or architectural history determines a project to research and write about in consultation with and under the supervision of a departmental member qualified to guide the work. The student will be expected to produce a thorough research paper and to make a public presentation at the end of the semester enrolled.
Prerequisite: Student must be a junior or senior art history major with an overall GPA of at least 3.00 and an art history GPA of at least 3.3.

Arts Management

ARTM 200 Introduction to Arts Management (3)
This course covers the basic principles, concepts, processes, and practices relating to organizations in the arts industry including structure of the arts industry and specifically nonprofits, organization structures, planning, leadership, staffing, financial management, economic impact, fundraising, advocacy, and marketing development.

ARTM 210 Introduction to Music Management (3)
This course is particularly valuable for students with career interests in the music business. It provides an overview of the music industry; development of the artist-manager relationship; development of an artist’s career plan/image; negotiating contracts; booking; promotion; recording demos; music distribution; new technologies; sound/light enhancements.

ARTM 240 Gallery Fundamentals (3)
This is a course to survey the purposes, procedures, and functions of art museums and galleries. It provides an introduction to such tasks as exhibition design and the installation, care, handling, identification, and research of art objects. Students will participate directly in mounting and maintaining exhibitions in the Halsey Gallery.
Prerequisite: ARTH 102 or ARTS 118 or permission of the instructor.

ARTM 310 Advanced Arts Management (3)
Students in this course apply the principles, concepts, processes, and practices learned in the introductory course to the creation and management of various types of nonprofit arts organizations including such aspects as planning, evaluation, programming, special events, financial planning, marketing, fundraising, and proposal writing.
Prerequisite: ARTM 200 or permission of the instructor.

ARTM 325 Understanding Creativity (3)
This course will explore the anatomy of the creative process by observation and participation in the visual, performing, media, and literary arts. The importance of intuition, thinking skills, risk taking, problem solving, and collaboration will be stressed.

ARTM 340 Arts Financial Management (3)
A study of the financial aspects of non-profit arts organizations to include budgeting, earned and unearned income, fund management, accounting systems, financial statements, bookkeeping systems, cash management, reporting requirements, cost-benefit analysis, and financial decision-making.
Prerequisites: ARTM 200 and ACCT 203 or permission of the instructor.

ARTM 360 Special Topics (3)
Special topics courses such as Theatre and Performance Management, Arts Education, and Grants Writing and Fundraising are offered periodically to supplement program electives. Please check each semester’s list of arts management special topics courses.

ARTM 362 Events Management (3)
Focuses on the cultural origins and significance of celebration within society; an introduction to management of special events and festivals from initial planning through delivery; questions of event feasibility; costing and financial management; assessing and meeting communication objectives; merchandising and marketing; staffing and task analysis; safety and security; debriefing and evaluation.
Prerequisite: Junior standing; ACCT 203; HTMT 210 or ARTM 200; or permission of the instructor.

ARTM 370 Building Participation in the Arts (3)
Class will assess current and potential audiences and demographics, motivations, examine lifestyles and leisure time habits, national and international trends and social values, and participate in different types of arts experiences. Students will analyze and develop market research and learn practices to increase cultural participation and develop arts audiences.

ARTM 380 Independent Study (1–3)
A study, reading, or research project concerning subject matter not available in other college courses.
Prerequisite: ARTM 200, 310, junior standing, and written agreement with the student and the instructor.

ARTM 400 Internship in Arts Management (3)
Provides students an experiential learning and research opportunity with a sponsoring arts-oriented organization.
Prerequisite: ARTM 310 and either ARTM 340 or 420; junior standing and above with permission of the faculty of the arts management program.

ARTM 420 Policy in the Arts (3)
An exploration of the role of federal, state, and local government and the private sector in arts and public policy development. Policy issues include arts education, arts advocacy, freedom of artistic expression, tax policy, cultural equity, and the applications of policy decisions on organizational missions, strategic planning, ethics, boards of directors, and organizational management.
Prerequisite: ARTM 310, 340, 370, or MKTG 302 and junior standing.

Studio Art

ARTS 118 Issues and Images of Contemporary Art (3)
A studio-oriented course for beginning and advanced students that explores the fundamental concepts and content in today’s art. Through extensive individual drawing, reading, and discussion, the roots and meanings of our art are confronted in terms of the relationship between images and the techniques that generate these images, and social, economic, political, and aesthetic attitudes. Technique and methods are considered for their basic qualities and differences in painting, graphics, sculpture, and drawing.

ARTS 119 Drawing I (3)
Through the development of visual perception, students will explore a variety of objects and environments, using the fundamental elements of drawing – line, shape, form, value, texture, space, and composition – to create images and express individual ideas with a variety of graphic media and approaches. ARTS 118 may be taken concurrently with this course.

ARTS 215 Photography I (3)
This course will cover the basic technical and creative problems in black-and-white photography. By using a variety of photographic techniques, the intricacies of camera operation, basic composition, and developing and printing are introduced. At the same time, emphasis will be laid on the development of both a personal imagery and a sound technical grasp of the medium.
ARTS 216 Painting I (3)
Further study of drawing and painting techniques, with special emphasis on color and composition.
Prerequisite: ARTS 119.

ARTS 218 Printmaking I (3)
Introduction to fundamental techniques of graphic art processes, including monotype, basic relief, and intaglio printing techniques. Emphasis will be on the development of a personal imagery, as well as technical understanding of process.
Prerequisite: ARTS 119 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 220 Sculpture I (3)
Introduction to fundamental processes and materials of sculpture, including wood, metal, and plaster. Emphasis placed on exploration of materials as potentially expressive of ideas in three-dimensional form.

ARTS 315 Photography II (3)
This course extends and elaborates the groundwork covered in ARTS 215. Through a series of individual projects of increasing complexity, the student will be introduced to alternative and experimental techniques in black-and-white photography. Emphasis on the photographic process as a creative medium will be stressed throughout the course as students are encouraged to develop a personal imagery.
Prerequisite: ARTS 215.

ARTS 319 Drawing II (3)
Continuation of ARTS 119 with emphasis on the use of the human figure in space as a compositional element.
Prerequisite: ARTS 119.

ARTS 322 Painting II (3)
Continuation of ARTS 216, with greater emphasis on the expression and technique of the individual student. Large-scale paintings, additional study in the use of various painting media.
Prerequisite: ARTS 216.

ARTS 323 Printmaking II (3)
Exploration of the etching process through the use of drypoint, hard and soft ground, and aquatint techniques; emphasis placed on development of personal imagery and aesthetic goals.
Prerequisite: ARTS 218 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 324 Sculpture II (3)
A further opportunity to increase abilities in the creative processes of sculpture. A wider range of choices will be left to the individual within a still-structured environment of criticism and instruction.
Prerequisites: ARTS 119 and 220 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 325 Foundry (3)
Further exploration in sculpture with a focus on pattern making, mold making, and casting using a variety of materials.
Prerequisite: ARTS 324 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 326 Drawing III (3)
Continuation of ARTS 229.
Prerequisite: ARTS 229 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 327 Advanced Photographic Techniques (3)
This hands-on course will enable students to transform their photographic images with advanced alternative techniques. This course is a direct continuation and elaboration of ARTS 315 with an emphasis on creating a concentrated series of photographs.
Prerequisites: ARTS 215 and ARTS 315 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 328 Painting III (3)
Further development of the language skills needed to express clear visual thought. Emphasis on color and drawing and on overall composition in relation to the painter’s intention and achievement.
Prerequisite: ARTS 322.

ARTS 329 Lithography (3)
Further development of ideas into visual statements using the medium of lithography.
Prerequisite: ARTS 218 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 330 Sculpture III (3)
Intermediate study of sculpture, investigating issues of material, process, and content.
Prerequisite: ARTS 324 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 331 Painting IV (3)
Continuation of ARTS 328, which is a prerequisite.

ARTS 332 Advanced Printmaking (3)
An advanced course designed for students who have had previous technical experience with the various printmaking media. The goal of this course is to enable students to investigate personal concerns and objectives through an ambitious and concentrated body of work.
Prerequisites: ARTS 323 and/or ARTS 329 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 333 Sculpture IV (3)
Advanced studies in sculptural issues, materials, and processes.
Prerequisite: ARTS 330 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 334 Advanced Photography (3)
In this course the student will work towards producing an ambitious and concentrated body of work while simultaneously refining their technical skills in photography.
Prerequisites: ARTS 215 and ARTS 315 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 335 Selected Topics in Advanced Studio Practice (3)
Intensive studies in specialized aspects of studio practice.
Topics will vary according to faculty and student interests. Topics to be offered may include: advanced color theory; the extension and application of drawing; advanced figure studies in drawing and painting.
Prerequisite: Will vary according to topic.

ARTS 339 Drawing IV (3)
This course in advanced drawing will focus on the narrative or thematic possibilities of drawing. Style, subject, materials, and techniques will be decided upon by the student. Live models will also be used.
Prerequisite: ARTS 326 or permission of the instructor.

ARTS 430 Independent Study in Studio Art (3, repeatable)
Students who have taken an appropriate sequence of preparatory courses in studio art determine a project in consultation with a department member qualified to guide and judge the work.
Prerequisite: Students must be juniors or seniors and show demonstrated ability to carry out proposed project. An application for independent study must be submitted to the project advisor prior to the beginning of the term and must be approved by the department chair.

Asian Studies

ASST 101 Introduction to Asian Studies (3)
The course is an interdisciplinary introduction to Asia through an examination of history, geography, religion, literature, visual art, politics, and economics. The topics will range from early traditions and foundations to the 20th century, with a brief introduction to the Asian-American experience. Members of the faculty with expertise in various aspects of Asia will participate in the course.

ASST 105 Value and Tradition in Asian Civilizations (3)
The course will explore the motivating values found in the religious traditions of Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, and shamanism. Designed around major conceptual themes, such as diversity of religious experience; asceticism and monastic life; death, the afterlife, and ancestor worship; ritual and image veneration; gender and sexuality; and the effects of modernization on religions today, the course will follow an easterly route from India to China to Japan.

Biology

BIOL 101 Elements of Biology (3)
A course for non-science majors on living systems with emphasis on the concepts of structure and function at the molecular and cellular levels. Topics include biochemistry, cell structure and function, respiration, photosynthesis, genetics, and molecular biology. Provides a background to understand and evaluate critical issues facing society. Topics are considered in relation to technology, societal issues, and the history and limits of science. Lectures three hours per week.
Co-requisite: BIOL 101L.

BIOL 101L Elements of Biology Laboratory (1)
Laboratory course to accompany BIOL 101.
Co-requisite: BIOL 101.
Biol 102 Elements of Biology (3)
A course for non-science majors on living systems with emphasis on evolution, ecology, and the structure and functions of the major groups of organisms. Provides a background to understand and evaluate critical issues facing society. Topics are considered in relation to technology, societal issues, and the history and limits of science. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: BIOL 101; Co-requisite: BIOL 102.

Biol 102L Elements of Biology Laboratory (1)
Laboratory course to accompany BIOL 102.
Co-requisite: BIOL 102.

Biol 111 Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology (3)
A foundation course for science majors emphasizing the concepts of structure and function in biological systems at the molecular and cellular levels. Topics include biochemistry, biochemical and molecular evolution, cell function, respiration, photosynthesis, genetics, and molecular biology. Lectures three hours per week.
Co-requisite: BIOL 111L.

Biol 111L Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology Lab (1)
Laboratory course to accompany BIOL 111.
Co-requisite: BIOL 111.

Biol 112 Evolution, Form, and Function of Organisms (3)
A foundation course for science majors providing an introduction to evolution and a study of the major groups of organisms with an emphasis on their structure, form, and function. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: BIOL 111; Co-requisite: BIOL 112L.

Biol 112L Evolution, Ecology, and Biology of Organisms Lab (1)
Laboratory course to accompany BIOL 112.
Co-requisite: BIOL 112.

Biol 112L Genetics (1)
An introduction to the principles of heredity using common experimental organisms. Recent techniques in molecular genetics are also covered. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite or Prerequisite: BIOL 211 and 211D.

Biol 201 Human Physiology (4)
An introduction to the structure and function of the major organ systems of the human body. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week. This course is specifically intended for pre-allied health, physical education, and pre-nursing majors.

Biol 202 Human Anatomy (4)
An introduction to the gross morphology and microscopic anatomy of the major organ systems of the human body. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week. This course is specifically intended for pre-allied health, physical education, and pre-nursing majors.

Biol 204 Man and the Environment (3)
A study of the interdependence of man and his environment. Emphasis will be on man's place in nature, pollution, man-modified habitats, and environmental protection. Lectures three hours per week.

Biol 209 Marine Biology (4)
An introduction to the study of marine organisms and their environment. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week. Usually taught only in the summer.

Biol 211 Biodiversity, Ecology, and Conservation Biology (3)
A foundation course for intermediate-level biology majors. Students will explore synthetic biological concepts, including evolution, population-community-ecosystem ecology, behavior, biodiversity, and conservation. In a weekly, one-hour reception section, students will be required to read, discuss, and critique scientific literature (both popular and primary) related to these topics.
Co-requisite: BIOL 211D.

Biol 211D Biodiversity, Ecology, and Conservation Biology Discussion (1)
Discussion section to accompany BIOL 211.
Co-requisite: BIOL 211.

Biol 212 Genetics (3)
The basics of the science of heredity. The course encompasses Mendelian genetics, the molecular basis of inheritance, changes in chromosome number and structure, gene mapping, mutations and population genetics. Population and quantitative genetic approaches are applied to clarify the understanding of evolution.
Prerequisites: BIOL 111/111L and BIOL 112/112L.

Biol 212L Genetics (1)
An introduction to the principles of heredity using common experimental organisms. Recent techniques in molecular genetics are also covered. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite or Prerequisite: BIOL 211 and 211D.

Biol 250 Special Topics in Biology (1–4)
Lectures and discussion on selected topics of biological interest.
Prerequisite: One year of biology or permission of the instructor.

Biol 300 Botany (4)
Gross morphology, life history, taxonomy, and evolution of representative algae, fungi, lycophytes, and vascular plants. Lecture three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biol 301 Plant Taxonomy (4)
The collection, identification, and classification of vascular plants, with special emphasis on local flora. Materials, and culturing for life-history studies. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biol 302 Plant Anatomy (4)
A comparative study of the anatomy of representative vascular plants, relating the anatomical features to functions and evolution. The laboratory will include an introduction to the techniques of plant histology and wood anatomy. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biol 303 Phycology (4)
A survey of the algae from the ultraplankton to the kelps. The laboratory experience will involve extensive field collecting and identification, preparation of herbarium materials, and culturing for life-history studies. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biol 304 Plant Physiology (4)
A study of plant function. Topics will include metabolism, growth and development, transpiration, translocation, and an introduction to plant molecular biology. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biol 310 General Microbiology (4)
An introduction to the microbial world with special emphasis on bacteria. Topics include cellular structures, bacterial metabolism, microbial genetics, bacterial growth and its control, virology and the epidemiology and pathogenicity of disease-producing microorganisms. The laboratory emphasizes proper handling techniques, identification methods, and properties of microorganisms. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Additional Prerequisite: One year of chemistry.

Biol 312 Molecular Biology (3)
An in-depth study of gene structure and gene regulation, important cellular macromolecules, and the techniques used in their analysis. Special topics include discussions of molecular immunology, mobile genetic elements, virology, and the biology of cancer. Lecture three hours per week.
Prerequisites: BIOL 111/111L, BIOL 112/112L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry; Co-requisite or Prerequisite: BIOL 212. CHEM 232 can be substituted for BIOL 211 and 212.

Biol 312L Molecular Biology Laboratory (1)
An in-depth study of gene structure and gene regulation, important cellular macromolecules, and the techniques used in their analysis. Special topics include discussions of molecular immunology, mobile genetic elements, virology, and the biology of cancer. Lecture three hours per week.
Prerequisites: BIOL 111/111L, BIOL 112/112L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry; Co-requisite or Prerequisite: BIOL 212. CHEM 232 can be substituted for BIOL 211 and 212.

Biol 312L Molecular Biology Laboratory (1)
A comprehensive study of the techniques used in the isolation and analysis of important cellular macromolecules. Techniques covered will include electrophoresis of proteins and nucleic acids, Southern and Western blotting, liquid chromatography, and those involved in the formation and analysis of recombinant molecules. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite or Prerequisite: BIOL 312.

Biol 313 Cell Biology (3)
A study of the structural and functional correlates in cell biology. Topics include membrane specialization, cytoskeleton structure and function of cellular organelles, adhesion, motility, mitotic mechanisms,
Biology 101: General Biology (4)
A study of the principles of the functional mechanisms that underlie the life processes of all organisms with emphasis on the ways in which diverse organisms perform similar functions. Includes cell and tissue biology, genetics, evolution, and ecology. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 102: General Zoology (4)
An introduction to the study of invertebrates and vertebrates. Laboratory work emphasizes the identification of organisms, their classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures two hours per week; laboratory four hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101/101L, BIOL 102/102L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 211: Comparative Vertebrate Embryology (4)
A study of the development of vertebrate embryos. Includes the development of the internal and external structures of the embryo, the process of gastrulation, and the development of the nervous system. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101/101L, BIOL 102/102L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 212: Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates (4)
A study of the comparative anatomy of vertebrate animals. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 310: General Ecology (4)
A study of the relationships of physical, chemical, geological, and biological processes in the environment. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 211/211L, BIOL 212/212L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 311: Comparative Physiology (4)
A study of the comparative physiology of vertebrate and invertebrate animals. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 211/211L, BIOL 212/212L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 312: Comparative Physiological Ecology (4)
A study of the mechanisms and evolution of behavior in vertebrate and invertebrate animals. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: One year each of college mathematics and chemistry.

Biology 313: Cell Biology Labor (1)
The laboratory exercises introduce the student to some of the modern methods used to study cell function. Laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: BIOL 313.

Biology 314: Immunology (3)
A study of the immune system, its role in various marine and freshwater, terrestrial, animal, atmospheric, and product environments. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 313.

Biology 315: Immunology Lab (1)
The laboratory exercises introduce the student to some of the modern methods used to study cell function. Laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: BIOL 313.

Biology 320: Histology (4)
A detailed study of the microscopic structure of mammalian tissues and organs. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 321 General and Comparative Physiology (4)
A study of the principles of the functional mechanisms that underlie the life processes of all organisms with emphasis on the ways in which diverse organisms perform similar functions. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101/101L, BIOL 102/102L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 322: Comparative Vertebrate Embryology (4)
A study of the development of vertebrate embryos. Includes the development of the internal and external structures of the embryo, the process of gastrulation, and the development of the nervous system. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 101/101L, BIOL 102/102L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 323: Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates (4)
A study of the comparative anatomy of vertebrate animals. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 324: Herpetology (4)
A study of the diversity of amphibians and reptiles. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 325: Biology of Fishes (4)
A study of the diversity of fish. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 211/211L, BIOL 212/212L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 326: Parasitology (4)
A study of the diversity of parasites of vertebrates and invertebrates. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 327: Invertebrate Zoology (4)
A study of the diversity of invertebrates. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 211/211L, BIOL 212/212L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 328: Entomology (4)
A study of the diversity of insects and their lifestyles. Lectures include taxonomic topics covering the orders and the major families of insects, their structure and function, physiology, ecology, and the interaction of insects with humans. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 329: Dinosaur Biology (3)
A study of the paleobiology, paleoecology, evolution, and extinction of dinosaurs and their Mesozoic contemporaries through a variety of approaches. Emphasis will be placed on the fossil evidence and methods used in reconstructing the lives of these animals, once the most successful of all land vertebrates.

Biology 330: Biogeography (3)
An introduction to the study of the distribution patterns of organisms, their origins, and their significance for ecology and evolution. Lectures three hours per week.

Biology 331: General Ecology (4)
A study of the diversity of insects and their lifestyles. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 332: Vertebrate Zoology (4)
A study of the diversity of insects and their lifestyles. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 333: Ornithology (4)
A study of the diversity of birds. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures two hours per week; laboratory four hours per week.

Biology 334: Herpetology (4)
A study of the diversity of amphibians and reptiles. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 335: Biology of Fishes (4)
A study of the diversity of fish. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 211/211L, BIOL 212/212L, and BIOL 211; one year of chemistry.

Biology 336: Parasitology (4)
A study of the diversity of parasites of vertebrates and invertebrates. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 337: Invertebrate Zoology (4)
A study of the diversity of invertebrates. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 338: Entomology (4)
A study of the diversity of insects and their lifestyles. Lectures include taxonomic topics covering the orders and the major families of insects, their structure and function, physiology, ecology, and the interaction of insects with humans. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 339: Dinosaur Biology (3)
A study of the paleobiology, paleoecology, evolution, and extinction of dinosaurs and their Mesozoic contemporaries through a variety of approaches. Emphasis will be placed on the fossil evidence and methods used in reconstructing the lives of these animals, once the most successful of all land vertebrates.

Biology 340: Biogeography (3)
An introduction to the study of the distribution patterns of organisms, their origins, and their significance for ecology and evolution. Lectures three hours per week.

Biology 341: General Ecology (4)
A study of the diversity of insects and their lifestyles. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 342: Oceanography (4)
An introduction to the study of the marine environment. Laboratory work will emphasize the identification, classification, behavior, and ecology of local species. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Additional Prerequisites: One year each of college mathematics and chemistry.

Biology 343: Animal Behavior (4)
An introduction to the mechanisms and evolution of behavior in vertebrate and invertebrate animals. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Biology 350: Evolution (3)
A study of the mechanism and patterns of plant and animal evolution, with emphasis on the species level of organization. Lectures three hours per week.

Biology 351: Neuroscience I (3)
The first course of a two-semester series that serves as a rigorous introduction to the field of neuroscience. The first semester focuses on brain anatomy, cellular and molecular function of neurons, and development of nervous systems. The course is taught by faculty from the Departments of Biology and Psychology.

Prerequisites: PSYC 103, BIOL 111, 112, and 211.

Biology 352: Neuroscience II (3)
The second course of a two-semester series that serves as a rigorous introduction to the field of neuroscience. This course focuses on sensory and motor systems, neural regulatory systems, functional neuroanatomy, and behavioral/cognitive neuroscience.

Prerequisites: BIOL/PSYC 351

Biology 355: Introduction to Biometry (3)
A study of the application of statistical methods to the analysis of biological data. The course focuses on the use of computers in the analysis of biological data.

Prerequisites: MATH 111 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

Biology 399: Tutorial (1–3, repeatable up to 3)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).

Prerequisites: GPA of at least 3.0 in biology courses; junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

Biology 400: Conservation Biology (3)
A course exploring the origin, maintenance, and preservation of biodiversity at all levels: genetic, population, community, ecosystem, and biosphere. The focus will be on applying ecological, genetic, and evolutionary principles to problems in conservation. Optional field trips will be scheduled.

Prerequisites: BIOL 341 and either BIOL 212 or BIOL 350 or permission of the instructor.

Biology 410: Applied and Environmental Microbiology (4)
A study of the special applications of microbiology to domestic water and wastewater and solid wastes, food and dairy products, agriculture, and industrial processes. Includes microbial distribution and its role in various marine and freshwater, terrestrial, animal, atmospheric, and product environments. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: BIOL 310 and one year of chemistry.
BIOL 411 Microtechnique and Cytochemistry (4)
A study of the history, theory, and applications of microscopy and cytochemical techniques applicable for the study of cells, tissues, and macromolecules and microorganisms. Lectures two hours per week; laboratory four hours per week.
Additional Prerequisites: One year of chemistry.

BIOL 420 General and Comparative Endocrinology (4)
A study of the comparative anatomy and physiology of the ductless glands of invertebrate and vertebrate animals. Laboratory experiments are designed to demonstrate classical as well as modern approaches to the study of hormone action. Lectures two hours per week; laboratories six hours per week.
Additional Prerequisite: A course in physiology or permission of the instructor.

BIOL 421 Topics in the Physiology, Cell and Molecular Biology of Marine Organisms (3)
A course for students with interests in cellular, molecular, and physiological approaches to research in marine biology. Specific lecture topics center on environmental bioindicators, developmental biology, organismal and environmental physiology, immunology, and population genetics of marine organisms.
Prerequisites: BIOL 312 or 313; BIOL 321 and permission of the instructor.
NOTE: This course is intended only for summer.

BIOL 444 Plant Ecology (4)
Plant Ecology will explore the population ecology of plants covering the genetic, spatial, age, and size structure of plant populations. The focus will be on understanding the origin of these different kinds of structures, understanding how they influence each other, and understanding why they change with time.
Additional Prerequisite: BIOL 341 or permission of the instructor.

BIOL 445 Systematic Biology (3)
An in-depth coverage of the principles of systematics with emphasis on reconstruction of relationships and evolutionary history of organisms. Topics include current theories of systematic and evolutionary biology, methods of phylogenetic systematics, and critical evaluation of phylogenetic hypotheses.
Additional Prerequisites: Junior standing and at least one upper division course in organismal biology (e.g., BIOL 300, 301, 303, 332, 333, 334, 335, 356, 357, 388).

BIOL 446 Special Topics in Neuroscience (3)
A special topics course designed to supplement course offerings in neuroscience.
Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing and permission of the instructor.

BIOL 447 Seminar in Neuroscience (3)
A seminar course exposing students to cutting-edge neuroscience research. Research seminars by neuroscientists will be combined with the reading and discussion of primary literature. Students will learn to effectively write about and present their own ongoing research projects. This course serves as a capstone experience for students minoring in neuroscience.
Prerequisites: BIOL/PSYC 445/446; Co-requisite: BIOL/PSYC 448 or permission of the instructor. Students engaged in independent research or a bachelor’s essay will be given priority for enrollment.

BIOL 448 Research in Neuroscience (6)
A year-long senior research project conducted under the supervision of a faculty member in the neuroscience program at GoC or MUSC. Along with the faculty mentor, the student must submit a written project proposal for approval prior to course registration. This course is designed for students who are working towards a neuroscience minor.
Prerequisites: BIOL/PSYC 351 and 352 and permission of the student's major department and the neuroscience program director.

BIOL 450 Problems in Biology (1–4)
Literature and laboratory investigations of specific problems in biology, the nature of the problem to be determined by the interest of each student after consultation with departmental faculty. Open to exceptional students with junior or senior standing who are interested in continuing toward a graduate degree in biological or related sciences and who have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in all science courses. Credit value is determined by the type of problem addressed. Enrollment by permission of the instructor and approval of the chair.

BIOL 451 Problems in Marine Biology (1–4)
Literature and laboratory investigations of specific problems directly concerned with the biology of marine organisms. Open to exceptional students with junior or senior standing who are interested in continuing toward a graduate degree in biological or related sciences and who have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in all science courses. Credit value is determined by the type of problem addressed. Enrollment by permission of the instructor and approval of the chair.

BIOL 452 Seminar (1)
Students will attend biological research seminars in which they will be exposed to a variety of subdisciplines within the life sciences as well as methods that can be employed to examine biological questions. Each student must attend a minimum of 10 seminars and prepare a literate analysis of each. Open to students who have junior or senior standing who have completed at least 15 credit hours in biology and have a minimum overall GPA of 2.5 in their biology courses.

BIOL 453 Special Topics (1–4)
Special studies designed to supplement an offering made in the department or to investigate an additional, specific area of biological research.
Additional Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

BIOL 455 Seminar in Molecular Biology (2)
Required “capstone” course for majors emphasizing molecular biology.

BIOL 459 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. Students must take the initiative in seeking tutors to help in both the design and the supervision of their projects. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.
Additional Prerequisite: GPA of at least 3.0 in all biology courses.

BIOL 501 Biology of the Crustacea (4)
A study of the biology of crustacean arthropods. Topics include evolution, taxonomy, functional morphology, physiology, embryology, ecology, behavior, commercial management, and aquaculture. Instruction is held at Grice Marine Laboratory, typically during a summer session. Open to students with junior or senior standing who have completed at least 15 semester hours in biology and have a GPA of at least 5.0 in all biology courses.
Students not meeting these requirements may enroll with permission of the instructor and department chair.
Additional Prerequisite: A course in invertebrate zoology.

BIOL 502 Special Topics in Marine Biology (1–4)
Special topics designed to supplement an offering made in the program or to investigate an additional, specific area of marine biological processes in the sea. Open to students with junior or senior standing who have completed at least 15 semester hours in biology and have a GPA of at least 3.0 in all biology courses. Students not meeting these requirements may enroll with permission of the instructor and department chair.

BIOL 503 Special Topics in Ecology (3–4)
Investigation of advanced, specific areas of ecology beyond BIOL 341. Examples of offerings may include marine microbial ecology, phytoplankton ecology, benthi(c) ecology, community ecology, and population ecology. Open to students with junior or senior standing who have completed at least 15 semester hours in biology and have a GPA of at least 3.0 in all biology courses. Students not meeting these requirements may enroll with permission of the instructor and department chair.
Additional Prerequisite: BIOL 341 or permission of the instructor.
NOTE: This course may sometimes include a lab, in which case the number of credits will be four.

Business Law
Please see “notes” in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.

BLAW 106 Personal and Consumer Law (3)
This course exposes students to their obligations and rights as both citizens and consumers. Topics to be covered include: the Constitution, the court system, the law covering students, employees, insured, homeowners.
This course will not be applied toward the GPA in business, economics, or accounting. Students who have completed BLAW 205 or 306 or are taking either concurrently with BLAW 106 may not receive credit for this course.

BLAW 205 Legal Environment of Business (3)
This course is designed to emphasize the legal environment of business and the pluralistic nature of the economy of the United States. The principal federal and state regulations as well as common law relationships applicable to businesses are presented to provide the student with an understanding of the limitations and consequences of business decisions, as well as the social and ethical responsibilities implicit in decision making. Topics to be covered include: introduction to law and legal system; white collar crimes and torts; ethics and social responsibility; negligence and product liability; administrative law; law of agency, partnership, corporations, and securities; ownership of real and personal property; bailments; overview of real and personal property; and overview of antitrust.
Prerequisites: Sophomore standing.

BLAW 306 Law for Business Managers (3)
Designed to cover the legal issues encountered by business managers, this course includes a thorough examination of fair employment practices (Title VII); affirmative action; OSHA; workmen’s compensation; unemployment compensation insurance; choice of legal form, i.e., sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation; product liability; negligence; and legal aspects of hiring and firing of employees.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; BLAW 205 or permission of the instructor.

BLAW 429 Commercial Law (3)
A course designed to cover legal aspects of business including contracts, Articles 2, 3, 4, 6, and 9 of the U.C.C. (sales, law of negotiable instruments, bulk sales, and secured transactions), and bankruptcy. Primarily intended for students interested in pre-law, banking, or retail sales, and for CPA candidates.
Prerequisites: Senior standing; BLAW 205 or permission of the instructor.

Chemistry
NOTE: In the course descriptions listed below, whenever a laboratory course is listed as a co-requisite for a lecture course, or vice versa, withdrawal from one course requires withdrawal from the other.

CHEM 101 General Chemistry (3)
A course designed to meet the needs of both the non-science major and the students entering allied health fields. Emphasis is placed on basic chemistry concepts, giving the student a strong background in a variety of topics in order to appreciate the role of science and particularly chemistry in modern-day life. Topics include atomic structure, chemical bonding, stoichiometry, kinetics, equilibrium, acids and bases, and nuclear chemistry. Lectures three hours per week. Competency at the MATH 101 level and beyond is suggested. CHEM 101 is not open to students who have completed CHEM 111 or 112.
Co-requisite: CHEM 101L.

CHEM 101L General Chemistry Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program to accompany CHEM 101. Experiments are designed to introduce students to chemical techniques and to illustrate concepts covered in the classroom. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite: CHEM 101.

CHEM 102 Organic and Biological Chemistry (3)
This course is designed to meet the needs of allied health students; but it is also suitable for any non-science major. This is a descriptive course that covers organic and biological chemistry. Topics include organic functional groups, reactions, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, nucleic acids, and metabolism. Lecture three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CHEM 101 or CHEM 111. Co-requisite: CHEM 102L.

CHEM 102L Organic and Biological Chemistry Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program to accompany CHEM 102. Designed to enhance chemical laboratory skills and to illustrate the concepts covered in CHEM 102. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite: CHEM 102.

CHEM 111 Principles of Chemistry (3, 3)
CHEM 112
An introductory course in chemistry emphasizing theoretical aspects and designed primarily for students who intend to take one or more additional courses in chemistry. Lectures three hours per week.
Co-requisites and Prerequisites: CHEM 111L is a co-requisite for CHEM 111. Both CHEM 111 and 111L are prerequisites for CHEM 112. CHEM 112L is a co-requisite for CHEM 112. Unless students exempt MATH 111 (via diagnostic testing) or have completed this course as a prerequisite, they are required to take MATH 111 as a co-requisite. Those enrolling in CHEM 112 are urged to take MATH 120. Students may not receive credit toward graduation for both CHEM 111 and HONS 153 or CHEM 112 and HONS 154.

CHEM 111L Principles of Chemistry Laboratory (1,1)

CHEM 112L
A laboratory course designed to introduce students to the application of the scientific method in solving chemical problems and to acquaint them with specific tools and techniques used in the chemistry laboratory, while reinforcing and illustrating concepts encountered in lecture. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisites and Prerequisites: CHEM 111L is a co-requisite for CHEM 111L. CHEM 112L is a co-requisite for CHEM 112L. Both CHEM 111L and 111LL are prerequisites for CHEM 112L. Students may not receive credit toward graduation for both CHEM 111L and HONS 153L or CHEM 112L and HONS 154L.

CHEM 221 Quantitative Analysis (4)
A study of the chemistry of quantitative analysis. Special attention is given to equilibria involving acids, bases, precipitates, complexes, and oxidizing and reducing agents. In the laboratory, an opportunity is provided for solving problems in gravimetric and volumetric analysis, along with an introduction to the use of instruments for chemical analysis. Lecture two hours per week; laboratory six hours per week.
Prerequisites: CHEM 112, 112L.

CHEM 231 Organic Chemistry
CHEM 232
An introduction to the chemistry of carbon-containing compounds. A systematic study of nomenclature, structure, properties, and reactions of aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Attention is given to recent developments and interpretation of structure and reaction mechanisms. Lecture three hours per week.
Co-requisites or Prerequisites: CHEM 112 and 112L or their equivalents are prerequisites for CHEM 231. CHEM 231L is a co-requisite for CHEM 231. Both CHEM 231 and 231L are prerequisites for CHEM 232. CHEM 232L is a co-requisite for CHEM 232.

CHEM 231L Introduction to Organic Chemistry Laboratory Techniques (1)
Theories underlying standard organic laboratory techniques are introduced. The student then applies these methods to the synthesis, isolation, and purification of representative organic compounds. The student is introduced to the use of instrumental and spectral methods in organic chemistry.
Co-requisite: CHEM 231.

CHEM 232L Organic Synthesis and Analysis (1)
The methodology and strategy of organic synthesis are developed further through the use of synthetic procedures. The combined use of chemical and spectral methods to identify organic compounds is continued.
Prerequisites: Both CHEM 231 and 231L. Co-requisite: CHEM 232.

CHEM 342
Basic principles of chemistry treated primarily from a theoretical viewpoint. The major topics covered are atomic and molecular structure; elementary thermodynamics and statistical mechanics; properties of gases, liquids, and solids; theories of solution; homogeneous and heterogeneous equilibria; electrochemistry and surface chemistry; spectroscopy; transport processes; and chemical kinetics. Lectures three hours per week.
Co-requisites and Prerequisites: CHEM 341L is a co-requisite for CHEM 341. CHEM 341 and 341L are prerequisites for CHEM 342. Students should have completed CHEM 221 before enrolling in CHEM 341 and 341L. MATH 220 is a prerequisite for 341. MATH 221 is strongly recommended.
CHEM 341L Physical Chemistry Laboratory (1, 1)
CHEM 342L
A laboratory program to accompany CHEM 341, 342.
Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisites and Prerequisites: CHEM 341 is a corequisite for CHEM 341L. CHEM 342 is a corequisite for CHEM 342L.
CHEM 341L and 342L are prerequisites for
CHEM 342L.

CHEM 343 Introduction to Modeling in Chemistry (1)
An introduction to computer modeling of various properties and structures of molecules, thermodynamic properties and structures of simple crystals, and the kinetics of chemical reactions.
Prerequisite: CHEM 231.

CHEM 351 Biochemistry (3)
An introduction to the chemistry of biological compounds. A systematic study of carbohydrates, lipids, amino acids, proteins, nucleic acids, and their compoents is presented. Metabolism of biological compounds is studied as are the interrelations among the carbon, nitrogen, and energy cycles. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: CHEM 252 and 252L.

CHEM 352 Biochemistry II (3)
A continuation of CHEM 351 with an emphasis on the chemistry of physiological systems. Topics to be included are the biosynthesis of amino acids and nucleotides, molecular biology, biochemistry of contractile systems, active transport, drug metabolism, and neurochemistry.
Prerequisite: CHEM 351.

CHEM 354L Biochemistry Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program designed to introduce the student to the study of biological molecules. Experiments will include procedures for the quantification, isolation, and characterization of various cellular components.
Prerequisite: CHEM 351.

CHEM 371 Chemical Synthesis and Characterization (3)
A study of the chemistry of and methods for the synthesis, separation, and identification of chemical compounds. Emphasis is given to specialized techniques involved in synthesizing organic and inorganic compounds, and to identification of compounds by spectral methods. Lectures one hour per week; laboratory six hours per week.

Prerequisite: CHEM 221, 221L, 232, 232L.

CHEM 381 Internship (1–4)
A field internship in a non-academic lab. A faculty advisor will be appointed to award the grade to be received.
Arrangements for the internship must be made prior to the semester in which it is carried out. One hour of credit will be awarded for each 45 lab hours completed.
Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing and at least a 2.5
GPA both overall and in the major. (Repeatable up to a maximum of four credit hours earned.) CHEM 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually three hours per week).
Prerequisites: Junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

CHEM 481 Introductory Research (2)
An opportunity is provided to use the literature and to apply a variety of experimental techniques in the investigation of selected problems under the direction of a faculty mentor in inorganic, analytical, organic, physical, or biochemistry. A seminar, written report, poster, or other presentation is required. Arrangements for a project should be made with the faculty mentor during the semester prior to that in which it is carried out.

CHEM 482 Introductory Research (2)
A continuation of CHEM 481. Open to students who have done satisfactory work in CHEM 481. A seminar, written report, poster, or other presentation separate from that required for CHEM 481 is required.

CHEM 490 Chemistry and Biochemistry
Seminar (1)
A weekly seminar to prepare students for careers in chemistry and biochemistry and to present recent advances in the field. Seminar one hour per week. May be repeated once for credit.
Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing.

CHEM 492 Senior Seminar (1)
A weekly seminar to be taken during the calendar year in which a student is to graduate. Oral and written projects will be required as well as an exit examination. Seminar, one hour per week.
Prerequisites: CHEM 341 and senior status.

CHEM 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a mentor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a mentor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course. A specific format is required for the preparation of the final document.

CHEM 511 Advanced Inorganic
Chemistry (3)
An advanced course that aims to provide a balanced view of the theoretical principles involved in present-day inorganic research. Topics include atomic structure, chemical bonding, coordination chemistry, symmetry and applications, organometallic chemistry, and chemistry of the main group elements.
Prerequisites or Co-requisites: CHEM 341 and 342.

CHEM 512L Advanced Inorganic
Chemistry Laboratory (1)
A study of advanced methods for synthesis, separation, and identification of inorganic compounds. Laboratory three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CHEM 511.

CHEM 521 Instrumental Analysis (4)
Theory and principles underlying the techniques of modern analytical chemistry. The student carries out qualitative and quantitative analysis using chromatog-raphic, spectrophotometric, electroanalytical, magnetic resonance, radiochemical, and other selected instrumental techniques. Lectures three hours per week;
laboratory three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CHEM 221.

CHEM 522 Environmental Chemistry (3)
An introduction to the chemistry of natural systems with an emphasis on marine and coastal and other problems.
The cycling of chemical species, the effect of manmade inputs, and environmental analytical methodology will be stressed. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CHEM 221.

CHEM 522L Environmental Chemistry
Laboratory (1)
An introduction to sampling and measurement techniques used to characterize the environment.
Electrochemical, spectroscopic, and chromatographic techniques will be used with both laboratory and field investigations. Laboratory three hours per week.
Prerequisite or Co-requisite: CHEM 522.

CHEM 526 Introduction to Nuclear and Radiochemistry (1)
An introduction to the fundamental theories and applications of nuclear and radiochemistry. This short course scours the structure of the nucleus, radioactive decay modes, the detection and measurement of nuclear radiation, and application of radiochemical method as to medical, environmental, and scientific problems.

Lecture three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CHEM 221 or CHEM 231 and CHEM 321L, or permission of the instructor.
NOTE: A student cannot receive credit for both CHEM 526
and CHEM 528.

CHEM 528 Nuclear and Radiochemistry
(3)
An introduction to nuclear and radiochemistry stressing the fundamentals of nuclear structure, systematics of nuclear decay, the detection and measurement of radiation, radiation protection, and the role of nuclear chemistry in medical, environmental, and scientific applications.
The nuclear fuel cycle and nuclear waste problems will be discussed. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CHEM 221 or 231 and 231L, or permission of the instructor.
NOTE: A student cannot receive credit for both CHEM 526
and CHEM 528.

CHEM 531 Advanced Organic Chemistry
(3)
The major concepts of organic chemistry are reviewed along with a review of relevant material already presented in introductory organic chemistry courses.

Special topics may include heterocycles, organic polymers, organic reaction mechanisms, spectral utilization, synthesis methodology, the utilization of molecular
CHNS 101 Elementary Mandarin Chinese (3, 3)
Introduces the fundamental structures of Chinese, with emphasis on acquisition of basic language skills: reading and listening comprehension, oral and written expression.
Prerequisite: CHNS 101 open only to beginning students of Chinese; placement or CHNS 101 is a prerequisite for 102.

CHNS 201 Intermediate Mandarin Chinese (3, 3)
CHNS 202
Develops basic proficiency in Chinese and familiarity with Chinese culture through practice in the use of the basic language skills and acquisition of vocabulary.
Prerequisite: Placement or CHNS 102 for 201; placement or CHNS 201 for 202.

CHNS 313 Conversation and Composition (3, 3)
CHNS 314
Intensive practice in the written and spoken Chinese. Assigned readings and compositions. The course will be conducted primarily in Mandarin Chinese.

CHNS 330 Collateral Study (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading in Chinese and in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collateral study course may be repeated up to a maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

CHNS 313 or 314 or permission of the instructor.

Chinese

NOTE: For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher level course prohibits a student from taking a lower level course in the same language for credit.

CHNS 101 Elementary Mandarin Chinese (3, 3)
CHNS 102
Introduces the fundamental structures of Chinese, with emphasis on acquisition of basic language skills: reading and listening comprehension, oral and written expression.
Prerequisite: CHNS 101 open only to beginning students of Chinese; placement or CHNS 101 is a prerequisite for 102.

CHNS 201 Intermediate Mandarin Chinese (3, 3)
CHNS 202
Develops basic proficiency in Chinese and familiarity with Chinese culture through practice in the use of the basic language skills and acquisition of vocabulary.
Prerequisite: Placement or CHNS 102 for 201; placement or CHNS 201 for 202.

CHNS 313 Conversation and Composition (3, 3)
CHNS 314
Intensive practice in the written and spoken Chinese. Assigned readings and compositions. The course will be conducted primarily in Mandarin Chinese.

CHNS 330 Collateral Study (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading in Chinese and in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collateral study course may be repeated up to a maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

CHNS 313 or 314 or permission of the instructor.

CLAS 103 Classical Mythology (3)
An introduction to the divine myths and heroic legends of ancient Greece and Rome as found in literature and art. Other topics will include theories, both ancient and modern, about myth; the functions of myth in religion and society; and the influence of classical myth on subsequent literature and art.

CLAS 104 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (3)
A survey of major sites, artifacts, and monuments of the Classical world from Bronze Age Greece through Imperial Rome. Emphasis on the development of archaeology as a discipline and issues such as recording and interpretation of evidence, relationship between historical and archaeological events, and use and misuse of ancient texts.

CLAS 111 Medical Terminology in Greek and Latin (3)
This course offers a systematic approach to understanding the technical vocabulary of the medical professions through an analysis of Latin and Greek elements in English words and the underlying etymological principles.
NOTE: This course does not count toward the minimum degree requirement in humanities.

CLAS 121 Classical Greece (3)
An introduction to the art, architecture, history, and society of classical Greece through first-hand examination of major archaeological sites, visits to museums, and lectures.

CLAS 242 Images of Women in Classical Antiquity (3)
A survey of the roles of women in classical Greece and Rome. Beginning with the prehistoric cultures of Crete and Mycenae, students analyze the roles of women through an examination of the images of women in art, literature, and historical documents of ancient Greece and Rome.

CLAS 253 Ancient Epic (3)
Historical backgrounds and study of the ancient epic tradition as a whole. Reading and analysis of Homer’s Iliad and Odyssey, Apollonius’ Argonautica, and Vergil’s Aeneid.

CLAS 254 Classical Drama: Tragedy (3)
A survey of Greek and Roman tragedy as represented by the works of AESCHYLUS, SOPHOCLES, EURIPIDES, and SENECa.

CLAS 255 Classical Drama: Comedy (3)
A survey of Greek and Roman comedy as represented by the works of ARISTOPHANES, MENANDER, PLAUTUS, and TERENCE.

CLAS 270 The Romans in Cinema (3)
This course will consider Roman civilization and its creative representation in motion pictures. Topics to be explored include the historical development of the Roman Empire; the social institution of slavery; public entertainment in the circus and amphitheater; and the religion of pagans, Jews, and Christians.

CLAS 290 Special Topics in Classics (3)
Intensive studies designed to supplement or to investigate more fully the offerings in the Classics curriculum.

CLAS 301 Topics in Ancient Greek Literature (3)
An intensive examination of selected figures, themes, or issues in ancient Greek literature. May be repeated for credit if the subject matter varies.

Prerequisite: three semester hours in Classics or permission of the instructor.
CLAS 302 Topics in Latin Literature (3)
An intensive examination of selected figures, themes, or issues in Latin literature. May be repeated for credit if the subject matter varies.
Prerequisite: three semester hours in Classics or permission of the instructor.

CLAS 303 Topics in Classical Civilization (3)
An intensive examination of selected figures, themes, or issues in ancient Greek or Roman civilization. May be repeated for credit if the subject matter varies.
Prerequisite: three semester hours in Classics or permission of the instructor.

LING 385 Teaching Latin in Elementary and Middle Schools (3)
Please see course description under Linguistics.

COMM 104 Public Speaking (3)
The fundamentals of oral communication as they pertain to public speaking. An introduction to the techniques and skills involved in preparing and delivering various types of speeches. Attention is given to voice, diction, and platform presence.

COMM 105 Forensic Lab (1, repeatable up to 4)
Preparation for participation in intercollegiate forensics and competitive speech activities including debate, prepared and limited time speaking events, and oral interpretation events. Participation on and travel with the college forensic team are required.

NOTE: This course does not count toward the major or minor requirements.

COMM 210 Introduction to Communication Theory (3)
As a survey course of various humanistic and social scientific communication theories, this course considers the principles, contexts, and development of human communication. Course topics include discussion and application of interpersonal, relational, organizational, symbolic, rhetorical, media, gender, and intercultural communication theories.

COMM 211 Oral Interpretation (3)
A study of the form and content of poetry, prose, and dramatic literature as they affect the performance of the oral interpreter.

COMM 213 Debate (3)
Prerequisite: COMM 104 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 214 Mass Media (3)
The social, economic, and political roles of newspapers, magazines, radio, and television, with emphasis on their development, function, ethics, and legal restraints. An introductory course for those considering journalism as a career and those interested as critical readers.
Prerequisites: ENGL 101 and 102.

COMM 220 Interpersonal Communication (3)
An introduction to the basic concepts and theories relevant to understanding the role of communication in the development and maintenance of relationships. Course topics include information processing, perception, verbal and nonverbal communication, listening skills, self concept, male/female communication, family communication, conflict management, and interpersonal persuasion.

COMM 221 Intercultural Communication (3)
This course is designed to provide a survey and introduction to intercultural communication theory and practice, and to develop students' understanding of the influence upon communication between/among people of different cultural backgrounds both in domestic and international settings across a variety of contexts.

COMM 222 Small Group Communication (3)
An introduction to the major theories, issues, and concepts related to the study of small group interaction. Course topics include the process of group development, roles and rules in group communication, decision-making, leadership, and conflict management. Case studies, activities, and exercises are incorporated to emphasize both theory and practice.

COMM 223 Interviewing (3)
This course addresses interviewing processes, structure, questions, and principles and examines interviewing in research and professional contexts. Students are required to participate in interviews as interviewers and interviewees.

COMM 230 Writing for the Mass Media (3)
Study of and practice in the fundamentals of news, feature, investigative, and editorial writing. Interviewing techniques and various methods of organizing and gathering the news are emphasized, along with the successful completion of writing assignments.

COMM 235 Public Relations Practices (3)
This course serves as both an introduction to the field of public relations, and as the first of a three-course PR sequence (COMM 335 and COMM 435). Major emphasis is placed on writing skill, as well as an understanding of theoretical, historical, legal, and ethical issues. Assignments will address the building of relationships with both mass media and within the corporate/organizational realm. Students also are provided opportunities to present oral and written synopses of case studies and related issues.

COMM 240 Introduction to Broadcast News (3)
This course explores unique aspects of broadcast news writing styles, newsworthiness of issues, and news gathering. Students cover stories and write for both radio and television broadcasts. Legal and ethical considerations and issues pertaining to broadcast news are emphasized throughout the course.
Prerequisite: COMM 230 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 245 Introduction to Television Production (3)
This course explores both the technical and creative process required to communicate ideas to an audience using videographic form. Topics include pre-production, production, and post-production phases of videography and emphasizes the artistic and creative communication elements required of each. Students will gain hands-on experience with camerawork and editing, meet television professionals, and take field trips related to television production.
Prerequisite: COMM 214, COMM 230, or permission of the instructor.

COMM 285 Basic Photojournalism (3)
The course focuses on the basic principles and practices of digital photojournalism and documentary photography emphasizing creative visual communication techniques. Students furnish their own digital cameras and other equipment. More specific digital camera requirements may be found on the department's Web site.
Prerequisites: COMM 214 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 295 Special Topics in Communication (3, 3)
Special topics in written communication, oral communication, communication theory, and media studies. (Students may receive no more than six hours of credit for two courses.)

COMM 301 Communication Research Methods (3)
Qualitative and quantitative methods employed in communication research, including experiments, surveys, textual analysis, and ethnography.
Prerequisites: COMM 210 and either junior or senior status, or permission of the instructor.
COMM 304 Training and Development (3)
This course is designed to introduce principles and concepts useful in the design and delivery of training programs. This course is oriented both for students interested in a training career, as well as students simply interested in the field. T & D takes a comprehensive view of training by integrating theory and methodology. Thus the student finishes with both a conceptual framework as well as practical applications.
Prerequisites: COMM 104 and COMM 210; COMM 326 is highly recommended.

COMM 320 Advanced Interpersonal Communication (3)
This course considers advanced concepts and theories relevant to understanding the role of communication in the development and maintenance of relationships. Complex theories of interpersonal communication are explored in depth and applied to the construction of voluntary, long-term relationships.
Prerequisite: COMM 220.

COMM 322 Feature Writing
The study of generating, developing, and organizing ideas for newspaper and magazine articles. Students will adapt their writing to many audiences and will write various types of feature articles, stressing organization, coherence, structure, and mechanics.
Prerequisite: COMM 250.

COMM 324 Speechwriting (3)
This course offers a comprehensive look at speechwriting by exploring written and videotaped speeches, then applying what we've learned to our own speeches. We will examine and utilize rhetorical theories which are foundations for speechwriting. The course is designed so that students will write speeches for themselves, each other, and outside individuals and organizations. Hence, this course is writing intensive and not performance based.
Prerequisites: COMM 104; COMM 382 is highly recommended.

COMM 325 Humor Writing (3)
What makes something funny? And why do we laugh at it? This course examines theories, techniques, and principles of humor writing. It is reading intensive and writing intensive. Assignments include writing observational humor, satire, personal essays, etc. For the final exam, students are required to write and perform 10 minutes of original stand-up comedy.

COMM 326 Organizational Communication (3)
Organizational Communication explores the concepts and theories relevant to communication in an organizational context. Course topics include organizational theories, socialization of employees, the role of the individual in the organization, communication and leadership, group and individual decision-making processes, and conflict.
Prerequisite: COMM 210 is strongly recommended.

COMM 327 Sportswriting (3)
Students apply skills in interviewing, research, and direct observation to write news stories, features, and opinion pieces about sports at the professional, college, high school, and weekend-athlete levels. Students learn to write about sports in the broad context of business, political and social issues.
Prerequisites: Students must be juniors or seniors who have taken COMM 230 or have permission from the instructor to enroll.

COMM 329 Opinion Writing (3)
A course in editorial and opinion writing for the mass media. Students will analyze and discuss current events as a basis for critical thinking and for their writing. In addition, students will evaluate editorials and columns in leading newspapers and magazines and will study and practice the techniques involved in writing art, drama, music, and book reviews.
Prerequisite: COMM 230.

COMM 330 Advanced Oral Interpretation: Group Performance (3)
A theory-based performance of literature course that focuses on both text and script group performances. The literature in performance includes edited texts and compiled scripts that may include poetry, drama, and literature. The performance requires group analysis, rehearsal, and dramatic oral presentation.
Prerequisite: COMM 211 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 331 Advanced Public Speaking (3)
An examination of formal communication in a variety of public contexts. Course topics include the responsibilities of the speaker in a variety of situations, critical listening, and theories of motivation and persuasion. Assignments will include both oral presentations and written analysis.
Prerequisite: COMM 104 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 332 Business Communication (3)
An intensive course in communication theory (oral and written) and the application of theory to oral presentations and to writing letters, memoranda, and reports.
Prerequisites: ENGL 101 and 102.

COMM 333 Advanced Argumentation and Debate (3)
An examination of the processes by which people give reasons to justify their acts, beliefs, attitudes, and values, and to influence the thoughts and actions of others. Course topics include theories of argument construction, types of argumentation practices, and the ways argument theory is practiced in public and scholastic debate formats.
Prerequisite: COMM 213 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 335 Public Relations Writing (3)
The course builds on concepts learned in COMM 235 or MKTG 331, with a primary emphasis on managing relationships through the implementation of targeted writing skills. Traditional facets such as news releases, pitch letters, and brochures will be emphasized along with research proposals, speechwriting, and corporate documents. Persuasion and presentation skills will be stressed in addition to writing competence. Layout and design skills will also be broached contextually.
Prerequisite: COMM 235 or MKTG 331.

COMM 340 Television News Reporting (3)
This course emphasizes television news gathering and the elements of planning, videotaping, interviewing, writing, producing, and editing news stories. Coursework includes writing assignments, making news judgment and editorial decisions, and on-camera reporting and anchoring. Legal and ethical concerns are emphasized throughout the course.
Prerequisite: COMM 240 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 360 Communication and Technology (3)
This course explores the intersection of communication and new technologies from organizational, interpersonal, and mass communication perspectives. Course topics include computer-mediated communication (CMC), online identities, online relationships, virtual communities, and popular culture.
Prerequisites: COMM 210 and junior or senior standing.

COMM 365 American Public Address (3)
The study of American public address from the Depression to the present. Influential social and political leaders and their speeches will be studied for the purpose of understanding the techniques they used in preparing and presenting speeches; specific attention will be paid to the use of language, arguments, support materials, and the effectiveness of the speech.
Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing or permission of the instructor.

COMM 370 Gender and Communication (3)
This course explores the multiple relationships between gender and communication, specifically focusing on gender-based influences in communication between men and women, and how communication works to create gender roles and identity. The course integrates theory and practice to heighten our sensitivity to gender differences and similarities in the communication process.
Prerequisites: COMM 210 or WMST 200 and junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 375 Editing (3)
Principles, concepts, and practice of news and magazine editing, including copy reading, headline writing, makeup and design of pages, picture-editing techniques, and effective use of graphics and typography.
Prerequisite: COMM 230 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 376 Public Affairs Reporting (3)
An intensive advanced-level writing course for print and broadcast media. Emphasis is on information gathering, evaluation, and processing and on writing complex and analytical stories.
Prerequisite: COMM 230.

COMM 378 Persuasion (3)
This course considers classical and contemporary theories of persuasion and propaganda, including ethical perspectives relevant to these theories. Topics include source and audience factors, message and media effects, and social and cultural influences in persuasion.

Prerequisite: COMM 210 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 380 Studies in Communication (1–3, 1–3)
Special studies in oral, written, or print communication theory and broadcast journalism. (Students may receive no more than six hours for two courses.)

Prerequisite: COMM 210 and three additional COMM credit hours; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 382 Theories of Rhetoric (3)
A survey of classical and contemporary rhetorical theory, focused on how various thinkers have analyzed the issues of form/content, audience, knowledge, cultural context, and strategies of discourse. Study of the differences among oral, written, and mediated communication, and the rhetorical aspects of effective expression and critical thinking. Readings range from Plato and Aristotle to Burke, Weaver, and Perelman.

Prerequisites: COMM 210 and either junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 383 Media Criticism (3)
A critical examination of a variety of forms of media from a rhetorical perspective to identify and understand cultural assumptions made by the media. Course topics include methods of criticism, types of media persuasion, effects of media on the consumers of this discourse, and critical evaluation of media messages.

Prerequisites: COMM 210 and either junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 384 Ethics in Communication (3)
An examination of issues of communication freedoms and the ethical responsibilities addressed by them. Course topics include defamation, invasion of privacy, stirring to prejudice and hatred, symbolic battery, intimidation and coercion, and an examination of different philosophical bases of ethical practices in communication.

Prerequisites: COMM 210 and either junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 385 Advanced Photojournalism and Documentary Photography (3)
This course explores advanced principles and practices of digital photojournalism and documentary photography for various media, using advanced digital camera and computer techniques. Visually oriented ideas are developed into documentary photo essays and features. Students furnish their own digital cameras and other equipment. More specific digital camera requirements may be found on the department’s Web site.

Prerequisite: COMM 285 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 386 Media Law (3)
The study of federal and state regulations of both print and broadcast media to understand how legal mandates and constraints have defined the roles of the media in society. Course topics include historical and contemporary analysis of libel, privacy, free press and fair trial, access to government information, regulation of advertising, and regulation of broadcasting.

Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing or permission of the instructor.

COMM 387 Rhetoric of Social Movements (3)
This course explores the rhetorical strategies that initiate and sustain social movements. This course offers an analysis of the scope and constraints on public expression that aim to motivate social change and offers a review of critical perspectives on symbolic campaigns, argumentative styles, and persuasive functions typical of social movements.

Prerequisites: COMM 210 and either junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 389 Public Opinion in American Politics (3)
This course covers the formation, expression, and measurement of American public opinion, with a particular focus on the role of media in shaping and representing opinion, in order to better understand how citizens think about and react to the political world.

Prerequisite: POLS 101 or COMM 214; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 395 American Politics and Mass Media (3)
This course explores how political discourse and institutions are changing the current mass communication technology and practices. This course pays special attention to the intersection of the media practices and campaigns, the presidency, public opinion, and political engagement.

Prerequisite: POLS 101 or COMM 214; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in a regularly scheduled meeting (usually once a week).

Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing, plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

COMM 405 Independent Study in Communication (1–3)
Research in a specified communication area in consultation with a department member who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit. Open to juniors and seniors with permission of the instructor and the department chair. (Students may receive no more than six hours of credit for this course.)

COMM 407 Seminar in Communication Management (3)
A seminar course on the problems, issues, and practices affecting the business and management of mass media, including labor and personnel, advertising, circulation, news/editorial, ratings and shares, ethics, and issues management. Lectures by visiting media professionals.

Prerequisites: COMM 214, 326, and junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 414 Mass Media and Society (3)
The course examines how the mass media influence American society. This course considers contemporary mass media issues within the framework of media theory (e.g., cultivation theory). This course examines external pressures that affect media content, such as the consolidation of ownership of media companies, federal regulation, and social activism.

Prerequisite: COMM 214 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 435 Public Relations Campaigns (3)
The course builds on concepts learned in COMM 235 and COMM 335, with a primary emphasis on group work on behalf of an outside client. Students will engage in significant research elements such as focus groups and surveys, as well as budgets and timetables. Students formally present comprehensive findings and proposals (a portfolio/plan book) to the client.

Prerequisites: COMM 235 and COMM 335.

COMM 436 Crisis Communication (3)
This course will discuss the contributing factors of organizational crises, avoiding crises, managing crises, learning from past crises, and preventing future problems. Students will learn how to critically evaluate crisis management efforts, which will help them protect themselves, their groups, and their organizations from others’ ineffective or unethical behavior.

Prerequisites: COMM 326 or permission of the instructor.

COMM 475 Electronic Magazine Production (3)
This course provides advanced instruction in media writing, editing, and design. Students work with a number of media-specific writing and editing courses to regularly produce an online magazine, assign and edit stories, carry out independent writing and reporting, and post material to the Internet.

Prerequisites: COMM 230, 375, and junior or senior standing; or permission of the instructor.

COMM 476 Capstone in Corporate and Organizational Communication (3)
This course provides students in the corporate and organizational communication concentration with a culminating experience at the conclusion of major coursework. Students integrate theory and practice as they conduct research and perform critical analyses using key concepts and methodologies of the discipline. Whenever possible, student work will be evaluated by both internal and external constituents.

Prerequisites: COMM 210, 301, 326, and senior standing; or permission of the department chair.

COMM 482 Rhetoric and Identity (3)
Rhetoric and Identity explores the rhetorical construction of identity by examining various forums of expression: speeches, diaries, letters, Web sites, etc. Students will study how various groups utilize these forums to construct, maintain, and alter identity.

Prerequisites: COMM 210; COMM 382 is highly recommended.

COMM 495 Field Internship (1–3)
This course provides the student with practical experience working with communication-related organizations (mass media, business, museums, chambers of commerce, government, and service-related organizations). Course may be taken more than once, but no more than three credits may be earned.

Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing and 2.5 GPA in communication major or minor.

COMM 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. A proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the departmental honors committee prior to registration for the course. Students will confer regularly with their tutor both on the progress of their research (in the first term) and on the drafts of their paper (in the second term). The finished paper will normally be 50 or more pages and will reflect detailed research in the field.

Prerequisites: Senior standing, 3.25 GPA in the communication major, and approval by the departmental honors committee.

Comparative Literature

CPLT 200 Introduction to Comparative Literature (3)
An introduction to the aims, concepts, and methodology of the discipline of comparative literature.

Prerequisites: ENGL 101 and 102; one additional literature course recommended.

CPLT 400 Comparative Literature Capstone (1)
A course in which students revise a paper on a literary topic written for a previously approved course and turn it into a comparative literature paper. Students will most likely need and will be encouraged to do further research for the revision. The project will be supervised by a faculty member with expertise in the student’s essay topic. Instead of revising an essay, students may choose to write a new essay on a topic in comparative literature. The completed essay should be 12 to 15 pages long.

Prerequisites: Completion of all other coursework for the minor in comparative literature and presented to the program director.

Crime, Law, and Society

CRLS 300 Special Topics in Crime, Law, and Society (3)
An examination of a topic in the area of crime, law, and society for which no regular course is offered. The course may be repeated for credit if the content is different. Specific content will be listed when the course is offered.

CRLS 400 Internship (1–6)
As the ending experience in the minor, the internship challenges students to apply knowledge learned in the classroom to a field experience with an organization that works with the victims and/or perpetrators of crime. The internship involves 120 hours of work in an organization, scheduled meetings with the program coordinator, and a significant writing project.

Prerequisites: Junior standing, SOCY 341, POLS 220, and permission of the program director. An internship should be arranged the semester before the student plans to complete it. Internships should be completed during the fall or spring semesters. Exceptions may be made for summer internships in extraordinary circumstances. See the program Web site (http://www.cofc.edu/CriminalJustice/internships.htm) or speak with the program director to learn more about the requirements for summer internships and to obtain the summer internship application.

Computer Science

CSCI 110 Computer Fluency (3)
An introduction to computing for students in the humanities, social sciences, and business. This course provides the student with the ability to understand and use emerging technologies effectively. Topics include basic computer technology (how computers work), applications (spreadsheet, databases), Internet subjects (communications, Web browsers, file transfers), and social issues (copyrights, how changes in technology affect society, ethics).

CSCI 112 Communications Technology and the Internet (3)
An introduction to digital communications technology. Topics include networking concepts, Internet and intranet tools, protocols, and security. Also included are the infrastructure and governance of the Internet, with emphasis on personal, business, social, legal, and ethical implications. Recommended skills are keyboarding and experience with e-mail and Web browser software.

Prerequisite: CSCI 110, 114, 116 or permission of the instructor.

CSCI 114 Electronic Publishing and Design (3)
An investigation of electronic publishing and design theory and practice. Through the use of advanced application software skills, students will explore the tools of electronic communication, such as desktop publishing, Web site design, introductory graphics, and Internet resources. Recommended skills are keyboarding and experience using e-mail and Web browser software.

CSCI 116 Data Organization and Management (3)
An introduction to organization and management of electronic data intended for anyone who accumulates and analyzes data. Students will use productivity software to explore data relationships, data security, data integrity, and avoidance of data redundancy. Topics include file maintenance, relational database design and management, with emphasis on complex queries, report design, and beginning Visual Basic for Applications.

Prerequisite: CSCI 110 or 112 or 114 or permission of the instructor.

CSCI 130 Visual Basic for Applications (3)
A programming course using Visual Basic to access the programmable object libraries in productivity applications. Using a consistent integrated development environment, students will learn how to automate tasks and how to develop custom applications. Special topics covered include VB control structures, the object models, Active X controls, interface design, debugging, and event handling.

CSCI 199 Special Topics in Computing (3)
A course focusing on selected topics from the beginning level of computer science. Such topics include basic networking concepts, scripting languages, and topical issues in computing. This course may be repeated for additional credit.

Prerequisite: Any computer science course or permission of the instructor.

CSCI 199 Special Topics in Computing (3)
A programming course using Visual Basic to access the programmable object libraries in productivity applications. Using a consistent integrated development environment, students will learn how to automate tasks and how to develop custom applications. Special topics covered include VB control structures, the object models, Active X controls, interface design, debugging, and event handling.

CSCI 220 Computer Programming I (3)
An introduction to programming and problem solving using Java. Topics include data types, variables, assignment, control structures (selection and iteration), arrays, methods, classes, and an introduction to object-oriented programming. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: MATH 111 or equivalent; Co-requisite: CSCI 222.

CSCI 221 Computer Programming II (3)
This course further develops object-oriented programming introduced in CSCI 220. Topics include file input/output, inheritance and polymorphism, exceptions, error handling, and algorithm analysis. Data structures include lists, stacks, and queues. Algorithms include searching and sorting. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: CSCI 220 and 222. Prerequisite or Co-requisite: MATH 207.

CSCI 222 Computer Programming I Laboratory (1)
This course is designed to apply the concepts being covered in CSCI 220. Exercises will be assigned each week within a structured setting. Laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite or Co-requisite: CSCI 220.

CSCI 230 Data Structures and Algorithms (3)
This course reviews and develops the abstract data type as a mathematical model. Data structures and algorithms are developed as concrete realizations of the objects and operations of the abstract data type. Topics include a review of basic data structures, trees and graphs, and analysis of the efficiency of algorithms. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: CSCI 221 and MATH 207.
CSCI 250 Introduction to Computer Organization and Assembly Language Programming (3)
An introduction to an assembly language and its implementation in hardware. Topics include the binary and hexadecimal numbering systems, the fetch-execute cycle, the components of the central processing unit, floating point processing, memory, the assembler, and the linker. Programming exercises are developed in the assembly language of a commonly available processor. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 220 and 222. Prerequisite or Co-requisite: MATH 207.

CSCI 299 Special Topics in Computer Science (3)
A course focusing on a selected topic from the intermediate level of computer science. Such topics include languages not otherwise taught in the computer science curriculum, software and hardware interfacing, system usage, and specific applications programs. This course may be repeated for additional credit.
Prerequisites: CSCI 220 and 222.

CSCI 310 Advanced Algorithms (3)
A course that covers algorithms, focusing on computational complexity, approximation, classification, and optimization. Algorithms covered include evolutionary and genetic algorithms, gradient descent techniques, discrete optimization, branch-and-bound, dynamic and stochastic programming, combinatorial optimization, and approximation algorithms.
Prerequisites: CSCI 230 and MATH 207.

CSCI 320 Programming Language Concepts (3)
This course introduces the formal study of programming language specifications and develops an understanding of the structure and run-time organization of imperative programming languages. Topics include data types, control structures, and procedure mechanisms and data abstraction. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 230 and MATH 207.

CSCI 325 Declarative Programming Languages (3)
This course introduces various approaches to declarative (non-procedural) programming languages. Topics include mathematical functions and the lambda calculus; functional programming; sentential and predicate logic; and logic programming. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 230 and MATH 207.

CSCI 332 Database Concepts (3)
A course that introduces the student to the basic concepts, organization, and implementation models of databases, with an emphasis on the relational model. Among the topics covered are data models, query languages, relational database design using normal forms, and database programming. Problems will be assigned using a relational DBMS and SQL. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CSCI 230 and MATH 207.

CSCI 334 Data Mining (3)
A course covering data mining concepts, methodologies, and programming. Topics include decision tables and trees, classification and association rules, clustering, pattern analysis, and linear and statistical modeling. Additional topics may include data cleaning and warehousing, and techniques for text and web mining.
Prerequisite: CSCI 230 and MATH 207.

CSCI 340 Operating Systems (3)
The course will introduce operating systems principles with an emphasis on multiprocessing systems. Among the concept areas covered are real and virtual storage management, processor management, process synchronization and communication, I/O management, and file management. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 230, 250, and MATH 207.

CSCI 350 Digital Logic and Computer Organization (3)
A course designed to introduce the student to the basic principles of digital-logic design. Topics covered will include Boolean algebra and gate networks, flip-flops and logic design, the arithmetic-logic unit, memory units, input-output devices and interfacing, control units, and digital circuits. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CSCI 250. Prerequisite or Co-requisite: MATH 307.

CSCI 360 Software Architecture and Design (3)
This course covers the process of constructing software, including the structural views of software components, and their characteristics and interrelationships, at a high level of abstraction. The course also covers the design principles that govern the purpose, structure, development, and evolution of software components. The informal laboratory component of the course uses software design tools to reinforce design processes and associated design representations. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CSCI 230 and MATH 207. Prerequisite or Co-requisite: COMM 104.

CSCI 362 Software Engineering (3)
This course examines the discipline of software engineering. It provides both a historical and contemporary view of the engineering process and methodology used by software development organizations. This course will examine the software development life cycle with particular emphasis on the pertinent roles, activities, and artifacts present at each stage of development. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CSCI 230 and MATH 207. Prerequisite or Co-requisite: COMM 104.

CSCI 380 User Interface Development (3)
Introduction to human-computer interaction and user interface development. Topics include human factors of interactive software, interactive styles, design principles and considerations, development methods and tools, interface quality, and evaluation methods. Stresses the importance of good interfaces and the relationship of user interface design to human-computer interaction.
Lectures three hours per week.

CSCI 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).
Prerequisite: Junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

CSCI 410 Automata and Formal Languages (3)
Topics to include finite automata and regular expressions, pushdown automata and context-free grammars, the Chomsky hierarchy, Turing machines, undecidability, and computational complexity. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: MATH 307.

CSCI 420 Principles of Compiler Design (3)
A course in the formal treatment of programming language translation and compiler design concepts. Topics include scanners, parsers, and translation. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 320 and MATH 307.

CSCI 432 Concepts of Database Implementation (3)
A course to study aspects of the implementation of some of the concepts from CSCI 332. Topics include file organization on secondary storage devices, buffer management, B-trees, hash tables, join algorithms and query from an advanced standpoint: device management, physical database design, query processing, and optimization. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 332 and MATH 307.

CSCI 440 Computer Networks (3)
An introduction to networking theory and practice. Topics include transmission media and modulation; error detection; protocols – particularly TCP/IP; packet switching and circuit switching; physical, data link, network, transport, and application layers; LANs and WANs; network topologies; internetworking and the Internet; queueing theory and mathematical analysis of networks.
Prerequisites: CSCI 340, MATH 250, and MATH 307.

CSCI 450 Architecture of Advanced Computer Systems (3)
A course designed to introduce the student to the basic principles behind the architecture of high-speed computer systems. Topics to be covered include performance and cost measures for computer systems, memory–hierarchy design, pipeline techniques, vector processor architectures, and parallel algorithms. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CSCI 340 or CSCI 350.

CSCI 462 Software Engineering Practicum (3)
This course provides hands-on experience in the practice of group-based software development. Student teams utilize development tools and techniques to implement software solutions to moderately complex problems. This project-based component provides a framework in which students gain both understanding and insight into the application of software engineering principles. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: CSCI 360 or CSCI 362. Prerequisite or Corequisite: COMM 104.

CSCI 470 Principles of Artificial Intelligence (3)
A course introducing fundamental techniques for artificial intelligence. Among topics covered are heuristic search, knowledge representation, intelligent agents, reasoning, neural networks, genetic algorithms, and artificial intelligence programming. Additional topics may include Bayesian networks, natural language processing, machine learning, rule-based systems, robotics, and discovery informatics.
Prerequisites: CSCI 320 and MATH 307.

CSCI 480 Principles of Computer Graphics (3)
An introduction to the fundamental principles of computer graphics. Among the topics covered are graphics hardware, 2-D graphics (including line and circle drawing, transformations, windows, viewpoints, and clipping), 3-D perspective graphics, back-face removal, one or more hidden-surface graphics, and simple light models. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: CSCI 230, MATH 220, and MATH 307.

CSCI 490 Special Topics (3)
An intensive investigation of an area of current interest in computer science. Examples of special topics include: Image Processing; Systems Programming; Computation; Design Patterns; Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

CSCI 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

Decision Science

Please see “notes” in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.

DSCI 232 Business Statistics (3)
Advanced statistical analysis with applications in business and economics utilizing relevant computer software. Topics include business applications in descriptive and inferential statistics emphasizing selected topics such as simple and multiple regression, analysis of variance, time series analysis, and non-parametric techniques.
Prerequisite: MATH 104 or 250.

DSCI 260 Special Topics in Decision Science (1–3)
An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of decision science. Note: Junior standing is a prerequisite for all business 300- and 400-level courses. It is assumed that the student is computer literate.

DSCI 300 Management Information Systems (3)
Survey of transaction processing systems, management information systems, and decision support systems. Introduction of systems analysis concepts and methodologies for information system design and development. System development projects will be required.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, DSCI 232, MATH 104 or 250.

DSCI 304 Production & Operations Management (3)
The planning and control of production and service operations with emphasis on Total Quality Management, demand forecasting, design of production systems, aggregate planning, and inventory management. Additional topics will include just-in-time production, cellular manufacturing, flexible manufacturing systems, robotics, computer-aided design and manufacturing, and quality circles. Students will use appropriate computer software to gain experience with several decision techniques.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; DSCI 232, MGMT 301, MATH 104 or 250, MATH 105 or 120.

DSCI 306 Introduction to Electronic Commerce (3)
An introduction to the theory and practice of doing business over the Internet and World Wide Web. Topical coverage will include an overview of the economic foundations, infrastructure, technologies, and business strategies of E-Commerce.
Prerequisites: MATH 104; ACCT 203, 204, DSCI 232; DSCI 300, junior or senior standing.

DSCI 314 Global Operations and Technology Movement (3)
This course teaches students how to use new technologies to manage the business enterprise and the global supply chain for competitive advantage. The course integrates the control of manufacturing and service operations utilizing emerging technologies to optimize business process and supply chains. Students use a variety of software packages to solve business problems. In addition, the latest theories of technology and knowledge management are used to place technological innovation in a strategic and global perspective.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; DSCI 232, MGMT 301, MATH 104 or 250, MATH 105 or 120.

DSCI 360 Special Topics in Decision Science (1–3)
In-depth treatment of current areas of special concern within the field of decision science. A maximum of six hours of special topics courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.
Prerequisite: Junior standing; other prerequisites depending on topic.

DSCI 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week). The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in the design and supervision of the project. A maximum of six hours of tutorial courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; permission of the tutor and the chair.

DSCI 420 Independent Study (1–3)
The student will select a reading or research project in consultation with a faculty member, who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit to be allowed. A maximum of six hours of independent study courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; written agreement with instructor and chair.

DSCI 444 Decision Sciences Internship (3)
A supplemental source of learning and enhancement to the student’s academic program and career objectives through experiential education engaging the student in a unique three-way partnership between an approved agency and the school. The learning experience will be guided by a learning contracting outlining specific work and academic components. A maximum of three (3) hours of internship credit will be awarded.

Prerequisites: Senior standing and declared major in the School of Business and Economics.

DSCI 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the school. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the school prior to registration for the course.
Prerequisite: Senior standing.

Economics
Please see "notes" in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.
NOTE: Any economics course (three hours) satisfies three hours of the College's social science requirement.

ECON 101 Introduction to Economics (3)
This course covers the history of the development of present-day economic society, as well as considers issues and problems facing the economy, including policies directed at affecting inflation, unemployment and recession, and international trade. Students who have completed ECON 201 or 202 may not subsequently receive credit for ECON 101. However, students may receive credit for ECON 101 before taking ECON 201 and 202. This course satisfies three hours of the social science requirement.

Prerequisites: None.

ECON 201 Principles of Macroeconomics (3)
The foundation of aggregate economic analysis is presented, including identification of basic social goals, money and credit systems, and theories of national income, employment and economic growth, and international interdependence.

Prerequisites: ECON 101 or permission of the instructor.

HONS 211 Honors Macroeconomics (3, 3)
HONS 212
Macroeconomics and microeconomics courses introduce the principles of economics and the history of the development of that theory. Calculus is a prerequisite for both courses, and HONS 211 or its equivalent is a prerequisite for HONS 212. (Satisfies the general education requirement in the social sciences and the principles of economics requirement for students majoring in economics or business.)

ECON 260 Special Topics in Economics (3)
This course is intended for those students who are not business, international business, accounting, or economics majors and who have minimal training in economics. The course is designed for second-semester freshmen and sophomores and will focus on various areas in economics and political economy. This course will not count towards fulfilling the requirements for a business, international business, accounting, or economics degree. In the School of Business and Economics, it will count as a general education elective.

NOTES: ECON 201 and 202 and junior standing are prerequisites for all 300- and 400-level economics courses. All 300- and 400-level economics courses assume the student is computer literate.

ECON 304 Labor Economics (3)
This course examines the workings and outcomes of the market for labor. It is primarily concerned with the behavior of employers and employees in response to the general incentives of wages, prices, profits, and nonpecuniary aspects of the employment relationship. Topics include the supply and demand for labor, investments in human capital, unions, and collective bargaining, and governmental policies affecting labor.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202; MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor; DSCI 232 recommended.

ECON 305 Money and Financial Institutions (3)
An introduction to the operations, mechanics, and structure of the U.S. financial system, with emphasis on its institutions, markets, and instruments, as well as the Federal Reserve System and monetary policy and the effects of policy on the economy and on financial institutions.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor.

ECON 306 Monetary Policy and Theory (3)
A detailed discussion of Federal Reserve policy tools, controversies in monetary policy, proposed reforms, and a comprehensive overview of monetary theory.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor.

ECON 307 Urban Economics (3)
An examination of the economics of spatial organization focusing on the location of economic activity and the growth of cities and regions. This course will provide a theoretical and empirical basis for analyzing contemporary urban issues.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor.

ECON 308 Evolution of Economic Doctrines (3)
A study of the principal contributions to economic theory and method and the relationship of these contributions to their time and to each other.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202; MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor.

ECON 310 International Economics (3)
An approach to the problems of international economic interdependence with special attention given to trade, protectionism, trade policy for developing countries, international investment, the balance of payments, foreign exchange, exchange rate systems, and international economic policy.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202; MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor.

ECON 311 Environmental Economics (3)
This course deals with the institution of property rights and how the absence of property rights may hinder the proper allocation of society’s scarce resources and thereby affect economic efficiency. The course also examines how resources held in the public domain are allocated and ways of how this allocation might be made more efficient.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120 or permission of the instructor.

ECON 316 Evolution of the United States Economy (3)
The growth and development of the U.S. economy from the colonial period to the present are analyzed, with emphasis on the reliance of the changing cultural context to the process of economic development and with emphasis on the institutional framework of economic development.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 317 Microeconomic Analysis (3)
A study of the analytical techniques used in investigating the determination of product and factor prices under different market structures to include analysis of consumer behavior, production theory, market structures, and factor pricing.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120.

ECON 318 Macroeconomic Analysis (3)
A study of classical, Keynesian, and post-Keynesian economics involving the issues of consumption, monetary and fiscal policy, growth, interest, and liquidity.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120.

ECON 320 Managerial Economics (3)
The application of economic principles relating to cost, revenue, profit, and competition that aid business decision making and policy formulation.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, DSCI 232, MATH 104 or 250, MATH 105 or 120, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 325 Economics for Development (3)
An analysis of international poverty and inequality, dualistic development, the employment problem, mobilization of domestic resources, mobilization of foreign resources, human-resource development, agricultural strategy, industrialization strategy, trade strategy, development planning, and policy making.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 104 or 120, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 330 Comparative Economic Systems (3)
An analysis and appraisal of the theories and practices underlying economic systems. Consideration is given to capitalist, socialist, and communist models and economies.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 340 Public Finance (3)
A study of the economics of public goods theory, externalities, and public choice theory. Students will examine the cost and benefit analysis of taxation and expenditures. Public decision making at all levels of government will be examined, and the intervention of government into the market economy.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 350 Financial Markets in the U.S. Economy (3)
An introduction to the operation of financial markets in the U.S. economy, emphasizing market instruments and the use of these instruments by various financial institutions and market participants. The final week of the course is spent attending seminars at various money-center financial institutions and markets.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 305 is recommended. Permission of the instructor is required.

ECON 360 Special Topics in Economics (3)
An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of economics.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 105 or 120, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 399 Tutorial (up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).

Prerequisites: Junior standing, plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

ECON 400 Senior Seminar in Economics (3)
A seminar on particular problems or questions in economic policy. Topics will vary.

Prerequisites: Senior standing and the successful completion of an entrance examination administered by the economics faculty; ECON 201, 202, 305, 317, 318; DSCI 232; MATH 104 or 250, 105 or 120; or permission of the instructor. Designed to be a capstone course, this seminar is required of all economics majors. The tools of economic analysis developed in the prerequisite courses will be used to analyze particular economic problems.

ECON 419 Introduction to Econometrics and Forecasting (3)
An introductory survey of the use of statistical and mathematical methods in economic analysis.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 104 or 250, DSCI 232, or permission of the instructor.

ECON 420 Independent Study (1–3)
The student will select a reading or research project in consultation with a faculty member, who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit to be allowed.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; written agreement of the instructor and permission of the department chair.

ECON 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the school. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the Department of Economics and Finance prior to registration for the course.

Prerequisites: Senior standing and department approval.

Elementary and Early Childhood Education

EDEE 323 The Development of Mathematical Thinking (3)
This course focuses on the factual knowledge, procedural proficiency, and conceptual understanding related to mathematics content and process standards. The parallels of learner development and the progressive nature of mathematics are explored. Teacher candidates will study the elements necessary to achieve high-quality mathematics education.

EDEE 325 Language and Literacy Development (3)
This course explores the nature of language, its functions within language settings, and its history of development within cultures and individuals. The impact of family, community, and dialects upon communication will be investigated. The critical role of story in helping children to communicate effectively is a component of this program.

EDEE 327 Learner Development and the Context of Learning (3)
This course provides candidates an opportunity to develop observational skills in three settings: early childhood, elementary, and middle school. Through the guided field experience, candidates examine how curriculum, instruction, and the learning context change as children and youth develop. The course is linked to the other courses in the semester.

EDEE 365 Teaching Mathematics (3)
This course focuses on the knowledge, dispositions, and performances necessary for quality early childhood mathematics education. Emphasis is on developmentally appropriate instructional strategies linked to the grades P–3 content and process standards. Active learning, lesson planning, ongoing and worthwhile assessment, and informed teacher decision making are major components.

EDEE 366 Teaching Science (3)
This course is designed for the study and practice of teaching methods and materials for science at the early childhood school levels, grades P–3. Emphasis is placed on concept development through questioning techniques, critical thinking, multimedia/technology, and inquiry teaching to meet group and individual needs.

EDEE 368 Teaching Social Studies (3)
This course is designed for the study and practice of teaching methods and materials for science at the elementary and middle school levels, grades 2–8. Emphasis is placed on concept development through questioning techniques, critical thinking, multimedia/technology, and inquiry teaching to meet group and individual needs.

EDEE 370 Health and P.E. (3)
A course designed to develop instructional techniques as related to health and physical education, movement education theory, and the integration of early childhood, elementary, and middle school studies through movement experiences; included is an examination of health concepts and health programs.

EDEE 371 Teaching Social Studies (3)
This course introduces students to all facets of the P–3 social studies experiences needed to guide early childhood school students on the path to responsible citizenship. The course focuses on the highly integrative and multidisciplinary nature of the social studies. Particular emphasis is placed on the integration of history, geography, and civics education with other areas of the curriculum.

EDEE 373 Teaching Social Studies (3)
This course introduces students to all facets of the 2–8 social studies experiences needed to guide early childhood school students on the path to responsible citizenship. The course focuses on the highly integrative and multidisciplinary nature of the social studies. Particular emphasis is placed on the integration of history, geography, and civics education with other areas of the curriculum.

EDEE 375 Reading/Learning Strategies (3)
This course provides a study of reading, writing, and communication in grades P–3. It emphasizes basic literacy, content area literacy, factors affecting those processes, and principles and skills involved in the development of reading and writing in grades P–3.
EDEE 377 Reading/Learning Strategies (3)
This course provides a study of reading, writing, and communication in grades 2–8. It emphasizes basic literacy, content area literacy, factors affecting those processes, and principles and skills involved in the development of reading and writing in grades 2–8.

EDEE 380 Application of Curriculum and Instruction P–3 (3)
This course provides candidates seeking early childhood certification (P–3) an opportunity to observe how teachers teach various subject areas to early childhood students. Candidates teach individual students, small groups of students, and the whole class. Candidates plan for the effective use of curriculum, instruction, and assessment to use standards to meet the developmental needs of early childhood students.

EDEE 382 Application of Curriculum and Instruction 2–6 (3)
This course provides candidates seeking elementary certification (grades 2–6) an opportunity to observe how teachers teach various subject areas to elementary students. Candidates teach individual students, small groups of students, and the whole class. Candidates plan for the effective use of curriculum, instruction, and assessment to use standards to meet the developmental needs of elementary grades students.

EDEE 384 Application of Curriculum and Instruction 5–8 (3)
This course provides candidates seeking middle school certification (grades 5–8) an opportunity to observe how teachers teach various subject areas to early adolescent students. Candidates teach individual students, small groups of students, and the whole class. Candidates plan for the effective use of curriculum, instruction, and assessment to use standards to meet the developmental needs of middle school students.

EDEE 401 Assessment (3)
This course builds upon prior knowledge of literacy to help candidates extend learning to all students and situations. There is an emphasis on utilizing appropriate evaluation techniques, planning age- and subject-appropriate instructional strategies, and the use of assessment to guide instruction and the selection of curriculum.

EDEE 403 Visual and Performing Arts (3)
Candidates examine basic arts concepts and skills, factual or contextual learning about the arts in history and culture, and higher order or critical thinking skills relating to dance, drama/theatre, music, and the visual arts. The course consists of study and experiences in each art form through four curricular components: aesthetic perception, creative expression, historical and cultural heritage, and aesthetic valuing.

EDEE 407 Creating Learning Environments (3)
This course focuses on how teachers create collaborative and inclusive communities of learners. Supportive, preventative, and corrective teaching practices and management strategies are emphasized.

EDEE 409 Meeting the Needs of Diverse Learners (3)
The course examines current research on differentiated instructional strategies. Candidates describe historical and legal factors impacting inclusion. This course presents the fundamental concepts of real estate investment analysis. This course will provide a framework for making real estate investment decisions. Background topics include the legal foundation for real estate ownership, lease agreements, and alternative ownership structures. The course will focus on the development of a financial decision-making model that will incorporate cash flow forecasting and risk analysis.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, FINC 303, ECON 201, 202, MATH 104 or 250, and FINC 375; or permission of the instructor.

FINC 381 Real Estate Finance (3)
This course presents the fundamental concepts of real estate finance. The course provides a framework for understanding the flow of funds into the various real estate markets and how lenders assess risks and price their loans. The course will provide students with practical knowledge to make more informed career choices and an understanding of the institutions and instruments used to finance residential and commercial real estate.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, FINC 303 and 375, ECON 201, 202, and MATH 104 or 250; or permission of the instructor.

FINC 382 International Financial Markets (3)
An introduction to the operation of international financial markets emphasizing the determination of exchange rates, foreign exchange markets, and instruments.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202.

FINC 385 Principles of Risk Management and Insurance (3)
This course is designed to generate an awareness of risk, its effects on individual and business decisions, and the importance of insurance as a risk financing technique. The relationship between risk management and the functional areas of business is examined. Course content includes property and liability insurance, life and health insurance, workers’ compensation and employee benefits.
Prerequisite: Junior standing.

FINC 386 Risk Management (3)
A study of the risk management process, the steps it involves, and the administrative aspects undertaking the risk management process. Focus is on the exposures to accidental losses facing organizations and the relationship between risk management and the functional areas of business.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, FINC 303, ECON 201, 202, MATH 104 or 250.

FINC 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to six hours)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204; ECON 201, 202; MATH 104 or 250; FINC 303; plus permission of the instructor and the chair of the department.

FINC 400 Investment Analysis (3)
Basic investment theory with emphasis given to the analysis of securities, portfolio management, and the operation of the securities market.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, DSCI 232, FINC 303, ECON 201, 202, MATH 104 or 250.

FINC 410 Seminar in Finance (3)
Case analysis in financial problems of the firm emphasizing: analysis of the demand for funds, external and internal sources of funds and their cost to the firm, problems of the multinational firm, and other techniques of financial management such as capital budgeting, cash budgeting, and optimal capital structure.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, FINC 303, ECON 201, 202, MATH 104 or 250.

FINC 420 Independent Studies (1–3)
The student will select a reading or research project in consultation with a faculty member, who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit to be allowed.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; written agreement of the instructor and permission of the department chair.

FINC 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the finance faculty. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the Department of Economics and Finance prior to registration for the course.
Prerequisites: Senior standing and department approval.

French and Francophone Studies

NOTE: For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher-level course prohibits a student from taking a lower-level course in the same language for credit.

FREN 101 Elementary French (3, 3)
FREN 102
Introduces the fundamental structures of French with emphasis on acquisition of the basic language skills: reading and listening comprehension, oral and written expression.
Prerequisite: FREN 101 open only to beginning students of French; placement or FREN 101 is a prerequisite for 102.
NOTE: A student having completed FREN 101 and 102 may not take FREN 150 or 105 for credit.

FREN 101C Elementary French Conversation Supplement (1, 1)
FREN 102C
A one-hour weekly session for intensive listening-speaking practice in French utilizing vocabulary and grammatical structure presented in the corresponding basic course.

Co-requisite: To be taken concurrently with the basic sequence course in which the student is currently enrolled, or in conjunction with the corresponding intensive language course (150).

FREN 105 Basic Review of French Grammar and Syntax (3)
For students who have completed a minimum of two years of high school French as preparation for study at the intermediate level.
NOTE: Credit may not be applied to fulfill the language requirement nor may it count toward the major.

FREN 106 Basic French Conversation (1)
Optional one-hour weekly sessions for intensive listening-speaking practice in French, utilizing vocabulary and grammatical structure presented in a corresponding basic course.
NOTE: A "C" course may be taken only in conjunction with the basic sequence course in which the student is currently enrolled or in conjunction with the corresponding intensive language course (150). Credit may not be applied to fulfill the language requirement nor may it count towards the major.

FREN 213 Language Practicum II (3)
Intensive Maymester or summer session course designed to strengthen communicative skills in French and enhance awareness of French-speaking cultures. Recommended especially for students preparing for study abroad.
NOTE: This elective course may not count toward the major or minor.

FREN 220 Special Assignment Abroad
An internship or other experiential learning project designed to enhance command of French in a French-speaking environment. Assignment to be undertaken and nature of its evaluation to be determined in consultation with the instructor or department chair.

FREN 250 Intensive Intermediate French (6)
Equivalent to FREN 201–202. Aims to develop a basic proficiency in French and familiarity with French culture through practice in the use of the basic language skills and acquisition of vocabulary. Prerequisite: FREN 102, 105 or 150 with a grade of “C+” (2.5) or better, or placement via placement exam. Students are advised not to postpone completion of their language requirement until their senior year since this course might not be available to them.
NOTE: This course covers the materials of FREN 201–202 in one semester. Classes meet five days a week for a total of six hours of instruction. It is designed for students who seek to accelerate their studies of French. Students who have completed FREN 101, 102, or 105 may not receive credit for FREN 150.

LITR 250 Francophone Literature in Translation (3)
A study of major works of Francophone literature in translation from around the world. May not count toward the major.

FREN 313 French Conversation and Composition (3, 3)

FREN 314
Intensive practice in the written and spoken language. Assigned readings and compositions. The course will be conducted in French.
Prerequisite: FREN 202 or 250 or placement for 313; 315 or placement for 314.

FREN 313C Advanced French Conversation (1)
A course dedicated to communicating in French with active participation on the students’ part. This course will not count toward the French major.

FREN 314C Advanced French Conversation (1)
A course dedicated to communicating in French with active participation on the students’ part. This course will not count toward the French major.
FREN 322 Survey of French Literature I (3)
An overview of French literature from the Middle Ages through the 18th century. This course is designed to introduce students to technical vocabulary necessary for critical analysis of different genres.
Prerequisite: FREN 313 or permission of the instructor.

FREN 323 Survey of French Literature II (3)
An overview of French literature of the 19th and 20th centuries. Students will be introduced to the literary movements of this period.
Prerequisite: FREN 313 or permission of the instructor.

FREN 324 French Civilization and Literature (3)
French civilization, history, and customs studied through literature; through the 17th century.
Prerequisite or Co-requisite: FREN 313 or permission of the instructor.

FREN 325 French Civilization and Literature (3)
A continuation of FREN 324, with emphasis on the Enlightenment, the 19th century, and contemporary France.
Prerequisite or Co-requisite: FREN 313 or permission of the instructor.

FREN 330 Collaborative Study (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading French and in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collaborative study course may be repeated up to a maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

FREN 341 Phonetics and Advanced Language Study (3)
Phonetics, corrective drills for the improvement of pronunciation and intonation, as well as the phonological structure of French.
Prerequisite: FREN 313 or 314 and one course from the sequence FREN 322, 323, 324, 325 or permission of the instructor.

FREN 342 Advanced Grammar (3)
A review of the fundamentals of French grammar and structure, with emphasis on verbs and pronouns, as well as the expansion of certain rules in conformity with current usage.
Prerequisite: FREN 313 and 314 or permission of the instructor.

FREN 343 La France Contemporaine (3)
Readings, activities, and discussion of culture and life in modern France.

FREN 350 Intensive Conversation and Composition (6)
Equivalent to FREN 313–314. This course aims to develop fluency in spoken and written French.

FREN 382 French for World Business II (3)
Development of vocabulary and expressions related to international business practices, focusing on business and economic climates and trends with specific goals of developing reading comprehension, cultural understanding, and ability to analyze economic and political discourse. Topics, including structure of French business, sales, advertising, negotiation, banking, imports and exports, will reinforce oral and written communication.

FREN 390 Special Topics in French (3)
Intensive study of a particular subject or theme (Specific topics will be listed in the Schedule of Courses when offered; e.g., History of French Music).

FREN 431 The Middle Ages and Renaissance in France (3)
Study of the beginnings and development of the earliest forms of the novel: The Chansons de geste and Roman Courtous through Rabelais; the evolution of French lyrical poetry through La Pleiade; the growth of theatre from the drame religieux and farce through the birth of French tragedy; and the Humanist movement with an emphasis on Montaigne. Texts will be read in modern versions.

FREN 432 The 17th Century (3)
French Neoclassicism: Descartes, Pascal, Boileau, La Fontaine, the moralists and orators.

FREN 433 The Baroque and Classic Theatre in France (3)
Study of the evolution of theatre in 17th-century France from its origins. Emphasis will be on the works of Corneille, Molière, and Racine.

FREN 434 The 18th Century (3)

FREN 435 Literature of the 19th Century I (3)

FREN 436 Literature of the 19th Century II (3)
Prerequisite: FREN 434 or permission of the instructor for 435.

FREN 437 Twentieth-Century French Literature (3)
A study of the major movements of contemporary French literature.

FREN 438 Theater of the 20th Century (3)
An overview of 20th-century theater. The course will include modern interpretations of classical mythological plays by authors such as Cocteau, Giraudoux, Carnus, Sartre, and Montherlant. Theater à idée or à these by Jarry, Claudel, Sartre, Beckett, and Reza will also be studied, as well as the Nouveau Théâtre by Ionesco, Adamov, Beckett, and Tardieu.

FREN 443 The Novel in France (3)
A survey of its development from the early psychological novel through the modern novel and Nouveau Roman. Theoretical works will be studied as well.

LTFR 450 French Literature in (English) Translation (3)
A study of selected works by major authors representing different cultures with emphasis on common themes as viewed from the perspectives of these writers. May not count toward the major.

FREN 451 African Literature of French Expression (3)
The evolution of the major genres of the African literature in French south of the Sahara from 1808 to present and a study of the main literary currents of some of the significant works of the major writers.

FREN 452 Literature of the Maghreb (3)
This course is designed to explore the historical and social background of this literature and its international success. Colonialism, nationalism, independence, and post-colonialism in North Africa set the stage for writers like Tahar ben Jelloun, Rachid Boujedra, Mohamed Choukri, Asia Djebar to write metaphorically about Islam, women, human rights, oppression, alienation, and immigration.

FREN 474 French Women Writers (3)
This course will survey the historical, religious, and psycho-philosophical aspects of women’s conditions in various cultures, with emphasis on the French experience as portrayed by contemporary women novelists: Golette, Louise de Vilmorin, Françoise Sagan, Simone de Beauvoir, Nathalie Sarraute, Marguerite Duras, and Christiane Rochefort.

FREN 490 Seminar: Special Topics in French (3)
Intensive studies designed to supplement or to investigate more fully offerings in the French curriculum. Formulation of the specific subject matter for the course will reflect both student and faculty interest.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

FREN 496 Directed Reading (1–3)
An individual research course where a student works closely with a professor on an assigned topic.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

FREN 498 Independent Study (1–3)
Research on a topic to be defined by the individual student in consultation with the instructor in the department who will guide the work and determine the credit hours to be assigned.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

FREN 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the French faculty. The student must have a GPA of 3.25 in the major to qualify and must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project must be submitted in writing and approved by the chair. The finished paper will normally be 50 or more pages and will reflect research in the field.

Freshman Seminar

FRSR 101 Freshman Seminar (2)
The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to the value and applications of a liberal arts education. In addition, this course focuses on the benefits of becoming an active member of the academic community by developing self-awareness and awareness of the college community and the community at large.

The course is designed to help freshmen:
1) Understand the maturational changes they will undergo during the college experience and the roles they will play as students.
2) Identify personal and work values, establish realistic career and life goals.
3) Obtain information about academic programs including course, major, and graduation requirements.
4) Understand occupational implications of their educational choices.
5) Develop or improve study and time management skills.
6) Become familiar with the College’s procedures, resources, and services.

NOTE: This course is an elective which applies toward degree requirements.

Geography

GEOG 101 World Regional Geography (3)
This course introduces students to the key concepts of geography through the lens of different regions of the world. Students explore the dynamics of human existence in different settings, arriving at a holistic understanding of life in the region by considering the interaction of physical and human geographies. The focus is on diversity amid the commonalities of human experience. Crosslisted with POLS 104. Students may not earn credit for both courses.

GEOG 103 Environmental Geology (3)
A laboratory course to accompany GEOL 103. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite: GEOL 103. A student cannot get credit for both GEOL 101 and GEOL 103.

GEOG 103L Environmental Geology Laboratory (1)
A laboratory course to accompany GEOL 103. Laboratory three hours per week.
Co-requisite: GEOL 103. A student cannot get credit for both GEOL 101 and GEOL 103.

GEOG 105 Earth History (3)
An overview of the 4.5 billion-year history of our planet as revealed by analysis and interpretation of the geologic and paleontologic record preserved in rocks of the earth’s crust. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: GEOL 101 and 101L or GEOL 103 and 103L.

GEOG 105L Earth History Laboratory (1)
A laboratory course to accompany GEOL 105. Laboratory: three hours per week.
Co-requisite or Prerequisite: GEOL 105.

GEOG 107 Introduction to Coastal and Marine Geology (3)
This course introduces students to the geological processes that form, shape, and modify the world’s oceans and the sediments contained within. Coastal and deep marine depositional environments will be examined from both a modern and ancient perspective.

Prerequisites: GEOL 107 may not be used to fulfill the natural science and general education or geography major requirements. Students may not receive credit for both GEOL 107 and 257.

GEOG 206 Planetary Geology (3)
This course is designed to explore surface landscapes of planets and moons within our solar system. Topics for discussion will include the general physiography of the planetary bodies and the processes that modify their surface morphology (e.g., tectonism, volcanism, impact cratering, eolian, hydrologic, glacial, and other resurfacing processes). Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: GEOL 101 or 105 or permission of the instructor.

GEOG 213 Natural Hazards (3)
This course investigates the scientific aspects of several types of natural hazards (earthquakes, volcanoes, floods, etc.) using in-depth case studies of recent and historical hazardous events. The course will emphasize both hazardous impacts and means of mitigating risks. Case studies of specific events will be used to highlight the social, economic, environmental, and human impacts. Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103 or HONS 155 or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 252 Mineralogy (4)
This course will cover topics relevant to mineral study including: crystallography, crystal chemistry, and the origin and identification of ore minerals and rock-forming minerals. Megascopic, microscopic, and spectroscopic methods will be used in classroom activities. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 257 Marine Geology (4)
A study of geological processes at work in the sea. Discussion of the various marine environments ranging from the nearshore estuarine and coastal environments to those of the deep ocean basins. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor. Students may not receive credit for both GEOL 107 and 257.

GEOL 269 Introduction to Petrology (4)
A study of the origin, evolution, classification, composition, and physical properties of igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic rocks. The three rock groups are related to petrophysical, petrochemical, and tectonic environments. Identification of hand samples and thin sections are taught in the laboratory. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 252; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 272 Stratigraphy and Sedimentation (4)
This course will introduce students to the various stratigraphic principles, relationships, and analyses used by geologists to interpret sedimentary rock sequences. Students will also be introduced to sedimentary processes and properties that can be used to identify and interpret sedimentary environments in the stratigraphic record. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 275 Geomorphology (4)
An introduction to the understanding of geomorphic principles used to interpret the evolution of landforms and the geomorphic history of different regions of the United States. Practical applications to such fields as groundwater hydrology, soil science, and engineering geology. Laboratory sessions will deal with the interpretation of aerial photographs, soil maps, and topographic maps. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 290 Special Topics in Geology (1–4)
This course will be used to offer an examination of topics in geology in which a regular course is not offered. Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 300 Independent Study in Geology (1–3)
An independent research project in which a student works on a research topic under the supervision of a faculty member. The faculty member will help to design and supervise the project. A project proposal will be drafted and approved by both the faculty member and the student researcher and approved by the department chairman.

Prerequisite: Junior class standing or departmental approval.

GEOL 303
An independent research project in which a student works on a research topic under the supervision of a faculty member. The faculty member will help to design and supervise the project. A project proposal will be drafted and approved by both the faculty member and the student researcher and approved by the department chairman.

Prerequisite: Junior class standing or departmental approval.

GEOL 312 Field Methods (3)
Professional geologists are required to interpret geologic and hydrologic data in the context of regulatory policy when attempting to solve environmental problems. This course will provide an introduction and synthesis of field methods and policies typically encountered by environmental geologists in the field, including study of wetlands, groundwater flow and quality, and assessment of contaminated soil and water. Instruction will include the use of case studies to provide a realistic context for the field studies. Lectures two hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101, 105, and 210. Enrollment in GEOL 220 is recommended prior to or concurrent with this course.

GEOL 314 Introduction to Remote Sensing (4)
An introduction to the physical fundamentals of remote sensing. The course uses the electromagnetic spectrum as a guide to various sensor systems and designs. Topics include: electromagnetic spectrum, color theory, photographic films, sensor systems and design, data collection, reduction and application, computer software available, and data acquisition. Course emphasis is on geologic problems. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; MATH 111 or MATH 120; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 320 Earth Resources (3)
Earth resources including metallic ore deposits, nonmetallic deposits, and energy resources utilized by society are classified and described. The compromises between the environmental impact of resource development and industrialization are also studied from a scientific perspective. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 252; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 333 Paleobiology (4)
An investigation of the record of past life on Earth as preserved in the fossil record. Processes and patterns of evolution, evolutionary thought, taxonomic classification, and the origin of life on Earth and its subsequent development are among the subjects covered. The paleobiology of invertebrate taxa, including their morphology, phylogeny, and ecology are stressed in laboratory. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 352 Structural Geology (4)
The mechanical basis of deformation, recognition, classification, interpretation, and origin of structures produced by deformation in the Earth's crust. Deformation as a fundamental concept of tectonics. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 360 Field Studies (4)
Three-week intensive field experience in geologic mapping and interpretation taught in the western United States using topographic base maps, aerial photography, and satellite imagery. Mapping exercises emphasize the description of stratigraphic sections and geologic structures, and an interpretation of geologic history.

Note: Students may substitute this course with another approved College- or university-sponsored geology field class with the permission of the instructor. Under special circumstances, a student may petition the department to substitute an equivalent field experience for GEOL 360.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 252, 269, 272, and 352, or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 385 Internship (1–4)
A student will gain professional geologic experience with an internship at a private geologic firm or governmental agency. A faculty advisor will be appointed to award the grade received. The student will make all internship arrangements, and a written proposal is required before the start of the internship. A report will be required upon completion of the internship. One hour of credit will be awarded for each 45 hours completed with a maximum of four credits awarded.

Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing with at least a 2.5 GPA both overall and in the geology major. This course may not be applied as an elective course required in the major.

GEOL 399 Tutorial (1–3)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).

Prerequisites: Junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

GEOL 411 Tectonics (3)
Global tectonics has revolutionized the earth sciences. This new model of planetary tectonic processes, which has been developed only in the last 20 years, provides an explanation of a wide variety of geologic processes over a wide range scale, with a degree of accuracy unsurpassed by any previous theory. Lectures three hours per week.
GEOL 412 Crustal Geophysics (3)
This course introduces students to geophysical techniques and how they are used to constrain subsurface earth structure. The geophysical techniques covered include gravity and magnetism, seismic refraction and reflection, and earthquake seismology. The course also features a sequenced writing assignment integrating different geophysical techniques into one crustal model.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 272, 333, and 430; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 416 Paleocology (4)
Interpretation of ancient environments from the study of rocks and their contained fossil organisms. Emphasis will be placed on the recurrent paleobiotopes—paleo-olthotopes through geologic time and the evolution of community structure. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 272, 333, and 430; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 430 Sedimentary Petrology (4)
A petrographic approach to the classification and genetic interpretation of sedimentary rocks. Terrigenous sandstones and carbonate rocks will be emphasized with lesser stress on mud rocks and non-carbonate chemical rocks. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 252; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 434 Geology of the Carolinas (3)
An examination of the current state of knowledge of the rocks, structures, and economic minerals of North and South Carolina and immediately surrounding areas, with an emphasis on environmental concerns. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 272 and 352; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 438 Hydrogeology (4)
An introduction to the historical development, significance, and underlying theory of the controls on ground-water movement and geochemical evolution. Emphasis will be placed on analyzing the dynamics of natural flow systems in a variety of geologic terrains. This analysis will then be used to assess water supply and water quality issues for the purposes of decision making. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; MATH 111 or 120; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 440 Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology (4)
Description, classification, occurrence, and geologic significance of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Emphasis is placed on the mineralogy and physical chemistry of silicate and nonsilicate systems. Laboratory consists of the study of igneous and metamorphic rocks in thin section. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; GEOL 252; or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 441 Aqueous Geochemistry (4)
Course focuses on a quantitative understanding of the major classes of inorganic geochemical reactions that control the composition of natural and contaminated ground and surface water systems. Laboratory will focus on calculation methods for ground and surface water samples, analysis of dissolved solutes, and interpretation of water quality data. Lecture three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103, and CHEM 101 or 111 or permission of the instructor.

GEOL 442 Geological Applications of Remote Sensing (4)
This course will cover the application of remote sensing to environmental problems. Topics include: remote sensing theory, data collection, reduction and application, computer software tools, data acquisition, and ties to geographic information systems (GIS). This course assumes a basic understanding of remote sensing. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156. Some computer experience is helpful.

GEOL 444 Quantitative Hydrogeology (3)
A comprehensive survey of the underlying theory and applications of quantitative techniques for assessing groundwater movement, contaminant transport, and geochemical evolution. Emphasis will be placed on applied engineering methods for evaluating aquifer properties from well hydraulics, tracer studies, and laboratory experimentation. The methods will be employed to make engineering decisions concerning the groundwater resource in client-driven—hypothetical and real-world scenarios. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156. Some computer experience is helpful.

GEOL 449 Geographical Information Systems (4)
This course will cover spatial data types and quality, data input operations, database management, data analysis, software design concerns, and various applications for GIS. Computer-based GIS software (PC) will be used throughout the course. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisites: GEOL 101 or 103; GEOL 105 or HONS 155 and 156; or permission of the instructor. Some computer experience is helpful.

GEOL 491 Senior Thesis
This course will normally be conducted during the spring semester of the student's senior year, and consists of conducting, writing, and presenting the results of the research project. The results of the student's research must be presented at a scientific forum approved by his or her research advisor.

A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the Honors College committee prior to registration for the course.

HPCP 199 Introduction to Historic Preservation and Community Planning

HPCP 199 Introduction to Historic Preservation (3)
An introduction to the history and contemporary practice of historic preservation in the U.S. The course includes a survey of the content and context of the heritage to be preserved and examines current preservation practice in preserving buildings, landscapes, and material culture. Issues related to archeology, architectural history, social history, and community planning will be covered.
HPCP 275 The History of Land Design (3)
This course deals with the history of landscape architecture, including urban spaces such as city parks, urban plazas, and both formal and vernacular non-urban landscapes. The course will explore the design and wider meanings of both Western and non-Western landscapes through human history. This course is cross-listed with ARTH 275.

HPCP 290 Special Topics in Historic Preservation (3)
Special topics in historic preservation and community planning includes travel abroad courses. May be repeated for credit with differing topics.

HPCP 299 Preservation Planning Studio (3)
This course will include case studies and a concentrated study of a local project area. “Tools” to promote revitalization and historic preservation will be discussed. Students will work both individually and in groups and will formulate recommendations for the study area. Charleston area political and preservation organizations will be consulted and research resources in the Charleston community will be utilized.
Prerequisite: HPCP 199 or permission of the instructor.

HPCP 315 Urban Design Studio (3)
This studio course will focus on a particular local site as a case study in urban design. Physical, economic, sociological, and architectural aspects of the area will be analyzed and proposals for future development will be formulated. This course will include field research, drawing, and basic model building and will include instruction in the areas of design and graphics.
Prerequisite: URST 310 or permission of the instructor.

HPCP 319 Architectural Design Studio (3)
This will be an introductory studio course in architectural design. The semester will culminate in the design of a house in a historic context. Students will study basics of architectural drawing and representation and will study design fundamentals including spatial sequences, proportions, color theory, structural concepts, and architectural precedents and theories. The instructor is an architect.

HPCP 339 History of American Interiors (3)
A survey of architectural elements and furnishings within American domestic interiors, 1607–1950. Lectures focus on specific periods including historical overviews, analysis of characteristic features of houses’ composition, plans and interior elements (doors, windows, walls, woodwork, floors, ceilings, staircases, and fireplaces), and the stylistic evolution of furniture relating to the periods. This course is cross-listed with ARTH 339.

HPCP 340 Selected Topics in Historic Preservation (3)
Studies of specialized topics in historic preservation or community planning. Can include travel courses. May be repeated for credit with differing topics.

HPCP 410 Internship (1–6)
Internships are intended to provide the opportunity for the student to apply knowledge and skills learned during a normal course of study to actual situations encountered in work with area arts or preservation organizations. Interested students should contact the internship director for specific placement opportunities and application information.

HPCP 415 Senior Seminar (3)
Capstone course for historic preservation and community planning majors. Seminar topics will be announced.
Prerequisite: Senior standing or permission of the instructor.

HPCP 420 Preservation Law and Economics (3)
Introduction to the legal framework of historic preservation, including constitutional law, cultural resources statutes, and relevant local laws and mechanisms. Overview pertains to economic policies, including tax incentives. Material is targeted toward advocacy, to include property rights and fiscal impact issues. Students will pursue a research/practical project of their choosing.
Prerequisites: HPCP 199 and permission of the instructor.

HPCP 490 Independent Study in Historic Preservation (3)
A qualified student who has taken appropriate preparatory courses in the major determines a project to research and write about in consultation with and under the supervision of a departmental member qualified to guide the work. The student will be expected to produce a thorough research paper and to make a public presentation at the end of the semester enrolled.
Prerequisite: Student must be a junior or senior historic preservation and community planning major with an overall GPA of at least 3.00 and a major GPA of at least 3.3.

Hospitality and Tourism

Please see "notes" in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.

HTMT 210 Principles and Practices in Hospitality and Tourism (3)
An overview of the hospitality and tourism field including its historical development, major components, functions, and current and future trends. Does not count toward major GPA except in HTMT major and/or concentration.

HTMT 260 Special Topics in Hospitality and Tourism (1–3)
An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of hospitality and tourism.

HTMT 350 Hospitality and Tourism Marketing (3)
This course examines how leading hospitality and tourism enterprises apply marketing principles to create and retain customers. Special attention is given to the timing, packaging, pricing, channels of distribution, advertising, and personal selling functions of destination-marketing organizations, and convention and meeting facilities.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; HTMT 210, MKTG 302, ECON 201, 202.

HTMT 351 Hotel Management (3)
This course examines hotel management issues emphasizing general management, service, sales, forecasting, financial aspect, rate efficiencies, labor management, and guest relations.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; HTMT 210 or permission of the instructor.

HTMT 352 Services Operations Management (3)
This course focuses on the socio-technical systems of hospitality operations. Through cases, role playing, and computer simulations, students will be exposed to a variety of human relations skills (i.e., communications, negotiating, personal selling) as well as technical skills (i.e., yield management, CRS) required to manage successful “hi-tech hi-touch” businesses.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; HTMT 210 or permission of the instructor.

HTMT 353 Hospitality Sales and Negotiations (3)
Theory and practice of personal selling as used by hospitality and tourism organizations to develop long-term partnerships with customers with emphasis on marketing, planning, communications, presentation, and negotiation skills.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; HTMT 350 or MKTG 302.

HTMT 360 Special Topics in Hospitality and Tourism (1–3)
In-depth treatment of current areas of special concern within the field of business administration. A maximum of six hours of special topics courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; other prerequisites depending on topic.

HTMT 361 Meetings and Convention Management (3)
This course is intended to serve as a comprehensive overview of the Meetings, Exhibitions, and Conventions (MEEC) industry. Learners will achieve a macro working knowledge of MEEC industry principles, practices, operations, and management. Emphasis will be placed on both the supply and demand components of MEEC.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; HTMT 210 or permission of the instructor; ACCT 203.

HTMT 362 Events Management (3)
This course focuses on the cultural origins and significance of celebration within society; an introduction to management of special events and festivals from initial planning through delivery; questions of event feasibility; costing and financial management; assessing and meeting communication objectives; merchandising and marketing; staffing and task analysis; safety and security; debriefing and evaluation.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203; HTMT 210 or ARTM 200; or permission of the instructor.

HTMT 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week). The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in the design and supervision of the project. A maximum of six hours of tutorial courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement. Prerequisites: Junior standing; permission of the tutor and the chair.

HTMT 420 Independent Study (1–3)
The student will select a reading or research project in consultation with a faculty member, who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit to be allowed. A maximum of six hours of independent study courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement. Prerequisites: Junior standing; written agreement with instructor and chair.

HTMT 444 Hospitality Management Internship (3)
A complementary source of learning and enhancement to the student’s academic program and career objectives through experiential education engaging the student in a unique three-way partnership between an approved hospitality partner, the university, and the student. The overall unique learning experience will be guided by a Learning Contract, outlining specific work-related experiences and academic components designed to enhance the student’s knowledge. Finally, a series of regularly scheduled reflection and learning sessions conducted by faculty with support of industry leaders will be required. A maximum of three (3) hours of internship credit will be awarded. Prerequisites: Senior status and declared major in hospitality and tourism management or permission of the instructor.

HTMT 488 Strategic Hospitality and Tourism Management (3)
This course is the capstone course for the HTM program. The course involves the integration and application of interdisciplinary management concepts, theories, and practices instrumental to management success within the hospitality and tourism industry. Prerequisites: Senior status; ACCT 203, ACCT 204, DSCI 232, ECON 201, ECON 202, MGMT 301, MKTG 302, FINC 303, HTMT 210, HTMT 352; HTMT 444 may be taken concurrently; BLAW 205 and DSCI 300 are both recommended.

HTMT 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the school. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the school prior to registration for the course. Prerequisite: Senior standing.

Italian

NOTE: For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher-level course prohibits a student from taking a lower-level course in the same language for credit.

ITAL 101 Elementary Italian (3, 3)
ITAL 102
Introduces the fundamental structure of Italian with emphasis on acquisition of the basic language skills, reading and listening comprehension, and oral and written expression. Prerequisite: ITAL 101 open only to beginning students of Italian; placement or ITAL 101 is a prerequisite for 102.

ITAL 150 Italian Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works from a number of literatures which offer different perspectives on the world and humankind.

ITAL 201 Intermediate Italian (3, 3)
ITAL 202
Develops a basic proficiency in Italian and familiarity with Italian culture through practice in the use of the basic language skills and acquisition of vocabulary. Prerequisite: Placement or ITAL 102 for 201; placement or ITAL 201 for 202.

ITAL 250 Italian Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works, representing major literary periods and genres, which illuminate another language and culture or era of a shared human condition.

ITAL 313 Italian Conversation and Composition I (3, 3)
ITAL 314
Provides intensive practice in the written and spoken language while introducing contemporary cultural materials. Prerequisite: ITAL 202 or placement, or permission of the instructor.

ITAL 328 Italian Language Study Abroad (3)
Designed to develop confidence in communicative skills and greater facility in dealing with ideas in Italian through study in Italy.

ITAL 330 Collateral Study (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading in Italian and in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor, who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collateral study course may be repeated up to maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

ITAL 350 Italian Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works by an author whose influence is felt in the world at large.

ITAL 361 Survey of Italian Literature I (3)
Italian literature studied from its origins to the 18th century. Prerequisite: ITAL 202 or permission of the instructor.

ITAL 362 Survey of Italian Literature II (3)
A continuation of 361. Italian literature from the 18th century to the beginning of the 20th century. Prerequisite: ITAL 202 or permission of the instructor.

ITAL 370 Studies in Italian Film and Literature (3)
Study of major works of literature and their adaptation to the screen, with emphasis on the similarities and differences between the two media. The course will be conducted in English.

ITAL 390 Special Topics in Italian (3)
Intensive study of a particular subject or theme (Specific topics will be listed in the Schedule of Courses when offered; e.g., Italian Contemporary Narrative).

ITAL 450 Italian Literature in (English) Translation (3)
A study of selected works by major authors representing different cultures with emphasis on common themes as viewed from the perspectives of these writers.

ITAL 452 20th-Century Italian Literature (3)
A study of the major works of the 20th-century Italian literature. Prerequisite: ITAL 313 or 314, or permission of the instructor.

Japanese

NOTE: For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher-level course prohibits a student from taking a lower-level course in the same language for credit.

JPNS 101 Elementary Japanese (3, 3)
JPNS 102
Introduces the fundamental structures of Japanese with emphasis on acquisition of the listening comprehension and oral expression. Introduction to the writing and reading of Japanese characters. Prerequisites: JPNS 101 is only open to beginning students of Japanese; placement or JPNS 101 is a prerequisite for 102.

JPNS 150 Japanese Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works from a number of literatures which offer different perspectives on the world and humankind.
Courses • 147

JPNS 201 Intermediate Japanese (3, 3)
JPNS 202
Develops a proficiency in Japanese and familiarity with Japanese culture through practice in the use of the basic language skills (listening, speaking, reading, writing) and acquisition of vocabulary.
Prerequisites: Placement or JPNS 102 for JPNS 201; placement or JPNS 201 for JPNS 202.

JPNS 290 Special Topics (3)
LTJP 250 Japanese Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works, representing major literary periods and genres, which illuminate another language and culture or era of a shared human condition.

JPNS 313 Japanese Conversation and Composition (3, 3)
JPNS 314
Strengthens the development of communication skills in Japanese, while introducing the culture which shapes the people of Japan. Attention will be given to various writing styles and achievement of them by regularly assigned compositions.
Prerequisites: Placement or JPNS 202 for 313; placement or JPNS 313 for 314.

JPNS 330 Collateral Study (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading Japanese and in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor, who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collateral study course may be repeated up to a maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

JPNS 343 Advanced Japanese Conversation and Composition (3)
Advanced study of Japanese which provides intensive practice in the spoken and written language. Students will be exposed to a wide range of functional skills as well as sociocultural information necessary for smooth communication in Japanese. Special emphasis is put on vocabulary and grammar used to express different levels of politeness.
Prerequisite: JPNS 314 or permission of the instructor.

LTJP 350 Japanese Literature in (English) Translation (3)
Study of selected works by an author whose influence is felt in the world at large.

JPNS 390 Special Topics (3)
LTJP 390 Special Topics (3)
LTJP 450 Japanese Literature in (English) Translation: Comparative Literature (3)
Study of selected works by major authors representing different cultures with emphasis on common themes as viewed from the perspectives of these writers.

Jewish Studies

JWST 200 The Jewish Tradition (3)
A multidisciplinary introduction to the history, beliefs, practices, and institutions of the Jewish tradition, from its biblical foundations to the modern state of Israel.
NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit if credit has been received for RELS 225.

JWST 240 Jewish Philosophy (3)
A historical survey of some major philosophical themes and debates within the Jewish tradition. Readings will be drawn from biblical, rabbinic, medieval, and modern sources. Texts and authors may include Job, Ecclesiastes, Pirke Avot, Philo, Maimonides, Spinoza, Mendelsohn, Rosenzweig, Buber, and Levinas.

JWST 300 Special Topics (3)
An examination of an area in Jewish studies for which no regular course is offered. The course may be repeated for credit if the content is different. The specific topic will be listed when the course is offered.

JWST 400 Independent Study (3)
Individually supervised readings and study of some work, problem, or topic in Jewish studies of the student’s interest. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the director or associate director prior to registration for the course.

Latin American and Caribbean Studies

LACS 101 Introduction to Latin American and Caribbean Studies (3)
This course is designed as an interdisciplinary introduction to Latin America and the Caribbean through a study of its history, geography, politics, economic systems, literature, and art. Although it is impossible to cover all of the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean (Mexico, Central and South America, and the Caribbean) in one semester, students will gain an insight into some of the major historical events and cultural developments of the region. Several members of the College of Charleston faculty with expertise in certain aspects of Latin America and the Caribbean will present lectures.
NOTE: This course can satisfy either the social science or humanities degree requirement.

LACS 103 Introduction to Contemporary Cuba (3)
A multi-disciplinary introduction to 20th-century Cuba, its civilization and culture including politics, economy, social history, and the arts. The course will make the Cuban Revolution a particular focus – its accomplishments, and the present-day struggle over its future. Study visits, day trips, special lectures by Cuban scholars, and guided study tours to museums, natural parks, and Pinar del Rio province among other sites will be an integral part of this course.
NOTE: This course can satisfy either the social science or humanities degree requirement.

LACS 104 Introduction to Contemporary Chile (3)
This course is a multi-disciplinary introduction to the civilization and culture of Chile. The course will provide an overview of the 19th century, starting with the period of independence, but the main focus will be on 20th-century development, including politics, social history, economy, and the arts. Study tours to museums, cultural centers, and historical sites will be an integral part of the course as offered under the study abroad program in Chile.
NOTE: This course can satisfy either the social science or humanities degree requirement.

LACS 105 Introduction to Contemporary Brazil (3)
Students will travel to distinct regions of Brazil to gain a better understanding of the different Brazilian peoples and cultures. This intensive two-week course will examine current issues in Brazil, such as politics, history, economy, geography/land distribution, ecology, art, and popular culture. Guided study tours to museums, cultural centers, historical sites, and natural parks will be part of this course.
NOTE: This course can satisfy either the social science or humanities degree requirement.

LACS 106 Introduction to Contemporary Argentina (3)
An introduction to late 20th- and 21st-century Argentina, its civilization and culture including politics, economy, social history, the arts, and literature. This course will only be given in Argentina as part of a College of Charleston study-abroad program.
NOTE: This course can satisfy either the social science or humanities degree requirement.

LACS 200 Special Topics in Latin American and Caribbean Studies (3)
Basic introductory examination of a specialized topic in Latin American and Caribbean studies. Specific topic will be listed with the course title when offered.

LACS 300 Special Topics in Latin American and Caribbean Studies (3)
Intensive examination of a specialized topic in Latin American and Caribbean studies. Specific topic will be listed with the course title when offered.

LACS 400 Independent Study in Latin American and Caribbean Studies (3)
This course is designed for the student seeking to do specialized reading and/or research in a topic on Latin America or the Caribbean.

Latin

NOTE: For foreign language courses that range from 101 to 202, successful completion of a higher-level course prohibits a student from taking a lower-level course in the same language for credit.
LATN 101 Elementary Latin (3, 3)
Introduces the fundamental grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of Latin with emphasis on reading comprehension.
Prerequisites: LATN 101 is open only to beginning students of Latin; placement or LATN 101 is a prerequisite for 102.

LATN 150 Intensive Elementary Latin (6)
An introduction to the fundamental grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of Latin with emphasis on reading comprehension.
Prerequisite: This course is open only to beginning students in Latin.
NOTE: This course covers the materials of LATN 101–102 in one semester. Classes meet five days a week for a total of six hours of instruction. It is designed for students who seek to accelerate their study of Latin. Students who have completed LATN 101 and/or 102 may not receive credit for LATN 150. Students who complete LATN 150 may not receive credit for 101 or 102.

LATN 201 Intermediate Latin (3, 3)
LATN 202
Completes the introduction to basic Latin grammar, syntax, and vocabulary, followed by an introduction to the reading of Latin literature.
Prerequisite: Placement or LATN 102 or 150 for LATN 201; placement or LATN 201 for LATN 202.

LATN 250 Intensive Intermediate Latin (6)
Completes the introduction to basic Latin grammar, syntax, and vocabulary, followed by an introduction to the reading of Latin literature.
Prerequisite: LATN 102 or 150 with a grade of “C+” (2.5) or better, or placement via placement exam. Students are advised not to postpone completion of their language requirement until their senior year, since this course might not be available to them.
NOTE: This course covers the materials of LATN 201–202 in one semester. Classes meet five days a week for a total of six hours of instruction. It is designed for students who seek to accelerate their studies of Latin. Having completed 201 and/or 202, students may not take 250 for credit; conversely, students who complete LATN 250 may not receive credit for 201 or 202.
NOTE: LATN 202 or 250 or their equivalents are prerequisites for all 300-level Latin courses.

LATN 301 Introduction to Latin Literature (3)
An introduction to the literature of the Classical period through selected readings from the works of major authors.

LATN 305 Medieval Latin (3)
An introduction to the reading of Medieval Latin prose and verse.
NOTE: LATN 301 and 305 are prerequisites for all other 300-level Latin courses.

LATN 321 Cicero (3)
Selected readings from one or more of Cicero’s speeches, letters, or philosophical works.

LATN 322 Vergil (3)
Selections from the Aeneid will be read.

LATN 323 Roman Historiography (3)
The style and content of Roman historical literature will be studied through readings from one or more of the major historians.

LATN 371 Roman Comedy (3)
Representative plays of Plautus and Terence will be read.

LATN 372 Roman Satire (3)
Survey of Roman satirical literature with emphasis on Horace and Juvenal.

LATN 373 Roman Biography (3)
A study of the Roman biographical tradition with readings from Cornelius Nepos, Tacitus, or Suetonius.

LING 385 Teaching Latin in Elementary and Middle Schools (3)
Please see course description under Linguistics.

LATN 390 Special Topics (3)
Intensive study of a particular author or theme.

LATN 490 Seminar: Special Topics in Latin (3)
Intensive studies designed to supplement or to investigate more fully offerings in the Latin curriculum.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

LATN 496 Directed Readings (1–3)
Individually supervised readings in Latin, agreed upon in consultation with the instructor. Credit hours assigned will be determined by the nature and extent of the reading.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

LATN 498 Independent Study (1–3)
Research on a topic to be defined by the individual student in consultation with the instructor in the department who will guide the work and determine the number of credit hours to be assigned. Does not count toward the major or minor in Spanish. A proposal must be submitted and approved by the department prior to registration.
Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor and departmental approval prior to registration.

LING 385 Teaching Latin in Elementary and Middle Schools (3)
Training in the audio-lingual method of teaching simple Latin dialogues; strategies for transferring Latin vocabulary to English; an introduction to selected stories from classical mythology and to certain aspects of Roman culture.
NOTE: Although this course may be applied toward a major in Classical studies, it does not count toward the minimum degree requirement in humanities. This course does not count toward a minor in linguistics; it is not part of the linguistics program.

LING 498 Independent Study (1–3)
Research on a linguistic issue/topic to be defined by the individual student in consultation with the instructor in the department who will guide the work and determine the number of credit hours to be assigned. Does not count toward the major or minor in Spanish. A proposal must be submitted and approved by the department prior to registration.
Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor and departmental approval prior to registration.

LING 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done in English, during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor. A project proposal must be submitted and approved. May apply to the minor in linguistics. A proposal must be submitted and approved by the department prior to registration.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

Library

LIBR 105 Electronic Resources for Research
This course concentrates upon theory and application of electronic information resources for research purposes. These sources will include online library systems, computerized indexes/abstracts, the Internet, and CD ROM databases. Some basic knowledge and understanding of library research is assumed.

LING 125 Introduction to Language and Linguistics (3)
As an interdisciplinary course, it provides an introduction to language, and the scientific and social aspects of linguistics such as phonology, morphology, syntax, language acquisition, evolution, variation, and other applied linguistic topics.

LING 385 Teaching Latin in Elementary and Middle Schools (3)
Training in the audio-lingual method of teaching simple Latin dialogues; strategies for transferring Latin vocabulary to English; an introduction to selected stories from classical mythology and to certain aspects of Roman culture.
NOTE: Although this course may be applied toward a major in Classical studies, it does not count toward the minimum degree requirement in humanities. This course does not count toward a minor in linguistics; it is not part of the linguistics program.

LING 498 Independent Study (1–3)
Research on a linguistic issue/topic to be defined by the individual student in consultation with the instructor in the department who will guide the work and determine the number of credit hours to be assigned. Does not count toward the major or minor in Spanish. A proposal must be submitted and approved by the department prior to registration.
Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor and departmental approval prior to registration.

LING 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done in English, during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor. A project proposal must be submitted and approved. May apply to the minor in linguistics. A proposal must be submitted and approved by the department prior to registration.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

Mathematics

Before enrolling in a mathematics course, all entering students are advised to consult with their major academic advisor, the Academic Advising and Planning Center, or a member of the Department of Mathematics.
NOTE: The frequency with which courses are offered is determined primarily by student needs and the desire to offer a balanced program for our majors. Following each course description is a code that indicates when, at a minimum, the Department of Mathematics plans to offer each course.

Courses without a code are offered when there is sufficient student interest from students and faculty.

MATH 099 College Algebra Lab (1)
A laboratory program required for students in designated sections of MATH 101. The program will supplement class instruction. Other activities may include viewing videos on algebra topics and the use of graphing calculators. Applications of algebra topics will be explored. The credit hour earned in this lab may not be applied toward degree requirements.
Co-requisite: MATH 101.
MATH 101 College Algebra (3)
A course that emphasizes algebraic functions. Topics include algebraic equations and inequalities, and the properties and graphs of algebraic functions. F, S, Su.
NOTE: Credit hours earned in this course may not be applied toward minimum degree requirements in mathematics/logic. Students who have completed MATH 105, 111, or 120 may not subsequently receive credit toward graduation for MATH 101.

MATH 102 Trigonometry (3)
A course emphasizing the circular functions and their analytic properties. Topics include graphs of the trigonometric functions, identities, trigonometric equations, inverse trigonometric functions, logarithms, and the solution of triangles.
NOTE: Credit hours earned in this course may not be applied toward minimum degree requirements in mathematics/logic. Students who have completed MATH 105 or 120 may not subsequently receive credit toward graduation for MATH 102.

MATH 103 Contemporary Mathematics with Applications (3)
A course designed to introduce students to a variety of mathematical topics and applications. Topics include mathematical logic, counting methods and combinatorics, axioms and applications of probability and conditional probability. Additional topics will be selected by the instructor and may include topics from graph theory, set theory, voting and apportionment, geometry, financial mathematics, and management science. The course is primarily intended for students who are not planning to take more advanced mathematics courses. F, S, Su.
Prerequisites: MATH 101 or placement.

MATH 104 Elementary Statistics (3)
Probability concepts, descriptive statistics, binomial and normal distributions, confidence intervals, and tests of hypotheses. F, S, Su.
Prerequisite: MATH 101 or placement.
NOTE: Students may not receive credit for MATH 104 after having received credit for a higher-level statistics or probability course.

MATH 105 Calculus for Business and the Social Sciences (3)
A one-semester course designed to introduce the basic concepts of calculus to students who are not majoring in mathematics or the natural sciences. Emphasis will be on applications of calculus to various disciplines. Not intended for those who plan to take additional calculus courses. F, S, Su.
Prerequisite: MATH 101 or placement.
NOTE: Students may not receive credit toward graduation for more than one of MATH 105, MATH 120, and HONS 115.

MATH 111 Pre-Calculus Mathematics (4)
A course that emphasizes the function concept. Topics include graphs of functions, the algebra of functions, inverse functions, the elementary functions, and inequalities. F, S, Su.
Prerequisite: Placement or MATH 101.
NOTE: Students who complete MATH 120 may not subsequently receive credit toward graduation for MATH 111.

MATH 115 Calculus Bridge (2)
Course topics will include a trigonometry review, limits and continuity, derivatives of trigonometric functions, the Mean Value theorem, Riemann sums, integration by substitution, and the calculus of logarithmic and exponential functions. Successful completion of this course allows students to proceed to MATH 220.
Prerequisite: This course is available only to students who have completed MATH 105 with a grade of ‘A’ in the previous year.
NOTE: Students may not receive credit toward graduation for both MATH 115 and MATH 120.

MATH 120 Introductory Calculus (4)
This introductory calculus course for students in mathematics and the natural sciences includes the calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, exponential, and logarithmic functions. Topics will include limits and continuity, derivatives, the Mean Value Theorem, applications of derivatives, the Riemann integral, and the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. A thorough knowledge of precalculus concepts will be assumed. F, S, Su.
Prerequisites: MATH 111 or placement.
NOTE: See the notes below MATH 105, 111, 115, and HONS 115.

MATH 121 Introductory Calculus Laboratory (1)
Laboratory to accompany MATH 120. Students will be introduced to using modern computer algebra systems implemented on digital computers to develop a deeper understanding of calculus concepts and applications. The topics covered will closely follow those of MATH 120: limits, derivatives, integrals, and the fundamental theorem of calculus.
Co-requisite or Prerequisite: MATH 120

MATH 140 Intuitive Geometry for Teachers (3)
This is a course in geometry designed primarily for the elementary and middle school teacher. Topics include sets, basic concepts of geometry, the metric system, perimeter, area, and volume. Emphasis will be placed on problem solving. Some parallel reading on math education will be required.
NOTE: Credit hours earned in this course may not be applied toward minimum degree requirements in mathematics/logic.

MATH 203 Linear Algebra (3)
Prerequisites: MATH 220 or permission of the instructor.

MATH 207 Discrete Structures I (3)
Theoretical concepts applicable to the theory of computing. Topics covered will be from the areas of formal logic and proofs, sets, matrix algebra, relations and functions, recurrence relations, and graph theory. F, S, Su.
Prerequisites: MATH 105 and 111, or 120.

MATH 220 Calculus II (4)
The continuation of MATH 120, covering techniques and applications of integration, parametrized curves and polar coordinates, infinite sequences and series, power series and Taylor’s Theorem. F, S, Su.
Prerequisite: MATH 120 or HONS 115 or both MATH 105 and MATH 115.
NOTE: Students may not receive credit toward graduation for both MATH 220 and HONS 225.

MATH 221 Calculus III (4)
Geometry of two- and three-dimensional spaces, limits and continuity of functions of several variables, vector-valued functions, partial derivatives, directional derivatives, Lagrange multipliers, multiple integrals, line integrals, Green’s theorem, and surface integrals. F, S.
Prerequisite: MATH 220.

MATH 245 Numerical Methods and Mathematical Computing (3)
Mathematical methods for computing numerical solutions to various problems will be studied, together with computer software for applying these methods, both interactively and by writing programs. Topics covered will include the effects of rounding and error in machine arithmetic, methods for finding roots, numerical differentiation and integration, and approximation of functions. F.
Prerequisite: MATH 203, 220, or permission of the instructor. Co-requisite: MATH 246.

MATH 246 Mathematical Computing and Programming Laboratory (1)
A laboratory course intended to accompany MATH 245. Students will be introduced to a modern software environment for interactive mathematical computation and programming. Laboratory exercises designed to be completed within the scheduled 150 minutes of laboratory time will be assigned each week. Additional programming assignments to be completed outside the laboratory will also be given. Laboratory meets three hours per week. F.
Prerequisite: MATH 220 or permission of the instructor.

MATH 250 Statistical Methods I (3)
Course topics will include descriptive statistics, probability distributions, estimation, hypothesis testing, correlation, and simple linear regression. Statistical quality control, analysis of variance, and other topics will be introduced as time permits. A statistics software package will be used. F, S, Su.
Prerequisite: Either MATH 111, 120, or permission of the instructor.

MATH 260 Mathematical Modeling and Public Decision-Making (3)
This is an introductory course in basic mathematical concepts and models that can be applied to the decision-making process in the public sector. Both continuous and discrete models will be examined. Topics will be chosen from the following: linear programming, growth processes, utility analysis, graph theory, game theory, group decision making and Arrow’s impossibility theorem, coalition formation, and voting behavior.
Prerequisite: MATH 104 and 105 or equivalent.

MATH 290 Topics in Introductory Mathematics (3)
This course focuses on a topic of intermediate-level mathematics. Possible topics are: foundations of mathematics, graph theory, combinatorics, non-parametric statistics, and elementary number theory.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

NOTE: Since the content changes, this course may be repeated for credit.

MATH 295 An Introduction to Abstract Mathematics (3)
This course is intended to provide a transition from the calculus sequence to more advanced courses requiring an ability to do proofs. Topics include elementary propositional logic, set theory, mathematical induction, functions, and relations. F, S.

Prerequisite: MATH 205 or 221.

MATH 303 Abstract Algebra I (3)
An introduction to algebraic structures. Topics will include groups, rings, and fields. F, S.

Prerequisites: MATH 205 and 295.

MATH 305 Elementary Number Theory (3)
An introduction to number theory, including divisibility, primes, the fundamental theorem of arithmetic, arithmetic functions, and congruences. Additional topics from these areas, as well as diophantine equations and the theory of real numbers, will be included as time permits. Designed to extend the student’s abilities to read mathematics and write proofs. S.

Prerequisite: MATH 295 or permission of the instructor.

MATH 307 Discrete Structures II (3)
A continuation of MATH 207, including topics from combinatorics and probability, algebraic structures (such as Boolean algebras, semigroups, and groups), automata, and languages. F, S.

Prerequisite: MATH 205 or 207.

MATH 311 Advanced Calculus I (3)
The theoretical underpinnings of the calculus of functions from R to R. Topics will include sequential limits, the completeness of R and related theorems (Heine-Borel, Bolzano-Weierstrass, etc.), function limits, continuity and uniform continuity, differentiability, Riemann integrability, and the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. F.

Prerequisites: MATH 221 and 295.

MATH 320 History of Mathematics (3)
Number systems, historical problems of geometry, development of modern concepts in algebra, analytic geometry, and calculus. S.

Prerequisite: 12 semester hours in mathematics courses numbered 200 or higher.

MATH 323 Differential Equations (3)
An introductory course designed to acquaint students with methods used in computing and analyzing the quantitative and qualitative behavior of solutions of ordinary differential equations. Applications of ordinary differential equations will also be discussed. Among the topics to be covered are: first-order and higher-order linear equations, simple numerical methods, the Laplace transform, eigenvalue techniques, systems of equations, and phase plane analysis. F, S, Su.

Prerequisites: MATH 221 and either 203 or permission of the instructor.

MATH 340 Axiomatic Geometry (3)
An axiomatic development of Euclidean geometry, with topics from non-Euclidean geometry and projective geometry as time allows. F.

Prerequisite: MATH 295 or permission of the instructor.

MATH 350 Statistical Methods II (3)
Statistical methods with topics selected from regression, correlation, analysis of variance, non-parametric statistics, and other models. S.

Prerequisites: MATH 120 and 250.

MATH 355 Bayesian Statistical Inference (3)
Bayesian philosophy towards statistical inference uses prior information about a problem before data has been collected. After data has been observed, this prior information is updated consistently with the observed data. Bayesian statistics can successfully handle complex statistical models where classical statistical methodology is inadequate. Topics covered include Bayes theorem, DeFinetti representation, Bayes factors in hypothesis testing, Bayesian set estimation, hierarchical and empirical Bayes models, admissibility of Bayes decision rules, MCMC and Gibbs sampling.

Prerequisite: MATH 250.

MATH 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).

Prerequisites: Junior standing, plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

MATH 401 Introduction to Point Set Topology (3)
Introductory concepts, topologies and topological spaces, functions, continuity, homeomorphisms, connected spaces, compact spaces, and applications of topology in analysis.

Prerequisite: MATH 311.

MATH 403 Abstract Algebra II (3)
This course is a continuation of MATH 303. Topics will be chosen from rings, fields, ideals, factor rings, extension fields, automorphisms, and Galois Theory. F.

Prerequisite: MATH 305.

MATH 411 Advanced Calculus II (3)
The sequel to MATH 311, intended to prepare students for graduate study in measure theory and other analysis. Topics may include topological concepts in Rn, the calculus of multivariate and vector-valued functions, power series and uniform convergence, the Weierstrass Approximation Theorem, and generalizations of the Riemann integral. S.

Prerequisites: MATH 203 and 311.

MATH 415 Complex Analysis (3)
The complex number system, analytic functions, integration, power series, residue theory, analytic continuation, and conformal mapping.

Prerequisite: MATH 311.

MATH 417/418 Reading and Research (1–3)
Directed reading in mathematics. Open to qualified seniors with permission of the Department of Mathematics. A student may take this course for one or two semesters, earning one to three hours credit each semester. Credit value in each case will be determined by the type of problem considered.

Prerequisites: Senior standing and permission of the instructor and department chair.

MATH 421 Vector and Tensor Analysis (3)
A systematic development of the differential and integral calculus of vector and tensor functions, followed by a brief introduction to differential geometry and the mathematics of theoretical physics.

Prerequisite: MATH 311.

MATH 423 Introduction to Partial Differential Equations (3)
Study of heat, potential, and wave equations in rectangular, polar, and cylindrical coordinate systems. Separation of variables and eigenfunction expansion techniques. Sturm-Liouville theory. F.

Prerequisites: MATH 221 and 323.

MATH 440 Statistical Learning I (3)
Introduction to various approaches to statistical learning including empirical processes, classification and clustering, nonparametric density estimation and regression, model selection and adaptive procedures, bootstrapping and cross-validation.

Prerequisites: MATH 203, 220, and 350.

MATH 441 Statistical Learning II (3)
Neural networks, nearest neighbor procedures, Vapnik-Chervonenkis dimension, support vector machines, structural risk minimization induction, regularization methods, and boosting and bagging in classification and regression.

Prerequisite: MATH 440.

MATH 450 Discrete Mathematical Models (3)
An introduction to the theory and practice of building and studying discrete mathematical models for real-world situations encountered in the social, life, and management sciences. Mathematics related to graph theory, game theory, Markov chains, combinatorics, difference equations, and other topics will be developed as needed to study the models. S.

Prerequisites: MATH 203, either MATH 250 or 350, and CSCI 220 or MATH 245, or permission of the instructor.

MATH 451 Linear Programming and Optimization (3)
An introduction to deterministic models in operations research. Topics include linear programming, network analysis, dynamic programming, and game theory. F.

Prerequisites: MATH 203, 221, and CSCI 220 or MATH 245, or permission of the instructor.

MATH 452 Operations Research (3)
An introduction to probabilistic models in operations research. Topics include queuing theory, applications of
MATH 460 Continuous Mathematical Models (3)

An introduction to the theory and practice of building and studying continuous mathematical models for real-world situations encountered in the physical, social, life, and management sciences. Particular emphasis will be placed on models that arise in such fields as economics, population growth, ecology, epidemiology, and energy conservation. Advanced topics in differential equations and integral equations will be developed as needed to study the models. E.
Prerequisites: MATH 203, 323, and 245 or permission of the instructor.

MATH 480 Topics in Applied Mathematics (3)

A semester course on an advanced topic in applied mathematics.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

MATH 485 Topics in Pure Mathematics

A semester course on an advanced topic in pure mathematics.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

NOTE: Since the content changes, this course may be repeated for credit.

MATH 490 Practicum in Mathematics (3)

This course is intended to give students real-world experiences in applications of mathematics through internships, case studies, or projects undertaken by small groups of students under faculty supervision or the joint supervision of a faculty member and an industrial mathematician. It is the student’s responsibility to submit a written practicum proposal to the applied mathematics committee in the semester prior to that in which the practicum is to be done (normally in the senior year). Reports will be submitted by the students describing and analyzing their internships or projects.
Prerequisites: Senior standing and permission of the instructor and department chair.

MATH 495 Capstone in Mathematics (3)

Review of the core curriculum and foundations of mathematics. Readings will be taken from advanced texts, surveys, and student-oriented journals. Emphasis on presentation of mathematics both orally and in writing. Weekly written assignments, a term paper, and at least one oral presentation are required. S.
Prerequisites: Completion of other core courses and senior standing or permission of the department chair.

MATH 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)

A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and department chair.

MATH 530 Mathematical Statistics I (3)

Probability, probability functions, probability densities, mathematical expectation, sums of random variables, and sampling distributions. F.
Prerequisite: MATH 221.

MATH 531 Mathematical Statistics II (3)

Decision theory, estimation, hypothesis testing, regression, correlation, and analysis of variance. S.
Prerequisite: MATH 530.

MATH 545 Numerical Analysis (3)

Topics include numerical methods for solving ordinary differential equations, direct methods and iterative methods in numerical linear algebra, and selected topics in functions of several variables. S.
Prerequisites: MATH 203, 245, and 323.

Management

Please see “notes” in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.

MGMT 105 Introduction to Business (3)

This course is for all students of the College who are interested in a survey of the activities that occur in a business institution. The various types and forms of business organizations will be presented and analyzed with special emphasis on the role of the business enterprise in society. Business school majors who have completed or are concurrently enrolled in a 300- or 400-level business, international business, economics, or accounting course may not receive credit for this course. The course will not be applied toward the GPA in business, international business, economics, or accounting.

MGMT 206 Special Topics in Management (1–3)

An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of management.

MGMT 301 Management and Organizational Behavior (3)

This course approaches management as that process of reaching organizational goals by working with and through people and other resources. Organizations are treated as dynamic entities affected by individual and group behavior as well as structural and environmental factors. International as well as domestic situations are examined.
Prerequisite: Junior standing. Enrollment restricted to declared majors.

MGMT 307 Human Resource Management (3)

A review of personnel policy, manpower planning, staffing, training, and development, compensation administration, and union-management relations.
Prerequisite: Junior standing; MGMT 301.

MGMT 308 Managing Diversity (3)

This course will examine demographic diversity in today’s global environment. It will begin by exploring global migration, immigration, and refugee issues from an international business perspective. Specific national or regional business cultures and differing perspectives on gender, family, age, ethnicity, and treatment of the disabled will also be examined through case studies, readings, and role playing. The course will subsequently examine the effects of diversity on international corporate structure and behavior and demonstrate, through case studies and guest speakers, how proactive businesses have adapted to changes in demographic diversity and gained a competitive advantage.
Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MGMT 310 International Human Resources (3)

The study of international human resource management focuses on the impact and expansion of international trade and growth of U.S. multinational operations abroad and the effects on employees. It stresses the ability to understand the forces creating variations of HR systems across nations, culture, labor, governments, and unions.
Prerequisite: MGMT 206.

MGMT 319 The Creation of New Business Enterprises (3)

This course provides students with an understanding of the business planning techniques — economic analysis, financial analysis, market analysis, accounting practices, and human resource analysis — which are utilized in conceiving and launching a new business. A new venture simulation, which includes self-assessment exercises and a discussion of research concerning successful entrepreneurial characteristics, is completed by all students.
Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MGMT 322 International Business (3)

A study of the environment and operations of international business with emphasis on the nature and scope of international business, the framework of international trade transactions, the nation-state and international business, assessing national environments, and managing the multinational enterprise.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201 and 202.

MGMT 325 International Management (3)

This course examines a variety of managerial issues arising from the interaction of two or more cultures in international business situations. The course extends the management and organizational behavior constructs introduced in the prerequisite course, with particular emphasis on problem solving and decision making in the multicultural firm.
Prerequisites: Junior standing; MGMT 301.

MGMT 332 Business Communications (3)

This course develops an understanding of the theory of human communication so that one can apply it in an organizational setting requiring both oral and written expression of properly identified and presented decisions. The course content will include interpersonal, interorganizational, and communication theory; principles of human behavior and their application to business communication; and principles involved in the writing of various letters, memos, and reports.

Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MGMT 345 Leadership and Management Development (3)

An investigation of the factors which determine leadership with special emphasis on the leader’s vision. The effectiveness of leaders from a wide variety of disciplines will be examined. Contemporary leaders will be selected in order to apply theories and concepts to current situations which can be easily visualized.

Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MGMT 390 The New South Carolina: Foreign and Domestic Industrial Development (3)

An in-depth analysis of South Carolina’s changing role as a member of the national and international economic scene. The course offers an opportunity to interact with industrial leaders from government, banking, manufacturing, and service areas. The course includes visits to industrial sites in South Carolina.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201 and 202 or permission of the instructor.

MGMT 405 Small Business Management (3)

This course deals with the overall management of small firms. Students will work on cases provided by the instructor. The cases require that students help real businesses solve problems in the accounting, finance, management, and marketing areas.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, MGMT 301, MKTG 302, FINC 303, ECON 201, 202, and MATH 104.

MGMT 408 Business Policy (3)

A course for senior business administration majors that draws together the functional areas of business operations: accounting, finance, marketing, human resources, management, and production, as a means of developing the students’ conceptual and decision-making abilities. Case studies will be used extensively.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ACCT 203, 204, DSCI 232, 304, ECON 201, 202, FINC 303, MGMT 301, MKTG 302, MATH 104, 105.

MGMT 409 Global Strategic Management (3)

In this course, students will learn about competing in the global economy. They will be exposed to different corporate strategies, philosophies, and business methods existing in both developed and underdeveloped countries. Students, working in teams of two or three, will analyze case studies and identify strengths and weaknesses of various companies. Having completed their analysis, students will then suggest policies to solve company problems or take advantage of promising opportunities.

Prerequisites: Senior standing; ACCT 203, 204, ECON 201, 202, FINC 303, MGMT 301, MKTG 302, MATH 104 and 105.

MGMT 420 Independent Study (1–3)

The student will select a reading or research project in consultation with a faculty member, who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit to be allowed. A maximum of six hours of independent study courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; written agreement with instructor and chair.

MGMT 444 Management Internship (3)

A supplemental source of learning and enhancement to the student’s academic program and career objectives through experiential education engaging the student in a unique three-way partnership between an approved agency and the school. The learning experience will be guided by a learning contract outlining specific work and academic components. A maximum of three (3) hours of internship credit will be awarded.

Prerequisites: Senior standing and declared major in the School of Business and Economics.

MGMT 445 Seminar in Entrepreneurship (1)

This course offers lectures and interaction with a number of entrepreneurs, selected for their entrepreneurial accomplishments, in a small-group setting. Businesses are analyzed and/or developed.

Prerequisites: Junior standing. Co-requisites: MGMT 319 or 405, or permission of the instructor.

MKTG 260 Special Topics in Marketing (1–3)

An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of marketing.

Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MKTG 302 Marketing Concepts (3)

This course develops an appreciation for the complexities of establishing and implementing marketing strategies. Areas of study include consumer behavior, product/service mixes, branding and packaging, channels of distribution, pricing, advertising, and salesmanship.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202.

MKTG 320 Marketing Research (3)

A course that establishes the relationship between models, information systems, and marketing decisions. The practical application of behavioral and statistical methods for the purpose of obtaining and analyzing relevant marketing information will also be examined.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 104, DSCI 232, MKTG 302.

Marketing

Please see "notes" in the general School of Business and Economics section of this catalog.

MKTG 260 Special Topics in Marketing (1–3)

An in-depth treatment of a current area of special concern within the field of marketing.

MKTG 302 Marketing Concepts (3)

This course develops an appreciation for the complexities of establishing and implementing marketing strategies. Areas of study include consumer behavior, product/service mixes, branding and packaging, channels of distribution, pricing, advertising, and salesmanship.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202.

MKTG 320 Marketing Research (3)

A course that establishes the relationship between models, information systems, and marketing decisions. The practical application of behavioral and statistical methods for the purpose of obtaining and analyzing relevant marketing information will also be examined.

Prerequisites: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MATH 104, DSCI 232, MKTG 302.
MKTG 326 International Marketing (3)
Marketing on an international scale with stress upon the viewpoint of the marketing manager who must recognize and cope with differences in legal, economic, spatial, and cultural elements in different nations. Emphasis is placed on marketing techniques and methods of expanding participation in foreign markets.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; MKTG 302, ECON 201 and 202.

MKTG 328 Retailing Management (3)
This course deals with that part of the distribution process called retailing. Topics include retail environment, location and store design, merchandise planning and control, selecting merchandise resources, pricing, sales promotion and display and customer service.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; MKTG 302, ECON 201 and 202.

MKTG 329 Consumer Behavior (3)
The objectives of this course are to: 1) provide students with an understanding of the various theories of consumer behavior and their practical applications, 2) expose students to the basic process and underlying principles of experimentation and 3) develop an appreciation among students for the significant influence marketing has on our purchasing behavior and, more generally, the lifestyle decisions we make.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; ECON 201, 202, MKTG 302.

MKTG 330 Advertising (3)
The role of advertising in a free economy and its place in the mass media of mass communications. Areas of study will include advertising appeals, product research, selection of media, testing of advertising effectiveness, and the dynamics of the advertising profession.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; MKTG 302, ECON 201, 202.

MKTG 331 Public Relations (3)
The course identifies and examines the principles and practices in the relations of an organization with its internal and external publics, with emphasis on communication; and explores the role of public relations in decision making, external financial reporting, and public policy information.

Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MKTG 333 Purchasing and Supply Chain Management (3)
The planning, organization, operation, and evaluation of the procurement function, and the acquisition and management of materials. Emphasis areas include quality and quantity considerations, supplier selection decisions, pricing policies, legal and ethical implications, and standards and measurement of performance.

Prerequisite: Junior standing.

MKTG 360 Special Topics in Marketing (1–3)
In-depth treatment of current areas of special concern within the field of marketing. A maximum of six hours of special topics courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.

MKTG 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week). The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in the design and supervision of the project. A maximum of six hours of tutorial courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; permission of the tutor and the chair.

MKTG 420 Independent Study (1–3)
The student will select a reading or research project in consultation with a faculty member, who will guide the work and determine the hours of credit to be allowed. A maximum of six hours of independent study courses may be applied toward the business major elective requirement.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; written agreement with instructor and chair.

MKTG 425 Marketing Management (3)
A course for upper-level marketing students that involves them in realistic decision-making environments. The course will include descriptions of actual marketing situations permitting further familiarization with marketing principles and methods as they are employed in various industries.

Prerequisite: Junior standing; MKTG 302; ECON 201, 202.

MKTG 444 Marketing Internship (3)
A supplemental source of learning and enhancement to the student's academic program and career objectives through experiential education engaging the student in a unique three-way partnership between an approved agency and the School. The learning experience will be guided by a learning contract outlining specific work and academic components. A maximum of three (3) hours of internship credit will be awarded.

Prerequisite: Senior standing and declared major in the School of Business and Economics.

MKTG 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the school. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the school prior to registration for the course.

Prerequisite: Senior standing.

Music

MUSC 131 Music Appreciation: The Art of Listening (3)
Introduction to the fundamentals of music necessary for intelligent listening. Musical terminology and historical data are presented as needed, but central to the course is the development of more perceptive listening habits through guided listening to a variety of works.

MUSC 146 Fundamentals of Music (3)
A study of the basics of music notation and its realization. Includes a study of scales, key signatures, intervals, rhythm notation, and chord construction. Sight-singing of simple melodies and ear training will also be included.

NOTE: This course does not satisfy the humanities requirement.

MUSC 147 Fundamentals of Music II (3)
A continuation of MUSC 146. Harmonization of simple melodies, a study of non-harmonic tones, cadences, introduction to figured bass and harmonic analysis. Sight-singing and ear training will be a major part of the course.

Prerequisite: MUSC 146.

NOTE: This course does not satisfy the humanities requirement.

MUSC 222 Special Topics (3)
This course is a series of special topics courses designed for the non-music major. Course topics will change from semester to semester and will remain broad so as not to require an extensive background in music. The ability to read music is not required. Like MUSC 131, MUSC 222 is accepted as a humanities credit.

MUSC 230 Masterworks of Music Literature (3)
A study of representative compositions by master composers from 1700 to the present. No technical knowledge of music is required, but some familiarity with classical music is helpful.

Prerequisite: MUSC 131 or permission of the instructor.

MUSC 232 History of Popular Music in the United States (3)
An outline of the history of popular music in the U.S., beginning with the minstrel shows of the 1840s and continuing through the 1960s. The course will identify three revolutions in popular music: Early popular music (1840s–1900); the modern era of popular music (1900–on); the rock 'n roll era (mid-1950s–on). The course will examine those cultural traditions which blended together to shape our history of popular music.

MUSC 238 Music Theory Lab I (1)
The study of musical scales, intervals, and key signatures utilizing sight-singing, ear training, and keyboard exercises. Laboratory three hours per week. Should normally be taken by majors concurrently with MUSC 246.

MUSC 239 Music Theory Lab II (1)
Continuation of MUSC 238 with more ear training and sight-singing, and beginning of four-part harmonic dictation. Laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: MUSC 238 or permission of the instructor. Should normally be taken by majors concurrently with MUSC 247.

MUSC 240 Phonetics for Singers (3)
The pronunciation of Italian, German, and French through the learning and use of the International Phonetic Alphabet. Students learn to transcribe the orthographic letters of the languages studied into IPA symbols, using these symbols as the key to correct pronunciation.

MUSC 246 Music Theory I (3)
A study of diatonic harmony utilizing traditional four-part exercises. Harmonic and Schenkerian analysis of works of Bach and Mozart. MUSC 238 should be taken concurrently by majors.
Prerequisite: A passing grade on a placement examination.

MUSC 247 Music Theory II (3)
A continuation of MUSC 246. Further study of harmonic practice through chromatic and linear harmony, with emphasis on late 18th- and 19th-century “common practice period.” Extensive analysis of both large- and small-scale forms of works of Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven, Chopin, and Wagner. Includes several smaller projects and one larger formal analysis presented as a paper.
Prerequisites: MUSC 246 and 238 or permission of the instructor.

MUSC 337 Opera Literature (3)
A study of selected operas by composers of the 18th to 20th centuries.
Prerequisite: MUSC 131 or 230 or permission of the instructor.

MUSC 338 Music Theory Lab III (1)
Consists of keyboard harmony exercises, a review at the keyboard of material presented in Theory I, as well as sight-singing and dictation. Laboratory three hours per week.
Prerequisite: MUSC 239 or permission of the instructor. Should normally be taken by majors concurrently with MUSC 381.

MUSC 339 Music Theory Lab IV (1)
Advanced projects in analysis, keyboard skills, diction, and/or ear training. A review of skills from previous theory and theory lab courses, tailored to the needs of the student enrolled. Laboratory three hours per week.
Prerequisite: MUSC 338 or permission of the instructor. Should normally be taken by majors concurrently with MUSC 382.

MUSC 345 Jazz Theory (3)
A study of the harmonic practice of jazz music. Investigation of standard harmonic structures and their uses, as well as standard symbols and terminology. Historical perspective from the bebop era through the present. Discussion of modern trends. Written assignments to augment lectures.

MUSC 347 History of Jazz (3)
A study of the historical, cultural, and musical significance of jazz and the major trends and styles of jazz, with attention to the most important performers in this idiom.

MUSC 351 Seminar in Music Composition I (3)
Composition with adherence to strict forms and creative writing in various forms and media.
Prerequisite: MUSC 247.

MUSC 352 Seminar in Music Composition II (3)
Continuation of creative work begun in Music Composition I, with analysis emphasis on larger 20th-century works. The student’s final project will be presented in a public performance of the composition.
Prerequisite: MUSC 351.

MUSC 381 Music History I (3)
A study of music in Western European society between 400 A.D. and 1700 A.D. Medieval, Renaissance, and early Baroque styles of music, as seen in representative compositions and composers. Extensive listening to selected compositions and analysis of them, with attention to performance practice and the place of music in the society of the period.
Prerequisite: MUSC 247 or permission of the instructor.

MUSC 382 Music History II (3)
A study of music in Western European society in the 18th and 19th centuries. Music of the late Baroque masters, Classical period, and Romantic period. Extensive listening to selected compositions and analysis of them, with attention to performance practice and the place of music in the society of the period.
Prerequisite: MUSC 381 or permission of the instructor; for minors in music, MUSC 246 is the prerequisite.

MUSC 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).
Prerequisite: Junior standing, plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

MUSC 444 Seminar: Selected Topics in Music History (3)
Concentrated investigation in various subjects in music literature as announced each semester. Possible topics are the music of a particular composer; a study of Baroque ornamentation as realized in performance practice; or iconography (visual arts in music research), including a survey of archives or prints, discussion of paintings, etc., on musical subjects, and the use of iconography in research.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

MUSC 445 Senior Independent Study in Music History (3 or 6)
Students who have taken an appropriate sequence of preparatory courses in one area or problem of music history determine a project in consultation with a department member qualified to guide and judge the work.
Prerequisite: Open to juniors or seniors, with an overall GPA of at least 2.75 and a music GPA of at least 3.3, with the permission of the department.

MUSC 460 Senior Independent Study in Music Theory or Composition (3 or 6)
Large-scale project investigating a specific problem in theory or a significant musical composition. May be repeated for a second semester if the scope of the project warrants it, or if an additional topic is selected.
Prerequisite: MUSC 352 or permission of the instructor. An overall GPA of at least 2.75 and permission of the department.

MUSC 481 Music Theory III (3)
Counterpoint as a musical structure. Exercises in writing 16th-century style counterpoint in two, three, and four voices. Analysis of representative works by Palestrina, Victoria, Byrd, etc. Eighteenth-century counterpoint and its basis in major/minor harmony, with analysis of selected inventions and fugues by J.S. Bach. Writing of a short four-voice fugue.
Prerequisite: MUSC 382.

MUSC 482 Music Theory IV (3)
A study of representative examples of music from the principal 20th-century composers, and an introduction to methods of analysis of these compositions. Music by Debussy, Stravinsky, Bartok, Schoenberg, Webern, and Berg, plus more recent compositions. The theoretical basis of 12-tone (serial) music. Analytic skills for other types of 20th-century music.
Prerequisite: MUSC 481.

MUSC 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. Students must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and supervision of their project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

Music – Practice and Performance

MUSC 121 Class Piano I (1)
Class instruction for beginning piano students with an emphasis on note reading and use of functional (chordal) harmony. Limited enrollment by audition.

MUSC 122 Class Piano II (1)
Continuation of MUSC 121.
Prerequisite: MUSC 121 or permission of the instructor.

MUSC 123 Class Voice (1)
The study of the voice for those with little or no previous vocal or musical training. Instruction dealing with interpretation, and vocal technique in English and foreign languages.

MUSP 412 Piano
Physical Education

NOTE: Courses in basic physical education activity theory (100 level) may be taken for elective credit by any student, but no more than eight semester hours total (including THTR/PEHD cross-listed dance/activity courses) may be applied toward a degree.

PEHD 100 Introduction to Physical Fitness (2)
This course presents the principles and methods for developing and maintaining physical fitness. Major emphasis is on developing a personal exercise and nutrition program.

PEHD 102 Beginning Yoga (2)
A course designed to present the basic philosophy, physical positions, and breathing techniques of Yoga. Emphasis is also placed on meditation and positive thinking as a means to reduce stress and increase concentration.

PEHD 103 Martial Arts (2)
An introduction to the theory and application of Asian martial arts in modern, everyday life. An activity course in which the basics of a martial art will be learned through lecture, demonstration, and laboratory experience.

This course is designed to acquaint the student with the basic fundamentals of ice-skating and will progress to more advanced skills. This will be accomplished through classroom lectures, off-ice and on-ice demonstrations, and class participation. Class time will primarily focus with on-ice instruction.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 105 Basketball and Volleyball (2)
The history, techniques, practice of skills, and rules of basketball and volleyball.

PEHD 106 Beginning Swimming (2)
A course designed to teach the non-swimmer how to swim. Emphasis on drown-proofing and elementary forms of water safety.

PEHD 107 Advanced Swimming (2)
A course designed to improve swimming skills with emphasis on water safety, stroke mastery, elementary forms of lifesaving, and lifeguarding.

PEHD 109 Aerobics (2)
The main emphasis of this course is the understanding of the basic physiological principles associated with physical activity and human movement as applied in a cardiovascular aerobic dance workout. The course also includes exercise programs for muscular endurance, strength, and toning.

PEHD 110 Step Aerobics (2)
Students will be introduced to the basic physiological principles associated with aerobic step training and interval training. Exercise, as well as cognitive material from the required text, will be essential requirements in this course.

PEHD 111 Beginning Gymnastics (2)
An introductory course in gymnastics. The course is designed to provide instruction in the beginning skills on the following apparatus: vault, uneven bars, balance beam, and tumbling. Instruction in hand spotting various skills is also taught in this course. No prior gymnastics experience is required.

NOTE: Students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 112 Beginning Horseback Riding (2)
The course is designed to provide instruction in the beginning skills of horseback riding and to provide the student with lifetime sports skills which will contribute to his/her physical, mental, and social growth. Attention will be given to the development of intermediate skills for the safe and responsible operation of sailboats.

PEHD 113 Beginning Horseback Riding (2)
Prerequisite: PEHD 112 or permission of the instructor.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 114 Beginning Gymnastics (2)
An introductory course in gymnastics. The course is designed to provide instruction in the beginning skills on the following apparatus: vault, uneven bars, balance beam, and tumbling. Instruction in hand spotting various skills is also taught in this course. No prior gymnastics experience is required.

NOTE: Students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 115 Physical Conditioning and Weight Training (2)
A course designed to teach the accepted methods of developing and maintaining physical fitness. Consideration will be given to diet, nutrition, posture, physical form, and the role of resistance exercise in the improvement of physical fitness.

PEHD 116 Beginning Golf (2)
The history, techniques, practice of skills, and rules of golf.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 117 Beginning Tennis (2)
The history, techniques, practice of skills, and rules of tennis.

Note: Students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 118 Sailing (2)
The course is designed to provide instruction in the intermediate skills of sailing and to provide the student with lifetime sports skills which will contribute to his/her physical, mental, and social growth. Attention will be given to the development of intermediate skills for the safe and responsible operation of sailboats.

Prerequisite: PEHD 118 or permission of the instructor.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 119 Beginning Tennis (2)
The history, techniques, practice of skills, and rules of tennis.

Note: Students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 120 Special Topics (2, repeatable up to 6)
A course designed to cover a variety of topics not otherwise offered in the basic physical education activity program. Popular activities representing both traditional and non-traditional activities will be offered on a random basis according to interest shown in the activity.

NOTE: A lab fee may be required in some special topics courses. Students may also need to provide transportation for some courses.

PEHD 121 Beginning Basketball (2)
An introductory level dressage test and a simple stadium course.

Prerequisite: PEHD 113 or permission of the instructor.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to the off-campus facility.

PEHD 122 Beginning Hockey (2)
An introduction to the basic philosophy, physical positions, and breathing techniques of Yoda.

Emphasis is also placed on meditation and positive thinking as a means to reduce stress and increase concentration.

PEHD 123 Intermediate Horseback Riding (2)
An introduction to the linear, percussive style of jazz dance, the uniquely American combination of multicultural dance styles to the world of dance. An activity course in which the basics of jazz dance will be learned.

Crosslisted with THTR 135.

PEHD 124 Intermediate Modern Dance (2)
Introduction to the technique of modern dance. Emphasis on basic movement forms of modern dance and elementary improvisational techniques.

Crosslisted with THTR 137.

PEHD 125 Intermediate Modern Dance (2)
Instruction at the intermediate level in technique of modern dance. Emphasis upon building the basic movement forms as taught in elementary modern dance into patterns, repetitions, and variations used in the structuring of dance pieces. Review of the choreography work of the founders of modern dance. Crosslisted with THTR 138.

PEHD 139 African Dance (2)
The course focuses on the history, techniques, practice of dance movements, and meaning of several African dances. Students will also recognize drum rhythms for each dance, learn names of instruments used for the dance, and perform each dance.

PEHD 185 Elementary Ballet (2)
An introductory course involving modern dance, jazz, ballet, and other popular dance forms and techniques. Crosslisted with THTR 185.

PEHD 186 Intermediate Ballet (2)
The course will focus on more advanced techniques in the dance forms involved, particularly modern and ballet, and will also include interpretation, improvisation, choreography, and elementary performance. Crosslisted with THTR 186.

NOTE: PEHD 200-level courses or above are designed for the major and include technique and theory content specific information.

PEHD 201 Introduction to Physical Education (3)
A required introductory course for physical education majors. Content will include a study of history, principles, objectives, philosophy, current trends and issues, and literature related to physical education and sport.

NOTE: PEHD 201 is a prerequisite for all 300-level or above courses for prospective physical education majors.

PEHD 202 Laboratory Activities in Physical Education (2)
A course designed to provide the student an exposure to a variety of activities in the areas of outdoor adventure, team sports, and individual sports. Acquisition of basic knowledge and skill competencies for the future physical educator is a primary component.

NOTE: A fee is required for this class.

PEHD 210 Concepts in Fitness Assessment and Exercise Prescription (3)
This course is designed to give the student an initial fitness assessment and exercise prescription experiences. Basic concepts of assessment and physical training will be covered. Students will implement an individual training program and demonstrate proficiency in assessment techniques of various skills and health-related fitness components.

PEHD 222 Analysis and Conduct of Lifetime Activities (3)
Designed to teach the teacher candidate how to analyze, conduct, and demonstrate lifetime sports activities in a variety of teaching settings. Emphasis will be placed on methods for determining students' capacities in relation to the various activities and teaching techniques appropriate to facilitate the acquisition of the various skills. Students will be expected to teach and perform skills in micro teaching sessions.

PEHD 223 Analysis and Conduct of Team Sports (3)
Designed to teach the teacher candidate how to analyze, conduct, and demonstrate team sports in a variety of teaching settings. Emphasis will be placed on methods for determining students' capacities in relation to the various activities and teaching techniques appropriate to facilitate the acquisition of the various skills. Students will be expected to teach and perform skills in micro teaching sessions.

PEHD 235 Motor Learning and Development (3)
The course focuses on skill acquisition with primary consideration being given to the cognitive and motor processes underlying the learning of skills. Topics covered include (but are not limited to) motor control, attention, individual differences, practice and knowledge of results, transfer of learning, and motivation.

PEHD 245 Athletic Injury Prevention and Management (3)
An introduction to the field of sports medicine and the athletic training profession. The course will present information on recognition, prevention, treatment, management, and applied anatomy of common and less common musculoskeletal injuries.

Co-requisite: PEHD 245L.

PEHD 245L Athletic Injury Prevention and Management Lab (1)
Laboratory course designed to introduce students to the psychomotor skills and scientific principles of athletic taping, bracing, and wrapping.

Co-requisite: PEHD 245.

PEHD 250 Dance and Rhythms (3)
Designed to instruct the student in the teaching techniques of dance and rhythms. Practical application will be gained through the teaching of mini-lessons in the class.

PEHD 252 Outdoor Education (3)
An introductory course designed to provide the student a number of outdoor adventure experiences that are available in South Carolina. These include rock climbing, sea kayaking, whitewater kayaking, mountain biking, and camping. Through these experiential opportunities, a number of new skills and interests should be fostered.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to off-campus facilities for some classes.

PEHD 252 Outdoor Education (3)
An introductory course designed to provide the student a number of outdoor adventure experiences that are available in South Carolina. These include rock climbing, sea kayaking, whitewater kayaking, mountain biking, and camping. Through these experiential opportunities, a number of new skills and interests should be fostered.

NOTE: Lab fee required; students will need to provide their own transportation to off-campus facilities for some classes.

PEHD 320 Special Topics in Physical Education (3, repeatable up to 12)
Studies in topics of current interest designed to supplement offerings in the department or to investigate an additional specific area of physical education.

Prerequisite: PEHD 201 or permission of the instructor.

PEHD 330 Kinesiology (3)
This course explores the techniques of human motion analysis. Particular emphasis is placed on the anatomical, mechanical, and physical principles of motion analysis.

Prerequisite: BIOL 202 and PEHD 201.

PEHD 340 Exercise Physiology and Lab (4)
The major objective of this course is to assist the student in gaining an understanding and appreciation of the physiological and metabolic adaptations accompanying physical work.

Prerequisite: BIOL 201 and PEHD 201.

PEHD 345 Athletic Injury Evaluation I (3)
This course focuses on the principles of orthopedic examination and assessment. Emphasis will be placed on the components of the comprehensive orthopedic physical examination including: history, inspection, palpation, functional testing, and special evaluation techniques.

Prerequisite: PEHD 245 and lab. Co-requisites: 345L.

PEHD 345L Athletic Injury Evaluation I Lab (1)
Laboratory course designed to develop the candidate's psychomotor skills of orthopedic examination and assessment.

Prerequisite: PEHD 245 and lab. Co-requisite: PEHD 345.

PEHD 346 Athletic Injury Evaluation II (3)
This course focuses on the assessment of athletic injuries occurring to the human spine and torso areas. Mechanisms and characteristics of athletic injuries commonly occurring to these areas will be discussed. Emphasis will be on the components of the physical examination including history, inspection, palpation, functional testing, and special evaluation techniques.

Prerequisite: PEHD 245/L or permission of the instructor. Co-requisite: PEHD 346L.

PEHD 346L Athletic Injury Evaluation II Lab (1)
This laboratory course is a co-requisite to PEHD 346 Athletic Injury Evaluation II and is designed to develop the student's psychomotor skills of examination and assessment of athletic injuries occurring to the spine and torso areas of the human body.

Prerequisite: PEHD 245/L or permission of the instructor. Co-requisite: PEHD 346.

PEHD 352 Physical Education for Elementary Schools (3)
The course is designed to teach basic requirements, principles, and concepts for conducting physical education in an elementary school setting. Focus will be on constructing and implementing developmentally appropriate movement and fitness experiences for elementary school learners from diverse backgrounds, with an emphasis on reflective teaching. Clinical experiences required.

Prerequisite: PEHD 201 and 222 or 223 and passing score on all areas of Praxis I.

PEHD 355 Sport Psychology (3)
The scientific study of human behavior in the context of participating in sport and how sport performance is affected by the athlete, the team, and its leadership, as well as by the physical and interpersonal environment in which these individuals interact. This course is PEHD 330, 340, and MATH 104 or equivalent; knowledge of microcomputers.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201, PEHD 245, PEHD 345, or BIOL 201/202, PEHD 330 (non-AT students). Non-AT students are requested to confer with the instructor prior to enrolling in this course.

NOTE: This class carries a component lab worth zero hours.

PEHD 430 Therapeutic Exercise (3)
This course provides information on planning and implementing a comprehensive rehabilitation/conditioning program for injuries/illnesses sustained during physical activity. Emphasis will be placed on the didactic and psychomotor development of the following comprehensive rehabilitation program components: determination of therapeutic goals and objectives, selection of therapeutic treatment and exercise, methods of evaluating and recording rehabilitation progress, and the development of criteria and progression for return to physical activity.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201, BIOL 201/202, and PEHD 250, 254, and 330 (AT students) BIOL 201/202, PEHD 330 (non-AT students).

Prerequisites: PEHD 201, junior standing plus permission of the instructor.

NOTE: This class carries a component lab worth zero hours.

PEHD 431 Tests and Measurements (3)
The course explores the unique measurement tools used for the assessment of human physical performance. Particular emphasis is placed on the design and use of instruments for assessment in body mechanics, sports skills, fitness and motor skills, as well as in the use and interpretation of standardized tests in the field. The application of statistical analysis procedures essential for the evaluation of such measures is included.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201, junior standing plus MATH 104 or equivalent; knowledge of microcomputers.

PEHD 432 Research Methods and Design in Health and Exercise Science (3)
This class will focus on data collection and interpretation in health and exercise science, including common physiological, biomechanical, anatomical, and health-related variables. Emphasis is placed on the development of a clinical research question and the appropriate procedures to further the body of knowledge in the area of health and exercise science.

Prerequisites: PEHD 330, 340, and MATH 104 or equivalent; permission of the instructor.

PEHD 433 Therapeutic Modalities (3)
This course provides comprehensive coverage of the adjunctive use of therapeutic modalities in the athletic injury recovery process. This course examines the physiological basis and rationale for modality use, clinical application, and specific application techniques. Students will gain didactic knowledge regarding modality selection, indications, and contraindications as well as hands-on experience in the appropriate use and application of techniques.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201 and 352. Recommended: PHYS 101/102.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201, PEHD 245, PEHD 345, or permission of the instructor. Recommended: PHYS 101/102.

PEHD 439 Advanced Topics in Exercise Physiology (4)
This course is designed to provide students with in-depth application of advanced a) exercise biochemistry, b) cardiorespiratory responses to exercise, and c) electrocardiography. The contents of this course will build on the foundation of material covered in PEHD 340 Exercise Physiology.

Prerequisites: PEHD 340/lab and permission of the instructor.

PEHD 440 Biomechanics (3)
The course will focus on the mechanical basis of human movement, with some consideration given to the anatomical constraints that influence all types of human movement, from athletic to pathological. Topics covered will include: kinematics of movement (linear and angular), kinetics (linear and angular), equilibrium, and fluid mechanics.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201, PEHD 330, BIOL 202, PHYS 101.

PEHD 452 Physical Education for Middle/Secondary Schools (3)
The course is designed to place emphasis on curriculum development and planning for teaching and evaluating movement in middle/secondary school physical education. Focus is on constructing and implementing developmentally appropriate movement and fitness experiences for middle/secondary school learners from various backgrounds. Clinical experiences required.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201 and 352.

PEHD 457 Adapted Physical Education (3)
Course designed to prepare candidates to construct and implement an appropriate physical education and recreation curriculum for the learner that is disabled. Clinical experience required.

Prerequisites: PEHD 352 and 452 or permission of the instructor.

PEHD 458 Organization and Administration of Physical Education (3)
A course covering the organization, planning, implementation, and administration of physical activity and sport programs.

Prerequisites: PEHD 201 and senior (90 hours plus) status. For teacher certification majors PEHD 352 or 452 is a prerequisite.
PEHD 498 Capstone Experience in Exercise Science (2)
The capstone experience is a culmination of coursework in exercise science. It provides the opportunity to critically analyze and conduct contemporary research, practice in a clinical setting, evaluate the current and future trends in the discipline, and discuss personal and professional challenges that will exist following commencement.
Prerequisites: PEHD 433 and permission of the instructor.

PEHD 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The candidate must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

PHIL 204 Minds and Machines (3)
This course will explore the problem of whether machines — especially computers — can have minds. Topics studied may include the philosophical problems of whether it is possible to build a conscious machine and whether it is plausible to view the human mind as a computer.

PHIL 205 Existentialism (3)
A study of existential philosophy, covering thinkers such as Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Jaspers, Heidegger, Marcel, and Sartre.

PHIL 206 Topics in Law and Morality (3)
An examination of selected relationships between moral theory and legal institutions, such as legal ethics, the legal enforcement of morality, capital punishment, or gay rights. May be repeated for credit if subject matter varies.

PHIL 215 Symbolic Logic I (3)
An introduction to the formal methods of deductive logic including sentential logic.

PHIL 216 Symbolic Logic II (3)
A second course in the formal methods of logic including predicate logic. Additional topics such as mathe- matical induction, an introduction to axiomatic systems, or metatheoretical logic will be covered.

PHIL 220 History of Ancient Philosophy (3)
An examination of the development of the philosophical views of the ancient Greeks, including the Presocratics, Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle.

PHIL 225 History of Modern Philosophy (3)
An examination of the rise of modern philosophy and some of its principal characteristics as exemplified in some major philosophers from the close of the Middle Ages through the philosophy of Immanuel Kant.

PHIL 230 History of Modern Philosophy (3)
An examination of the rise of modern philosophy and some of its principal characteristics as exemplified in some major philosophers from the close of the Middle Ages through the philosophy of Immanuel Kant.

PHIL 245 Environmental Philosophy (3)
An examination of selected topics, approaches, or authors in environmental philosophy, such as environmental aesthetics, ecofeminism, or the writings of Aldo Leopold.

PHIL 250 Marxism (3)
An examination of some of the philosophical writings of Karl Marx as well as his precursor, Hegel, and followers such as Gramsci, Marcuse, and Althusser.

PHIL 255 Philosophy of Religion (3)
An examination of issues such as the nature of religious experience, arguments for the existence of God, the conflict between reason and faith, immortality, the nature of miracles, and the problem of evil.

PHIL 260 Philosophy of Biology (3)
An examination of philosophical issues within the biological sciences and questions about the epistemological status of biological knowledge. Possible topics include: the nature of life, the relationship between physical and biological sciences, the structure of evolutionary theory, and the implications of sociobiology for ethical theories.
PHIL 265 Philosophy of Science (3)
An examination of the methodology and conceptual foundations of the sciences, including topics such as the structure of scientific theory, the relation of theory to experiment, the genesis and development of scientific concepts, and the evolution of scientific theories.

PHIL 270 Philosophy of Law (3)
A philosophical examination of some fundamental features of a legal system, focusing on issues such as the nature and function of law, judicial decision-making, legal reasoning, legal responsibility, and the relationship of morality, justice, and liberty to a legal system.

PHIL 275 Feminist Theory (3)
A study of the connections between gender and knowledge, culture, and social practice. The course investigates the claim that cultural definitions and valuations of masculinity and femininity are reflected in such areas as science, ethics, literature, art, and language.

PHIL 280 Aesthetics (3)
A philosophical study of beauty and of the creation, appreciation, and criticism of works of art.

PHIL 285 Philosophical Issues in Literature (3)
A study of selected aesthetic problems related to literature, philosophical themes expressed in literary works, and philosophical problems raised by literature.

PHIL 298 Special Topics in Philosophy (3)
An intensive examination of selected topics or issues in philosophy. May be repeated for credit if the subject varies.

PHIL 301 Ethics (3)
A study of moral theories, such as utilitarianism, Kantian ethics, virtue ethics, and egoism. The concepts of the good and the right, the justification of ethical beliefs, and the origin and nature of morality may also be discussed.

PHIL 304 19th-Century Philosophy (3)
An examination of philosophical thought during the 19th century, covering thinkers such as Hegel, Marx, Comte, Benthin, and Mill.

PHIL 305 Topics in the History of Philosophy (3)
An intensive examination of selected figures, traditions, or issues in the history of philosophy. May be repeated for credit if the subject matter varies.

PHIL 306 20th-Century Analytic Philosophy (3)
A study of major movements in recent Anglo-American philosophy such as Logical Atomism, Logical Positivism, and Ordinary Language Philosophy.

PHIL 307 20th-Century Continental Philosophy (3)
An intensive examination of major figures such as Husserl, Heidegger, Habermas, Foucault, and Derrida; movements such as phenomenology and deconstruction; or problems such as representation, the structure of language, and the nature of technology.

PHIL 310 American Philosophy (3)
A critical treatment of leading philosophers in the United States up to the present with major emphasis on the works of philosophers such as Peirce, James, Royce, Santayana, Dewey, and Whitehead.

PHIL 315 Political and Social Philosophy (3)
An examination of contemporary and traditional positions on issues such as justice, equality, liberty, human rights, political and legal obligations, and the role and limits of government.

PHIL 320 Metaphysics (3)
A study of various attempts that philosophers have made to formulate consistent and comprehensive conceptual systems regarding the nature of reality.

PHIL 325 Theory of Knowledge (3)
An examination of historical and contemporary views concerning answers to the following questions: What is knowledge? Under what conditions are beliefs justified? What is the role of reason and sensory experience in obtaining knowledge? Is anything certain? What is the nature of truth?

PHIL 330 Philosophy of Mind (3)
A study of basic issues in the philosophy of mind such as the relationship of mind to body, knowledge of other minds, and the nature of mental states. The course may focus on selected topics such as the emotions or artificial intelligence.

PHIL 335 Philosophy of Language (3)
A philosophical inquiry into the nature of meaning, reference, truth, and grammar. Topics may include the relation between language and thought, the relation between language and the world, and how much of language is innate.

PHIL 398 Student Research Associate Program (1–3, repeatable up to 6)
Students conduct their own research projects in philosophy under the guidance of a faculty member, or participate in a substantive way in a faculty member’s research project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

PHIL 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week). The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

PHIL 450 Senior Seminar in Philosophy (3)
An intensive examination of a selected perspective or tradition, problem, or philosopher. May be repeated for credit.

PHIL 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

Physics

PHYS 101 Introductory Physics I (3)
A general physics course intended for those students who plan to take only one physics sequence. Subjects covered are: mechanics (vectors, linear and rotational motion, equilibrium, and gravitational fields); heat (mechanical and thermal; properties of solids, liquids, and gases); and wave motion. Upon completion of 101 with a grade of B or better and successful completion of math 120, a student may transfer to phys 202. Lectures three hours per week.

PHYS 101L Introductory Physics Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program to accompany PHYS 101. Laboratory three hours per week.

PHYS 102 Introductory Physics II (3)
A continuation of PHYS 101. Subjects covered are: electricity (electric fields, AC and DC circuits); magnetism; optics (geometric and physical); and modern physics. Lectures three hours per week.

PHYS 102L Introductory Physics Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program to accompany PHYS 102. Laboratory three hours per week.

PHYS 105 Introduction to Meteorology (3)
Survey of the most important topics in meteorology. Sample topics include cloud formation, violent storms, thunder and lightning, rainbows, rain and snow, climate, and forecasting. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite: A working knowledge of high school algebra is assumed.

NOTE: No credit for both PHYS 105 and PHYS 456.

PHYS 119 Celestial Navigation (2)
The theory and practice of celestial navigation is developed. Topics include the sextant, time, the Nautical Almanac, the spherical triangle, sight reduction tables, altitude corrections, navigational astronomy, lines of position, complete fixes, and star identification. Lectures two hours per week.

PHYS 129 Astronomy I (3)
An introduction to astronomy. Subjects covered are: a brief history of astronomy, coordinates, time, the earth’s structure and motion, instruments used in astronomy, the moon, eclipses, comets, meteors, interplanetary medium, stars (binary variable), star clusters, interstellar matter, galaxies, and cosmology. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites and Co-requisites: PHYS 129L. A working knowledge of high school algebra is assumed.

PHYS 129L Astronomy I Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program to accompany PHYS 129. Laboratory three hours per week.

PHYS 130 Astronomy II (3)
A continuation of PHYS 129. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite and Co-requisite: PHYS 130L.

Prerequisites: PHYS 129 and 129L. A working knowledge of high school algebra is assumed.

PHYS 130L Astronomy II Laboratory (1)
A laboratory program to accompany PHYS 130. Laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite and Co-requisite: PHYS 130.

PHYS 150 Physics of Sound and Music (3)
An investigation of mechanical and electronic generation of sound; propagation of sound; perception of sound and music; the acoustics of vocal and instrumental music; musical elements such as pitch, loudness, and timbre; and musical constructs such as scales, temperament, and harmony. This course is team-taught by physics and fine arts faculty. Lectures three hours per week. A working knowledge of high school algebra is assumed.

PHYS 201 General Physics I (4)
Introduction to principles of physics primarily for scientists and engineers. Subjects covered are mechanics (vectors, linear and rotational motion, equilibrium, and gravitational fields); heat (mechanical and thermal properties of solids, liquids, and gases); and wave motion. Lecture three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite and Co-requisite: MATH 120 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 202 General Physics II (4)
A continuation of PHYS 201. Subjects covered are: electricity (electric fields, AC and DC circuits); magnetism; light (geometric and physical optics, spectra); and modern physics (relativity and nuclear physics). Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 201 or HONS 157. Prerequisite and Co-requisite: MATH 220 or equivalent or permission of the instructor.

NOTE: Upon completion of PHYS 101 with a grade of B or better and successful completion of MATH 120, a student may transfer to PHYS 202.

PHYS 203 Physics and Medicine (3)
The application of physics to a variety of medical issues. Topics include basic concepts such as force and energy as well as more advanced topics such as photophysics and diagnostic instrumentation. Useful for students who intend to become medical professionals and students interested in the applications of physics to medicine.

Prerequisite: PHYS 102 or 202 or HONS 158.

PHYS 205 Intelligent Life in the Universe (3)
A general survey of the topic, stressing the interrelations between the fields of astronomy, physics, chemistry, biology, geology, and philosophy. Topics include the physical setting for origin and evolution of life, existence of such conditions elsewhere, possible number of extraterrestrial civilizations, possibility of contact, and implications of an encounter. Lectures three hours per week.

PHYS 206 Planetary Astronomy (3)
The nature of the origin, evolution, and current state of the solar system and extrsolar systems are reviewed. Celestial mechanics, planetary interiors, atmospheres, and solar system debris are covered in depth. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 201 (PHYS 101 and MATH 120 may substitute for PHYS 201 with permission of the instructor). PHYS 320 Introduction to Modern Physics I (3)
A continuation of PHYS 330. Topics include: statistical mechanics, atomic theory, x-rays, wave particle duality, and elements of quantum mechanics. Lectures three hours per week. Laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 102 or PHYS 202 or HONS 158 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 298 Special Topics (1–3)
An examination of an area in physics in which a regular course is not offered.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and chair.

PHYS 301 Classical Mechanics (3)
Newtonian dynamics of particles and rigid bodies, relativistic mechanics, Lagrangian and Hamiltonian mechanics, and waves. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 202 or HONS 158 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 302 Classical Mechanics (3)
A continuation of PHYS 301.

Prerequisite: PHYS 301.

PHYS 306 Physical Optics (4)
An intermediate course in physical optics with major emphasis on the wave properties of light. Subjects to be covered include: the wave equation, the superposition principle, interference, diffraction, lenses, holography, polarization, birefringence, absorption, scattering, boundary conditions, and Fresnel diffraction. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 202 or HONS 158 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 308 Atmospheric Physics (3)
An introduction to the study of the Earth’s atmosphere. Topics covered include atmospheric thermodynamics, synoptic meteorology, violent storms, radiative transfer, basic modeling, ozone depletion, acid rain, and global warming. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 202 or HONS 158 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 311 Stellar Astronomy and Astrophysics (3)
The basic concepts of the physics of stars and stellar systems are explored. Topics covered include stellar interiors, stellar atmospheres, stellar spectra, star formation, stellar evolution, stellar remnants, variable stars, and binary stars. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisites: PHYS 206 and PHYS 202 (PHYS 102 and MATH 220 may replace PHYS 202 with permission of the instructor).

PHYS 312 Galactic and Extragalactic Astronomy (3)
Structure, kinematics, and dynamics of galaxies including the Milky Way Galaxy evolution, active galaxies and quasars, accretion disks, and cosmology.

Prerequisites: PHYS 311 and MATH 221 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 320 Introductory Electronics (4)
Basic principles of electronics and their application to instrumentation for students preparing for research in applied mathematics, medicine, biology, physics, and chemistry. Lectures three hours per week; laboratory three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 102 or PHYS 202 or HONS 158 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 330 Introduction to Modern Physics I (3)
A continuation of PHYS 330. Topics include: statistical mechanics, solid state physics, and nuclear physics. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 330 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 330 Introduction to Modern Physics II (3)
A continuation of PHYS 330. Topics include: statistical mechanics, solid state physics, and nuclear physics. Lectures three hours per week.

Prerequisite: PHYS 330 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 370 Experimental Physics (4)
An opportunity for students to develop experimental, analytical, and research techniques through lecture and extensive laboratory experiences. Scientific report writing will be stressed.

Prerequisite: PHYS 330 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 377 Experimental Astronomy (4)
A course designed to emphasize the concepts, principles, and experimental techniques of modern observational astronomy and astrophysics. Topics include astrometry, multi-wavelength instrumentation and imaging, and data analysis techniques. Hands-on projects plus lecture. Observatory work will be required. Scientific report writing will also be required.
Prerequisite: PHYS 330 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 390 Research (1–3, repeatable up to 6)
Literature and/or laboratory investigations of specific problems in physics or astronomy. The topic of the investigations will be determined by the interests of the student in consultation with the department faculty. Open to exceptional students and particularly suited to those intending to continue toward a graduate degree.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and chair.

PHYS 399 Tutorial (3, repeatable up to 12)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).
Prerequisites: Junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

PHYS 403 Introductory Quantum Mechanics (3)
Wave-particle duality; the wave function; general principles of quantum mechanics; systems in one, two, and three dimensions; electron spin; perturbation theory; scattering theory; electromagnetic radiation; systems containing identical particles; and applications. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: phs 330. Prerequisite or Co-requisite: math 323 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 404 Introductory Quantum Mechanics (3)
A continuation of PHYS 403.
Prerequisite: PHYS 403 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 405 Thermal Physics (3)
Thermal Physics is an introduction to quantum statistical mechanics, thermodynamic functions, and the laws of thermodynamics. There is an emphasis on the application of the fundamental concepts to astrophysics, electromagnetic radiation, low-temperature physics, and solid-state physics.
Prerequisite: PHYS 330. Co-requisite: MATH 323 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 407 Introduction to Nuclear Physics (3)
An introduction to the theory of the nucleus, including constituents of the nucleus; nuclear forces and structure; natural and induced radioactivity; properties of alpha, beta, and gamma radiation; particle accelerators; and fission, fusion, and nuclear reactors. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: PHYS 330 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 408 Introduction to Solid State Physics (3)
A survey of the fundamental principles determining the macroscopic properties of solids. The lattice system and the electron system are investigated as a basis for understanding dielectric, magnetic, optical, semiconductive, and superconductive behavior in solids. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisite: PHYS 330 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 409 Electricity and Magnetism (3)
An intermediate course in electricity and magnetism. Subjects to be covered will include electric fields, magnetic fields, electric current, Maxwell’s equations, conductors, dielectrics, and magnetic materials. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: PHYS 202 or honors 158, and math 323 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 410 Electricity and Magnetism (3)
A continuation of PHYS 409.
Prerequisite: PHYS 409.

PHYS 412 Special Topics (1–3)
An examination of an area in physics in which a regular course is not offered.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

PHYS 413 Astrophysics (3)
Covers the application of physics to problems in stellar atmospheres and interiors, the interstellar medium, and galactic dynamics. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: PHYS 301 and MATH 323 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 415 Fluid Mechanics (3)
An introduction to fluid mechanics that develops physical concepts and formulates basic conservation laws. Topics include fluid statics, kinematics, stresses in fluids, flow of real (viscous) fluids, and compressible flow. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: MATH 323 and PHYS 301 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 419 Research Seminar (1)
This course will normally be conducted in the fall semester of the student’s senior year and consists of successfully preparing and presenting a research proposal. This course is intended to prepare the student for PHYS 420.
Prerequisite and Co-requisite: PHYS 370 or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 420 Senior Research (3)
Conducting, writing, and presenting the results of the research project prepared in PHYS 419. The presentation must be at a scientific forum approved by the research advisor. This course will normally be taken during the spring semester of the senior year.
Prerequisites: PHYS 419 and permission of the instructor and chair. No credit for both PHYS 420 and PHYS 499.

PHYS 456 Air Pollution Meteorology (4)
An introduction to the basics of air pollution science. Course begins with a summary of underlying meteorology and atmospheric physics and then covers the atmospheric radiation budget, atmospheric circulation, aerosols, atmospheric chemistry (acid rain, ozone hole), short-term atmospheric change, atmospheric chemical models, and air quality. Lecture four hours per week.
Prerequisites: PHYS 202 (or PHYS 102 and MATH 120) or HONS 158, and CHEM 112, or permission of the instructor. No credit for both PHYS 105 and PHYS 456.
NOTE: A student may not receive credit for both PHYS 105 and PHYS 456.

PHYS 457 Satellite Meteorology (3)
Satellite meteorology is the measurement of the weather by sensors aboard Earth-orbiting satellites. Topics include satellite orbits and navigation; electromagnetic radiation; instrumentation; image interpretation; atmospheric temperature, winds, clouds, precipitation, and radiation. Lectures three hours per week.
Prerequisites: PHYS 308; or PHYS 456; or both PHYS 105 and one of PHYS 202, or PHYS 102 and MATH 120, or HONS 158; or permission of the instructor.

PHYS 458 Climate Change (4)
An introduction to the study of the physics of the Earth’s climate. Topics include climatic classification, the spectrum of radiation, absorption, scattering, transmission, radiation, the troposphere energy balance, the energy balance at the Earth’s surface, time variations in the energy balance, the atmospheric transport of energy, the atmosphere as a heat engine, CFC’s and stratospheric ozone, the carbon cycle, other greenhouse gases, climate heating, integrated assessment of models, and human activities affecting climate change. In addition, some of the policy issues associated with such human activities will be addressed. Lecture four hours per week with some laboratory exercises included.
Prerequisite: PHYS 202 (or PHYS 102 and MATH 120), or HONS 158, or permission of the instructor. CHEM 112 would be helpful but is not required.

PHYS 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course. A student may not receive credit for both PHYS 420 and PHYS 499.

Political Science

POL 101 American Government (3)
American Government examines the structure, context, functions, and problems of American national government.
NOTE: This course is required of all political science majors and minors and must be completed within the first 15 hours of political science courses.

POL 102 Contemporary Political Issues (3)
An introductory course for majors and non-majors that emphasizes the analysis of current domestic and international issues. Issues covered will vary from semester to semester.
POLS 103 World Politics (3)
This course examines the dynamics of international politics, including in-depth coverage of relevant actors, the nature of the state system, cooperation and conflict, global economic interdependence, international institutions, and issues like the role of human rights in international affairs.

POLS 104 World Regional Geography (3)
World Regional Geography introduces the geographic nature of a variety of topics including population growth, the organization of religions, and resource problems. Both the location of these activities and the processes that led to their patterns are explored using examples from throughout the world.

NOTE: Political science majors and minors must take either POLS 103 or POLS 104 within the first 15 hours of political science coursework. Cross-listed with GEOG 101. Students may not earn credit for both courses.

POLS 200 Introduction to Public Administration (3)
Introduction to Public Administration analyzes the basic principles, functions, and practices of public organizations and public management. Prerequisite: POLS 101.

POLS 201 Introduction to Public Policy (3)
Introduction to Public Policy examines the cultural, economic, and institutional context that shapes public policy in the United States. The course assesses how, why, and when government responds to some policy problems and not others and the process by which alternative solutions are formulated, adopted, and implemented. Implications for solving public problems, and for resolving moral and political disagreements in a manner consistent with democratic ideals, are considered. Prerequisite: POLS 101.

POLS 210 Introduction to Comparative Political Analysis (3)
This course surveys theories and methodologies in comparative political analysis. It includes an examination of concepts, types and levels of analysis, and methods of inquiry in the comparative study of politics.

POLS 220 Criminal Justice (3)
Criminal Justice analyzes the criminal justice system, from defining crimes through arrest to conviction and sentencing, with emphasis on the relationships between the actors and institutions in the system and the purposes served by the system.

POLS 221 Law and Society (3)
This is a course designed to introduce students to the legal method of deciding disputes through the study of classical principles of contract law. In the second half of the course, students will demonstrate analytical principles by confronting intractable issues facing society.

POLS 250 Politics and Political Inquiry I (3)
This course is designed to provide the political science major with an introduction to a set of key concepts in political theory and to the historical development of Western political theory. The student will work with primary and secondary literature in political theory and will gain an understanding of how political theorists from Plato to Rawls have attempted to create theories of politics and visions of political order in response to the crises and problems of their time and in light of the work of the political theorists that preceded them.

NOTE: This course is the prerequisite for POLS 251. It is required of majors and minors and must be completed within the first 15 hours of political science coursework.

POLS 251 Politics and Political Inquiry II (3)
An introduction to the contemporary nature and practice of political science, this course includes an overview of what political scientists study as well as an examination of the various approaches to inquiry which they utilize. Prerequisite: POLS 250.

NOTE: This course is required of majors and must be completed within the first 15 hours of political science coursework.

POLS 301 Bureaucratic Politics and Policy (3)
Examines the role of public bureaucracies and public/private partnerships in shaping and implementing public programs. Prerequisites: POLS 101 and POLS 200.

POLS 302 Policy Evaluation (3)
Policy Evaluation reviews the strategies for analyzing performance and goal achievement in the public sector. The course includes a survey of the criteria, methodology, and analytical techniques employed in evaluating government programs. Prerequisites: POLS 101 and POLS 201 or permission of the instructor.

POLS 304 American Foreign Policy Process (3)
American Foreign Policy Process surveys the process by which American foreign policy is made. The course extends beyond the traditional institutions of the presidency and Congress to encompass other actors like courts, the states, the media, the public, and the international policy environment.

POLS 305 Urbanization and Urban Geography (3)
Urbanization and Urban Geography analyzes the process of urbanization and contemporary urban trends and issues. Topics investigated include the evolution of neighborhoods, social conflict over access to resources, and the future of urbanism as a way of life. Students will have the opportunity to explore the city through field trips and an analysis of a local urban issue.

POLS 306 Urban Policy (3)
Urban Policy examines the urban service system and policy formulation and implementation processes. The potential advantages and disadvantages of citizen participation in local policy implementation are assessed. Specific urban issues are examined and the barriers to formulating a national urban policy are identified. Prerequisite: POLS 101.

POLS 307 Environmental Policy (3)
This course is intended to familiarize students with various ethical frameworks, analytical tools, and policy instruments that can be used to evaluate environmental problems and policy options. Specific issues may include citizen participation, environmental equity, the uses and abuses of cost/benefit analysis, science and uncertainty in environmental policy development, and the use of regulatory requirements vs. market mechanisms for environmental protection.

POLS 308 Education Policy (3)
This course will examine the goals and processes of public education policy-making in the United States. Issues of access, accountability, delivery systems, funding, efficiency, and quality will be explored. The actors, institutions, processes, and influences that help to inform these and other policy questions will be addressed.

POLS 309 Health Policy (3)
This course will explore the major policy issues, problems, and challenges in the management and delivery of health care in the United States. The actors, institutions, processes, and internal/external influences that inform federal, state, and local policy decisions on these issues will be explored.

POLS 310 Political Ecology
Political ecology examines the politics of environmental change. Whereas environmental politics usually focuses on governments, political parties, and interest groups, political ecology investigates the role knowledge and discourse, economic systems, gender- and identity-based dimensions of resource management, and the everyday politics of communities and households play in shaping human-environment interactions.

POLS 319 Special Topics in Public Administration and Public Policy (3)
These courses examine an advanced topic in public administration or public policy.

POLS 321 Politics of Latin America (3)
Politics of Latin America surveys political and related economic and social dynamics in Latin American nations.

POLS 322 Politics of Africa (3)
Politics of Africa surveys political and related economic and social dynamics in selected African nations.

POLS 323 Politics of East Asia (3)
Politics of East Asia analyzes the national and international politics of China and Japan with emphasis on political, social, and economic patterns and processes. Cultural tradition, policy making, and the international context will be examined.

POLS 324 Politics of the Middle East (3)
Politics of the Middle East surveys the political, economic, and social structures and forces that make up the essence of Middle East politics and shape the region's place in the world.

POLS 326 Soviet and Russian Politics (3)
Soviet and Russian Politics examines the politics and government of the former Soviet Union and Russian
POLS 328 Modernization, Dependency, and Political Development (3)

This course examines the major theories of development and underdevelopment. The class addresses the domestic and international political, social, and economic factors that promote or retard development in Africa, Latin America, Asia, and the Middle East.

POLS 329 Politics of Protest and Revolution (3)

This course undertakes a comparative study of protest and revolution in industrialized and non-industrialized countries. The political, economic, and social conditions that give rise to protest and revolution will be examined. Reform movements, revolts, and revolutions, both historical and contemporary, will be compared from a cross-system perspective.

POLS 330 Comparative Gender Politics (3)

This course uses gender as a comparative analytic framework to examine a variety of important issues including human rights, economic development, labor and property control, violence against women, family and health concerns, and the role women play as political actors and leaders in formulating policy across a number of different countries.

POLS 331 The Politics of Film and Reality in South Africa (3)

This course analyzes the role of the media, particularly commercial films, in creating and reinforcing images of African politics. Focused most specifically on films related to South Africa, the course develops analytical skills and substantive perspectives on the study of politics in African countries.

POLS 332 The Politics of Film and Reality in Latin America (3)

This course examines the portrayal of Latin American politics in contemporary Latin American and non-Latin American film. The class will focus on major issues of race, class, gender, culture, nationalism, imperialism, religion, power, and values as well as examining the typical stereotypes of Latin American politics and culture. It also examines the history of Latin American relations with the U.S. and the perception of those relations.

POLS 333 The Politics of Contemporary Brazil (3)

This course introduces the student to the politics of Latin America's largest, most populous, and most important country. A brief introduction that covers the period of Portuguese colonization as well as early independence and national eras will be followed by an intensive focus on the period from the presidency of Getulio Vargas to the present. Special attention will be given to the era of military government in the 1960s to the “abertura,” which opened the door to democratization in the 1990s and the present period of President Henrique Cardoso.

POLS 334 Geographies and Politics of the European Union (3)

A comprehensive introduction to the European Union, structured around the changing geographies of the European space and a chronology of developments in Europe from the Second World War. The course will chart the emergence of the initial European Communities and follow changes as these communities evolve into today's European Union.

POLS 335 Cuban Revolution (3)

This course is an in-depth and experiential examination of the Cuban Revolution. Students will live in Cuba for one to three months studying the history, progress, and current condition of the revolutionary process in Cuba. Offered as a travel course only.

POLS 336 Special Topics in Comparative Politics (3)

These courses examine selected topics in comparative politics not covered in other courses.

POLS 340 Democratic and Anti-Democratic Thought (3)

This course focuses on democratic theory and its enemies. Students will read a variety of democratic and anti-democratic theorists and, on the basis of these readings, examine the various contending definitions of democracy, assess the value of democracy, and evaluate the arguments of those opposed to democracy. Theorists will include: Rousseau, Marx, Cole, MacPherson, Michels, Mosca, Pareto, Schumpeter, and Spitz.

POLS 341 Constitutional Law (3)

This course concentrates on the American Constitution. Topics focus on the power relationships between the executive, legislature, judiciary, and state governments, including the commerce clause, war powers of the executive, legislative powers to tax and spend, judicial review, and the doctrines and principles of American constitutionalism.

Prerequisite: POLS 101.

POLS 342 Civil Liberties (3)

This course is largely a study of basic individual liberties found in the American Constitution and interpreted by the U.S. Supreme Court. Typically, the rights and liberties discussed include the first amendment (freedom of speech, press, and the religion clause) and the 14th amendment (equal protection of the laws — including race, gender, age, and privacy).

Prerequisite: POLS 101.

POLS 344 Jurisprudence (3)

The purpose of this course is to study the historical and theoretical development of the concept of law. It will examine problems in the field ranging from general principles on which legal rules are based to analysis of fundamental legal concepts and normative theories.

POLS 345 Ethics and Politics (3)

Ethics and Politics examines the relationship between ethics and politics. This course explores a variety of moral issues that arise in political life including corruption, the problem of dirty hands, lies and deception, and whistleblowing. The political, philosophical, and psychological dimensions of these choices are assessed.

POLS 346 Modern Ideologies (3)

POLS 395 American Federalism (3)
This course examines the history of federalism in the U.S. through an examination of the political, economic, and social forces that have changed the relationships between the national, state, and local governments. Several models of federalism will be applied to the practice of intergovernmental relations in order to gain a sophisticated understanding of federalism in theory and practice.

Prerequisite: POLS 101.

POLS 399 Special Topics in American Politics (3)
These courses examine selected topics in American politics not covered in other courses.

POLS 400 Tutorial (3)
Tutorials offer individual faculty instruction in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week).

Prerequisite: Junior standing plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

POLS 401 Reading and Independent Study in Political Science (1–3)
This is a course designed primarily for the student interested in a particular topic. The amount of reading and/or the nature of the project will determine the credit to be assigned.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. May be repeated. No more than six hours may be applied to the major.

POLS 402 Field Internship (1–6)
Field internships are designed to provide the advanced student with the opportunity to pursue a research topic in the context of an experiential learning situation. Open to juniors and seniors only.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. May be repeated. No more than six hours may be applied to the major.

POLS 405 Capstone Seminar (3)
The Capstone Seminar provides political science majors with a culminating and integrative experience at the end of the major coursework. The seminar, required of all majors, provides students with the opportunity to do research and develop a critical analysis utilizing the key concepts and methodologies across the subfields of the discipline. A variety of topics will be offered each year.

Prerequisite: Permission of the chairperson to enroll required. Students will normally have completed at least 27 semester hours of work in political science at the time of enrollment.

POLS 499 Bachelor’s Essay (6)
The Bachelor’s Essay is a year-long research and writing project done during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the department prior to registration for the course.

PORT 313 Advanced Portuguese Composition (3)
Intensive language practice. Emphasis on the development of writing skills, focusing on comparison and contrast, expository writing, and argumentation. Reading selections and class activities will focus on developing grammar, vocabulary, and the use of idiomatic expressions.

Prerequisite: PORT 202 or 314, or placement exam, or permission of the instructor.

PORT 314 Advanced Portuguese Conversation (3)
Emphasis on the improvement of pronunciation and conversation skills, while developing vocabulary and reviewing grammar. Conversation topics will include a wide range of situations, themes, and readings.

Prerequisite: PORT 202 or 313, or placement exam, or permission of the instructor.

PORT 330 Collateral Studies (1–3)
Individually supervised course of reading in Portuguese and in the subject area of a concurrent course offered by another department. The nature and extent of readings will be determined in consultation among student, instructor of the primary subject-matter course, and the language instructor who will supervise and evaluate the student’s linguistic performance. A collateral study course may be repeated to a maximum of six credit hours in conjunction with other primary courses.

Prerequisite: permission of the instructor.

PORT 390 Special Topics in Portuguese (3)
Intensive study of a particular subject or theme on Portuguese language, linguistics, literature, or culture (specific topics will be listed in the Schedule of Courses when offered).

NOTE: May be repeated under a different topic.

Prerequisite: PORT 202 and/or permission of the instructor.

PORT 498 Independent Studies (1–3)
Research on a topic — to be defined by the individual student in consultation with the instructor in the department who will guide the work and determine the credit hours to be assigned.

Prerequisite: permission of the instructor.

Psychology

PSYC 103 Introduction to Psychological Science (3)
An introduction to the scientific study of behavior. Topics include research methods and statistics in psychology, nervous system and the brain, sensation and perception, learning, memory, social psychology, and behavior disorders.

NOTE: One requirement of this course is that students participate in research conducted in the psychology department to obtain experience in psychological research methods. Students who do not wish to participate in research will be offered an equitable alternative activity.

</table>
PSYC 366 Laboratory in Sensation and Perception (1)
Selected research in sensation and perception applying methods typical of the field.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103, 211, and 220. Co-requisites or Prerequisites: PSYC 313.

PSYC 368 Laboratory in Cognitive Psychology (1)
Selected research in cognitive psychology applying methods typical of the field.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103, 211, and 220. Co-require or Prerequisite: PSYC 215.

PSYC 370 Tests and Measurements (3)
A consideration of the history, theory and techniques of psychological measurement. Attention is given to the measurement of intelligence, personality, interests, attitudes, and aptitudes. Limited experience in test administration and interpretation is provided.
Prerequisites: PSYC 105 and 211.

PSYC 372 Applied Behavior Analysis (3)
A study of the application of the principles of operant and respondent conditioning to the control of human behavior, both normal and disordered, including a consideration of the moral and social implications of the behavior control technologies.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and 213.

PSYC 376 Mass Media and Human Development (3)
An examination of the psychological literature on the role media play in the growth and development of human beings across the life span. Attention is given to theoretical formulations, research methods, and to the social milieu that helps to form the media.
Prerequisites: PSYC 105 and 311.

PSYC 378 Psychology of Language (3)
The reception, comprehension, and expression of language will be considered from psychological perspectives. Examples of topics include the biological basis of language, the social uses of language, speech perception and production, psycholinguistics, and language development.
Prerequisites: PSYC 105 and 215.

PSYC 384 The Psychology of Eating and Drinking (3)
An examination of the variables that influence normal and disordered eating and drinking behavior. The primary focus is on the physiological determinants, but considerable attention is devoted to environmental and cognitive factors.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and 214.

PSYC 386 Psychopharmacology (3)
This course is a survey of behaviorally active drugs with emphases on neurochemical and behavioral mechanisms of action.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and either PSYC 214 or BIOL/PSYC 351.

PSYC 387 Clinical Neuropsychology (3)
This course is an in-depth focus on brain-behavior relationships in humans. Topics include neuroanatomy, neurophysiology, cognitive theory and research methods. Theories of brain function are examined along with the clinical procedures for measuring brain integrity. Additionally, neurological disorders (e.g., stroke, brain injury) and methods of neurorehabilitation are explored.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and either PSYC 214 or BIOL/PSYC 351.

PSYC 388 Psychology of Substance Abuse (3)
This course presents an overview of psychologically based models for understanding why individuals engage in substance abuse. Emphasis is on cognitive, emotional, and behavioral factors that explain why some individuals transition from casual use to substance abuse. Approaches to prevention, treatment, and contemporary drug policy issues will be considered.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and at least 12 additional hours in psychology.

PSYC 389 Child Psychopathology (3)
A comprehensive overview of the field of abnormal child psychology. Coverage will emphasize the multidimensional, reciprocal nature of child behavior problems within a developmental, clinical/diagnostic, and experimental framework. Topical coverage will include definitions, theories, clinical presentation, research, assessment and treatment issues related to various externalizing and internalizing symptomatology.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and 307.

PSYC 390 Research Design and Interpretation (3)
The principles of experimental and non-experimental research designs and the interpretation of data. The designs will be selected from simple randomized designs, factorial designs, within-subject designs, mixed designs, single subject designs, and correlation designs, each analyzed by the appropriate statistical tests.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103, 211, and 220.

PSYC 392 Scientific Foundations of Clinical Psychology (3)
A study of scientific methods of research and practice in clinical psychology. Examples of topics include the scientist-practitioner model of clinical training, development and evaluation of psychometric tools, clinical research methods and statistical techniques, evaluation of psychotherapy outcomes, and other issues related to psychological interventions.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103, 307, and at least 12 additional hours in psychology.

PSYC 394 History and Systems of Psychology (3)
A study of psychological theory in historical context. Topics will include functionalism, behaviorism, Gestalt psychology, and psychoanalysis.
Prerequisites: PSYC 103 and at least 12 additional hours in psychology.

PSYC 396 Advanced General Psychology (3)
A consideration of selected topics from various fields of psychology. Designed to be taken in the senior year.

PSYC 399 Tutorial (3)
Individual instruction given by a tutor in regularly scheduled meetings (usually once a week). Open only to psychology majors enrolled in the Honors College and having a psychology GPA of at least 3.0.
Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing, plus permission of the tutor and the department chair.

PSYC 400 Independent Study (1–3)

PSYC 401
PSYC 402
PSYC 403

Prerequisites: Open to junior and senior psychology majors with the permission of a faculty member as supervisor and of the department chair. Formal written application stating the nature of the project and presenting evidence of sufficient background knowledge for the enterprise must be submitted prior to registration. Open only to students having a GPA of at least 3.0 in psychology courses. (No more than six semester hours in independent study may be applied toward the major.)

PSYC 410 Special Topics in Psychology (1–4)
An examination in depth of an area of current theoretical or research interest. Choice of topic will depend upon the interests of students and instructor.
Prerequisites: Open to juniors and seniors with the permission of the instructor. (No more than six hours in special topics may be applied to meet the requirements for the major.)

PSYC 446 Special Topics in Neuroscience (3)
A special topics course designed to supplement course offerings in neuroscience.
Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing and permission of the instructor.

PSYC 447 Seminar in Neuroscience (3)
A seminar course exposing students to cutting-edge neuroscience research. Research seminars by neuroscientists will be combined with the reading and discussion of primary literature. Students will learn to effectively write about and present their own ongoing research projects. This course serves as a capstone experience for students minorin in neuroscience.
Prerequisites: BIOL/PSYC 351/352; Co-require: BIOL/PSYC 448 or permission of the instructor. Students engaged in independent research or a bachelor’s essay will be given priority for enrollment.

PSYC 448 Research in Neuroscience (6)
A year-long senior research project conducted under the supervision of a faculty member in the neuroscience program at Gof or MUSC. Along with the faculty mentor, the student must submit a written project proposal for approval prior to course registration. This course is designed for students who are working towards a neuroscience minor.
Prerequisites: BIOL/PSYC 351 and 352 and permission of both the student's major department and the neuroscience program director.

PSYC 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)
A year-long research and writing project completed during the senior year under the close supervision of a tutor from the department. The student must take the initiative in seeking a tutor to help in both the design and the supervision of the project. Urban Studies

URST 201 Introduction to Urban Studies (3)

This course provides an introductory overview of the interdisciplinary field of urban studies. Various aspects of urban life will be explored, utilizing the insights derived from the overlap of urban studies and disciplines such as history, sociology, political science, economics, and architecture. The focus will be the multi-faceted city and the continual interaction between these components, especially the efforts of human beings to shape the city while also being shaped by it.

NOTE: This should be one of the first courses taken.

URST 310 Urban Planning (3)

Topics will include the history of planning, macro theories of planning, goal setting and implementation within contemporary political settings. Primary emphasis will be placed upon the application of planning techniques within agencies and within urban communities; appropriate case studies will be used.

URST 398 Special Topics in Humanities (3)

This course is designed for the study of specialized topics in urban society. Topics, which change each semester, have included Charleston architecture, architecture and historic preservation in Britain, and society and culture of early Charleston.

URST 399 Special Topics in Social Sciences (3)

This course is designed to study the development and process of policy making in a specialized field in urban society. Topics, which change each semester, have included sustainable development and geographic information systems.

URST 400 Practicum (2)

This is a supervised field-learning experience in an urban setting. The student observes and becomes involved in the functions and operations of a private sector, governmental, or community agency. The weekly seminar provides a forum in which the student, in concert with the faculty coordinator, can integrate knowledge gained in the classroom with that acquired during the field experience.

NOTE: Students must obtain instructor's permission the term before enrolling in this course.

URST 401 Independent Study (3)

A study directed by a faculty member on various subjects.

NOTE: Permission of both the instructor and the advisor is required before registration. A student may take no more than six hours of independent study.

URST 499 Bachelor's Essay (6)

Independent research for the student who is a candidate for honors in the major. The student must take the initiative in seeking faculty help in both the design and the supervision of the project. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the faculty prior to registration for the course.

Women's and Gender Studies

WMST 200 Introduction to Women's and Gender Studies (3)

This is an interdisciplinary course designed to explore the rich body of knowledge developed by and about women and gender. We study gendered structures and their consequences in contemporary cultures and societies. In addition, we examine feminist theories and relevant social movements. This course can satisfy the College's general education humanities requirement.

WMST 300 Special Topics (3)

An examination of an area in women's and gender studies for which no regular course is offered. This course may be repeated for credit if the content is different. The specific content will be listed when the course is offered.

WMST 381 Women's and Gender Studies Internship (1–4)

An opportunity for students to integrate research with social activism through supervised field placement in areas related to the study of women and gender. Students will produce specific assignments that reflect agreed upon learning goals under the direction of the director of women's and gender studies or a program faculty member.

WMST 400 Independent Study (3)

Individually supervised readings and study of some work, problem, or topic in women's and gender studies of the student's interest. A project proposal must be submitted in writing and approved by the director prior to registration for the course.

The master of arts in bilingual legal interpreting is a comprehensive, sequenced, and integrated series of courses designed to provide the student with the competencies, techniques, and research skills required of a professional legal interpreter.

Communication
843-953-7017
Douglas A. Ferguson, Program Director (ferguson@cofc.edu)
http://www.cofc.edu/communication/gradcomm/

The Master of Arts in Communication is offered by the Department of Communication and is designed for advanced students who seek intellectual and professional growth at the graduate level. Instruction in organizational and corporate communication is a special feature of this program. Classes are taught in the evening at the Lowcountry Graduate Center’s facility in North Charleston.

Computer and Information Sciences
843-953-7146
Paul Buhler, Program Director (buhlerp@cofc.edu)
http://www.cs.cofc.edu/graduateindex.html

The Master of Science Degree Program in Computer and Information Sciences (CSIS) is offered jointly by the Department of Computer Science at the College of Charleston and the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science at The Citadel. The CSIS program is designed as a professional master’s degree program to serve the growing professional workforce in computer science and software engineering in the Lowcountry. The program provides three areas of specialization:

Computer Science
Information Systems
Software Engineering
EDUCATION DEGREES

M.Ed. degrees are offered in languages, science and mathematics, and special education.

M.A. T. degrees are offered in early childhood, elementary, and special education.

The master of education (M.Ed.) degree is offered for those students who have professional teacher certification and are seeking to increase their skills and knowledge in educational practices, technology, curriculum, and evaluation, or will use the program to advance their career (e.g., Museum science educator, wildlife education specialist as in the case of the M.Ed. in Science and Mathematics).

The master of arts in teaching (M.A.T.) degree is designed for students with undergraduate degrees in areas other than education, who are seeking to gain the skills and knowledge that will enable them to be effective teachers and become certified to teach.

English
843-953-5648

Patricia Ward, Program Director
(wardp@cofc.edu)
http://www.cofc.edu/%7Ekellyj/graduate/english_MA.html

The Graduate School of the College of Charleston and The Citadel offer a joint program leading to a master of arts degree in English. The program is designed to attract qualified holders of the baccalaureate degree, whether recent college graduates, English teachers, or others interested in pursuing graduate studies in English.

Environmental Studies
843-953-2000

Michael Katuna, Program Director
(katunam@cofc.edu)
http://www.cofc.edu/~environ/

The Graduate School of the College of Charleston offers a master of science degree in environmental studies (M.E.S). The program offers environmentally focused courses in the traditional sciences such as geology and biology, as well as in public policy. The program prepares students to deal with the complex nature of environmental issues through an interdisciplinary approach.

Historic Preservation
864-656-3925

Dan Nadenicek, Program Director
(dnadeni@clemson.edu) – Clemson

Ralph Muldrow, Program Director
(muldrowr@cofc.edu) – College of Charleston

This master of science program is a joint endeavor between the College of Charleston and Clemson University’s College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities. The curriculum is designed for emerging specializations in historic aspects of the built environment as recommended by the National Council for Historic Preservation. The program addresses preservation as a professional specialization, using Charleston and the broader historic environs of South Carolina as a source for case study models. The program is based in Charleston. Classes are taught at the College of Charleston and at Clemson’s Architecture Center in Charleston.

History
843-953-8127

Bernard E. Powers, Program Director
(powersb@cofc.edu)
http://www.cofc.edu/~gradhist

The Citadel and the Graduate School of the College of Charleston offer a joint master of arts degree in history providing advanced and specialized work in United States history, European history, and Asian/African/Latin American/African American history.

M. Ed. Languages
843-953-5459

Robyn Holman, Program Director
(holmanr@cofc.edu)
http://www.cofc.edu/~medlang

The Graduate School’s M.Ed. in Languages Program is intended for advanced students of languages and cultures who seek intellectual and professional growth through study and research at the graduate level. The program is part time, with tracks available in French, Spanish, Latin, and English to Speakers of Other Languages.
The Graduate School offers the master of science degree in marine biology in cooperation with a number of Charleston institutions. Students in the program use facilities and resources of The Citadel, College of Charleston, the Marine Biomedical and Environmental Sciences Program of the Medical University of South Carolina, the Marine Resources Research Institute of the South Carolina Wildlife and Marine Resources Department, and the Charleston laboratory of the National Ocean Service and the National Institute of Standards and Technology. Student offices and research spaces are provided in the Marine Resources Research Institute and the Grice Marine Laboratory, both of which are located at Ft. Johnson on Charleston Harbor.

The Department of Mathematics offers a program of graduate-level training leading to a master of science in mathematics. The program prepares students for careers in business, industry, and government, for a Ph.D. in mathematics or science, and for academic careers. Courses in the program also serve as an option for secondary school teachers who wish to maintain certification or enhance their professional expertise. The mathematics faculty at the College of Charleston is supplemented by faculty from The Citadel’s mathematics department.

In conjunction with the University of South Carolina, the College of Charleston’s Joseph P Riley Jr. Institute for Urban Affairs and Policy Studies offers a master of public administration degree. This program offers graduate-level training in public administration for a variety of public sector careers. The 28-year-old program is NASPAA accredited and is the first joint MPA program to NASPAA accreditation.

The purpose of this interdisciplinary program is to offer graduate-level courses in the sciences, mathematics, and education that will address the needs of teachers, informal educators and other professionals who work to educate others. Upon completion of the program, the degree offered is a master of education in science and mathematics.

A limited number of graduate assistantships are available to full-time, degree-seeking students in the various graduate programs. Assistantships are awarded competitively, with applications available in the graduate school office. Information about specific assistantships is available from the graduate program directors.
